TREATY-MAKING POWER AND ALIEN LAND LAWS DISCUSSED BY KELLOGG

Holds Treaties Supreme and State Laws in Convention Are Vaid.

Lord High Chancellor Hall-dane Addresses American Bar Association.

Degrees Conferred By McGill University Upon Ten Distinguished Jurists.

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Premier Borden opened the annual meeting of the American Bar association today with an address welcoming the most distinguished body of men ever gathered in Canada. The leading jurists of the United States and Canada were present without exception, and besides them there are some of the most prominent members of the bar in Canada, England and France.

The session of the bar association this morning was devoted to the address of welcome by the Canadian prime minister, the annual address of the president of the association, delivered by Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, Minn., the comparative and election of law members, the reports of officers and members.

The first of the afternoon was an address by Lord Chancellor Hall-dane, who is visiting Canada on his way to London. The day's session was devoted to the conference of the members of the association, which was presided over by Lord Chancellor Hall-dane. The members of the association are the leading jurists of the United States and Canada, and the session was a most successful one.

The treaty-making power, particularly in the case of the United States, was discussed by Lord Chancellor Hall-dane. He pointed out that the treaty-making power is a power which is given to the executive by the constitution, and that it is a power which is not subject to the control of the legislature.

The alien land laws were also discussed by Lord Chancellor Hall-dane. He pointed out that these laws are designed to protect the interests of the United States, and that they are not subject to the control of the legislature.

The session of the bar association this morning was devoted to the address of welcome by the Canadian prime minister, the annual address of the president of the association, delivered by Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, Minn., the comparative and election of law members, the reports of officers and members.

GLASS DEFIES THE BANKERS' CONFERENCE

Says Chicago Action Does Not Represent Sentiment of Majority.

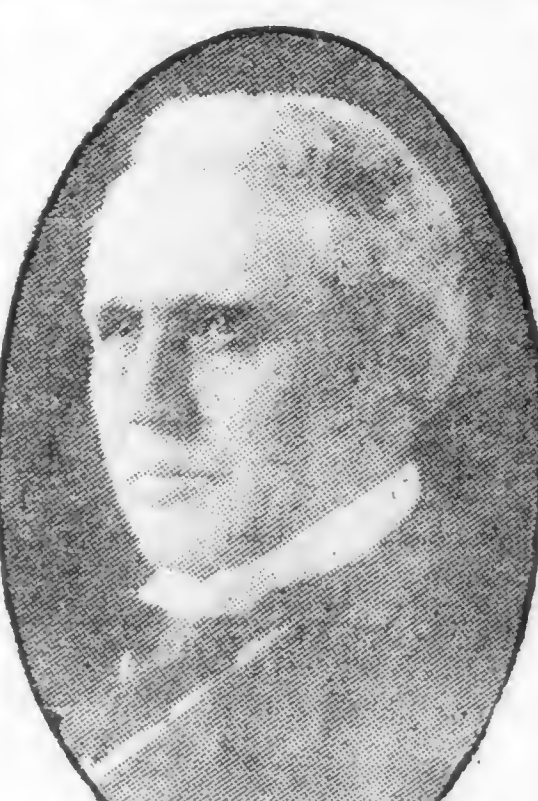

Cincinnati, Va. Sept. 1.—Representative Carter Glass, chairman of the banking and currency committee of the House, today defied the bankers' conference in a statement which charged that the action of the bankers at their meeting was not representative of the sentiment of the majority of the country.

PORTER CHARLTON GIVEN FIRST TEST

American's Trial in Italy Probably Will Occur in November.

Rome, Italy, Sept. 1.—Porter Charlton, the young American who recently was extradited from the United States to stand trial here on a charge of murdering his wife at Lake Como in 1910, was subjected today to a lengthy preliminary examination.

CONSERVATION SHOW OPENED

Wireless Message From President Wilson Starts Knoxville Show.

Concrete Lessons in the Subject Are Taught By Exhibits.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 1.—Promptly at 10 o'clock this morning in Washington, President Woodrow Wilson flashed a wireless telegraph message from the government station near the capital to Knoxville, and the message was picked up by the wireless station on the grounds of the National Conservation exposition in this city.

The receipt of the message from the president of the United States by T. A. Wright, president of the exposition company, was the signal for the formal opening of the exposition, the first in the history of the world devoted to the cause of conservation and designed to show by concrete example the necessity of conserving all material resources if the country is to grow and prosper in the future as it has in the past.

Even as the national conservation is unique, so is the manner of opening it unique. No exposition ever before has been opened by a wireless message sent by the president of the United States.

FIRE CHIEFS MEET IN NEW YORK CITY

Egypt and Australia Are Represented at Great Gathering.

New York, Sept. 1.—Fire chiefs came from as far as Egypt and Australia to attend the forty-first annual convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers here today. More than 1,000 of them are expected here before the convention ends on Saturday, and $30,000 has been collected for their entertainment.

The official outdoor event of the week is the dedication of the fire city conservatory on Riverside drive, Friday afternoon. About the monument will be grouped fifty children whose fathers lost their lives in the performance of duty.

DANIELS INSISTS ON ARMOR PLATE PLANT

Talks of It at Connecticut State Fair in Hartford.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 1.—Secretary of the Navy Joseph Daniels came here today to speak at the Connecticut state fair. He urged that the government should own an armor plate factory.

LAWYERS FOR THAW WORRY

Make Him Swear He Prefers Jail to Release at Present.

Jerome Has Other Plans If Habeas Corpus Writ Fails.

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 1.—The Thaw lawyers showed plainly today the nervousness and anxiety with which they look forward to tomorrow's proceedings in the superior court of St. Francis county. The decision of Superior Judge Matthew Hutchinson tomorrow on the right of John Boudreau, chief of police of Montreal, to demand the freedom of Harry K. Thaw, whom Boudreau arrested two weeks ago, will determine whether there shall be set in motion at once the machinery looking to Thaw's deportation to a border station, or whether he shall be remanded to the Sherbrooke jail to remain until the session of the king's bench in October.

If Superior Judge Hutchinson sustains the writ of habeas corpus counsel acting for the state of New York, Thaw may be immediately turned over to the immigration authorities for deportation. Against this contingency, his lawyers have laid plans for a bitter fight.

Boudreau, in applying for the writ, contends that Thaw is held illegally, being charged with no crime, and that there is no evidence against him. He is conscious of the illegality of holding the prisoner, and is apprehensive lest he be liable to damages.

Thaw swears he prefers jail. In their preparation for fighting the writ, the lawyers have been busy.

ROOSEVELT EMPLOYEE ACCUSED OF THEFT

Is Charged With Taking $1,000 Gems From Ex-President's Home.

Minneapolis, N. Y., Sept. 1.—George A. Parker, an employee of Col. Theodore Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill, Oyster Bay, was placed in jail last night charged with having stolen $1,000 worth of jewelry from the Roosevelt home Saturday. All the jewelry, which included a pearl necklace with a diamond pendant, was recovered.

Much of the Roosevelt jewelry and silverware had been in a local safe deposit vault until Thursday, when James Ames, a negro butler in the employ of the family, removed the valuables to the Roosevelt home. Parker, who is a negro, had been employed by Col. Roosevelt for only a short time.

NANKING CAPTURED BY GOVERNMENT ARMY

Shanghai, China, Sept. 1.—The city of Nanking was captured today by Chinese government troops. The rebel forces fled into the country through the southern gate.

ELEVENTH CAVALRY IS REPORTED ORDERED TO THE MEXICAN BORDER

IN CHARGE OF AMERICAN INTERESTS IN MEXICO

NELSON O'SHAUGHNESSY, Now Head of the Embassy at the Mexican Capital.

WINS $1,000 AND HIS HEALTH BY LONG HIKE

New York Man Walks Across Continent and Back on Wager.

New York, Sept. 1.—Herbert H. Hoover, who crossed the continent twice in 322 days, narrowly escaped arrest today when he arrived here at the completion of his long journey. His long hair and ragged clothes attracted the attention of a policeman, who escorted Hoover to police headquarters, where the pedestrian told his story. The walker said that by tramp-ing to San Francisco and back he won a wager of $1,000.

When he started Hoover was threatened with conscription and weighed only 104 pounds. Now he weighs 140 pounds. Hoover's home is in Newark, N. J. He is 21 years old.

AMERICANS VISIT BERLIN EMBASSY.

Berlin, Sept. 1.—Fifteen officers of the Washington "Continental," in their historic uniforms, under the command of Col. Winter and accompanied by a detachment of the German Krigeberg of New York, were received at the American embassy this morning. They will attend the autumn parade of the guards' army corps tomorrow.

A. O. E. at Buffalo. Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 1.—The twentieth biennial convention of the American Order of Foresters opened here today to continue through Wednesday. One hundred and fifty delegates are in attendance.

Six Americans Are Executed at Torreón Despite Consul's Protests.

Washington Government Still Hopes for Word From Huerta.

Wave of Patriotism Is Reported in Southern Republic.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 1.—The Eleventh United States cavalry, at present engaged in maneuvers at Winchester, Va., has been ordered to proceed to the Mexican border, according to apparently authentic reports. It is said that orders also were received directing that all prisoners be released from the guardhouse at Fort Oglethorpe, except such as are serving sentences of a general court-martial, and directing that they proceed at once to Winchester and join their commands.

Six Americans Executed. Eagle Pass, Tex., Sept. 1.—Gen. Bravo, federal commander at Torreón, Mexico, refused to recognize the United States consular agent, George G. Carothers, when the latter protested against the recent execution of six Americans in that city, according to declarations of Frank and Milton Chisum and Andrew Odel, Americans who have arrived at Piedras Negras, Constitutional headquarters from Torreón.

"Your government does not recognize the government of Mexico," Bravo is reported to have declared, "and I shall not recognize you."

According to the refugees, the six Americans reported executed were charged with having been "with" the Constitutionalists in the north.

FORCES OF UNION LABOR CELEBRATING YEARLY HOLIDAY WITH A PICNIC

HAS TAKEN CHAR COPPER STRIKE

CHARLES H. MOYER, President of the Western Federation of Miners.

GIRL IS SHOT AT MINE RIOT

Victim of Copper County Outbreak May Not Survive.

President Moyer of Western Federation Talks to Strikers.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—In an armed clash between deputy sheriffs and strikers at the North Kearsarge mine at 8 o'clock this morning, a girl, who was with the strikers, Margaret Fazakas, aged 16, was shot and probably fatally wounded. As far as can be learned there were no other casualties.

The strikers, it is stated, attacked the deputies to drive them off the property of the company, using stones and clubs. A small military force of Wolverson restored order and returned to their post, after which the deputies pulled their guns when driven head-on by the strikers. Who shot first is uncertain.

The Fazakas girl was shot through the throat. She is being taken care of at the military hospital at Calumet, and it is said there is no chance for her to live.

Investigations Promised. The civil and military authorities are promising investigations of the shooting, and the federation of miners heads are using this incident to advantage in arousing the strikers at their meetings today against the armed deputies and sheriffs, who, President Moyer yesterday said, should be disarmed and driven from the state by the military.

For the second time in two weeks the striking copper miners yesterday opened by resolutions adopted at a mass meeting for a senatorial investigation to end the industrial controversy. The meeting was addressed by President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners, who has taken charge of the situation since Vice President Mahoney and William Davidson, executive council members.

Moyer characterized the night-hour order as the vital issue of the strike. Moyer also asserted in vigorous terms the rights of the miners to organize and demand recognition.

"If we cannot win this fight, you have nothing else worth while to fight for," Moyer said. Two thousand men and 800 women and children paraded to the meeting.

GATERWAUL OPENS DOOR TO THE POLICE

Detective Uses Ruse to Get Into Alleged Gambling House.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—When Benjamin Schwartz opened the rear door of his home early today to chase away a cat, he faced two detectives. For several nights the officers tried to gain entrance to the place, where they thought there was gambling, but failed until Detective Small moved like a cat and scratched at the screen door.

They seized Schwartz when he pecked his head out of the door, and inside found two men seated around two tables. All were arrested.

CARNEGIE GUEST OF BELGIAN KING.

Brussels, Sept. 1.—Andrew Carnegie arrived here today from The Hague, where he attended the opening of the Palace of Peace. King Albert will give a dinner in his honor tonight, and this function will be followed during several days by a series of banquets and luncheons arranged by members of the Belgian cabinet and by various peace societies. Mr. Carnegie is staying here as the guest of the American minister, Theodore Marburg.

Weather Man Smiles on Men Who Work With Hands and Brains.

Annual Parade of the City's Unions Not Held This Year.

S. R. Child, Orator of Day, Attacks State Control of Public Utilities.

This is the day that labor celebrates. In view of the fact that America is a working nation and Duluth one of its chief industrial centers where the leisure class is almost unknown, the celebration involves practically every person within the confines of the municipality. And everybody is taking part. Not all are going to Fairmount park where the official observance of the day is taking place, but everybody is "knocking off" work and will celebrate the day in his own way.

All business places except the ice cream and candy stores, which are a part of every day that is celebrated at all, are closed today. Practically all except in such cases where perishable goods must be gotten out; wholesale houses have suspended business for the day; and in fact everything except that which comes under the head of pleasure has quit for the day.

This morning there was one mail delivery and the stamp and general delivery libraries were closed all day. The central library is open from 9 o'clock this afternoon until 9 o'clock tonight.

The idea of a parade was abandoned some time ago. The cost was the chief objection and one of two parades of late years, after the over-head cost had been taken into account, the arrangements for the various unions did not feel like obligating themselves to turn out any considerable number of men.

Fair Weather. But this year the mistake made was in the matter of the weather. Instead of what has been dampening to the spirit of union labor for a couple of years, the sun is smiling down on the earth and the most ideal weather that could be wished for is prevailing. Weather-observers predicted that the day would be just what was needed to make a perfect picnic. It is just warm enough for private picnics, and not too warm for the activities of sport as prescribed by the program.

The crowd at Fairmount park bids fair to be immense today, the day is (Continued on page 8, second column)

NEW YORK NOW UNDER "EQUAL RIGHTS" LAW

Public Places Forbidden to Discriminate Against Any Race.

New York, Sept. 1.—The "equal rights" law passed by the state legislature became operative today. So radical are some of the provisions of the act, which forbids any hotel, restaurant or theater to discriminate against any person on account of race, color or religious belief, that some of the hotel and restaurant keepers are worried. Those summer hotels which advertise that persons of certain classes and races are unwanted as patrons, probably will be the hardest hit, as the law prescribes a penalty of from $100 to $500 for inserting undesirable advertisements, and besides makes the proprietors equally liable to damages in civil actions.

CORPSE WEDGED IN BOAT'S PADDLEBOX

Steamer City of Louisville Picks Up Man's Body While on Trip.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 1.—When the steamship City of Louisville docked here last night, search was made of the paddle boxes on complaint of the pilot, who claimed that the boat did not steer as it should. Wedged between the left wheel and its covering was found the body of Edward D. Willis of Norwood, Ohio.

Willis was a carpenter on board the steamboat Shilo. He fell or that boat was picked up by the City of Louisville's paddles while the two boats were passing.

MAKES PORT WITH CARGO ON FIRE

Steamer Uranium Rushes to Halifax With Blazing Goods.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 1.—The steamer Uranium, New York, to Rotterdam, has arrived here with her cargo of iron and cotton on fire. The steamer left New York Thursday and on Friday night, when 350 miles from New York, the fire was discovered. Efforts to extinguish the fire failed. The crew battled down the hatches and the port. She has twelve first-class and 651 steerage passengers, all of whom still are on board. Steam and water are being pumped into the hold.

BIG INCREASE TAKES PLACE

Growth of Package Library Department of University of Wisconsin.

Votes for Women Leads All Other Topics Under Consideration.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 1.—"Votes for Women" leads all other subjects under consideration now in Wisconsin, if the records of the package library department of the University of Wisconsin extension division are any indication of thought currents. And women are the greatest users of the public sources of information, according to the same records.

Within the past year a great increase has taken place in the use of this branch of the university service to urban and rural communities. The loan of 2,829 libraries in the past twelve months to 247 communities is an increase of 15 per cent over the number of libraries loaned the year previous and of almost 11 per cent over the area served that year.

In all 113,160 different articles in discussion of 1,039 subjects were sent out—a remarkable increase of over 50 per cent more subjects than were furnished in response to the inquiries of the year before. In addition information on different topics was furnished through 1,112 personal letters from those in charge of the extension work in debating and public discussion. They thought they were busy the year before with 977 personal letters of information besides their regular work, but this year's record is almost 14 per cent greater.

Madison Leads. Madison, being closer to the base of supplies, naturally led all localities in the number of package libraries borrowed, 114; and Milwaukee, in spite of its two library facilities, was second, borrowing 54 packages. Prairie du Chien, La Crosse and Antigo were next with 53 each. Stevens Point and Phillips borrowed 36 each; Beaver Dam, 24; Ashland, Lodi and Washburn, 33 each; Tomah, 31; New London, Oshkosh and Keshiawaupee, 29 each; Baraboo, 28; Wausau, 27; Evansville, 26; Platteville, Menomonie, De Forest and Foltz, 25 each; Casshton, Handberg, Rice Lake and Waupun, 24 each; Edgerton and Onalaska, 22 each; Appleton, Florence and St. Francis, 21 each; and Jefferson, Pepin, Sun Prairie and Whitewater, 20 each.

There were besides 312 other cities, towns and rural communities which borrow one to twenty of the package libraries, some of them for the first time.

While this year's demand on women's suffrage shows a decrease to 132 packages from 215, the year preceding the vote on woman's suffrage amendment, that question still leads in interest throughout the state and the department is preparing to supply at least 400 packages this winter. Second in point of interest were the purely Wisconsin topics, such as Wisconsin education, history, industry and legislation. There were 127 such libraries borrowed this year as compared with 84 last year.

Interest in Income Tax. Evidently the minds of the people were nearly as busy with the income tax, for 124 libraries on it were borrowed more than in the year 1911-12. Immigration also proved increasingly popular, as seventy-eight packages were sent out; and the interest in tariff rose in even greater proportion, sixty-one packages being loaned this year to thirty-three last year.

Many found the use of schools as social centers an absorbing topic of discussion, and borrowed forty-nine collections of articles on it. The commission form of government, on the contrary, seemingly lost ground, only forty-eight libraries on the subject being loaned as compared with 102 a year ago. Popular election of senators, conservation, civic improvement, the government ownership of railroads, the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, home economics, industrial education, prison reform, and other subjects shared in popularity as topics of discussion and debate.

Women's clubs were the largest users of the package libraries; 103 of them sent in calls for material on different subjects. There were 33 rural clubs also which used 71 libraries; 37 men's clubs which borrowed 65 packages; 25 social centers which sent in 51 calls; 25 teachers' organizations which sent for 27 libraries; and 16 churches which borrowed 21.

There were also calls from authors, and boys' clubs, the American Society of Equity, both the Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls, co-operative organizations and Parents' associations, the D. A. R., G. A. R. and W. C. T. U. missionary societies and miners' clubs, girls' clubs and suffrage associations. In fact, from almost every sort of organization.

Educational institutions showed their appreciation of the libraries by borrowing heavily. There were 1,457 packages sent out to 244 high schools; 184 to 21 academies and colleges; 66 to 21 state graded schools; 56 to 16 county agricultural and normal schools; and a like number to 7 normal schools.

There were 29 to students of the state university; 19 to 8 rural schools; 15 to 7 elementary schools; 14 to Stout institute; and others to the School for the Deaf, the Hillside Home, a Catholic school, the Wisconsin library school and the Milwaukee Trade school.

There were 48 packages used in correspondence-study work, 28 for information for articles for publication, 26 by people preparing public addresses, 24 by officials, 8 by business men, and 40 for personal information.

Although this department of package library loans is yet young, it has proven its worth to the state, and has indicated what it may do when it is more widely known.

DESIGNER OF DULUTH STEEL PLANT IS DEAD

Fred H. Daniels Dies at Worcester, Mass., After Year's Illness.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 1.—Fred H. Daniels, chairman of the board of engineers of the United States Steel corporation, chief engineer of the American Steel & Wire company, and president of the Washburn & Moen company, died at his home here last night after an illness of about a year. He was 60 years old. He had been prominently identified with the development of the steel industry for forty years and 151 patents, many of them revolutionizing processes of manufacturing, mark his influence in the industry.

As designer and contractor of the wire mill plants, Mr. Daniels supervised the erection of most of the buildings and the installation of machinery at the Worcester mills of the American Steel & Wire company factories at Waukegan was one of the consulting engineers who designed the United States steel corporation's plant at Gary, Ind., costing between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000, and served in a similar capacity at the erection of the Minnesota Steel company's mills at Duluth.

The Paris exposition of 1900 bestowed a gold medal on him as "celebrated," and in 1909 he was decorated by King Oscar of Sweden.

COMPEL ROADS TO LOAN CARS

Manahan Would Add to Powers of Interstate Commerce Commission.

James A. Manahan, congressman-at-large from Minnesota, believes that railroads should be compelled to loan their equipment to other roads, at least to the extent that cars shall be taken to the destination of the shipment for which they are used, even though it be over several lines of railroad.

Mr. Manahan, who came to Duluth to address the Minnesota and Chimosettes, Cluny, Lace Net, Chantillie and Hand Embroidery; values to $8.

Cars containing through billed freight can be switched to the lines of another railroad only on consent of the road owning the cars. Mr. Manahan said. He would have control placed in the interstate commerce commission, so that through shipments may not be disturbed in transit.

TWENTY-SIX CARS IN SPECIAL

1,500 Meals Were Served During Trip Over the Ranges.

There are some interesting statistics obtainable in connection with special trains used to carry special parties on tour. Those in connection with the special which carried the members of the mining institute from Chicago and over the ranges are an indication of what is necessary in the way of preparation.

T. L. Wanner of Chicago, inspector of the sleeping parlor and dining car department of the Milwaukee road, was in charge. The train was made up of twenty-six cars, of which twelve were Milwaukee road equipment, consisting of two diners, seven sleepers and two business cars. Fifteen hundred meals were served during the trip. There were thirty-five men in the organization of the service, there being three conductors, nine cooks, ten waiters, seven porters, four private car men, one electrician, and the inspector himself.

BIG INCREASE TAKES PLACE

Growth of Package Library Department of University of Wisconsin.

Votes for Women Leads All Other Topics Under Consideration.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 1.—"Votes for Women" leads all other subjects under consideration now in Wisconsin, if the records of the package library department of the University of Wisconsin extension division are any indication of thought currents. And women are the greatest users of the public sources of information, according to the same records.

Within the past year a great increase has taken place in the use of this branch of the university service to urban and rural communities. The loan of 2,829 libraries in the past twelve months to 347 communities is an increase of 15 per cent over the number of libraries loaned the year previous and of almost 11 per cent over the area served that year.

In all 115,160 different articles in discussion of 1,030 subjects were sent out—a remarkable increase of over 50 per cent more subjects than were furnished in response to the inquiries of the year before. In addition information on different topics was furnished through 1,112 personal letters from those in charge of the extension work in debating and public discussion. They thought they were busy the year before, but this year's record is almost 14 per cent greater.

Madison Leads. Madison, being closer to the base of supplies, naturally led all localities in the number of package libraries borrowed. In all, 115,160 different articles in discussion of 1,030 subjects were sent out—a remarkable increase of over 50 per cent more subjects than were furnished in response to the inquiries of the year before. In addition information on different topics was furnished through 1,112 personal letters from those in charge of the extension work in debating and public discussion. They thought they were busy the year before, but this year's record is almost 14 per cent greater.

Interest in Income Tax. Evidently the minds of the people were nearly as busy with the income tax, for 124 libraries on it were borrowed—21 more than in the year 1911-12. Immigration also proved increasingly popular, as seventy-eight packages were sent out; and the interest in tariff rose in even greater proportion, sixty-one packages being loaned this year to thirty-three last year.

Many found the use of schools as social centers an absorbing topic of discussion, and borrowed forty-nine collections of articles on it. The commission form of government, on the contrary, seemingly lost ground, only forty-eight libraries on the subject being loaned as compared with 102 a year ago. Popular election of senators, conservation, civic improvement, the government ownership of railroads, the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, home economics, industrial education, prison reform, and other subjects shared in popularity as topics of discussion and debate.

Women's clubs were the largest users of the package libraries; 193 of them sent in 405 calls for material on different subjects. There were 39 rural clubs which used 71 libraries; 37 men's clubs which borrowed 65 packages; 25 social centers which sent in 61 calls; 23 teachers' organizations which sent for 27 libraries; and 16 churches which borrowed 24.

There were also calls from authors, and boys' clubs, the American Society of Equity, both the Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls, co-operative organizations, and Parents' associations. The D. A. R., G. A. R., and W. T. U. missionary societies are mothers' clubs, girls' clubs and suffrage associations; in fact, from almost every sort of organization.

Educational institutions showed their appreciation of the libraries by borrowing heavily. There were 1,457 packages sent out to 244 high schools; 154 to 21 academies and colleges; 66 to 21 state graded schools; 66 to 18 county agricultural and normal schools; 29 to students of the state university; 18 to 8 rural schools; 15 to 7 elementary schools; 14 to Stout institute; and others to the School for the Deaf, the Hillside Home, a Catholic school, the Wisconsin library school and the Milwaukee Trade school.

There were 48 packages used in correspondence study work, 23 for information for articles for publication, 36 by people procuring public addresses, 24 by officials, 6 by business men, and 40 for personal information.

Although this department of package library loans is yet young, it has proven its worth to the state, and has indicated what it may do when it is more widely known.

DESIGNER OF DULUTH STEEL PLANT IS DEAD

Fred H. Daniels Dies at Worcester, Mass., After Year's Illness.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 1.—Fred H. Daniels, chairman of board of engineers of the United States steel corporation, chief engineer of the American Steel & Wire company, and president of the Washburn & Moen company, died at his home here last night after an illness of about a year. He was 60 years old. He had been prominently identified with the development of the steel industry for forty years and 151 patents, many of them revolutionizing processes of manufacture, mark his influence in the industry.

As designer and contractor of the wire mill plants, Mr. Daniels supervised the erection of most of the buildings and the installation of machinery at the Worcester mills of the American Steel & Wire company, which were at Waukegan, Ill., and was one of the consulting engineers who designed the United States steel corporation's plant at Gary, Ind., costing between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000, and served in a similar capacity at the erection of the Minnesota steel company's mills at Duluth.

The Paris exposition of 1900 bestowed a gold medal on him as "celebrated" and in 1902 he was decorated by King Oscar of Sweden.

COMPEL ROADS TO LOAN CARS

Manahan Would Add to Powers of Interstate Commerce Commission.

James A. Manahan, congressman-at-large from Minnesota, believes that railroads should be compelled to loan their equipment to other roads, at least to the extent that cars shall be taken to the destination of the shipment for which they are used, even though it be over several lines of railroad.

Mr. Manahan, who came to Duluth to address the Minnesota Rural Letter Carriers' association Saturday, said that on his return to Washington he will introduce a resolution, or a bill, if a resolution should be insufficient to the end that there may be free interchange of cars.

Cars containing through freight can be switched to the lines of another railroad only on consent of the road owning the cars, Mr. Manahan said. He would have control placed in the interstate commerce commission, so that through shipments may not be disturbed in transit.

TWENTY-SIX CARS IN SPECIAL

1,500 Meals Were Served During Trip Over the Ranges.

There are some interesting statistics obtainable in connection with special trains used to carry special parties on tour. Those in connection with the special which carried the members of the mining institute from Chicago and over the ranges are an indication of what is necessary in the way of preparation.

COMPLICATED CASE.

North Dakota Judge Trying to Straighten Stark County Deals.

Dickinson, N. D., Sept. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The methods of D. P. Piesek in land deals prior to his disappearance here created a tangle which Judge Crawford is endeavoring to unravel. Piesek is charged with selling a section of land in Billings county belonging to Michael Jablonki and of placing two mortgages on Dunn county land owned by Jablonki. One of these was for $3,000 and was held by the Farm Security Loan company of Minneapolis. The other was for half that amount and was held in Billings. The fact these mortgages fell into the hands of innocent parties complicates the situation.

LOSES GRAIN MONEY.

North Dakota Farmer Is Robbed in Montana.

Williston, N. D., Sept. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. D. Stockinger of McKenzie county was held up and robbed here of $60. He had hauled some grain to market at this point, after which he went to Mondak, Mont. for a celebration. On his return he was induced to walk up an alley, where three men choked him into insensibility and took his money.

United States Senator Stung.
Bowbells, N. D., Sept. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—United States Senator McComber is reported to be the heaviest loser in the failure of the McKnight land company. The First National Bank of Bowbells has been named as receiver and some transfers of Burke county lands are under investigation. It is claimed Senator McComber had $27,000 invested.

CHINA JUST AWAKENING

Young Native of Flowery Kingdom Urges Christian America to Action.

Says Missionary Work Is Vital at This Period in China's Progress.

That China is like a giant just awakening from its slumber, and that unless Christian America Christianizes China, China will heathenize America, was the statement of Miss Sul Wang, the young Oriental student who is touring the country, in her address yesterday morning at the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street.

China is just awakening from a deep slumber, said Miss Wang. During the last ten years the country has made more progress than it has done in the past ten centuries. The awakening is not taking place in any one particular province of the empire, but is general throughout China.

Miss Wang displayed enthusiasm for her native country. She spoke of its possibilities and its monetary strength, stating that the country could easily muster 30,000,000 soldiers. Its possibilities are immense, she said, and its progress in those sections visited by missionaries is remarkable.

Miss Wang also spoke of the horrors of the native life, and told of the struggles to which women of the country were subjected. This, she said, amounted to slavery in many instances.

More progress must be made among the Chinese by the Christian denomination, said the speaker. "Unless this is done in a comparatively short time, the Chinese will heathenize this country."

Miss Wang is a graduate of the Algonquin college of Michigan, and has during the past year traveled 10,000 miles in this country enlightening the people on conditions in the Orient. She has remarkable oratorical abilities for a person of 20 years and speaks in a convincing manner.

Week at several meetings during the Northern Wisconsin Methodist conference in Superior.

Convention of the Luther League.

The annual convention of the Lutheran League of the Lake Superior district for Swedish Lutheran churches opened yesterday at the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street. Sermons by visiting delegates and ministers featured the three meetings of the day.

The annual election of officers was the principal business of the conference this morning. Plans were made for extending the work of the league in many of the country districts. Rev. Carl G. Olson, pastor of the Bethany church, was elected president. Miss Lilje Larson, recording secretary; Miss Hildegard Miller, corresponding secretary and C. L. Rydmark, treasurer.

This afternoon the visitors will be entertained at a picnic at Lincoln park. In the evening a grand concert has been planned at which two representatives from each of the fourteen Lutheran leagues of the district will take part. This concert will bring the convention to a close.

West End Briefs.

Rev. C. W. R. Warming, pastor of the First Swedish Methodist church, will leave tomorrow for Lindstrom, Minn., where he will attend the annual Northern Swedish Methodist conference.

Clarence Nelson, son of Rev. and Mrs. Swaney Nelson, 2212 West Third street, returned yesterday from Hayward, Iowa, where he has spent the summer.

Harry Anderson of Ironwood, Mich., who has been spending two weeks in the West and visiting relatives, has left for his home.

West Second street, has returned home after spending two months camping at Split Lake.

Peter J. P. Renault, 2631 West Second street, and daughter have returned from a month's visit with relatives in Eastern Canada.

The monthly business meeting of the Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will be held in the church parlors tomorrow evening.

The Men's club of the Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will entertain this evening at a social program.

A number of the pastors who will arrive this week will speak Thursday evening at the regular midweek meeting at the First Swedish Baptist church.

BODY BLOW FOR CUPID

Widow Balks at His Solution of Her Difficulties.

Max Macholdt, German Farmer, Still Seeking a Wife.

Max Macholdt, 38 years old, German farmer, was on a still hunt for a wife last Friday, when he met, wooed and almost won Widow Hannah Johnson, mother of three, and a visitor at the office of the poor agent.

Max Macholdt, 38 years old, German farmer, is still hunting for his future wife. Even if the Widow Johnson couldn't see it that way, Max strongly maintains that he will make an ideal husband.

The romance which had its inception Friday morning in the office of the poor commissioner, courthouse, saw its finish Friday evening at the Johnson household, 1809 1/2 West First street.

After Macholdt had proposed to the widow she told him she would have to think it over. They went to the Johnson home to give Max an opportunity to size up the situation as regards children.

The children are perhaps to blame for the deal falling through. It was because the widow didn't want to deprive the children of an education in the city schools that she turned down an offer of a chance to live on a farm with Max.

Max tried to compromise. He suggested she take the youngest child with her and leave the two oldest in town and told her that he would pay their board here while they went to school.

She guessed, however, that she didn't want to be away from her children at all. This was the last straw for Max and he told her that he guessed that she didn't know a good thing when she saw it. He bid her goodbye and was off.

Max later returned to the poor commissioner's office at the courthouse. After telling Clerk Shogren, that the deal with the widow had fallen through, he asked if he knew any other widows who were poor and would appreciate a chance for a husband and a farm.

J. P. JOHNSON IS A PIKED GRANDFATHER.

When J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, awoke this morning he found himself a grandfather.

A baby boy was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Johnson, 169 South Fifteenth avenue east.

"Bob" Johnson, the proud father, is chief deputy of the district office. He has a number of friends on the council who wouldn't object "smoking on him" tomorrow.

Railroads

MILWAUKEE OPENS NEW MONTANA LINES.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 1.—One hundred and eight miles more of road have just been put in operation in Montana by the Milwaukee railroad, according to advices received by the Montana railroad commission.

The Great Falls-Lewistown line was opened for traffic for a distance of nineteen miles out of Lewistown to the station of Warwick; while the Grass range line, thirty-six miles out of Lewistown, was also opened.

The Milwaukee line from Plummer, Ida., into Spokane, a distance of forty-one miles, and a line from Coeur d'Alene into Spokane, a distance of thirty-one miles, also were put into commission.

ANOTHER RAILROAD FOR WIMBLEDON, N. D.

Wimbeldon, N. D., Sept. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wimbeldon will soon have two railroads as a result of the rapidity with which construction work is being carried on the Midland Extension from Jamestown to this point. All the grading work except in one camp is completed and laying the steel from the Jamestown end is being rushed as rapidly as possible.

The road was started from Edgley two years ago and completed to Jamestown last season. This year it was extended to a point just west of Wimbeldon. It will be continued to Wimbeldon.

REVOLT AGAINST STRAW HAT ORDER

Duluthians Will Refuse to Discard Summer Lids While Summer Weather Lasts.

"Who has the temerity to say that straw hats are now taboo in Duluth?" asked a prominent local citizen, well known for his sartorial niceties, this morning.

"Who indeed, has the presumption to promulgate an alleged and pretended unwritten law purporting to interfere with our pursuit of comfort and well being, to say nothing of our appearance?"

"The United States supreme court, the highest authority in the land, has gone on record in favor of a 'rule of reason.' Why shouldn't a 'rule of reason' apply to the wearing of straw hats as well as to the regulation of the trusts? I wouldn't try to boost for a straw hat trust any more than I would try to bust it. Most of us have our heads covered, and to some other unwritten law which decrees that we should have flimsy headgear almost before the ice is out of the lake, so that really isn't a pertinent argument.

"I've got my straw hat and I'm going to keep on using it. The best part of our summer is coming and I'm going to enjoy it as well as I know how. My straw hat is going to help out that enjoyment and I don't want any mistaken person to come around with a shocked, horrified look upon his face, as much as to say that I must be an awful boob to be flying into the face of precedent or, unwritten law, or whatever it is."

It's the straw hat for mine most of this month and maybe part of next. And furthermore I've heard a bunch of others, one of whose chief assets is a stock of common sense, make the same declaration.

"Another 'cit' who held the same sentiments declared that he would call upon Mayor Prince at the city hall tomorrow morning to ask him to issue a proclamation extending the local straw hat season to the end of September.

He wasn't quite so independent as the other and his sensitiveness demanded some such action to save the doubts which assailed him.

Mayor Nye of Minneapolis has "took the bit in his teeth" and extended the straw hat season of his city to Sept. 15. Wherefore the local devotees of the hot weather skypiece take cheer and feel confident that Duluth's executive will not only equal that progressive, sensible step but go one stride better, naming Oct. 1 as the date on which the ban will be placed on straw hats in this city.

WELCOME FOR ROYAL CHIEF

Head of Scottish Clans Will Be Guest of Clan Stewart Wednesday.

Scots of Duluth and Superior Will Join in Reception.

Duluth and Superior Scotchmen will be hosts Wednesday evening to Alexander C. Findlay, of Seattle, Wash., royal chief of the Order of Scottish Clans.

The distinguished visitor will be the guest of Clan Stewart, No. 50, of this city, but the clamorous cities of the Head of the Lakes will unite in giving him a fitting reception. The royal chief has visited here before and has many friends on both sides of the bay.

The visit of Royal Chief Findlay was unexpected, the telegram announcing his intention to come here being received only yesterday by Alexander C. McKnight, who was chosen royal counsellor of the order at the recent convention which made Mr. Findlay the head of the order.

No time was lost in making arrangements to receive the royal chief. Robert Tulloch, chairman of the amusement committee, co-operated with Mr. McKnight to prepare the program. Among the numbers will be vocal selections by Mrs. Rebecca McKnight, L'Engle and Phillip Gordon Brown and Scottish dances by Miss Daily MacCaskill. Clan Stewart's bagpipe band will have a prominent place in the evening's entertainment. The program will start at 8 o'clock at Foresters hall, 112 Fourth avenue west, and will be attended by a large number of clansmen and their wives. The open meeting will be preceded by a short business session at 7:30 o'clock. Alexander Anderson, chief of the local clan, will preside. The program will be followed by informal dancing and light refreshments. Royal Chief Findlay will be taken for a drive about the harbor upon his arrival in the afternoon, a large delegation will be on hand to meet him.

GOOD BUSINESS IS GOOD CROP RESULT.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Believing that the crop in this part of the state will be the best paying one for years, the traders are preparing for a huge business this year. The crop has been easily harvested and so much of it has been threshed that there is no doubt about the high average quality of the grain. The yield has been fairly satisfactory, though not as large as last season. Labor has been cheaper and less time has been used, so the crop, in every way, has been economically handled. It looks like the farmers will have more for their year's work than they returned for the big 1912 crop.

RUNAWAY HOOSIER YOUTH IS HALTED.

New Rockford, N. D., Sept. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The effort of Carl Pack, a 13-year-old boy from New Carlisle, Ind., to see the world this far west when the sheriff recognized him from a printed description and is holding the youth pending the arrival of his father.

FATALITIES MARK SUNDAY

Drownings, Collisions and Crimes Claim Their Victims.

Mrs. Amos Tuck French and Mother Injured While Motoring.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 1.—Two boys were drowned while swimming in the Mississippi river within eight of hundreds of spectators who flocked to see the municipal bridge under course of construction Sunday. One of the boys, from cards found in his clothes, is believed to have been John Kelly of St. Paul, Minn.

John Creed, 13 years old, of St. Louis, was drowned at the west end of the bridge. The drownings occurred only a few minutes apart.

Murders Wife Kills Himself. Quincy, Ill., Sept. 1.—John Henry, an electrical worker, killed his wife and then committed suicide Sunday.

After firing five bullets into the body of his wife he called upon the police, notified them of the shooting and gave the address where he lived. He might have time to prepare for his own death.

To kill himself, he placed the muzzle of a shotgun in his mouth and set off the trigger with a piece of wood.

The woman fought a desperate battle, reaching her death still clenching in her hand the iron poker with which she had sought to defend herself.

Woman and Child Killed. Grand Island, Neb., Sept. 1.—A woman and child were killed and the father seriously injured when an automobile in which they were riding here Sunday, was struck by a passenger train.

The dead are Mrs. Henry Hageman and infant son of St. Paul, Neb. Henry Hageman was driving the car of the track but suffered internal injuries which may cause his death.

Detroit Smashing May Be Fatal. Detroit, Mich., Sept. 1.—Late Sunday at Connor's creek, near Detroit, an automobile car crowded with passengers crashed into an automobile.

The car, a 1912 model, was driven by a man who was killed. The car was crushed and the driver was killed.

Charles Littlewood, who was alone in the car, was killed. Mrs. Rachel Silverman, 41, was the other gravely injured person.

Newport Party in Crash. Boston, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Stuyvesant Leroy and her daughter, Mrs. Amos Tuck French, were seriously injured in an automobile accident near Canton, Sunday.

The party, including Mrs. French's daughter, was en route to Newport. The car was proceeding from Newport to Boston in a high-powered automobile.

Near Canton, the chauffeur lost control of the car. It crashed into a tree and Mrs. French and her daughter were thrown out.

Others managed to keep their seats and were not injured.

As Mrs. Leroy's condition was found to be serious, her family physician and nurse were summoned to her home.

Word was also sent to relatives.

Stuyvesant Leroy, son of Mrs. Leroy, was at Narragansett Pier, on his way to Providence in an automobile and caught in a Post train.

Mrs. Jack Geraghty, Mrs. French's daughter and son-in-law, were summoned from their home in New York.

Mrs. Leroy is 65 years old. She has been prominent for many years in society and in philanthropic work.

Child Killed, Mother Dying. Galena, Ill., Sept. 1.—John T. Riley and his wife and 6-year-old daughter were thrown from a car Sunday when his horses became frightened and ran away.

The mother so badly injured that she may die. One of Riley's legs was broken.

Plays Hymn and Drowns. Kansas City, Sept. 1.—A boy, 21 years old, was drowned Sunday in the Missouri river.

The boy was on his way to work, preparation for the ten-mile swimming event to be held today.

The family of Orvis believe he had a premonition of death. Saturday night at his home he played the strains of "Hallelujah Chorus" on his cornet.

He then turned to his mother and told her he was ready to do as she wished. She had played suggested. Sunday morning the young man, who was a mother, went to the Catholic church, where Orvis confessed and received the sacrament.

He then went to work, where he was with a companion for his practice for the swimming event. He swam several miles and was crossing the river when he made a landing, when he sank.

Efforts to find the body were unavailing. "Earl knew something was going to happen," sobbed his mother, when told of the drowning. "It was God's will, Earl trusted and obeyed."

purpose described by any treaty.

"But the question has been squarely raised by the declaration, which was intended and understood by the public generally to mean that California claimed such right, notwithstanding any treaty provisions with the Federal government."

"Arizona has adopted an alien land law more drastic than that of California, but this likewise provides that it shall not be so construed as to conflict in any manner with any treaty of the United States."

"In Washington a constitutional amendment has been submitted to the people providing in substance that if a resident alien becomes a non-resident for nine years his real property shall be vested in the common school fund."

Of Vital Importance. The laws of these latter states have not attracted the attention of the legislature of California, and the public discussion which followed the passage of this law may disturb the amicable relations heretofore existing between the United States and Japan.

Question of vital importance to our nation in its relation with foreign governments.

I am convinced that there can be no serious doubt that the Federal government may, by treaty, define the status of a foreigner there in the states, the places where he may travel, the business in which he may engage, the property he may own, and the personal and the devolution of such property upon his death; that such a treaty constitutes the supreme law of the land; and that a state law contravening such a treaty is void and will be so declared by the courts in a suitable action.

These propositions have been established by the laws and usages of all civilized nations, by the history of the times, by the opinions of the statesmen who framed our Constitution, by the provisions of the constitution, by the universal practice of making such treaties from the days of the confederation, and, lastly, by the repeated decisions of the supreme court of the United States.

And yet, notwithstanding this, when the question arose, the legislature of California, by an almost unanimous vote of its members and with the approval of its distinguished governor, took the position that California had the exclusive right to regulate the ownership and disposition of real estate by foreign citizens—a position which was conceded without question by a large section of public journals, and which seems to have been held by influential members of the Washington government.

Certain it is that the government did not take the stand that any law of California or any other state, made in violation of a treaty with the United States, is void, and that the government is bound to enforce treaty rights notwithstanding the action of the states.

If that the standpoint of history, and judicial authority, I shall attempt in this address to maintain the supremacy of the United States government, although the subject has been so fully treated by the able and distinguished statesmen that it seems hardly to be open to discussion.

Exercised By All Nations. He pointed out that it is not to be assumed that the people of the United States intended to confer upon the Federal government a less power than that which they have conferred upon nations since the dawn of civilization.

He pointed out that few individual states in confederations have retained the treaty-making power, and of those that have, few have retained it in its original form.

Other confederations have changed their forms of government, so that the treaty-making power is now vested in the nation.

If it be true that the Federal government may not make a treaty upon any matter which is ordinarily reserved to the states, for the central government, he said, a principal part of the treaty-making power, as it has been exercised, is the power to make a treaty with foreign nations.

which arise between man and man, in the manifold duties and relations of life in organized society. They are of higher importance in the development of world civilization because they lie at the very foundation of peace and good order and maintenance of those last principles of international law which in the policy of modern governments are taking the place of war in the settlement of disputes. We can have little influence in the great movement for world peace if we are neglectful in keeping our own treaty obligations, for the stability of international law and the fulfillment of national obligations is as necessary to the peace of the world as the stability and maintenance of law and order is necessary to the peace and prosperity of society."

SEES WONDERFUL CHANGES IN DULUTH

Oshkosh Visitor Says Genii Must Have Been Used.

"It's wonderful, the changes that have taken place here since I was here eight years ago. Duluth must have engaged the services of the efficient and energetic genii mentioned in the Arabian Nights, to effect such a transformation," said John H. Whitney of Oshkosh, Wis., who was here as a guest of a member of the Lake Superior Mining Institute, on their tour of inspection of the Duluth mines.

The entire trip, from the start at Duluth last Tuesday, has been a revelation, he said. "It seems to be the popular impression that the Northern Minnesota iron country is rather 'wild and woolly' but a person does not have to be in the country long to quickly dissipate that idea. The general appearance of the range cities indicates prosperity, peace and plenty of money; street lighting that would put to shame many Eastern cities; automobiles that are like the parkways are a few of the things that impress a visitor. A visit would open the eyes of most of the people in the East."

"Besides being true of the iron country, it is also true of Duluth itself. I consider that the large tourist travel through this city is the best advertisement in the world."

Mr. Whitney was formerly secretary of the Duluth Chamber of Commerce. "The latest Curtiss achievement is the 'flying boat,'" he said. "This is the latest development of the original 'dredge' which was first successfully perfected by Mr. Curtiss at San Diego in the winter of 1910-1911. The boat then was a regular passenger plane, with the wheels removed and a float, or pontoon substituted to sustain it in the water. Since that time constant improvements have been made, each machine being better than the last, until the final perfected result has been reached."

"The danger of aviation is just what you make it. I freely admit that exhibition flying is dangerous—dangerous in just the degree to which the aviator attempts to thrill his audience by the most daring and reckless of automobile racing. Because this is a dangerous game, does not deter

Q. E. D.

It may possibly be remembered that a couple of years ago The Herald pointed out to Governor Eberhart that the railroads of Minnesota were not paying enough taxes, that the process of changing their tax rate involved a vote of the people, and that unless an extra session of the legislature was called to propose an increase no action would be possible until the general election of 1914, this losing the state the gain for 1913 and 1914.

Governor Eberhart couldn't see it at the time, but later political exigencies altered his mind. The extra session was held, the legislature proposed to the people an increase in the railroad gross earnings tax from four to five per cent, and the people ratified the change at the general election in 1912.

So much for the history of it.

It is just announced from the state capital that the gross earnings of Minnesota railroads on which this year's taxes are based amount to the unprecedented figure of $40,470,335.24, on which, at five per cent, they will pay the state a tax of $2,023,516.76.

Had there been no extra session, the railroads would be paying this year and next at the old rate of four per cent, and their taxes this year would amount to only $1,709,173.41.

The gain is nearly half a million dollars, and next year's taxes will bring the gain up to a million.

This, aside from the important legislation enacted, is the fruit of the extra session which The Herald urged the governor to call.

Incidentally, the record-breaking earnings of the Minnesota railroads is mighty strong evidence of the prosperity of the railroads and of the state.

Because a cook cursed it, a Pacific ocean craft is supposed to be lost. Hardly seems fair when nothing happens to so many cooks who are themselves cursed.

THE PEDOMETER TREATMENT.

We hear the story of a business man who found that too close confinement to his desk was putting unseemly roundness upon the slender form of his youth, and that it was also interfering seriously with his digestion and his general health.

In other words, he was laying up fat that he did not need and that made life a burden to him, and his physical inaction, coupled with hearty eating and possibly some drinking, was playing hob with his health.

So he went to the doctor about it, and the doctor, after putting him through the customary course of sprouts, gravely prescribed a pedometer as his treatment.

A pedometer is a cute little thing that looks like a dollar watch. You put it in your vest pocket or the pocket in the waist of your trousers, and it registers the distance you walk. This particular pedometer, the one the merchant bought, registered up to a hundred miles, and then you had to turn it back and start over again.

The merchant didn't think much of the treatment. He had expected, of course, that he would be given several kinds of nasty medicine that would take off his surplus weight, restore his stomach to the normal, and put him fit again. Meanwhile he could stick to his desk, use the street cars or his automobile, and eat and drink what he pleased.

But he had a wiser doctor than he thought, and there was no medicine, in the sense of drugs, at all.

At first the merchant was resentful, and thought of trying another doctor. But before he had recovered from his astonishment he had bought his pedometer, and about this time he got interested in it.

Finding that when he followed his usual habits it took the pedometer a long time, a distressingly long time, to score a hundred, he got to walking from his home to his office and back again. The pedometer sped up accordingly.

Even then, however, it did not

"THE LABORER IS WORTHY OF HIS HIRE."

Labor day is peculiarly the holiday of that element among laborers which affiliates with union organizations, and so substitutes collective bargaining for the unsatisfactory method of individual bargaining which leaves too much to the generosity or selfishness of the employer.

We are all of us laborers—or else very unhappy beings—whether we labor with hand or brain or both, and whether our tools are picks, shovels, machinery, typewriters, pens, scalpels, sermons or law books. We are laborers, or we are miserable beings.

"In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread" is the most ancient of all laws; and it was not a sentence of punishment, but a beneficent heritage of contentment.

There is no happier being on earth than the man who labors at a task for which he is fitted and in the doing of which and in achieving thereby he finds pleasure; whose rest is hard-won, whose vacations are periods of re-creation for another year's labors.

So while Labor day is technically union labor's day, union labor can have no complaint if all of us join with it in celebrating the occasion.

But Labor day has a greater significance than merely to remind us of the common duty and the common joy of toil.

"The laborer is worthy of his hire."

And Labor day is a reminder that society cannot safely neglect the primal demand of justice that the laborer shall have his fair share of the fruits of his toil.

It is unwholesome and perilous where others than the laborer reap an unfair share of the fruits of his toil; where those who toil do not reap, and those reap who do not toil. It creates a specially privileged class to be hated and, ultimately, attacked and destroyed; for so has it ever been in all the history of man, that the building up of a class of parasites who fatten on the toil of others has led inevitably to revolution, whether peaceful or violent.

And so shall it ever be.

"The laborer is worthy of his hire," and society should concede to him a fair share of the fruits of his toil, not only because it is just and because he has earned them, but because to do otherwise is to sow the seeds of social peril.

The underpaid worker is not only an embittered and unwilling and discontented worker, but he is the husband of a joyless and toil-depleted wife and the father of children deprived of their splendid heritage of childhood and denied the food and training needed to make them into cheerful workers and dependable citizens.

We do not plant seeds in our fields and expect them to ripen into glorious maturity without proper food and cultivation.

We should not suffer little children to remain in squalor and deprivation, expecting them somehow to develop into contented and useful citizenship.

The underpaid worker is a center of discontent, and his home is a potential breeding place of vice and bad citizenship.

The lesson of Labor day is wholly lost unless society dedicates itself, for its own sake if not in the name of justice and humanity, to the assurance of fair dealing to the workers and a fair division of the fruits of our common enterprise and toil.

travel fast enough, so instead of spending his Sundays in his automobile, the merchant took to walking through the country. Starting with three or four miles, presently he was scoring up seven, eight and even ten miles a day on his pedometer. Once he scored up to fifteen miles in one Sunday, and though tired and sleepy at the end, he found time to gloat over the gain his pedometer showed.

And about that time he discovered that not all the gain was that registered by the pedometer.

For one thing, his figure was greatly improved. Much of the protuberant roundness had disappeared. He slept better—slept better, in fact, than he had for years and got more rest out of his sleep. His stomach got to working like it did when he was a boy. He was feeling, as he put it, "like a fighting cock."

Nor was that the end of it. Though he had no pedometer on his brain, he found that he brought to his work a mental vigor that he had not possessed for years. His business expanded and his profits enlarged accordingly.

Nor was even that all, or even the best. He had discovered new beauties and new glories in the world about him. He had found a new kinship with nature. He had accidentally come across the splendor of the right old world outside that office of his, and he was enjoying it as a discoverer enjoys finding a new continent.

That pedometer treatment is worth trying. It beats all the drugs behind the prescription counter.

Just as a rough guess, how many times today has some gag or other been sprung on you about September morn?

THE WEAKEST SPOT IN THE ECONOMIC ORGANIZATION.

A local item in the Albert Lea Standard, published in Freeborn county, this state, directs attention to what is still the weakest point in the economic organization of this country—the process of getting food from the producer to the consumer on the best possible terms to both. The item follows:

The abundant apple crop of Freeborn county is unmarketable, the many thousands of bushels on the trees are going to waste and they are almost a total loss for the demand, or, more exactly, on account of the cost of getting them to consumers. A consignment of Duluth apples to the Twin Cities last week brought about 15 cents a bushel, and there is hardly a sale for them at any price. What a waste of delicious fruit is here! Thousands of bushels rot for them in the cities, and apples by the carload rot or be fed to the hogs in the country!

On the day this item was published in Freeborn county, a couple of hundred miles from Duluth, the wholesale price of apples in this city was 50 cents a bushel.

And surely there is a market here the terminal markets. Kansas City the other day had the largest cattle receipts in its history. At other points the impulse of the drought, which causes cattle growers to fear that they will not be able to winter their stock, is being strongly felt.

So now there is plenty in the market.

But have prices gone down? They have not! They have gone up! Meat is getting into the class of an article. Both are exceptions to the rule that all that goes up must come down.

The consumer is playing a game under these rules: heads he loses, tails somebody else wins.

A man was fined $10 the other day for jumping into the Chicago river. They have mighty hard work to keep the surface from getting all dented up.

FOUL AIR AND FUDDLED BRAINS.

When the human vocal apparatus gets a-going, often the results are amazing.

For instance, at the international congress on school hygiene in Buffalo the other day one Dr. Joseph Lee of Boston dropped this gem of thought:

Better a stuffy schoolroom with zealous work, than fresh air and muscular development with mental flabbiness. There is a sure recipe for mental flabbiness than a stuffy schoolroom or workroom of any kind, we don't know it.

If there is a stronger handicap to zealous work than a stuffy atmosphere, we never have heard of it.

Fresh air and muscular development do not produce flabby brains. Quite the contrary. Nor are they prejudicial to zealous work. On the contrary, fresh air and wise muscular development stimulate the mental faculties and breed a spirit of zealous industry.

Dr. Joseph Lee's remark is arrant flubdub.

Why not advocate fresh air and proper muscular development as promoters of mental alertness and zealous activity? There would be some sense in that.

A Hindu prisoner is reported to have picked the pockets of the police and escaped with $138. Wonder what the coroner's jury would think of that kind of a force?

DEFENDS THE CANADA THISTLE.

To the Editor of The Herald: James P. Grady, the Hermantown farmer quoted in tonight's Herald, is not an up-to-date stockman. Else he would not be proclaiming an exploded theory.

Nowadays instead of the Canada thistle being considered a pest to the farmer and stock raiser it is coming into cultivation as a valuable forage and roughage. It has been found to contain conditioning qualities along with a large food content, therefore is highly desirable for growing cattle and much more than the Western cattle eat it readily while green—some even prefer it to other forage—and all eat it greedily when cured into hay, which is coupled with its ease of culture and certainty to produce a crop in districts subject to drought, and also in "dry" farming regions is causing considerable areas to be planted to this once despised herb. And, by the way, much of the Canada thistle is clearly a misnomer, as the plant is not native—and it is not so thoroughly naturalized in the Canadian as in U. S. A., and is not even a thistle.

SOPHIE BROWN GERMAN, Duluth, Aug. 29.

THE HEIGHT OF SCORN.

New York Evening Sun: It was the middle of a sticky, hot afternoon, and she was waiting with what patience she could for her change. The girl behind the notion counter wore a tired and worried expression as she looked at a man who leads his own forces in the field.

Carranza wears the paint brush whiskers that are still favored by the more staid men of the republic. There are glasses upon his nose, for his eyes are very poor. He has his eyes, in his early manhood he came near losing them altogether, and was forced to give up his chosen profession of the law because of their weakness.

Carranza is 64. He is of mixed Mexican blood, some of which is old Spanish and some of which is native Aztec and Indian. His education was secured in Mexico and he speaks little English. He has served as mayor of his native town, as judge, as senator, as governor. His people idolize him, and his election to the office of governor was by a unanimous vote. On his ranch large considerable herds of cattle and horses, and he is classed as well to do. He is not wealthy, however, as were the Maderos, all his property probably being worth $500,000.

Girls and Convention.

James Douglas in London Opinion: The truth is that the free mind has made inevitable the free ankle. Our girls are no longer content to be tied up like bales of cotton. They have learned the use of their own legs on the horseback and in the hockey field. The masculine leg is not a veiled mystery. Why should the feminine leg be regarded as a great secret? Dedicated to the allurements of the ballet? After all, our girls may not be quite so bold and quick as we are in our dancing innocence, imagine. Perhaps they are right in assailing the stupid tyranny of skirts. Perhaps they are wise to force us to bear the shattering revelation that the end justifies the means. Perhaps they are doing a great and noble deed in delivering us from the delusion that the loss we see of them the better. There is no doubt that they are rapidly emerging from the chains of convention. They are asserting their right to be human beings and not bundles of obedient duplicity. They are shedding their self-consciousness as well as at their clothes. The sooner we shed our self-consciousness the better.

Stand the Gaff. The iron must enter your soul, my lad—Stand the gaff. The hour will come when your ears will smart. When your cheeks will burn and the tears will sting. Let 'em laugh. For the testing of manhood's a cruel thing. And the lash of suspicion is heavy with sting. And slander and gossip are waiting to fling. Their mud at the beat of ambition's strong wing. Injustice has always stood ready with sting. She's ahead on the heights and exulting your rise. You must pay for your progress, for there is no success. Where the wolf-pack of envy does not yelp and press. You must pay for your courage, you can't dare the stars. And escape without anguish and bruises. The cheat and the coward are trailing your track. The sneak lurks behind you to stab. Keep honor, no matter how heavy the cost. Keep honor, nothing that counts can be lost. When the choice lies before you to be or seem right. Then to hell with appearances—stand up and fight. —Herbert Kaufman in Woman's World.

The Man of Mexico

From the New York Times.

Carlos Piza stood with his back to an adobe wall and smoked many cigarettes as he awaited the return of a messenger who has been dispatched with a final plea to "The First Chief of the Constitutional Forces."

Ten steps away from their rifles across their knees sat a dozen of his comrades in arms, composing the firing squad that was assigned to the task of his execution. A soft morning breeze stole in among the broken foothills of cactus-clad Coahuila and wafted away the smoke from the cigarettes of the silent thirteen.

A clatter of hoofs broke the silence and pulled the group to its feet. The messenger passed to the noncommissioned officer in charge the single command, "La muerte." It was the death sentence of Carlos Piza.

Five minutes later twelve rifles spoke and there was one less wild young Mexican careerer valiantly but somewhat irresponsibly about the plains that have known the sway of Montezuma, the conquest of Cortez, the romantic reign of Maximilian and the iron hand of Diaz.

The death of Piza was at the order of Don Venustiano Carranza, who, in the opinion of some observers of Mexican affairs, is rising out of the chaos of the south as the one dominating figure beyond the Huasteca. The circumstances that led up to this execution throw light upon his aims and methods.

Piza was a young mountaineer who had joined the Constitutional forces some weeks after the challenge had been thrown down to the Huertista government. Throughout the weeks that followed he had shown unceasing activity, and with his little band of personal followers, he had harassed the enemy constantly as the circle of the revolutionist influence widened. His words were satisfactory to his chief, but for the fact that Piza was a bit of a bandit at heart and was loath to leave any village or ranch without bearing away a quantity of value that could be extorted.

While Carranza has not been loath to use the force of his army against wealthy sympathizers with Huerta and Diaz and to make sure of their collection, he has sought to free his ranks from the charge of brigandage and orders had been issued against looting and extortion.

So when it was found that young Piza had brought in 500 pesos that he had extorted in a certain village he was ordered to return the money. This he failed to do. Here was direct disobedience. Further, Piza had grumbled against the order of the chief, and suggested to his followers that they take to the brush and brigandage. Such conduct meant death to discipline.

Whereupon Gen. Carranza ordered that his young follower be shot. All appeals were useless and the execution followed as here set forth. Then the revolutionary chieftain wrote a sympathetic letter to the mother of the boy announcing his death and expressing grief at the loss of the son.

Don Venustiano Carranza was governor of the State of Coahuila in February last when Madero and Sanchez were the tragic deaths and Huerta was proclaimed president. While the belief prevailed that death would be dealt out to all who opposed the new state, Carranza was not so sure. He had established himself in power, Carranza raised the flag of revolution and turned the bridges behind him. His action was immediate and without qualification.

It was from Monclova in Coahuila that the declaration of the constitution was issued. Governor Carranza again showed the sterner qualities of leadership when he proclaimed his reasons for renouncing the new government and the principals upon which he would make his fight. He maintained that he was the regular elected executive in his state. He represented a government that was based upon a constitution. The individual who had seized the Federal government had received no authority from the people, but had, on the contrary, overthrown a legitimate government. He set the voice of the people above treachery and murder and fear of punishment.

It was in this city of atmosphere that the revolt began. Coahuila was the home state of the Maderos and had policy successfully followed by him. The iron hand that wrung great profits from its citizens. Practically the whole people aligned themselves with the governor, and his influence spread quickly.

And Don Venustiano Carranza, the man who started it all—what was him? In the first place, there should be called to mind the huge, rugged figure of a ranchman of the mountains. Carranza is about the size of two men like Francisco Madero, the idealistic former president, who had not enough of the sterner stuff in him to handle so difficult a situation as was presented. He stands more than six feet tall and weighs as much as 250 pounds. He is stick to a man who leads his own forces in the field.

Carranza wears the paint brush whiskers that are still favored by the more staid men of the republic. There are glasses upon his nose, for his eyes are very poor. He has his eyes, in his early manhood he came near losing them altogether, and was forced to give up his chosen profession of the law because of their weakness.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

It's His Nature. Walker Pilot: It's hard to make an optimist out of a pessimist. Put him in line with the men who do things and he'll swear that everybody is out of step except himself.

Where the Consumer Comes In. Fergus Falls Journal: A very interesting point in connection with freight refundments under the recent supreme court decision has just been put up to Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith. The Graceville Lumber company bought several carloads of lumber from a Minnesota sawmill company. The sawmill company paid the freight but charged it up in the price of the lumber. The Graceville company has now demanded the refund which the railways will pay, but the attorney general holds that the sawmill company shall receive it because it made the actual payment. The man who ought justly to receive it is the consumer who finally paid it, but none of the refunds will ever get back that far.

What About It? Red Wing Eagle: It is argued that because slavery exists in the Philippines, independence for the Philippines should be out of the question. Let's see, did the United States rid itself of slavery before gaining independence, or after securing it?

A Citizen's Duty. Red Wing Republican: In popular government every citizen should have the duty of making and maintaining the law. This must especially be remembered in the conduct and administration of municipal affairs. It is in the town or city in which you live that your power of efficiency in promoting real democracy has to undergo its most severe test.

Why So Gloomy? St. Peter Free Press: If Speaker Rines of Mora reflects the sentiment of the legislature there will be no public utilities law passed at the extra session. Evidently he doesn't like what he calls the governor's pet measure, and speaking of the attitude of the legislature, he contends that the members were not very anxious to do the governor's bidding at the regular session any more than he is likely to find more docile at the extra session. If this is true why so gloomy? If the members care to do it they can disapprove of a utilities bill in a week and that would settle the matter until after another election. But it is very probable that they will look into this matter a little closer and barely possible that they may evolve a bill of their own along the same lines, but quite different from that of the governor's, and pass it, for you can never tell beforehand what a legislature will do when once convened.

Good Works Road Show. Northland News: Good roads cannot be built in a day, no matter the money available, the system employed or the laws enacted. Their construction is a slow process, and after five years a substantial beginning shall have been made of a well-organized state system of roads. In the meantime the best results are to be anticipated from the enforcement of the new law. If dry seasons state roads would be kept in fair condition by the use of the drag which now without it are lumpy and uneven. Travelers would be questioned, however, the wisdom of the enactment which fixes the width of state roads. A narrower road would meet every necessity, would cost less to construct and would be easier maintained.

He Has Evidence. Albert Lea Tribune: If Mr. Huerta is reading the American newspapers, he has probably found out before this that the American senate is solidly supporting President Wilson's Mexican policy. Mr. Huerta jumped too quick.

The President's Triumph

New York Globe: President Wilson's personal triumph in the Mexican negotiations is the greater because the policy successfully followed is notably his own. It is permissible now to say that many who yesterday applauded the president's speech and declared an intention of following his leadership did not have any distinct notion of where they were going. It looked like a blind alley.

It now appears the president knew what he was about and that the critics and doubters and sneerers were the confused ones. "The steady pressure of moral force," said the president in his address to congress, "will before many days break the barriers of pride and prejudice down and we shall triumph as Mexico's friends sooner than we could triumph as her enemies." The president is a good prophet. He is a good prophet for the same reason that the old prophets were good prophets. He believes as they did in the victory of right and the defeat of evil in the light of this confidence.

The sarcasm of the cheap cynic who says that the president is over the ridiculousness of the ideology of the White House has gone sour. The schoolmaster is something more than a schoolmaster. He comes to the first rank among the world's statesmen. President Roosevelt never achieved a bigger triumph than the chief glory of his achievement is that it marks a return to the old Americanism that incalculable faith in moral ideas. It is a corresponding defeat for the doctrine imported a few years ago from Europe, and for a time of great vogue, that the United States as a world's power must do as the rest of the world does and extend its influence by the use of physical force.

Piano solos were given by Miss Henschman of Chicago, Miss Abraham and Max Allenberg of West Superior and Mrs. Hammel and Ed Silberstein of Duluth. Miss Bachman of Toledo sang, Miss Florence Silberstein recited and Max Levy gave a zither solo.

The Man Who Started It.

New York Telegram: Express companies might well hold a lodge of sorrow and ponder (1) all things come to him who waits and (2) beware the fury of a patient man.

It is 1893, it is said, Bengt E. Sundberg of Kennedy, Minn., wanted a casting for his threshing machine and wanted it bad.

Transmission of the $2.50 casting cost $32 and this made the farmer mad clear through.

He was who instituted proceedings that resulted in the order of the interstate commerce commission reducing express rates 15 per cent, costing the companies millions a year.

Banana Eaters.

Chicago Journal: Americans used to be called a nation of pie eaters. Today, a more appropriate term would be a nation of banana eaters. The United States takes more than two-thirds of the bananas shipped to the handlers in this world.

Part of this pre-eminence in banana consumption is due to geography; the source of supply is in the Caribbean, almost at our doors. Part is due to accident; a Boston skipper introduced the American public to this tropical fruit while it was still unknown in this tropic. Whatever reason one may choose to give, the United States is the world's banana market, and though the use of this fruit is increasing abroad, the American boy remains the Jamaica grower's best friend.

NOTICE

IN RELATION TO

HAND BAGGAGE ON STREET CARS

During the last year or two much complaint has been made to the company of the inconvenience and discomfort caused to patrons by reason of other patrons abusing the privilege of taking hand baggage on the cars.

The payment of fare entitles any passenger to the privilege of taking "hand baggage" upon the car, but the term "hand baggage" has apparently been interpreted by some to mean anything that the passenger could lug aboard the car and the privilege has been abused to such an extent that the comfort of passengers and the operation of the cars has been seriously interfered with.

Without any desire to inconvenience those who have used the cars too freely in this way, but rather to promote the comfort of other patrons and in the best interests of all concerned, the company has adopted some new regulations and will hereafter require its employees to more strictly enforce all rules pertaining to this matter.

The new regulations will go into effect on October 1st next and this notice is given at this time in order that patrons who have been depending upon the cars for transporting articles that will not after that date be received as hand baggage may devise other means of transporting such things.

HAND BAGGAGE

Traveling bags, boxes, baskets, bundles, packages and other articles of such size, shape and weight as to enable the passenger to carry them in one hand while boarding the car will be considered as "hand baggage," provided, of course, they are not objectionable on account of being dangerous or offensive to other passengers.

PROHIBITED ARTICLES

Trunks, bicycles, baby carriages (except go-carts and small folding carriages that are of such shape that they may be taken inside the car folded up and held by the owner so as not to interfere with the comfort of other passengers), luncheon, food kits from which sharp tools protrude, unprotected glass, open pails of paint or grease, fowl smelling articles, as well as all such things as by reason of their shape, bulk or weight could not be taken into the car proper without blocking the aisles or otherwise interfering with the comfort of passengers, must not be taken onto the cars as hand baggage.

When the "dinky" cars were used in Duluth and Superior passengers were permitted to stand in the front vestibule and the back part of the rear vestibules was used for baggage. This has resulted in the practice of depositing baggage in the rear vestibules of the large cars, to the discomfort of passengers. All that part of the rear vestibules of the large cars which is not necessary to keep open for the safe and easy entrance and exit of passengers will hereafter be kept clear for the accommodation of those who desire to stand in the vestibule, and beginning October 1st no baggage whatever will be permitted in the rear vestibules of such cars. We believe this rule will materially add to the comfort of passengers and save time and accidents due to passengers having to climb over boxes and bundles when getting on or off the cars.

We respectfully solicit the co-operation of our patrons with our employees in enforcing this new rule. Patrons will kindly take their hand baggage into the body of the car with them and carry it upon their laps or place it under the seats, where it will not obstruct the aisles.

Passengers who wish to stand in the rear vestibule to smoke are requested to find a long seat and near the rear door for any baggage that they do not wish to hold in their hands.

Berlin, Sept. 1.—The marriage of ex-King Manuel of Portugal and Princess Augusta Victoria of Hohenzollern, daughter of Prince William of Hohenzollern, which is to take place next Thursday, is to be performed at Sigmaringen, the home of the bride, for which city the former monarch departed from England Saturday.

Eighty royal princesses have signified their intention of taking part in the ceremony, at which the prince of Wales will represent King George of England. The German emperor, who declared that he would have attended but for the German army maneuvers, will send one of his sons, probably Prince Oskar, and Queen Mary of England, the largest of which bears the inscription: "To King Manuel on the occasion of his marriage, from the Imperial couple, King George and Queen Mary."

A solid wine flagon from Queen Mother Alexandra of England bears the greeting: "For my dear Manuel, King of Portugal, from his affectionate aunt, Alexandra."

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Washington, Sept. 1.—Warm weather in the east and southwest and a cool wave in the northwest, are predicted by the weather bureau experts for the first part of this coming week.

"It is likely," the weekly bulletin said, "that this cool change will advance eastward and overspread the Atlantic states and the upper Mississippi valley by Wednesday or Thursday. Local frosts will occur by the middle of the week in the north and northwest. A disturbance that is now over the northern Rocky mountain region will move eastward, attended by local showers with thunder storms, and cross the Great central valley during the day. Otherwise the week will be one of generally fair weather."

SAYS COMPANY CAN PAY DEBTS.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 1.—On application of Vice President J. B. Robbins of the Mally Thompson & Moffatt Lumber company here, Frank A. Shaffer was reappointed receiver for the company. The application sets forth that it is believed that the assets will exceed the liabilities, but that the company is embarrassed by the lack of ready cash. The plaintiff also says that the information concerning the financial affairs of the company was in the sole possession of Thomas J. Moffatt, the president, who died suddenly on Thursday in a hotel here, registering under an assumed name.

WATER FROM THE PACIFIC FLOWS INTO PALAMA CANAL

Nearly 45,000 Pounds of Dynamite Exploded Under Barrier.

Visiting Shriners See Tremendous Blast Exploded on Isthmus.

Panama, Sept. 1.—The last remaining barrier at the Pacific end of the Panama canal was blown up by dynamite Sunday morning. It was an intensely interesting spectacle.

At exactly 9:30 o'clock an electric switch was turned on and the 1,500 spectators, including the Shriners visiting here from the United States and officers of the Duluth chapter No. 2, Zealand, were rewarded by a wonderful sight. Hundreds of tons of mud and stone were thrown high in the air; they hung suspended, and then fell back as the thunderous roar of the explosion re-echoed in the nearby hills.

About twenty long tons, equivalent to 44,800 pounds, of 45 per cent dynamite, constituted the blast, which was one of the largest ever set off in the canal.

No Water Entered.

The charge, which was planted in 54 holes at an average depth of thirty feet, tore a big gap in the barrier, but not a sufficient depth to permit water to flow through, the sea level channel was at low tide.

Equally interesting with the explosion was the actual breaking of the barrier in the afternoon, the tide creeping steadily up until at 10:05 o'clock it was level with the top of the gap. A workman seized a shovel and made a small trench, through which a rill of water trickled. Gradually widened, until an hour later a raging torrent, with a thirty-five foot fall, poured through an opening 400 feet wide into the sea. The canal between Gamboa dike and the Miraflores locks, which had previously been excavated by steam shovels.

Filled in Hour and a Half.

This cut, which is 500 feet long, 500 feet wide and 41 feet deep below mean sea level, was entirely filled by 10 o'clock, when the waters of the Pacific laved for the first time the stolid masonry of the Miraflores locks. Dredges passed last night through the opening, and in a few days the last vestige of the barrier will be removed, establishing a practically complete channel at the Pacific end.

cerned all is ready for the reception of the pupils.

DAY IS NOTABLE FOR FOUR THINGS

Labor Day, End of Straw Hat Season, Opening of Oyster Season and September Morn.

This is one of the most remarkable days of the calendar, then one comes to think of it. There are few if any other days that come to mind which are noted for so many things. There are other days that are celebrated because they are the anniversary of some event, but that is very simple when considered alongside of Sept. 1. To begin with this is Labor Day.

To begin with this is Labor Day. To begin with this is Labor Day. To begin with this is Labor Day. To begin with this is Labor Day.

Then it is the day when the men who wish to be an end to their straw hats. This is the day on which the prince of Wales will represent King George of England. The German emperor, who declared that he would have attended but for the German army maneuvers, will send one of his sons, probably Prince Oskar, and Queen Mary of England, the largest of which bears the inscription: "To King Manuel on the occasion of his marriage, from the Imperial couple, King George and Queen Mary."

Washington Man Thinks
Fuel Could Be Made Commercial Success.

Northern Minnesota may become one of the fuel-producing centers of the country if an investigation confirms the opinion of C. A. Davis of Washington, D. C., who is making a survey for the U. S. geological survey of the peat lands in the state.

Mr. Davis has been in Duluth for about a week and will make his headquarters at the hotel here during the next month while making tests.

W. H. Emmons, head of the geology department of the University of Minnesota, will co-operate with the government experts in their work. Prof. Emmons, following a week's tour of the Mesaba range as a guest of the Duluth district, returned here Sunday, declaring that there was an abundance of peat all through the territory covered by the mine experts.

Members of the Lake Superior Mining institute passed through Duluth Saturday afternoon on their way home from the tour of the Mesaba range. The meeting of the institute, which was held at the hotel here, was the best in the history of the organization.

LAST DAY OF THE SUMMER VACATION

Pupils and Teachers Preparing to Resume Work
Tuesday Morning.

Pupils and teachers alike are "viewing with alarm" the dawn of tomorrow, for with its coming nine and a half months of school life and work will be resumed.

Vacation will be over with today and for the better part of next year the energies that have been devoted to play or travel must be used for the giving or taking of knowledge.

A part of today at least will be given over to the work of preparation for the work of tomorrow; and many teachers from out of the city are busily hunting for rooms and boarding places. Many of them who delayed their return until the last minute are having busy days of it today, and few houses with "furnished rooms" signs on them escape in the general stir.

High school pupils who are resuming their work this year and signed their cards to the end of last season, are required to report for work and assignment at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, but those who are just beginning their high school work are requested to report at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

As far as the school equipment is concerned

MRS. DICKINSON IS ROBBED OF JEWELS

Wife of Former Secretary of War Loses Handbag
at Albany.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 1.—The discovery that Mrs. Jacob M. Dickinson, wife of the former secretary of war, lost a handbag containing a diamond necklace and other jewelry, held up the special train of Lord Chancellor Haldane until early Sunday morning. Mrs. Dickinson attended the dinner given here Saturday night in the lord chancellor's honor, just before he departed for Montreal. She was on the way to the train when she discovered her loss.

The taxicab in which Mrs. Dickinson rode was seized without result. Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson then proceeded to Montreal with the rest of the party.

Notice of Harwood-De La Motte return of the jewelry was wired to the hotel management.

GERMANS CELEBRATE.

Over Fifty Minnesota Teutonic Societies Recall Fatherland.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 1.—Germans from all parts of Minnesota, representing more than fifty societies met here Sunday in celebration of German day and heard the fatherland praised in speeches and song. It was the anniversary of the founding of the first German settlement in America at Germantown, Pa.

The celebration was held at Harriet island where it is estimated that more than 5,000 persons crowded around the speakers' stand and heard addresses by Governor Ikerberg, Mayor Schuchman, Albert Pfander of New Ulm, Hans Grunow, German consul, Edgar Froehlich, Austrian consul and Julius Moersch, president of the Minnesota German alliance. The last speaker was C. C. Schmidt, of St. Paul, introduced the speakers.

The key note of all the addresses was the urging of better citizenship to make America a more progressive land.

PROLONGING LIFE IN DIABETES

On Monday, May 6th, 1912, San Francisco dailies published an offer that is unique, as follows:

"To show that Codoin containing optimum amount of insulin, commonly used in Diabetes is wrong and that Fulton's Diabetic Compound, which contains no opium or sedatives, but promotes secretions, is right, we will say that if four physicians of good standing in this city will send us a Diabetic between fifty and seventy years of age, who has no other disease, and who is showing high specific gravity thirst and a large quantity of sugar, we will with this mild infusion to hold the liver oxidize the sugars and starches, attempt to return him in sixty days with half of the sugar eliminated, with thirst and symptoms largely reduced and on the road to recovery. If we fail we will publish the fact. If we succeed the physicians to acknowledge it. We will pay the patient who can both trust. This offer is not in the nature of a contest, but to demonstrate that life can be prolonged and recovered in many cases of Diabetes now dying under codoin."

If you have Diabetes and are of middle age or over you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Diabetic Compound before giving up. It can be had at druggists, supplied by Litchfield Pharmacy, 26 West Superior Street. Ask for pamphlet or write to John J. Fulton Company, San Francisco.

DUBLIN HAS FIERCE RIOTS

Probably 400 Hurt in Clash of Police and Strikers.

Arrest of James Larkin
Arouses Popular Indignation.

Dublin, Sept. 1.—Fierce rioting in connection with the tramway strike was renewed Sunday. Hundreds of persons, including thirty constables, were injured. On Saturday sixty or more persons were injured. All the hospitals are so crowded that many serious cases had to be sent to their homes for treatment.

The strike committee, in the interest of peace, had resorted early in the morning to a proposed mass meeting in O'Connell street, and had substituted a parade from Beresford place to Crofton park, at Fairview, a suburb. The authorities meanwhile had prohibited the mass meeting.

Crofton park belongs to the Transport Workers' union, and a meeting was held there without disorder, but on the return march, attempts of the police by baton charges to disperse the constantly growing crowds led to rioting.

Strike Leader Arrested.

The mob was further incensed by the arrest of one of the strike leaders, James Larkin, against whom a warrant had been issued for twenty-four hours. Larkin was on the balcony of a hotel and wore a disguise to elude the police. He was seized by a constable and taken to the police station.

The rioting became general in various parts of the city. The police repeatedly charged with their sticks and this led to pitched battles. Stones, bricks and bottles were hurled by the infuriated rioters, and the streets were soon covered with protrude forms. More than fifty arrests were made.

Probably 400 Injured.

The train service has been suspended. The number of injured is not known, but including the Saturday victims, it is believed it will reach nearly 400.

The lord mayor announces his intention of demanding a public inquiry into the conduct of the police during the strike riots, and will send officers to the coroner's court to inquire into the deaths of two men who have died from injuries.

Sunday's rioting was the most serious seen here since the wild days of the 1911-12 strike. Copies of the secretary of the Transport Workers' union, which he practically created, and has been the organizer of many strikes. His arrest aroused popular anger against the police.

One man, named Nolan, died of injuries received Saturday. Another who was erroneously reported dead is in a critical condition.

This is the second voyage of the caravels. They sailed from Spain in 1492, appeared in the World's Columbian exposition in 1893, and have since been anchored in Jackson park here.

VICE PRESIDENT OPPOSES TANGO.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Home influence and not legislation is needed to curb the "tango" and the "turkey trot" and all skirt wearing, in the opinion of Vice President Marshall. Mr. Marshall was the principal speaker Sunday at the camp meeting of the Methodist Episcopal church (South) at Great Falls, Va. He lamented the fact that the church of today was losing its hold upon the people.

"There is an intimate relation between good government and religion," said he, "and in this day the people have no strong religious opinions."

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 1.—Whether a juror with two broken toes can pay proper attention in a criminal trial, will be decided Tuesday when the trial of F. Drew Caminetti charged with violating the Mann white slave act, is resumed before United States District Judge Van Fleet.

Juror W. H. Adams called up Judge Van Fleet Sunday from San Jose and explained that while awaiting Saturday, the machine tipped over and two toes on his right foot were broken.

"If Juror Adams is not physically in shape to continue hearing the case Tuesday, the trial will be put over until he is," commented the judge.

QUEENSTOWN OFF CUNARD SCHEDULE.

Queenstown, Ireland, Sept. 1.—The first break in the Cunard service by way of Queenstown occurred Sunday. The Mauretania omitted Queenstown as a port of call on her westward journey. She anchored some miles off the port, embarking the mails, but no passengers, 250 of whom had been instructed to proceed to Liverpool to join the ship.

The abandonment of Queenstown as a port of call for the Cunard mail service was the subject of a meeting in the house of commons recently. The contention was made that without first getting the sanction of parliament, which ratified the Cunard contract, the government had no right to assent to the company's breaking terms.

THAW'S CASE "MUST BE DECIDED AT ONCE," IS CANADIAN COURT ORDER

Jerome Wins First Bout in Fight to Get Fugitive.

Dominion Government Intervenes and Demands Action.

Plans Are Laid to Rush Fugitive Over New York Line.

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 2.—Over the violent objection of Thaw's counsel, Judge Hutchinson of the superior court today ordered that the habeas corpus proceedings brought by New York state should go on. Alme Geofrion, who arrived this morning to represent the prime minister and attorney general, then announced that the attorney general had intervened and that "this matter must be decided at once."

"If he is not liberated on the writ," Mr. Geofrion said, "other means will be taken. Thaw must not be harbored in a Canadian jail."

Thaw's face fell, and his lawyers, declaring that the writ was irregular, spoke in turn, pleading for adjournment until Friday.

"I must go on," said the court. "I represent the attorney general, said Mr. Geofrion, and it is of paramount importance that justice in this case move swiftly. Our jails are not public boarding houses. It is the attorney general's desire that this matter be settled instantly by the liberation of Mr. Thaw. The prisons of the province cannot be used to shield a man from the federal law."

Samuel Jacob, appearing directly for Thaw, denounced the case as a scandal to the Dominion, and said it was incumbent on the court to restore the county of St. Francis to its normal state."

Court Explains Curly.

"The appearance of a representative for the attorney general is a thunderbolt to us," said Mr. McKeown. "We did not know of his presence until this morning. We should like time to consult the law as to his right to appear. I sent for him, and the court curley. The issues here are plain. First."

FARMERS' UNION IN SESSION IN KANSAS

Congress May Be Asked to Prohibit Dealing in Futures.

Salina, Kan., Sept. 2.—More liberal agricultural appropriations, the abolishment of dealing in futures, the establishment of a bureau of marketing in the agricultural department, rural credit extension, stricter immigration laws and a protest against the proposed central bank currency plan were some of the recommendations to congress contained in the report of the legislative committee of the Farmers' union as drawn for presentation at the convention of the organization here today.

Delegates representing thirty-one states are present at the convention and all the officers of the union are here.

LAW PUTS CHILDREN OUT OF THE MILLS

New Massachusetts Statute Affects Thousands of Little Ones.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 2.—Thousands of "children of the mills" and juvenile employees under 16 years in manufacturing establishments in Massachusetts were thrown out of work today by the operation of a new state law which prohibits the employment of any child under 14 years in workshop, and provides that no child under 16 years shall work more than eight hours a day or more than forty-eight hours a week.

MURDER WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR MOTORIST

Milwaukeean, Who Killed Child and Fled, Is in Trouble.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 2.—A warrant, charging second degree murder, was issued today for Roman Schubert, who was shot down and killed 4-year-old Mabel Johnson and perhaps fatally injured the mother, Mrs. Martha Johnson, when the auto he was driving last night crashed into the Johnson buggy.

SAYS NEW ENGLAND IS ALL FOR PROTECTION

JACOB H. GALLINGER, United States Senator from New Hampshire.

TARIFF VOTE NEXT WEEK

Chairman Simmons Expects Action Then in the Senate.

Gallinger Denounces Measure Framed by Democrats.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire replied today to the recent speech by his Democratic colleague, Senator Hollis, who declared New England was not discriminated against in the tariff bill and hotly assailed the textile manufacturers for recent labor troubles.

"New England believes in a protective tariff," declared Senator Gallinger, "and no man who supports the bill now under consideration or defends men like Ektor, Haywood and others of their ilk, represents in any way her views."

He assailed the Democratic bill as a whole.

Democratic senators in caucus, beginning tonight, will endeavor to settle all differences over the income tax, cotton future tax and other questions.

Chairman Simmons of the finance committee looks for a vote on the bill the latter part of next week.

KIRBY SAYS HE HAS OPPOSED LEGISLATORS

Tells Lobby Committee He Worked Against Men He Disapproved.

Washington, Sept. 2.—John Kirby, Jr., once president of the National Association of Manufacturers, bluntly told the senate lobby committee today that he had worked to defeat congressmen whose views he disapproved, worked to elect others, and expected to continue to take the same sort of active interest in the future.

"I think it my duty as a citizen," said Kirby.

HILLSBORO VOTING ON COMMISSION PLAN.

Hillsboro, N. D., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hillsboro is voting today on the question of adopting the commission plan of government, and the one of the interesting features is found in the fact that Rev. J. L. Anderson, the pastor-mayor of Hillsboro, is working for the commission although the selection of that plan of government will do away with his office.

Shoots Two and Himself.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 2.—After accusing his victim of forcing him to make donations upon his sister, Kasimir John Rowack yesterday shot and killed John Rowack, probably fatally wounded Felix Lusczka and then killed himself.

REPORT LAW PROPOSITIONS

Bar Association Committees' Work Discussed at Montreal.

Evening Is Given to Taft Lecture on Judges' Tenure.

Montreal, Sept. 2.—At the annual meeting of the American Bar association this afternoon reports were received from twenty-three committees and most of the day was devoted to discussing them. The evening was set aside for an address by Former President Taft on "The Selection and Tenure of Judges."

This afternoon the comparative law bureau met and heard an address by its director, Governor Simcoe E. Baldwin of Connecticut, and the section of legal education began its annual session. The latter organization heard the annual address of its chairman, Walter George Smith of Philadelphia, and papers read by Wilfrid Bovey of the Montreal bar and by Clarence A. Lightner of the Michigan bar on "A More Complete Inquiry Into the Moral Character of Applicants for Admission to the Bar."

At the session of the Bar association, the committee on commercial law recommended an endorsement of the home rule on bills of lading of interstate and foreign commerce and opposing any attempt to repeal the national bankruptcy act.

Third Degree Not Condemned.

The committee on justice and law reform disapproved a resolution calling upon the association to condemn the use of the so-called "third degree" in criminal prosecutions.

The committee also reported its opposition to a proposition to abolish the life tenure of federal judges, and declared its belief that the present method of selecting such judges by Federal appointment was the best one of reference and bill drafting departments in connection with state and national legislatures was received from the special committee appointed to investigate this subject.

The committee on uniform state laws submitted a so-called "model" evasion act," which in substance seeks to prevent persons from evading the law.

HORSE TRAMPLES MAN AT THE STATE FAIR

Attendance on First Day Is 130,000—All Records Broken.

Hamline, Minn., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thousands of persons attending the Society Horse Show at the state fair last night saw William Kelley, driver for the Cloverdale stock farm of Lake Elmo, Minn., thrown from the buggy and trampled by his horse, which became frantic with a hand suddenly started playing. Kelley was seriously and perhaps fatally injured. The horse ran into several buggies and tore its shoulder badly when it struck the judges' stand.

The single roadster event was won by Houchin and Anderson of Jefferson City, Mo., J. B. Peck and Sons, Winchester, Ill., taking second, and D. C. Cameron of Winnipeg, third.

All previous records for attendance were broken yesterday when a crowd estimated at 130,000 surged through the gates. The crowd was fully 10,000 larger than that of Monday in 1912, which broke all previous records.

SHOOTS AT HIS WIFE; WOUNDS FOUR OTHERS

White Man Is One Victim of West Virginia Negro.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 2.—Charles Johnson, a negro, jumped from a passenger train at Montgomery yesterday, and it is alleged, fired five shots at his wife, who was standing on a platform. Two of the bullets struck Frank Fisher, a white man of Kingsport, and the other shots struck his wife and three bystanders. Mrs. Johnson and Fisher are not expected to recover. The others injured received only flesh wounds. Johnson was placed in jail.

FINANCIER DIES OF AUTO WRECK INJURY

Mrs. D. L. Gardner of Aurora, Ill., May Be the Third Victim.

Aurora, Ill., Sept. 2.—David L. Gardner, Aurora financier, who was one of six persons in an automobile which turned turtle yesterday on the Elgin-Aurora road, killing his daughter, Helen, instantly, died early today at the Colonial hospital at Geneva, Ill. A third death as the result of the accident—that of Mrs. Gardner's wife, the capitalist—is expected any minute. Mrs. Gardner was injured internally.

Two Gardner children, nine, escaped. They were flung far from the car. One of them, Dorcas, aged 14, sustained a broken arm. The younger escaped injury.

The accident happened when Gardner tried to drive past an automobile driven by Frank Schneider of Oak Park, Ill. Schneider was accompanied by his family.

The girl who was killed was a daring automobile pilot and her people had implicit faith in her when she was at the wheel. When the car was leaving Lake Geneva, Wis., for Aurora, she was driving.

The inquest will be held this afternoon.

WOOD FALLS FROM CAR; KILLS WOMAN.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 2.—Mrs. John Kelly of Portland was killed and a half dozen persons were seriously injured last night at Oswego, six miles south of here, when a load of slabwood fell from a car of a passing freight train and raked a crowd of people who were on the depot platform awaiting the coming of a passenger train.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

PEGOU DOES SENSATIONAL STUNT AGAIN

French Aviator Flies Upside Down to Prove Aeroplane Is Safe.

Army Officers and Engineers See Daring Feat at Buc.

Woman Aviator Is Injured While Landing With Her Machine.

Versailles, France, Sept. 2.—The thrilling maneuver of turning a sensa-sault in the air with an aeroplane flying at rapid speed was repeated today by the French aviator Pegoud over the aerodrome at Buc, near here, with perfect success.

Pegoud had promised that his performance at Juvisy yesterday was not the result of proper control and also of the stability of the aeroplane. He carried out the daring feat with apparent ease again today in the presence of officers of the French army flying corps, about 100 military and civilian aviators and a large assemblage of the general public.

Fog Delayed Flight.

A dense fog had settled over the district around Buc this morning, and this delayed Pegoud's ascent for three hours and a half. Then the sun burst through and cleared away the mist.

Pegoud ran his aeroplane into the center of the field and indicated to a battery of moving picture operators and newspaper photographers the par of the sky from which he would begin to fly with his head downward.

He then took his seat at the motor and rose in a spiral to a height of 3,000 feet. He then turned his aeroplane into a vertical position, with its tail upward, and dove down toward the earth like an arrow.

When he had descended to an altitude of 1,000 feet he began with his machine to describe a vast letter S. The wheels of the aeroplane were clearly visible in the middle of the S, sticking upward, while Pegoud could be seen hanging with his head downward.

Upside Down 50 Seconds.

The aviator sailed along in this position for about fifty seconds. Then his craft, with a great sweeping downward curve, came back to the earth like an arrow.

REFUGEES COMPLAIN

Mexico City, Sept. 2.—Many of the Americans who are heading President Wilson's warning to leave Mexico are indignant over the class of transportation offered. Telegrams from Vera Cruz and Tampico indicate that the message the consuls are authorized to provide is "sterage," or the lowest price ticket available. Some of the Americans who proceeded to seaports to avoid themselves of the proffered transportation have refused to accept, saying they prefer to take chances in Mexico to "being herded in the steerage."

Thus far no intimation has been received by Consul General Shanklin that any means of transportation is being provided except by such passengers and merchant vessels as ordinarily ply along the coasts or those leaving from the ports.

BRITAIN HAS FATAL WRECK

Fifteen Believed to Be Dead Near Hawes Junction.

Some of Victims Trapped and Burned to Death.

Kirkby-Stephen, Eng., Sept. 2.—Fifteen persons are believed to have been killed and thirty persons injured in a collision of two sections of the famous London-Scotland express early today. Official reports accounted for nine known dead, while correspondents at the spot recorded the fatalities as fifteen.

The wreck occurred on the Midland relay near Hawes Junction, the two sections being southbound. The second section dished into the rear of the first, telescoping several coaches which burst into flames. Many persons were trapped and it not killed outright they were burned to death.

Second Section Hit First.

The first section of the train had stepped to get up steam for a sharp upgrade when the second section dashed into the rear, piling up the sleeping cars which were crowded with passengers.

Almost immediately afterward several of the cars caught fire and many of the passengers found it impossible to get out. Rescuers from farms in the vicinity came on the scene too late to save many of the passengers.

Numerous bodies were taken from the wreck and it was believed that several others were still among the debris. About thirty injured passengers were sent on special trains to the Leeds and Cardiff hospitals.

Another disaster occurred near the same spot on Dec. 26, 1910, when eight passengers lost their lives and twenty-five were injured.

WOMEN CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE AT CALUMET

Mounted Patrol Established to Guard Men About Mines.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The militancy of women strike sympathizers who attack non-union workmen as they are leaving or returning home has become one of the most serious phases of the copper mine strike situation. Gen. P. L. Abbey, in command of state troops, has resorted to the use of the mounted patrol for the protection of deputies and workmen menaced by strike pickets.

President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners left last night for Chicago on strike business. He said he would return to this district.

LA CROSSE HEAT MARK FOR SEPTEMBER SET

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 2.—Yesterday was the hottest day La Crosse has experienced this summer and the hottest September for forty-one years, according to an official statement of the weather bureau here today. The maximum temperature was officially registered at 88, while many reliable thermometers on the street went above 90. Until yesterday 96 was the highest temperature recorded for this month.

LIND PLANS TRIP HOME

Will Return Soon Unless Huerta Makes Some Move.

Americans in Mexico Complain of Government Methods.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Secretary Bryan was in communication with President Wilson at the summer White House today over the Mexican situation, but described it as unchanged and said no development required the presence of the president in Washington at this time.

A message received from John Lind at Vera Cruz made no reference to his plans, Mr. Bryan said. It was said in official circles, however, that Mr. Lind was planning to return to the United States soon unless some move by the Huerta government changed his plans.

Consul Hanna, at Monterey, was ordered today to make a searching inquiry into the reported execution of six Americans at Torreon, on order of the Federal Gen. Bravo. The state department is without official knowledge of the Americans, who were said to be serving in the Constitutionalist ranks.

BRITAIN HAS FATAL WRECK

Fifteen Believed to Be Dead Near Hawes Junction.

Some of Victims Trapped and Burned to Death.

Kirkby-Stephen, Eng., Sept. 2.—Fifteen persons are believed to have been killed and thirty persons injured in a collision of two sections of the famous London-Scotland express early today. Official reports accounted for nine known dead, while correspondents at the spot recorded the fatalities as fifteen.

The wreck occurred on the Midland relay near Hawes Junction, the two sections being southbound. The second section dished into the rear of the first, telescoping several coaches which burst into flames. Many persons were trapped and it not killed outright they were burned to death.

Second Section Hit First.

The first section of the train had stepped to get up steam for a sharp upgrade when the second section dashed into the rear, piling up the sleeping cars which were crowded with passengers.

Almost immediately afterward several of the cars caught fire and many of the passengers found it impossible to get out. Rescuers from farms in the vicinity came on the scene too late to save many of the passengers.

Numerous bodies were taken from the wreck and it was believed that several others were still among the debris. About thirty injured passengers were sent on special trains to the Leeds and Cardiff hospitals.

Another disaster occurred near the same spot on Dec. 26, 1910, when eight passengers lost their lives and twenty-five were injured.

WOMEN CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE AT CALUMET

Mounted Patrol Established to Guard Men About Mines.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The militancy of women strike sympathizers who attack non-union workmen as they are leaving or returning home has become one of the most serious phases of the copper mine strike situation. Gen. P. L. Abbey, in command of state troops, has resorted to the use of the mounted patrol for the protection of deputies and workmen menaced by strike pickets.

President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners left last night for Chicago on strike business. He said he would return to this district.

WM. F. HENRY, Business and Advertising Manager.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of September, 1913.

(Seal.) Notary Public, St. Louis County, Minnesota.
My commission expires April 1, 1915.

A GOLD BOND CIRCULATION!

The Duluth Herald is a high-class, 2-cent newspaper with an established clientele of over 28,000 subscribers won entirely on merit. The Duluth Herald has never found it necessary to resort to the guessing scheme or premium method of artificially "boosting" circulation. If a subscriber wishes a frying pan, razor strop, mouse trap or other article usually used as a bait, The Duluth Herald will direct him (or her) to a store that sells it for less money than the premium newspaper can supply it for. The Duluth Herald gives its readers and its advertisers full value first, last and always.

HEALTH AND VIGOR RESTORED TO WEAK MEN

VITALITY is the pride of manhood, and its absence causes man to lose in his own estimation, realizing that he has fallen in importance in the universal struggle for favor, fame and fortune. There is so much in modern life to stimulate, excite and wreck the nervous system that many men are most recklessly burning the candle of vitality and life at both ends. If you are weak, without delay. We cure many such cases every month, and never fail to build up a patient to robust, healthy manhood. We have not the space or desire to read you all the resultant vital complications that may arise from your weakness. But we invite you to call and talk over your case in confidence. A specialist skilled and trained by an extensive practice, study and research in diseases of men. We cure to stay cured: Varicocele, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Lost Vital Power, Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Locomotor Ataxia, Cancer, Eczema and Rupture.

All consultations are free and confidential. If others have failed to cure you we invite you to come to us, and if we find your case curable you may rest assured that you can get back to health; for we back our opinion with a legal written guarantee. If living out of town, write for our free instruction book and symptom blank. Hours—10 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 1.

VARICOSE VEINS

Wormy veins, varicose veins, reduced and cured without cutting. No pain. Rupture, Hydrocele, Varicocele and Piles cured without operation. Consult us and find out how we cure without the knife. Our price for cure is the cheapest in the Northwest.

CHRONIC DISEASES

And skin diseases, eczema, discharges, ulcers, swellings, sores, constipation, itching, heart, kidney, liver, stomach and rheumatic pains. Consult us at once upon arrival and maybe you can be cured before resorting to one or two more visits.

NO. 1 WEST SUPERIOR STREET, DULUTH.

BITES DYNAMITE CAP.

Sensational Method Chosen by Montana Prospector to Take Life.

Moore, Mont., Sept. 2.—Joseph L. Bister, aged 82, a pioneer prospector, committed suicide in his cabin near here Monday by biting a dynamite cap, the explosion of which drove pieces of copper into his brain and broke his neck.

For forty-three years Bister had searched for precious metals and the fact that he recently allowed a mining claim valued at $50,000 to slip through his hands is believed to have unsettled his mind.

Winona, Minn., Sept. 2.—A hidden treasure is being searched for by residents in the western part of Winona county. Somewhere between St. Charles and Dover is hidden $800, reportedly the missing portion of the Chicago-Great Western depot of a plunder of two men who robbed the depot. The men had $100 in their possession when all in silver, is said by authorities to have been buried.

NO WHINING SCHOOLBOYS SEEK ON THE OPENING DAY

Pupils in Duluth Schools Seem Glad to Return to Work.

An Increased Enrollment—
Some Half Sessions May Be Necessary.

The pupils at Central high did not look so unhappy this morning as tradition claims they are supposed to be on the first day of school. In fact, they looked quite content and rather glad to be together again. There were the usual clusterings in the corners of the corridor while the pupils were waiting to register with Principal Young, and there was the usual buzz of conversation and little-tattle all over the building. The rather badly damaged Shakespeare is usually taken as the case and the said or written or was it Bacon? that well worn quotation:

"Then the whining schoolboy, with his
And shivering morning face, creeping like a snail
Unwillingly to school."

It was hard to find, this morning, a whining schoolboy. The superintendent is on hand, and will be for the first nine and one-half months. An attempt was made to talk to Supt. Denfeld this morning but he waved away the interview with the advice: "Don't try it!"

Busiest Man in Duluth.
The advice was taken, for the superintendent is, perhaps, the busiest man in Duluth today. He did not offer the news that he believed that the enrollment this year would be far greater than ever. C. A. Bronson, clerk of the board, and Principal Young of the high school are also utterly impossible of approach today and even the most selfish nature finds a spark of sympathy for the man who is rushing to his duties.

Supt. Denfeld has a surplus of teachers on hand, but he believes that he can use them all right for supplying, for many changes in the arrangement of classes and their occupancy of rooms, are to be made and with the crowded conditions of the high schools, it is expected that many more teachers will be required. When the E. R. Cobb school opens, which is expected to be along about Jan. 1—about the time the new industrial school is to be opened, and in the meantime the surplus supply will be used for utility.

A few teachers are unemployed for a few days owing to the delay in opening the Ely school. This school is next to the new industrial school and certain changes necessary in the installing of a new sewer system. The material for this work was recently destroyed in a freight wreck and therefore the work has been delayed. The reordered material is expected here today or tomorrow and as it will take about four days to install it, the Ely school will not be opened before next Monday.

Aside from this and the New Duluth school the school equipment planned for the new year is complete. Repairs have been made to some of the buildings and these have been completed on time so that the pupils and teachers will not be inconvenienced by the presence of painters, carpenters and the like.

School in Store.
At New Duluth school will have to be held in a store building for a while until the repairs to the building are being made. In connection with New Duluth a kindergarten has been started, beginning today. Twenty-five parents there petitioned for this branch of school work a short time ago and as a sufficient number of children were represented to warrant it, the school board ordered the establishment of the school.

As to the conditions in the various school buildings, Supt. Denfeld covered them well in a recent annual report to the school board, and today said the gist of that report still holds good. He says:

"The extreme east end of the city is now well supplied. The Salter has two vacant rooms; the Jefferson is more than full. This school can be relieved by the erection of the Roger S. Munger school, and this evidently cannot be until some time during the coming year or by the opening of the year following. The removal of the seventh and eighth grades from the Franklin and Nettleton schools will give new rooms in the buildings which may be used by the lower grades. The Washington grade and manual training building will then have all of its rooms in use. The Jackson will have the vacant rooms; the Emerson will probably have one less room occupied this coming year. The Radisson school should have only two rooms; the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades should be the Whittier where cooking, sewing and manual training equipments will be provided, thus doing away with the necessity of children in this section going to the 'Washington' or 'Franklin' of this character. Five grade rooms in the Whittier will be sufficient to accommodate all who attend. The sixth room will be fitted up as a cooking and sewing room. The manual training building will be used for the same purpose. The Lincoln can easily care for all pupils. The Madison will probably contain no more children than during the past year, possibly there will be one less room. The Monroe will be fully occupied. All of its rooms will contain fair sized schools. The Bryn Mawr was not overcrowded last year. Indications are that the numbers will remain about the same next year, though all of its rooms will be in use. The Engle will have nine rooms, the same as this year, leaving one vacant room. The Merritt has all of its rooms occupied and may call for half sessions in the primary rooms. This building has only nine rooms. The O'Connell has all of its rooms occupied and may call for half sessions in the primary rooms. The Lenox and Fairmont are comfortably full and may be somewhat taxed to care for the pupils until the completion of the industrial school. The Irving will be crowded full because the past year will crowd the grades and may necessitate half sessions in some of the lower rooms. During the past year a primary grade was cared for in a store building."

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Kinemacolor.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPIRE—Vaudeville.
REX—Photoplay, showing Duluth crews winning at Boston.

Amusement Notes.

The Kinemacolor pictures for today will show scenes in Peebles, a town in the lowlands of Scotland noted for its mineral springs. The pictures open with a fine panorama of typical Scottish scenery taken from the river, including Leith Path castle. The town as seen from the river is the next view. This stream is an excellent one for trout fishing. The pictures include a trip to Moffat and show some excellent scenes of this handsome town. The Kinemacolor company will also present "Hunts of the Otter," showing the trapping and native homes of those interesting little animals.

The black and white feature for today is "The Adventures of Jacques," a two-part American costume play featuring Warren Kerrigan. The scenes are all in France and are supposed to be during the Revolution. Mr. Erdmann will be heard in a new solo.

Duluth Orpheum patrons will remember the "Lemmy Pie" song when Miss Mary Marble of the well-known team of Chip and Marble sang on her last appearance in Duluth. Apparently many of them have remembered it, for Manager Billings has had the orchestra play the song to be repeated this season.

The orchestra consented to sing the song again when requested to do so, and Friday afternoon will incorporate the old favorite in its act. For years Chip and Marble have been playing the roles of Dutch children, until they have become almost inseparably associated with such parts in the minds of theater-goers. Each summer for several years past they have taken a trip to Europe and while in Holland in search of local color for their productions. Their scenery is painted from photographs made by them, and these trips, and their costumes are also taken from the scenes in Holland.

The present week's offering at the Orpheum seems to be the most popular to date, and two big hits have already filled the theater yesterday.

Four good vaudeville acts are on the program at the Empress theater for the first half of the week. The Five Lunnies make a feature headliner.

Their School House Riot is a riot in every sense of the word. They caper, sing and dance to everybody's lister. The fun in this act is so fast and furious that one cannot help but laugh. Ernie Potts is the champion pug puncher in vaudeville. His act is very interesting in that he is to punch five bags going at the same time. Russell and Hill are very pleasing in their act of songs. Mrs. Russell is a clever impersonator of men. She has a very charming voice and has been heard before, have not three dainty and pretty girls give them. The photoplays are excellent. One reel displays a dramatic subject, "The Fisherman's Fortune," while another shows a comedy, "A Red Hot Romance" and "A Doctored Love Affair."

The Pathe Weekly shown at the Rex today includes as a feature number among the many new happenings, the Duluth Boat club, carrying away all the prizes in the annual regatta. It contains a review of Captain Perry's Centennial Celebration at Milwaukee, including many other interesting events that occurred during the past week in different parts of the world.

A dramatic railroad story, produced by the Kalem company that will thrill the spectators is entitled "The Substituted Engineer," and "Blood Tide." Another dramatic story, shown in the new production by the Edison company in England, "Father's Chicken Dinner" and "The Trade Minister's Daughter" are edies in a class by themselves. The Kalem company is the producer and the film is directed by George Fitzmaurice. A solo and duet by the two clever artists, Bernice Zinn, Runkel and Ethel Frances Berry, and musical selections by the Rex orchestra complete the entertaining program.

Girl's Brothers With Teacher.
Dorden, N. D., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because he was charged with making disparaging remarks about a young lady and failing to correct an apostrophe in a letter, a teacher given a severe beating by the brothers of the young lady. The matter has created some excitement here because of the fact that the teacher is said to be a member of the local church.

RESINOL CURED AFTER PIMPLES

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had been troubled for the past three years with pimples which completely covered my face and neck. The pimples would come out, fester and cause me to pick at them, feeling very uncomfortable. I tried most all kinds of facial creams, but with no effect. I tried a sample of Resinol Soap and Ointment, and noticed instant relief. I bought Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment and began the treatment. After using two jars of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, the pimples were not a pimple to be seen, and now my face is as smooth as if it were never a pimple on it." (Signed) Albert Greenburg, 4157 Frankford Ave., Oct. 27, 1912.

For eighteen years Resinol has been a favorite doctor's prescription and household remedy for itching troubles, skin eruptions, dandruff, sores, pimples, etc. Stops itching instantly. All druggists sell Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. For free trial, write to Dept. 10-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

Advance Sale and Exhibition of the Season's Most Superb Furs

At a Special Discount

And by paying a small deposit, the furs you buy will be taken care of by us and delivered to you at any time you may desire.

The advance sale and exhibition of beautiful Furs will be of more than ordinary interest. Never, perhaps, in the fashion history of our times will luxurious furs be so extensively worn as the coming season.

This week the most fashionable furs will hold court in our Fur Section. Among the most favored Fur Sets, Scarfs and Muffs are Beautiful Moleskin, developed by finest foreign art.

Beautiful Furs of Natural American Mink. Beautiful is a term aptly applied to mink furs. In fact, it is freely admitted that these skins give the furriers their greatest possibilities for making up attractive styles.

Shown here in countless beautiful pieces. The neckpieces, both plain and elaborate, are shaped. The muffs are in various shapes. The values during this advance sale are greater than at any other time.

Other Furs on display in Sets, Scarfs and Muffs are Near Seal, Jap Mink, Black Fox, Black Dog, Russian Lynx, Black Coney, Brook Mink, Marmot, Natural Coon, Kid Fox, Black Martin, Natural Lynx, Civet Cat, Opossum, in black, brown and natural.

Every piece of fur is of reliable quality. It means that furs were gathered in the winter, when nature provides the fur-bearing animals with a dense, firm pelt.

FLEEING MEXICO BY HAND CAR ROUTE

Grand Forks Boy So Wires
Parents Through State Department.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 2.—"Making a dash for liberty on a hand car," reads a message sent by Earl Williams, 606 of C. F. Williams of this city, from Chihuahua, Mex., where young Williams has been employed for the past few years. The message came to C. F. Williams through the state department at Washington, and if all went well, he should have reached El Paso, Tex., yesterday. No word has come from him, however, and the family is much concerned. Williams has been engaged as superintendent of a lumber company and though operations have been suspended

WOMEN ESPECIALLY NEED BANK ACCOUNTS
Women have an even greater need for a Savings Account than men, and the ones who are dependent on some one else have the greatest need of all.
Your husband—your father—your brother, maybe, provides for you. Supposing an accident were to happen to the breadwinner which would suddenly throw you on your own resources? You would have to find work yourself. But it isn't always easy to obtain a situation right away, and what would you do in the meantime? If you had a bank account to tide you over you would have far less occasion to worry.
It doesn't require a lot of money to start a bank account—one dollar is sufficient here—and you can add to it as you can spare money. We pay 3 per cent compound interest on savings accounts.

NEW TOWN OF APHA.
Only Seven Weeks Old, Yet Is Now Quite a City.
Crystal River, Mich., Sept. 2.—Apha, a thriving little town just seven weeks old, has sprung up in Iron township, six miles from here. Already the town is blossoming into what will be a model little city, as graded streets, sewers, and electric lights, are now under construction. The school system will be equal to any in the state, and plans have been drafted for the building of a $50,000 schoolhouse.

FLAYS TRADE IN FUTURES

Senator Cummins Denounces Methods on All Exchanges.

Says Old Lottery Was Pink Tea Compared to Wall Street.

Washington, Sept. 2.—"Short selling" on the New York Stock exchange, the Chicago board of trade and on cotton, produce and stock exchanges generally was attacked by Senator Cummins in the senate as one of the greatest vices of the day and as a menace that threatened the industrial and financial strength of the country.

Supporting an amendment he had offered to the tariff bill, proposing a 10 per cent tax on all trades where the seller did not exactly own the property sold, Mr. Cummins, backed by several other Republican senators, delivered a vigorous criticism of stock and produce exchange operations and urged that Congress do its utmost to discourage or prohibit fictitious trading, which he characterized as "gambling."

The Cummins amendment was referred as a substitute for the cotton futures tax proposed by Senator Clarke of Arkansas, which would impose a tax of one-tenth of 1 cent per pound on all trades in cotton for future delivery. Senator Cummins insisted that it was more important to restrict and prohibit fictitious trading in securities and general produce than simply regulate cotton trading.

Referred to Committee.
The question of "futures" finally was referred back to the senate finance committee for further consideration. Transactions on the stock exchange for 1912 were cited by the Iowa senator to show the extent of the "gambling" which he declared was breaking down the moral business fiber of the community and bringing disgrace upon the public and causing fictitious value of stocks. Sales of stocks, he declared, had been from 10 to 15 as high as 25 times the entire stock issue of the railroads, while but a small proportion of stock had actually changed hands.

"Most of the sales on the New York Stock exchange are fictitious," he said. "Thousands of men have been wrecked financially and their moral fiber broken down by the methods employed. It has been the chief factor in imposing on the people a great volume of watered stock upon which they must pay dividends for years to come."

Water in Stocks.
"One-half of the railroad stock of the country represents water, at least it did at the time it was issued. More than one-half the stock of all the larger industrial corporations has no foundation in value. It represents the immoral disposition and the enormous avarice of the men instrumental in putting it out. These stocks, with the burden they impose on the public, could never have been foisted on the public, but for this method of short sales."

Senator Cummins declared the stock exchange should be restricted to actual sales. As it is now, it is not a place for the transfer of actual commodities, he added. "It is a place where enormous men balance their wits. It is a place where men of great mental capacity and industry as well as right battle of supremacy, employing, not the means which ought to influence the price of commodities, but every means which may tend to affect the price of things in which they are dealing."

Lottery Like "Pink Tea."
He declared the old Louisiana lottery was a "pink tea compared with this orgy of vice," represented in the stock exchange.

Progress on the tariff bill was limited to the consideration of many items in the chemical, earthenware and other schedules of the bill which had been passed over in this first reading of the measure.

Senator La Follette insisted that two items in the chemical schedule, carried excessive duties. On one of these suggestions was accepted and an amendment was incorporated into the bill reducing the duty from one and a half cents a pound to one and one-fourth cents on dextrine made from potato starch.

The one-cent pound duty on chlorate of potash, Senator La Follette said, had been reduced to one-fourth cent. He added that an agreement had been made with the "powder trust" not to sell this article to the United States government.

"If that is so, I think it should go to the free list," declared Senator O'Gorman.

The committee took the paragraph under consideration.

A suggestion by the Wisconsin senator that the duty on peanut oil should be reduced from 6 cents a gallon to 1 cent, as the former rate was prohibitive, was not acted upon.

FOR MUSCULAR TWITCHING AFTER A STROKE

A Pittsburg correspondent, "A. B. C." inquires:

"I have an ailment for which as yet I have been unable to find a cure. Although I am now 45 years old, I have had this ailment ever since I can remember. It is a jerking and twitching of the muscles in my lower limbs. My left side is the worst. It appears to be like the twitches of an insect that is there, is an itching sensation which seems to cause the twitching. Sometimes it will last for an entire night. When I sit down to read I am unable to sit still. The twitching keeps me moving and restless all the while. My doctor tells me that this would affect a cure for me. I have been reading each of your articles in the Doctor's Help, and I shall be deeply thankful for your advice."

The most important feature for you to adopt in your treatment is DO NOT ALLOW YOURSELF TO GIVE UP. Stick to your effort to accomplish things. Strive to achieve and get something done. Figure out in your own mind what particular object or piece of work you will strive to carry through for each day. Map out a month's program ahead. Divide it into weekly periods. To simplify matters, WRITE YOUR PROGRAM DOWN ON PAPER.

Plan ahead to accomplish things which interest you every day. See that each hour of your day is occupied with some form of work. The latter should be mental as well as physical. See to it also that each hour of your day is occupied with some form of pleasure also. You must cultivate being good-natured and the habit of not mentioning and even forgetting your physical defects.

A daily trolley ride would do you good. Take a different trip each day. Take an occasional excursion trip on the railroad train. It will afford you a highly beneficial change of scene, of people and of living conditions. Plan these trips ahead, and plan to get the most value out of every cent you expend. Go to a baseball game regularly also. Do not think you cannot do this sort of thing. You CAN. Furthermore you will find in carrying out this method of treatment that your muscular twitching will be greatly relieved, and this is the chief object you wish to achieve. Go to a theatrical matinee at regular intervals. Do not waste your money buying medicines at the drug store for such trouble. Expend what money you can afford for treatment in theater tickets, trolley rides, railway trips, etc.

There have always been many drugs come into popular vogue for the treatment of muscular twitching. They have been just about like the fashions of a woman's dress. They soon change and die a natural death. Cultivate the BELIEF that you can conquer in great measure the nervous twitchings which are so annoying to you, and the quickest and most attractive method to accomplish this is to follow the foregoing advice. TRY IT FOR TWO MONTHS. Then you find your system thrives upon it. I do not mean by this to gorge yourself with candy just because your appetite may crave sweets. You are expected to use your best judgment. If you are not hungry for a meal, skip it, and more fruits. Figs, dates, raisins, apple sauce, baked bananas, peaches, etc., are all most excellent.

Editor's Note.—When our children have toothache or headache and not to speak of the more serious ailments, we suffer with them in our solitude. The feeling of human body are readily preventable. In order to present to you puzzling health questions for the study and counsel of this department. Strict confidence dominates all relationship.

Winners in Labor Day Sport Program.

Fully 3,000 people attended the Labor day celebration at Fairmont park yesterday.

Better weather for the affair could not have been asked for, for the day was not too cool and yet was cool enough to permit of reasonable comfort in the sports. The program that took place was generally participated in and some good prizes were given.

The Duluth Union Pavilion association was victorious in the tug-of-war against the Duluth Trades Union assembly. Mrs. J. Cook of 301 East Second street was the prize for having the largest family on the ground. Following are the winners in the sporting events:

Seventy-five yard dash, boys under years—Harvey Brownson, 311 East Seventh street, first; Albert Chevalier, 71 North Fifty-second avenue west, second. Fifty-yard dash, girls under 10 years—Miss Emily Chevalier, 17 North Fifty-second avenue west, first; Miss Iva Guerin, 221 North Fifty-first avenue west, second. Three-legged race—Joseph Nordal, 525 Ninth avenue east, first; John Lundes, 732 East Eighth street, second. Hundred-yard dash, married men—D. Walker, 2314 West Sixth street, second. Seventy-five yard dash, men weighing 200 pounds or more—Robert Lahti, Fifty-ninth avenue west, first; Victor Isenackson, 2129 West First street, second. Fifty-yard dash, women—Miss Emma Lee, 5309 Tacony street, first; Mrs. E. Graham, 126 Seventh avenue west, second. Hopping race, 50 yards—Mrs. J. H. Johnson, 107 East Second street, first; Mrs. Olson, 1025 Ninth avenue east, second. Peanut contest, for girls only—Miss Beatrice Gathier, 4715 Oneida street, first; Miss Anna Cohen, 24 First avenue east, second.

Bankers were given hearing on currency.

Senator Owen Answers the Charge to the Contrary.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Senator Owen, chairman of the senate banking and currency committee, has made public a letter he has addressed to James Simpson, vice president of Marshall Field & Co., of Chicago, denouncing "artificial propaganda" against the administration currency bill in behalf of private interests, and denouncing it as a "repeated charge that the banking interests were given proper hearings by the framers of the measure."

Senator Owen commented upon a telegram published in New York city, per from Mr. Simpson saying, "we think the latest exchange of opinion between the framers of the currency bill and bankers absolutely necessary in order to avoid a crisis."

This had been sent in reply to a query telegraphed broadcast by the newspaper asking opinions on alleged lack of cooperation between the legislators and banking interests.

Their case is not hopeless; the following simple home remedy has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, and putting it back to its original condition, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and he put up by drugist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavender de Compee, 3 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half dram. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfum. It is perfectly with the other ingredients, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

PLAY POLITICS ON RIOTS IN IRELAND

Liberal and Unionist Parties Seek to Gain By Outbreaks.

London, Sept. 2.—Both the Unionist and Liberal parties in England are trying to make political capital out of the riots in Dublin. Latest reports say that 325 civilians and 43 policemen were seriously hurt and required hospital treatment. One of the civilians has succumbed to his injuries.

It is argued on both sides that Irish passions have been stirred by the home rule campaign, and that this has been responsible for the lawlessness in Dublin and also for the recent disturbances in London.

The Unionist newspapers warn the government that the home rule bill has aroused antagonism and lawlessness throughout Ireland.

The Liberal newspapers blame the revolutionary preparations in Ulster made by Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionist party.

James Keir Hardie, the Socialist and independent labor member of parliament, left today for Dublin to participate in the strike movement of the transport workers.

Frederick Handberg, Liberal member of parliament from Pontefract, who witnessed the rioting from the balcony of a hotel, accuses the Dublin police of brutality. The correspond-

DOCTOR KILLED BY PATIENT'S SON.

Calro, Ill., Sept. 2.—Dr. E. E. Gordon was shot and killed last night by Harvey R. Fields, an insurance solicitor. Ten days ago Dr. Gordon operated on Fields' mother. Her subsequent death, the insurance man declared, was caused by the physician's carelessness. It was in return for her life that he took that of the doctor, he asserted.

Fields met the physician at the entrance of St. Mary's hospital and fired two shots, killing him instantly. He then surrendered to the police.

Fields is married and has a child. In his cell here Fields made the statement that Dr. Gordon, who was the family physician, had attacked the younger Mrs. Fields in his office.

SCHOOLS AS NEIGHBORHOOD CENTERS

Duluth long has demanded the opening of the school buildings to public use as neighborhood social and civic centers.

Now, at last, the work of opening them has begun. The school board is co-operating cheerfully, the city has made provision for the work and has appointed a trained and capable director in Miss Margaret Calkin, and pretty much of the rest of it is up to the public.

That is, there can be no neighborhood social centers in the schools unless the folks in the school neighborhoods get together there.

So in order to make this movement a success, the co-operation of the public, particularly in the neighborhoods of the schools that are being opened, is absolutely essential.

The social and civic value of social centers has been dwelt upon so much during the agitation for this work that it hardly seems necessary to emphasize it again now.

It is always good for human beings, and for the society which they form, to get together and get acquainted with each other. When false notions of class and social status are discarded, the result is the very pleasant discovery that all of us are just folks, and that folks are the finest kind of people on earth.

That's one purpose of the school social center. The school buildings are used because they belong to the people, and are available for public use during a considerable proportion of the time. They are available every evening, and all day if need be during much of the year. The people aren't getting all the use they should of them when they are idle outside of school hours.

In the end, to our notion, the highest value of the social center movement lies on its civic rather than its social side—though the development of the social side is an indispensable foundation.

Besides the social organizations which will be developed, and growing out of them, there will be developed ultimately in each center neighborhood forums for the discussion of every public question, whether it be the tariff, the income tax, the currency, state development, street paving or the management of public utility corporations.

Our idea of this is not that the school assembly halls shall be thrown open to this party or that, or to this interest or that, but that permanent organizations of the citizenship of each neighborhood will be developed, and that these organizations will study and discuss all these questions and any others that are of public importance. To that end, they will call in speakers representing any and every party, and any and every interest concerned in local questions. The neighborhood center thus will draw into itself the citizenship of the neighborhood, and there the citizenship will inform itself on public questions and prepare its mind for their solution at the polls.

First, however, the social side must be developed, and in attacking the work from that angle first a logical and sensible beginning is being made. The meaning of the neighborhood social center is not only greater neighborliness and a more compact social spirit, but a better informed and better directed public opinion. Both work for a higher type of citizenship, and for a finer and broader community spirit.

We urge, therefore, the greatest possible support of and co-operation in the work of developing the social center idea in Duluth to the highest and most effective form.

The best time to talk "not for publication" is when nobody can hear you.

A waterproof, fireproof and odorless paper has been made from seaweed. Now for somebody to invent a kind that won't take an impression of anything you will afterward wish you hadn't written.

VACATION DAYS ARE OVER.

So it was back to the grind again today, was it, son?

It was good-by to the open, to the joyous companionship of boys and dogs, to the trout stream and the pirate's lair and the embattled dry goods box fort where patriots with swords of lath held their own valiantly against the tireless enemy.

It was good-by to days of freedom—save for minor vexations like the occasional call to the woodpile, the insatiable demands of the lawnmower, and the dreaded but much needed Saturday night bath. The threat of it has been gradually breaking in to destroy vacation pleasures for several weeks. At first it was just a sudden and quickly passing thought. Then, as the goldenrod yellowed the fields and the aster splashed them with purple, sure signs of summer's close and coming fall and the return of school days, it was a lurking terror that hung like a cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night.

And now, after a glorious summer such as boyhood only knows—and never, alas, can know again when boyhood is gone—it's back to the schoolroom, the school books, the vexing problems, the annoyances of "readin', ritin' and 'rithmetic, the bugbear of study and the horrors of the obligation of "passing."

Pretty tough, eh?

Pretty hard sledding at first, isn't it, son?

But it won't be so bad. Of course, for a few days at least it is hard to pin your attention down to books. Through the open windows come sounds and scents that thrill you with the call to the out-of-doors. Your serious consideration of nine-times-eight, of Minnesota-is-bounded-on-the-north, and of verbs and nouns and adjectives and subjects and predicates is often interrupted by sad memories of the woods. The commands of your teacher seem a harsh substitute for the soft dictates of nature, in whose temples you have worshipped the summer through.

But after a few days you'll settle down. Work will come easier. You'll be looking forward to Saturdays, to holidays to come, and soon enough to the beginning of next year's vacation.

It is even possible that you will find some interest in your school work. Some boys do, and it's there for you if you'll look for it. And a little hard plugging now to get into the swing of it will make it easier later on.

But you are not so luckless a being, little boy, as you think you are. If you doubt that, make a canvass of your grown-up friends and kin. See how many of them envy you, how many would gladly change places with you if they could. See how many of them there are that have to put up with a vacation of a week or two or three where you have nearly three months, and of almost no holidays at all where you have a school year peppered as full of them as a pudding is with raisins.

See how many of them, denied in their youth the splendid privileges of preparation for real life that you enjoy, are handicapped in the struggle so they get no vacations or holidays at all except when work is slack and vacation means less food in the larder and less money for shoes for the kiddies.

You are, after all, the luckiest being alive, laddie. You are lucky for the vacation that is gone and for the school year to come. You are lucky for your youth, for the opportunities that lie before you, for the chance to lay a foundation of strength and health and mental nimbleness and knowledge that will make you a winner, if you try, in the life's contest ahead of you.

Cheer up, son! Buckle down to your lessons, and earn the vacations yet to come. You will enjoy them the more, and upon how you work this year may depend your ability to get vacations when the real work of life is upon you.

Good luck to you, son, in the school year to come, in the vacations to follow, and in the serious business of life that comes when school days are ended.

OUR DUTY TO THE PHILIPPINES.

The appointment of Congressman Francis Burton Harrison as governor general of the Philippines, coupled with the announcement from the White House that Mr. Harrison will be guided in his action in that capacity by the Democratic platform of 1912, is highly significant.

It is a strong indication that with the tariff and the currency out of the way, the administration is minded to address itself to a definite program as to the Philippines.

And it is high time for such action. This country has permitted the Philippine problem to be ignored long enough. It is time that it decided upon a definite policy, and adhered to it. The Filipinos and the world at large, and the people of the United States, should know precisely what this government's intentions are as to the Philippines—what it proposes to do about them and when it proposes to do it.

As The Herald has frequently pointed out, our occupation of the Philippines is only temporary, and any other theory is dishonorable as well as dangerous. That occupation should cease as soon as it can be brought about in honor and decency. The Filipinos should be given self-government and a chance to carve their own destinies as soon as it possibly can be arranged.

The plank in the Democratic platform to which the administration calls attention is clear and definite, and it states the duty and purpose of this nation in emphatic and unmistakable terms:

We affirm the position, three announced by the Democracy in national convention assembled, against a policy of imperialism and colonial exploitation in the Philippines or elsewhere. We condemn the experiment in imperialism as an inexcusable blunder which has involved us in enormous expense, brought us weakness instead of strength, and laid our nation open to the charge of abandonment of the fundamental principles of self-government. We favor an IMMEDIATE declaration of the nation's purpose to recognize the independence of the Philippine Islands as soon as a stable government can be established, such independence to be guaranteed by us until the neutralization of the islands can be secured by treaty with other powers.

What the administration means, then, in announcing that this plank in the 1912 platform will be the foundation of Governor General Harrison's instructions, is that he is sent there to help the Filipinos establish a stable government, and to prepare that country and this for the inevitable and wholesome separation.

That separation cannot come too quickly, and as The Herald said the other day, only considerations of humanity, and never those of greed or imperialism, should be responsible for a single day's delay in bringing it about.

Almost any of us will pardon a man for being "disgracefully rich" if he'll only let us help spend it.

THE CITY AND THE COUNTRY.

Says the Grand Forks Times: "The great city, with its population of hundreds of thousands, or millions, has some advantages which the small city cannot have."

The Des Moines Register and Leader calls this nonsense, and takes issue with it as follows:

In this progressive and effective age, when the essential conveniences are at the hand of the real-estate agent, the rural community can have even more satisfactory conditions than they are in a great city. It is absurd to talk of the great city having advantages over the small.

Many among the very smallest villages in Iowa have their telephones, their electric lights, their water works plants, their sewers, their pavements, their parks. Are there any other physical advantages possible in New York?

"Where there is a great concentration of population," says the Grand Forks paper, "there is great concentration of wealth, and with this concentration of wealth great things are possible for the comfort, culture and entertainment of the people." Doubtless this statement, literally, is correct. Where there is a great concentration of wealth, there, indeed, great things are possible for the comfort, culture and the entertainment of the people. But, also, the possible thing does not count in this world; it is the actual thing. And who believes that more actually is done for the comfort and culture of the people in a metropolis like London or New York than actually is done in the smallest community in Iowa?

All things considered, we shall have to vote with the Des Moines paper and against the Grand Forks paper. The advantage is with the small community, even with the purely rural community.

There is utterly no excuse, in these days, for even a purely rural community lacking any "comfort, culture and entertainment." Both in village and country the average comfort and well-being is vastly greater than it is in the great city. Possibly there is more "culture and entertainment" in the metropolis, but they are congested, and even if available to all are available of few.

An average farming community with a consolidated school made into a social center can have more comfort and just as much culture and entertainment as average humanity in the metropolis. Lectures, concerts, moving picture shows and the like are quite as available to such a community as they are to the people of New York; and ten times as many will take advantage of them in the country as in New York.

The farmer and his family can't go to a New York theater and see the great drama played by the great actors—but it won't be long before they can go to the consolidated school building and see these very plays done by these very actors through the medium of moving pictures. And this is typical of most of the "culture and entertainment" which concentration of population and wealth make possible.

Decidedly, we should say that the Grand Forks paper has the worse side of the argument.

One of the Roosevelt household employees has been accused of theft, and they quite in order that his employer should suspect him of having stolen the medium of moving pictures. And this is typical of most of the "culture and entertainment" which concentration of population and wealth make possible.

SAYS FIREBREAKS ARE USELESS.

To the Editor of The Herald: It sometimes becomes necessary "in the course of human events" for people as individuals or collectively to protest against the schemes of exploitation conceived by those who would lead the mass to believe that their plans and aims are for the good of all when really they are intended for the benefit of the few. The system of firebreaks and forest protection they have planned out is the only one that would lead the mass to believe that their plans and aims are for the good of all when really they are intended for the benefit of the few.

To one who has watched the working of this system and who is acquainted with the conditions in the northern part of the state, the system of firebreaks and forest protection they have planned out is the only one that would lead the mass to believe that their plans and aims are for the good of all when really they are intended for the benefit of the few. The system of firebreaks and forest protection they have planned out is the only one that would lead the mass to believe that their plans and aims are for the good of all when really they are intended for the benefit of the few.

The man who invented firebreaks should have been hanged in Grindstone lake during the Hinckley fire, where he could have seen the total destruction of his plan. When fire would cross water a mile wide almost instantly as it did there, burning logs in the water, the water would be the edge of what you think you would a 3 or 4 rod firebreak be when the con- sidered the shakiness—the real danger that prevailed then. God help the firebreakers, their builders and the people dependent upon them, when the day of reckoning comes.

The Nature of Women.

Harper's Weekly: The nature of women has been influenced a good deal in the past by what men have wished. The nature of men is to be influenced by what women wish. Women have a better idea of the family than men, and therefore plan to live on the basis of self and social consideration in the future, and they will be compelled to educate themselves away from the conventional ideas that have been standardized largely for the convenience of their own primitive natures.

Merely a Habit.

Pittsburg Post: "My son has tried to elope three times during the past month, but I tell him he doesn't know his own mind."

"Such persistence would indicate that he did. Why don't you let him marry the girl?"

"Well, on time he has picked out a different girl."

The Wide Brown Road.

Before my door a wide brown road I see, And blithely it winds away from me; I do not know what in its way may lie, Or on what quest its travelers may be.

Sometimes I dream it crosses brooks that creep Slowly to find the lake so still and deep; I stand upon the bridge and see below The eddying waters and the trout's swift leap.

I see fair houses behind the screening trees, Which thrill like harps to every passing breeze.

With children playing by the kitchen door, Which rises out from gold-starred, grassy slopes.

The road winds on where stately hills Or past some pool which like a mirror lies, Holding a picture of the arch above Or testy billows when the north wind cries.

And at its end there lies a city fair—I dream of shining towers and buildings there— And there my road comes to a happy end, But of its travelers, who shall know, or care? —Ninette McLowater in New York Sun.

The Farmer and the Tariff

By Savoyard.

Washington, Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Sharp Williams defended the agricultural schedule of the Democratic tariff bill in a speech remarkable for clearness and common sense. He reminded those of "Old Roman" Thurman or old Ben Hardin in debate. There was nothing showing, nothing ornate. It was not declamatory, it was not oratory, but it was the highest attribute of eloquence, reason made plain to the commonest understanding. It is well known that John Sharp wanted a tariff on sugar—for revenue only—and he proposed the English rate of 40 cents duty per 100 pounds, but when outvoted he submitted to the majority. His remarks on party government ought to be read and pondered by every statesman, and I commend them to the two senators from Louisiana, allies of the stand-patters, who proposed the Payne-Aldrich tariff to the proposed Democratic tariff.

John Sharp closed with this pregnant suggestion: "The question with which you are faced here today, every one of you—and the American people as a whole—is to let you forget it—is this: Which of these two things do you prefer, the Payne-Aldrich tariff or the Underwood bill? You are here, each of you, to represent the whole American people, as the senator from Minnesota failed to do. If you want to go back home and defend the inequities of the Payne-Aldrich law as against the provisions of this bill, I am perfect as this bill is, go and do it. I for one do not envy those of you who have led you people to believe that you are in favor of a revision of the tariff downward. When you undertake that task of self-defense you are going to meet some difficulties."

Precisely. A man who says he is against the Payne-Aldrich law and votes against the Underwood bill will turn blue, black and mulatto before he gets downright folk to believe in his sincerity. A vote against the Democratic tariff is a vote against the income tax, and if the stand-patter conscience could be searched it would be discovered that opposition to the tariff was in fact a vote against the income tax.

The Payne-Aldrich law was denounced in the Bull Moose platform of last year. It was repudiated in the Republican convention that nominated William H. Taft at Chicago. It was stigmatized as robbery by the Democrats at Baltimore. Every man chosen to congress by each of the three parties was instructed by his constituents to repeal the Payne-Aldrich law as it exists. It was for that duty congress was convened in April. But the opposition in the senate and combination of stand-patters and alleged "progressives"—put their veto on the proposition and refuse to allow a vote on the bill.

Smoot will tell you that protection is holy. La Follette will tell you that it is a sacred thing. John Sharp Williams, who has enough brains and more candor that would make half a dozen average senators, tells you that protection is a swindle. A man following another calling. Assuming that you can "protect" the laborer in an iron works—and that is untrue—by a tariff, the coal-burner, the policeman, the clerk, the actor, the lawyer, the physician, the newspaper man, the railroad employe, the baker, the shoemaker, the bricklayer, the stone-cutter, the carpenter, the plasterer, the paper-hanger, the hotel waiter, the bootblack, the newsboy, the thousands of others who cannot be "protected" by any tariff have to foot the bill at Baltimore. The farmers made the half-billion Carnegie gathered and they enriched the fifty-odd others he boasts he made millionaires.

And to these serfs of monopoly tariff let us add the unnumbered millions who till the soil—the farmers. They "pay the freight," they are taxed for the "protection." Does a man like Dunning, who made that absurd mistake believe that a tariff could be conceived that would "protect" the corn grower of Iowa? Is any foreign farmer anywhere raising corn to sell anywhere in competition with the Iowa farmer? Who is he? Where does he live? Where does he work? Of all the stupidities with which the United States senate has ever been afflicted the "map" of Cummins takes the cake. By such manipulation of statistics you can prove anything. And it may serve a vicious purpose. It is to lead the farmers to believe that the tariff that taxes them is a blessing and protects them.

What is it Shakespeare says about it?

"The world is still deceived by ornament. In law, what plea so tainted and corrupt But, being seasoned with a gracious voice, Obscures the show of evil? In religion, What damned error but some sober brow Will bless it and approve it with a text, Hiding the grossness with fair ornament? There is no vice so simple but assumes Some rank of virtue on its outward parts; As stars of sand, wear yet upon their chins The beards of Hercules and frowning Mars; Who, inward search'd, have livers white as milk; And there assume but valors' excrement To render them redoubted."

There is your tariff that "protects" the laborer in the shop and the farmer in the field.

McCumber and McCumber say they believe in it!

Picking and Preying.

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph: McCarty got into an argument with Casey about the efficacy of prayer.

"Oh, well," said Casey, "there's nothing in it," asserted Casey. "Oh, never got anything out of it."

"Well," said McCarty, "don't you know when there's a war it's always the people that pray that win the fight?"

"How about the Chinese?" asked Casey. "They're great people to pray, and yet they get licked, and licked bad."

"Oh, well," explained McCarty, "no war could understand them when they prayed."

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Refreshing Indeed. Fairmont Sentinel: It is refreshing to contemplate that the next legislature in Minnesota will be chosen on their merits instead of their party label.

Short Ballot Argument. Austin Transcript: We thought the limit had been reached in the long fight for a train through a bridge. He was well known in railroad circles throughout the Northwest and was formerly a resident of Minneapolis.

Minnesota Leads. Albert Lea Tribune: From all the crop reports, it is easy to be seen that Minnesota leads all the states of the Union in the production of a crop really located in the garden spot of the world.

Statesmanship. Laverne Journal: Great is Minnesota's statesmanship which will allow a condition to continue whereby the state has to borrow money at 5 percent on certificates of indebtedness of doubtful validity, and lend its own trust funds to villages and school districts at 4 percent, and to the great state of Virginia at 3 percent.

In It Forever! Albert Lea Standard: The sensational work of 350,000 men making roads two days across Missouri was far more farcical than real or important. Road-making is as much a science as railroad building. It is costly. It cannot be done in a hurry. Ten million men working two days without intelligent direction would accomplish little. What they do the next storm will undo. It stirs popular interest in good roads and thus indirectly accomplishes good.

The People Considered. Ada Herald: The action of the government in distributing money throughout the country to aid in the crop movement is proving to be a popular one with all interests. Minneapolis is to get a million dollars and Duluth and St. Paul a half million each, the money to be placed on deposit in those cities in September and October. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has introduced many new features in his department all of which go to show that the administration is conducting the nation's finances with the interests of the masses at heart.

Bonds Should Be Sold. Ada Index: The state of Minnesota has added $3,000,000 loaned to outside states, the interest on money loaned is only 3 percent. At the same time the state has just borrowed money at 6 percent. The outside bonds which are sold and the money invested with in the state.

Wonderful Crops. Cass Lake Times: The potato and forage crops of the northern counties are not only something to boast of, but truly wonderful. Potatoes are now ripening and show wonderful yields and excellent quality. The price this season bids fair to be good and thousands of carloads of spuds and other vegetables will be sent out of our state to feed the millions of the burnt out regions of the Southwest.

Time for a Change

New York Evening Post: It is a little bit difficult to understand the anger of Cameron, Forbes, the late governor-general of the Philippines, at his supplanting by Congressman Harrison. He has surely known all along, as has everybody else, that Wilson was looking for his successor, since the discussion of names of candidates has been going on in the press for months past. Apparently Mr. Forbes felt that the president should have asked his consent, or advised with him as to the exact time to make the nomination. It may ever be that he dreamed of being permitted to stay on indefinitely; but that, of course, would have been nonsense. The first requisite towards carrying out the Democratic policy of turning over the islands to their rightful owners is naturally the selection of a man for governor general who believes in that policy, as Mr. Harrison does. Mr. Forbes, who, in our judgment, is not an abler man than Mr. Harrison, is thoroughly imbued with the imperialistic spirit. He would put off independence indefinitely, and he has been particularly desirous of bringing "big business" into the islands. Those who would exploit the Philippines for "their own good" by large capital investments are particularly active at present. They now have an organ, and a society to exploit their view that we must not dream of giving the Philippines to the Filipinos for several generations. It is busily at work. It is high time that a thoroughgoing change took place in the composition of the Philippine commission.

The Mayor.

Life: See the mayor. This gentleman is engaged in two occupations; he guards the city's interest and furnishes copy for the newspapers. But furnishing copy for the newspapers takes up most of his time. Does the mayor love the newspapers? Not so much as he should, considering what they have done for him. The mayor is also a great reader. He reads philosophy and history and essays; he reads everything except the police records.

Every morning the mayor may be seen walking across the bridge. He frequently talks to people whom he has never seen before. Sometimes the mayor is pleasant to total strangers. He gets over this, however, when he comes to know you better.

The mayor has a cross word and an unpleasant smile for everybody. In the evening he attends dinners and tells the assembled diners all the things he has seen during the day which he didn't like. That is the reason why the mayor usually talks so long.

The mayor works hard all day. When there are no letters to write to little girls, or after-dinner speeches to dictate, there are always other things to do. A mayor can do anything he wants in office who, under other circumstances, might be languishing in jail. He can also turn out others who annoy him by their honesty.

It takes a great deal of courage to be a mayor; almost as much as it does to be an author. No two mayors are alike. But sometimes they wish they were.

A mayor in time saves nine gunmen. But not always. Every little mayor has a leaning all his own.

Once a mayor, not always a mayor.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1913.

Former Governor Proctor Knott of Kentucky has been tendered the position of minister to Hawaii for the second time, and is at Washington to talk with President Cleveland about it.

Harry C. Ives, assistant to the first vice president of the Santa Fe railroad, was among fourteen persons killed at Chester, Mass., by the falling of a train through a bridge. He was well known in railroad circles throughout the Northwest and was formerly a resident of Minneapolis.

A ten-round contest for points between Pat Boucher and Frank Kitchen is advertised to take place at French hall, West Duluth, tonight.

J. H. Drake of New York, of the big contracting firm of Drake & Stratton, is in the city.

The Trades and Labor assembly held a meeting last night to arrange details for the Labor day celebration. Morris Griffin is chief marshal of the parade, and the marshals of divisions are Mrs. H. Gazette, E. Moore and G. Olson. Mrs. Eva McDonald Valesch of Minneapolis will be the speaker of the day.

The employees in all departments of the Duluth street railway went out yesterday and as a consequence the street cars are all in the sheds. Not a wheel was turned and Superior street looked as peaceful and quiet as a country village, compared with its usual noise and bustle. There has been no disorder, and the company has made no effort to run any cars. In fact, the wires have been well grounded and the company might not be able to find the leads in two weeks. Loster Park residents came in afoot unless they were lucky enough to catch a handcar on the line from the city.

The company proposed a cut of 20 percent in wages of all men earning above $2.00 a week, and less than $2.25 per cent. There are nearly 200 men affected and fully nine-tenths come within the last named cut. The men proposed to accept a reduction of about 1-3 per cent, but Mr. Mondenhall refused to do so.

A. A. Smith of West Duluth left today for a short trip to the world's fair.

F. M. Guthrie has returned from Cincinnati and may decide to continue his residence in Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hamilton of Cuba, N. Y., are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. L. Prosser.

Is the Law an Ass?

New York World: 1. One man walks up to another in a crowded roof-garden and in cold blood and without any sign of self-defense shoots him dead. 2. He is saved from execution on the ground that he is criminally insane with a form of insanity admitted to be incurable.

3. He is locked up in an asylum for the dangerously insane.

4. He escapes to Canada.

5. And now learned lawyers contend that a conviction of homicidal insanity amounts to nothing more than an acquittal of murder.

This is probably perfectly good lawyers' law, but in laymen's minds it precipitates the question: Which is the more dangerous criminal mania in a case like this—Thaw or the Law?

In Doubt of the Deal. Pearson's Magazine: Appropriate enough with the annual rule question the much to the front, a newly published volume of biography gives a good story of Mr. Gladstone and the then bishop of Peterborough, the famous Dr. Magee.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

JUDGE PRAISES OUR PRESIDENT

Judge Stanton in Bemidji Labor Day Speech Lauds Lobby Fight. Predicts President's Attitude Will Bring to Him Undying Fame.

Brainerd, Minn., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji was the Labor day orator here yesterday, and delivered an address eloquent and weighty with good thoughts. "The greatest boon that any person can properly ask or expect in this world is opportunity," he declared. "Furnished with the opportunity to make good, success or failure must depend upon ourselves. We can acclaim our dissatisfaction with conditions as they are, become agitators for multitudes of reforms, criticize our lawmakers and our courts, and make general demands for some panacea for everything of which we complain; but unless each one of us is actuated by the proper spirit of honest desire, and each does his own proper share in the little sphere in which he moves, to bring good results and to make conditions better, our fault-finding will amount to but little, and things will move along in the same old way. It is public sentiment that gives birth to laws and enforces the laws and the sentiment is always judged by what we all say and do."

He deprecated the idea of party labels. "One should give support to that man who approaches the nearest to our ideal of individual worth and honest public purpose, with whatever party designation he may choose to be labeled."

Land's Wilson's Lobby Fight.—Judge Stanton, president of the United States of that eminent man who now occupies that exalted position. "What about his famous attitude of waging warfare against, and giving publicity to, the pernicious array of lobbyists at the nation's capital? Can he be no party politics in it, for the president's denunciation of the lobbyist is a public utility corporation to submit to just and equitable arbitration."

Friction Over School Head Passed and Term Begins Peacefully.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the opening of a harmonious year the schools of Fargo opened today. There are eight-six regular members of the school faculty with several substitutes. There have been changes in the principalship of the high and three of the graded schools and many new teachers employed in the different grades. So far the term has opened with a peace and harmony that has been removed to the Agassiz.

DOG ATTACKS BULL; SAVES GIRL'S LIFE

Infuriated Beast Is Goring Child When House Pet Interferes.

Arnegard, N. D., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three times terribly gored by an infuriated bull, the 15-year-old daughter of Alfred Hanson of Hay Buena owes her life to the bravery of a dog that accompanied her to the pasture. She was walking through the herd of cattle when attacked by the bull's horns and her body was a mass of bruises.

ALASKA IS TAME.

Author Visits Northern Country and Says It Is Without Thrills.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 2.—"Alaska, described by my brother authors as the land of thrills, is the most peaceful place in the world," declared Iver Hough, the author, who arrived here last night from a trip through Alaska leaving today for Chicago.

IS WELL RECEIVED.

North Dakota Member of Foreign Commission Tells of Reception.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Lee Coulter, the University of Minnesota faculty member who was appointed by the commission to study European problems pertaining to agricultural development, and who is now in Washington, with other members of the commission, preparing a report to submit to congress, has written Judge T. A. Sullivan of Grand Forks describing many features of the work accomplished, the countries visited and the conditions prevailing in those countries. After discussing the appointment of the commission and the plan of work mapped out, Mr. Coulter gives a brief account of each country visited, Italy, Austria, Hungary, Russia, Germany, Denmark, Belgium, Holland and Prussia, the British Isles.

Hendrum—The Hendrum, Quincy and Grandin congregations of the Presbyterian church have called Rev. H. D. Robertson to return and serve them as their pastor. Rev. Mr. Robertson left for Canada this spring where he had a congregation to serve and a homestead to look after.

Plummer—Miss Bella Elizabeth Matison, aged 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Matison, residing north of here, died at the Crookston hospital last week as a result of blood poisoning which was caused by stepping on a rusty nail two weeks previously.

Deer River—Local grain and vegetable crops will produce an excellent yield, both in amount and quality this season, and are now at their best. Clyde Campbell, agricultural director of the school, is about to make a display in the postoffice window and wants exhibits.

Forus Falls—The death and funeral of Charles Black, one of the pioneers of Otter Tail county, occurred last week, aged 71. His wife died twenty-five years ago and he is survived by five children, Hans P. Black of Saskatchewan, Ed Black of Idaho, Mrs. Nelson of St. Olaf, Mrs. Tollefson of North Dakota and Mrs. Hans Hanson of St. Olaf.

Moorehead—Work has begun upon the new brick platform which is to replace the plank platform at the Northern Pacific depot. The brick will be laid in the sand filling. Vitified brick will be used.

Stillwater—Mrs. Wesley Archer, who for a couple of years conducted the Gem motion picture house on South Main street, was united in marriage recently in the Panama canal zone to Lewis Schlegel, an engineer on the canal construction work, from whom she was divorced.

a large building with full basement and will accommodate all the scholars in Minerva township.

Floodwood—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Olson came from Duluth and moved into the Wiklund dwelling, where they will live while Mr. Olson erects buildings on the land that he recently purchased near the St. Louis river bridge.

Hallock—The brick work on Lindgard Bros. new store building is well under way. Contractor Harrison has a crew of ten at work, including four bricklayers, and the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible. He expects to have the big building completed by November.

St. Hilare—A prairie fire east of town, which is supposed to have started by sparks from a passing threshing outfit, caused a great deal of damage. At several places it was a hard matter to save the farm buildings. Many farmers lost their entire hay crop.

St. Cloud—Two hundred and sixteen Stearns county teachers were awarded certificates by the state department. This is out of a total of 244 taking the examinations. Of this number, however, forty-six wrote for credits only, so that the actual number of failures is reported to be seventy-two.

MARATHON RACE MAY BE RULED OFF ATHLETIC CARD

Historic Run Is Not Considered a True Test of Speed and Is Also Decried as a Man-Killing Feat.

The Japanese Are Threatening to Learn Football—Reforms May Make Our Athletics Tame and Listless Affairs.

(BY BRUCE.)

AL SHRUBB, the great English middle distance runner—and by the by, one of the greatest that have ever produced—says the marathon race is doomed and that there will be very few of these heart-breaking style of races run in connection with the Olympic or any other class of athletic games.

Maybe the Briton is right, after all. His statement that the Marathon cuts five years off the prime of a man's life, may be well believed when we go back over some of the performances that have taken place in the running of the greatest revival since they put on Uncle Tom's cabin with the all-star cast and a pack of real blood hounds.

In the days when the messenger clad in flowing robes and sandals ran from Elhxxpgrzzia to Atvazms-quizzzz, a distance of some twenty-six miles or more, there were no humane societies that looked after the welfare of men as well as horses and stray dogs, or societies that took deep pleasure in decrying sports that were considered brutal; therefore the Marathon race went on, even though several of the thinny clad youths and several of the old men who should have known better, fell by the wayside and were brought to with difficulty and spirits.

But times have changed; things are not as they used to be. Some people even look upon croquet as an unnecessarily rough game, owing to the danger of the mallet coming loose from the handle and running some high class dental work or spoiling beyond repair the bridge of some patrician nose. Therefore if croquet is spoken of with firmly and tightly drawn lips by those whose bounden duty it is considered to look after the somewhat frail morals of others, pray what tell, Bill, has this old Marathon game?

And yet, seriously speaking, it is very doubtful if the Marathon race is a test of anything but the ability of one plodding man to stick to a running pace longer than the other fellow. The fastest man does not win—not by any means, and it is really no badge of sportsmanship for those on the and of people to behold a hustling and oftentimes blood specked man staggering across the line, more dead than alive. Shrub is perhaps right, and it would not be in the least surprising to see the old Marathon race abolished, after paying all due respect to the messenger who originates the race.

Lo, the Little Japs.

By way of San Francisco comes the news of the adoption of the game of Rugby football to the string of college sports of the men of the little brown nation. The Nipponese have done very well indeed with the game of baseball; so well, in fact, that the teams of brownies that came to this country beat several of the crack college clubs of the good old United States.

One wonders if the Japs are really and thoroughly preparing for the invasion of the dominion of Uncle Sam. Surely the introduction of American football methods, for they will surely follow the starting of the Rugby game, will prove one of the best means of preparing the young men of that nation for a war with us.

Now wouldn't it seem funny, ludicrous in fact, to behold a football team of Japs rush onto Northrup field and line-up against an eleven of the heft and general elephantine proportions of the University of Minnesota team. And how terrible it would be in the event of the Japs cleaning up! That would hurt, and perhaps would do more to bring on the yellow peril than all the talk of Richard Pearson Holson and some of the other fire eaters in the ranks of those who are pulling for a larger and more grandly aggressive navy.

To tell the truth, when one comes to think of it more deeply, perhaps it would not be the very best for the people of the two countries for the football teams of the United States and Japan to meet, and maybe we should use our efforts to discourage the little Japs from learning the game.

What Are We Coming To?
WITH the society of Civil Rights-ness of Los Angeles making well laid plans for the killing of the boxing game in California, and with some of the other forces for the betterment of humanity swinging the cudgel against the dangerous sport of motorcycle racing and the categorical companion, football, one occasionally takes a long breath and stops to think of the possible effect the purty mood may have on the people of the coming generation.

Yelling opens the lungs; it chases formality and warms the heart toward one's neighbor on the bleacher seat or else leads to a fist fight. Acting on the imagination and impelling the youth to yearn to emulate his elders in deeds of modern valor. En-

While Mike and Harry may go out to the ball game, this term and short "bonhead" at the umpire, which some tell us is something to be devoutly striven against, it is never the less true that Mike and Harry will go home and have supper or dinner, just as the case may be, and will be out on the vacant lot or the street that evening endeavoring to give a very correct imitation of the methods in vogue in the baseball game.

Certain sports are undoubtedly rough; and yet, after all, there is generally something sort of rough about a real man. We can't fall back on croquet and ping pong and be the same old nation. There will always be something rough in the sports of this country, perhaps, and if a man is hurt now and then, it is equally true accidents make their frequent appearance in every walk and every occupation of life.

North Dakota U Football Coach Orders Work Started Sept. 15.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 2.—(Special to The Herald).—Fred V. Archer, head football coach for the University of North Dakota, has arrived to take up his duties at once. Men have been ordered to report for practice on Sept. 15, and it is expected that about twenty men will report then.

Capt. Harris of this year's team will not report for work till Sept. 18. Assistant Coach Grosvenor will be on the job then and the football supporters of the university are confident of turning out a good team this season. The fact that North Dakota has a game with the University of Minnesota this season has been responsible for the revival of football enthusiasm, and the special work that is being done this year to obtain a good team.

THORPE TO TAKE INDIAN BRIDE.
Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 2.—James Thorpe, the champion athlete and member of the New York Nationals, yesterday announced his engagement to Miss Margaret I. Miller, a Cherokee Indian, daughter of a prominent resident of Okla. The banns will be published in St. Patrick's church here, and the wedding will take place on Oct. 10. Thorpe will take his bride on a honeymoon around the world, as he will be a member of the New York team on its globe-girdling tour.

thusiasm is the great guiding hand of man, and in sports a great nation play a leading role in the promotion of the enthusiasm of its people.

There are rough and perhaps brutal sports, admitting of sitting on the bench for the sake of argument. But if they take from us all of the sport that has the element of danger, all of the great gambol of chance that is one of the chief charms of several of the greatest sports of this country, think, Bill, of the effect it will have on the youth of the next generation.

Instead of seeing wildly gesticulating youths and yelling middle aged men, and in some instances, old men, at our games, at the lifeless sport of the future, if rapacious reform pursues its relentless way, we will behold aemic youths sitting on the bleachers and in the stands, stifling yawns and taking occasional naps. They will glower at each other if one has the effrontery to slap one on the back or call attention to some good piece of work. Formality will settle like a mantle over our sports and whirl its sparks of ignition to the general life of this delightfully frank and spontaneous nation of ours. Men that would be indeed a condition to dread.

Out of the toughness of fibre of a nation are born its true men. America has had the greatest fighters, the greatest wrestlers, the greatest athletes of all description, simply because we possess the greatest nation of men. Our sports have grown to be a natural reflection of the sentiments of our people. No football teams in all the world can compare with ours at our own style of play, because this is a striking characteristic of the way we do things, be it building dams, cities or a great railroad.

But if they substitute croquet and have the ping pong sets brought out in the air so that the exercise will do the boys the most good, we are going to lose some of the habits as a nation that we have fostered and nurtured on the fields of play. Little Reginald will grow to be a shy man, with the magic spark of enthusiasm in his breast, and Clarence will most likely be spindly shanked and hollow of chest.

While Mike and Harry may go out to the ball game, this term and short "bonhead" at the umpire, which some tell us is something to be devoutly striven against, it is never the less true that Mike and Harry will go home and have supper or dinner, just as the case may be, and will be out on the vacant lot or the street that evening endeavoring to give a very correct imitation of the methods in vogue in the baseball game.

GOOD RACING IN GRAND CIRCUIT

First Day of Meet at Hartford Brings Out Exciting Finishes.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 2.—With clear skies, a fast track and a holiday crowd of more than 50,000 spectators, the first day of the Grand Circuit races at Charter Oak park were ushered in yesterday with some fast racing and exciting finishes and featured by the fastest trotting of the season.

Braden Direct set the new season's record of the first heat of the free-for-all race in the four-oared shell in 2:02 1/2, and in the third heat this time was equaled when Earl, Jr., came through a winner and took first money. Tenara, the mare that has been the subject of the most speculation, led the fourth big race when she led the field in the historic Charter Oak race, purse $1,000 in straight heats. In the heat, McDonald drove Allerworthy through in 2:24.

YOUTH LEADS IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Francis Quimet of Woodland, Mass., Turns in Best Score.

Garden City, N. Y., Sept. 2.—After a day of weeding out of those who were unable to qualify for play in the national amateur championship, the last pair out of 146 players reached the home green of the Garden City Golf club's links last evening, when it was almost too dark to watch the flight of the balls.

Scores of 86 and better left seventy-one players still eligible to take part in the second half of the qualifying round today, but sixteen of these tied with limit scores of 86 each, will have to play off for nine places, so that sixty-four can continue in the championship division. Of these the thirty-two making the best score for the "chicken" holes today will be paired for the first round of eighteen hole match play in the afternoon, and on the succeeding four days, thirty-six hole matches will be in order.

Upsets.
There were many upsets and disappointments during yesterday's play, and with few exceptions the quality of golf displayed was mediocre. The honors of the day went to Francis Quimet, a young player from Woodland, Mass., who holds the Bay State amateur championship. He led the field with a round of 75, just one stroke better than the veteran Walter Travis of the home club. Closely following these two were E. M. Byers of Pittsburgh and Charles Evans of Chicago, each with 77. Quimet and Travis played consistently all through their rounds. The younger player did not require more than five for any of

DANNY GOODMAN DRAWS WITH STEVE KETCHEL

Neither Boxer Has Any Advantage in Bout Held Before Curley Ulrich's Boxing Club Across the Bay.

Steve Ketchel and the venerable Danny Goodman went ten rounds to a draw last night before Curley Ulrich's club. The bout was a rather tame affair, and until the latter part of the exhibition neither man seemed to extend himself to the limit of his capabilities. While Goodman looked fit it appeared that Ketchel might have taken a few pounds off.

Steve Gardner of this city had the better of Jack Hendricks, the latter quitting in the sixth round, pleading a foul as his excuse for refusing to continue the bout. Hendricks sat on the floor and made no apparent effort to rise while the referee stood over him and tolled off the fatal ten seconds.

There was a six-round burlesque bout between two colored boys. Neither of the contestants seemed to have very much of a general idea of what boxing gloves were intended for and Referee Orensten asked the two smokers to desist before the end of the final round.

Billy Wilmer of Chicago and Jack Whitaker of Calumet went eight rounds to a draw. The latter was no knock down during the contest and some of the spectators were of the opinion that this contest outlasted the eighteen holes, while Travis had a six on the thirteenth, the longest hole on the course.

Charles Evans, Jr., went out in 39 minutes at the first and again at the second hole. Coming home he began with a three on the tenth, but took four to reach the thirteenth green and had two putts for the hole.

But at the home green Evans redeemed himself by holing out in two with a finely executed down-hill putt.

CHICAGO CLUB WINS IN ROWING EVENTS.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—The Lincoln Park Boat club was the winner in its annual regatta with the Milwaukee Rowing club at the Lincoln park lake yesterday. The Milwaukee club won the four-oared shell and the swimming relay races. The Milwaukee club won only the tub race.

The eight-oared event was close, the winners rowing the mile in 2:33 and finishing only half a boat length ahead of Milwaukee. The half-mile was made in the four-oared shell in 2:56. The local team finished second in the swimming relay, in 2:24. Campbell, of the Milwaukee club, won the tub races containing against Sanborn, Everson and Pratt of Milwaukee and Olson, Wehrheim, Blair and Johnson of Chicago.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY TIES SPRINT RECORD.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 2.—Howard P. Drew, the Springfield, Mass., high school dash sprinter, yesterday equaled the world's record in the 100-yard dash on Charter Oak track at the Connecticut fair, going the distance in 9.3 seconds.

A few minutes later Drew ran the 220 yards in 22 seconds flat.

Militia Called Off.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 2.—Governor Reistler yesterday ordered the two companies of state troops sent to stop betting on horse races at Mineral Springs track in Porter county, to return to their homes. Only a few horses remain at the tracks.

FOUR KILLED IN AUTO RACE

Cars Pile Up on Track at Tennessee State Fair.

Two Men Slightly Injured and Four Go Through Unscathed.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 2.—Death claimed a heavy toll in the Labor day automobile speed races at the state fair grounds yesterday when four of the six high-powered cars entered in the 25-mile free-for-all were wrecked and twisted into a mass of steel on the far side of the mile track opposite the big grandstand, holding 5,000 people.

Four of the racers were killed, two received minor injuries, while four escaped without injury. Two of the cars with their drivers and mechanics flashed through the tangled wreckage at a speed of sixty miles an hour, escaping injury.

The dead: JOHN W. SHERRILL, driver of Buick car No. 3. THOMAS F. BRIDGES, mechanic of Buick car No. 3. WILLIAM SHEPHERD, driver of Stutz car No. 8. "GOOCH" FREEMAN Ormsby, mechanic Mercer car No. 2. The injured: Clyde Donovan, driver and sole occupant of Studebaker. The Whiskbroom, No. 13, slight bruises. Edward Polk, driver of Mercer car No. 2. The cars were speeding around the circular track at a terrific rate with the Studebaker "Whiskbroom" carrying the ill-fated No. 13 about 200 yards in the lead of Mercer No. 2. Two Pitching Duels.

New York, Sept. 2.—New York won the morning game from Boston here yesterday when the visitors blew up, with two out in the tenth inning, ending a spirited pitchers battle between Darragh and Hoss, the score being 3 to 2. Mayers opened the tenth with a double and Shaffer ran for him. Shaffer took third on Snodgrass' hit, but was nailed at the plate on Randall's grounder to Mananville. Grant ran for Randall and took third on Smith's error on Burns. On an attempted double steal, Grant was out at third, but Hoss threw the ball into left field, permitting Grant to score the winning run.

In one of the most sensational pitching duels ever seen on the polo grounds, New York defeated Boston, 3 to 1, in the fourth inning of the afternoon game.

Marquard and Rudolph, the opposing pitchers, and each allowed one run. Marquard was extremely anxious to win, and he pitched with a vengeance. The winning run was made when Merkle tripped with one out, and scored on Marquard's single. New York's first run was scored in the third inning, when Snodgrass singled, was sacrificed to second by Marquard, and came home on Fletcher's single after Shaffer had walked. Randall then scored two innings later with a home drive into the left field bleachers. Burns saved the game for New York in the eighth when he threw out Mayers trying to score on Sweeney's single.

Double for Phillies.

Brooklyn, Sept. 2.—Brooklyn and Philadelphia hit consistently during the morning game yesterday, but the Philadelphia hits were more productive and the Phillies won, 6 to 2.

A crowd of 3,000 was present. Umpire Brennan, who forfeited the game to Brooklyn, was present. Philadelphia, who went behind the bat, had no trouble at all. He chased Doolan off the base in the seventh inning for some casual rooting in the game, but it is not thought Miller will be suspended.

UNKNOWN WINS FROM WOLGAST

Joe Azevedo Springs Up From Obscurity and Makes Good.

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 2.—Joe Azevedo, a Mexican lightweight fighter, fought his way to a decision over Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, yesterday in their ten-round bout here. The going was fast and the younger fighter clearly earned the verdict. In the seventh round, Wolgast knocked Azevedo down, but he came back and fought the fight out to a decision.

Wolgast was delayed on route here from Chicago, and made the trip by special train. The distance of 138 miles was covered in 143 minutes. The score was: R. H. E.

Hale Tells Wilson About Conditions He Observed in Mexico

Is Believed to Have Brought Message From John Lind.

Refugees at San Francisco Tell of Murder and Pillage.

Deny "Wave of Patriotism" Is Sweeping the Republic.

Washington, Sept. 3.—With the return of President Wilson from the summer White House and the arrival of William Bayard Hale, who has been making observations in Mexico for the administration, interest in the Mexican situation was revived today. Secretary Bryan announced that no word has been received from John Lind, who still remains at Vera Cruz, Mr. Hale, who accompanied Mr. Lind from Mexico City to Vera Cruz, was said to be the bearer of personal messages to the president.

Before leaving today for a lecture engagement, Secretary Bryan planned to go over Mexican developments of the last few days with President Wilson and discuss particularly inquiries by Americans regarding means of protection to their property if they leave Mexico.

Conferees with the president and Mr. Hale were arranged for late today. Mr. Bryan said that he would confer with Mr. Hale tomorrow.

Lind on Side Trip.
Vera Cruz, Mex., Sept. 3.—John Lind, personal representative in Mexico of President Wilson, left yesterday in company with Rear Admiral Frank R. Fletcher, commander of the second division of the United States Atlantic fleet, on a trip into the tropical agricultural belt of Mexico. They expect to return here.

Diaz Leaves London.
London, Sept. 3.—Gen. Felix Diaz purposes to arrive in Mexico here Oct. 20, for which date the election for president has been fixed. He started today for Berlin, where he intends to remain some time.

American Held For Ransom.
El Paso, Tex., Sept. 3.—A. A. McCormick of San Antonio, superintendent of the Palomas Land & Cattle company in Northern Chihuahua, is held prisoner by Maximo Castillo's band of Mexican freebooters for a ransom of $10,000. The second time he has been held for ransom. (Continued on page 4, fourth column.)

OPPOSE BANK NOTE ISSUES

Bankers Tell Views on Paper Money at Senate Hearing.

Are Questioned Freely on Details of Currency Plan.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The kind of national paper currency the American Bankers' association would like established in place of the United States treasury notes proposed by the administration currency bill, was outlined today by bankers who declared they did not favor asset currency or notes secured by the general credit of individual banks because of the danger of "wildcat banking."

"We believe the notes should be issued by the Federal reserve board to the banks and by them to the public, and that all the Federal reserve banks should be responsible for the whole issue of notes," said Sir Walter New Orleans, one of the spokesmen for the recent bankers' conference at Chicago.

Freely Questioned.
Senator Reed, Democrat, declared he was "wedded to no particular currency plan," and throughout the hearing witnesses were questioned with freedom, indicating that the committee would take up the administration plan with open minds.

The chief evils of the present banking system, Wexler said, "were the lack of a flexible circulating medium, and the fact that banks have 'no place to go for redress when we have exhausted our own credit facilities.'"

"We believe the reserve of the country should be in one big reservoir," said he, "where they are readily accessible."

ONE KILLED AND 48 OVERCOME AT FIRE

Blaze in Chicago Lasts Eighteen Hours; Watched By 100,000.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—The body of Thomas Yates, 50 years of age, a cook, who was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the Central hotel at 440 South State street and an adjoining building, was found after the flames had been put out today. It is estimated that a crowd of 100,000 spectators watched the fire battle with the flames in the eighteen hours the fire burned.

The blaze, which started at 11 o'clock yesterday, caused a property loss of $60,000. Forty-eight firemen and one spectator were overcome by smoke or injured during the blaze.

"LAST FLIGHT" ENDS IN AVIATOR'S DEATH

Judge Who Fell 400 Feet With Pilot Will Recover.

Rutland, Vt., Sept. 3.—Judge J. Dyer Spellman, who was a passenger with Aviator George Schmidt when the latter's aeroplane plunged to earth at the Rutland fair yesterday, killing the pilot, is expected to recover. Although Judge Spellman was caught in the machine just as it was falling, he miraculously escaped without a broken bone after the 400-foot drop. Burns which he suffered when his clothing caught fire were his principal injuries.

Young Schmidt, who although only 23 years old, had been flying five years, had promised his mother that he would give up flying on Sept. 4, his birthday. Both his mother and father saw him fall to his death.

HEAR OF THE LAW'S DELAY

Bar Association Delegates Discuss Means for Reforms.

Prof. Taft and Judges Hook and Burke Are Speakers.

TAFI ELECTED HEAD OF BAR ASSOCIATION.

Montreal, Can., Sept. 3.—Former President William H. Taft was elected president of the American Bar association this afternoon at the close of the annual meeting. *****

Montreal, Sept. 3.—This, the last day of the American Bar association's meeting, was devoted to a discussion of means to simplify legal procedure and election of officers. Ex-President Taft was the chief speaker this morning at a joint session of the section of legal education and the Association of American Law Schools.

Papers were read at the bar association symposium by William C. Hook of Kansas, judge of the Federal circuit court of appeals, Judge N. Charles Burke of the Maryland court of appeals and William A. Blount of Pensacola, Fla.

Judge Hook urged brevity and simplicity and said:

"It is a common remark that the ablest lawyers draft the most concise pleadings, submit the briefest briefs and make the shortest arguments."

Judge Burke's subject was "Legal Procedure and Social Unrest." The struggle between capital and labor, he urged, was responsible for new conditions calling for new laws to govern them.

"But no matter what statutes may be enacted with respect to legal procedure, if counsel are not diligent in the preparation of the case for trial, or if one side or the other is bent upon delay, it is difficult for the judge to do much."

Mr. Blount declared that the task of remodeling pleading and practice devolved upon the "progressive conservatives" of the profession. "The good," he said, "is just as this in large part inexpensively obtained."

SHOTGUN AND RIFLE IN DUEL IN ILLINOIS

Both Parties to Argument Probably Will Die of Wounds.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 3.—What began as a friendly argument between two men on an outing near Jerseyville, Ill., terminated in a shotgun-rifle duel last night, as a result of which both men probably will die. The battle was witnessed by Charles Powers of Jerseyville, third member of the party.

Bert Morrison, saloon keeper of Fieldon, Ill., and John Rain, a grocer of Alton, were the principals in the duel. According to Powers, the dispute began while the men were in a rowboat on a lake. Morrison was armed with a shotgun and Rain with a rifle. They ran toward each other, and when only a few yards apart, stopped and fired.

Rain's bullet struck his adversary in the chest. Before Morrison could reload and fell he sent the contents of both barrels of the shotgun into Rain's body.

AMERICAN MOTORISTS GO OVER PRECIPICE

Two Women May Die of Injuries in French Accident.

Turin, Sept. 3.—An automobile carrying Americans who have been staying at Chamonix, France, fell over a precipice yesterday near Little St. Bernard. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Duer were mortally injured. The injuries of Mr. Duer and his son, who was in the car, are not serious. Their further identification has not been learned.

THAW LOSES HIS FIGHT TO STAY IN THE QUEBEC JAIL

NEW TARIFF BY OCTOBER

Underwood Gives Two Weeks for Conference on Bill.

Democrats Caucus on Passages Subject to Disagreement.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Representative Underwood, leader of the house, was at the White House to talk tariff with President Wilson today.

"We hope to dispose of the differences between house and senate in conference in less than two weeks," said Mr. Underwood. "I am not disposed to fight the senate for the purpose of maintaining all the house provisions. There are no differences of principle involved. I believe the senate has cut too much revenue from the bill, and if I can convince the conferees that my estimates are correct, I think the senate will be willing to the president about the tariff."

Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, also called to talk to the president about the tariff.

Senator Root declared that his state, which paid so large a proportion of the Civil war income tax, had voluntarily surrendered its constitutional protection against unfair taxation. He attacked the $3,000 exemption as relieving the agricultural states from the burden of taxation, and advocated a $1,000 exemption.

A by-product of Thaw's escape, the case of "Gentleman" Roger Thompson, chauffeur of the car that whirled Thaw away from Mattewan, was set today, and died a few hours later at a hospital. Thompson was held in $500 bail last week on the double charge of entering the Dominion by stealth and of assisting Thaw, an undesirable, to cross the border. He is subject to a maximum fine of $500 and three months in jail. Thompson's case was called at 10:30, and with the consent of both sides was put over for a week. His bail was continued.

Is Freed on Habeas Corpus Secured on Jerome's Plan.

Immigration Officers Arrest Him—Plan Hearing at Once.

Attorneys for Matteawan Fugitive Stunned By Decision.

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 3.—Harry K. Thaw today lost his fight to defy deportation by remaining in the Sherbrooke jail. Judge Hutchinson this afternoon sustained a writ of habeas corpus calling for his release.

Thaw remained mired for possibly three minutes. Then the crowd began to leave the judge's chamber in silence. Thaw followed aimlessly.

As he crossed the threshold E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration, tapped him on the shoulder and placed him unofficially under arrest as an undesirable alien. The crowd then surged from the building, and it was announced that Thaw would be taken immediately to Matteawan for a hearing.

Thaw's lawyers seemed stunned. Special officers of the immigration department jostled them in the corridors.

"I'll see you in Court, boys," said Thaw, waving his hand to the reporters.

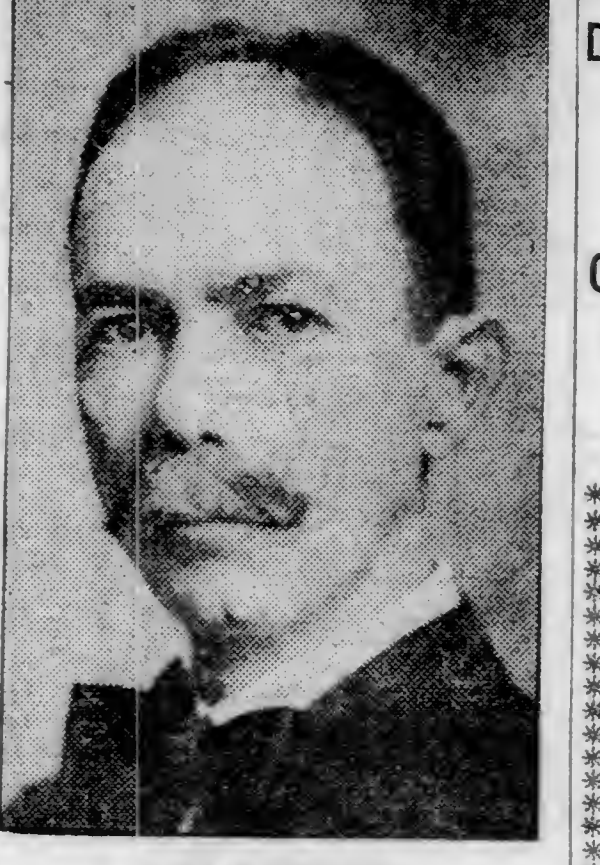

New Lawyer for Thaw.
N. K. La Plante of Montreal, one of the most eminent criminal lawyers in the Dominion, came here today to reinforce the Thaw lawyers. He was retained in the case some time ago, but up till now has taken no active part in the fight.

It was reported today that Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of the fugitive, soon would arrive in Sherbrooke to arrange with counsel for their fees and expenses. Some of the Thaw lawyers have again expressed dissatisfaction over the fact that no responsible head of the family has remained on the scene and that while money was talked of, no large amounts have been in evidence.

Thompson, George Costigan, the case of "Gentleman" Roger Thompson, chauffeur of the car that whirled Thaw away from Mattewan, was set today, and died a few hours later at a hospital. Thompson was held in $500 bail last week on the double charge of entering the Dominion by stealth and of assisting Thaw, an undesirable, to cross the border. He is subject to a maximum fine of $500 and three months in jail. Thompson's case was called at 10:30, and with the consent of both sides was put over for a week. His bail was continued.

HAS TAKEN CHARGE OF WRECK INVESTIGATION

C. C. McCHORD, Member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

PROBE TAKES IN PULLMANS

Government Inquiry Into Wallingford Wreck Mapped Out.

"No Secrecy" Policy Is Announced By Commissioner McChord.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The Pullman company is to be made a party to the interstate commerce commission's investigation into the Wallingford wreck. The commission will inquire why the Pullman company continued to operate wooden sleeping cars on through fast passenger trains.

Commissioner McChord today telegraphed Richmond Dean, general manager of the Pullman company at Chicago, as follows:

"Commission desires your company to furnish statement at the earliest possible date showing number of cars used in passenger train service, number of such cars of wooden construction, of all steel construction, of wood steel under-frame construction, of steel under-frame construction. This information imperatively needed for use in New Haven wreck investigation now in progress."

Reassure Boston Mayor.
Soon afterward a telegram was received by Commissioner McChord from John F. Fitzgerald, mayor of Boston, inquiring if there were not some way by which the Pullman company might be compelled to build steel cars. Some way, Fitzgerald had called upon the Pullman company for data as to its cars, and that the information received would be used in the New Haven investigation.

Commissioner McChord read news dispatches telling of the New Haven management's burning of the Wallingford wreck despite the commission's (Continued on page 4, second column.)

WRECKAGE IN SPITE OF COMMISSION

Inspector Belnap Says Debris Had Already Been Examined.

Death List Stands at Twenty-One, With Seventeen Injured.

Coroner and Railroad Company Work Behind Closed Doors.

NEW HAVEN WRECKS FOR TWO YEARS.

Aug. 28, 1911—Middletown, Conn., six killed, sixteen injured.
Oct. 15, 1911—Berlin Junction, Conn., two killed, five injured.
Jan. 11, 1912—Clinton, Mass., eight injured.
July 25, 1912—Stonington Junction, Conn., three killed, four injured.
Aug. 8, 1912—Dorchester, Mass., five killed, sixteen injured.
Aug. 9, 1912—South Boston, Mass., one killed, forty injured.
Oct. 3, 1912—Grafton Farms, Conn., thirty-five injured.
Nov. 17, 1912—Putnam, Conn., one killed, two injured.
Feb. 22, 1913—Waterbury, Conn., twenty-one killed, seven injured.
June 12, 1913—Stamford, Conn., five killed, twenty injured.
Sept. 2, 1913—Wallingford, Conn., twenty-one killed, seven injured.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 3.—The death list in the Wallingford wreck still stood at twenty-one this morning, and the hospital list at sixteen. The railroad employees who played the leading parts in the New Haven line's latest tragedy were under detention by this coroner's order.

The formal inquiry by the interstate commerce commission into the New Haven wreck which resulted in the death of 21 persons and the injury of 17 others yesterday will begin here Friday.

Inspector Belnap of the interstate commerce commission, arrived here shortly before 10 o'clock to attend the resumption of the hearing before the railroad officials.

H. W. Belnap, inspector of the interstate commerce commission, of the New Haven wreck, arrived here today and served notice on the Pullman company to appear at the hearing of the interstate commerce commission, which will begin here Friday.

Mr. Belnap denied that the New Haven had been guilty of disobeying the interstate commerce commission. He explained that F. A. Howard, an inspector for the Pullman company, on the scene of the wreck early yesterday, had been told by the interstate commerce commission to leave the scene of the wreck.

Mr. Belnap said that the New Haven had been guilty of disobeying the interstate commerce commission. He explained that F. A. Howard, an inspector for the Pullman company, on the scene of the wreck early yesterday, had been told by the interstate commerce commission to leave the scene of the wreck.

Five men to Die.
The reports from the New Haven hospital this afternoon indicated the surgeons probably would be of no avail to save five of the seventeen injured now being cared for at the hospital. Those who are expected to die are: Jeanne Marie, Annette of Bayonne, N. J.; Rose Zimmerman, New York City; O. Rowland, Philadelphia; and L. E. Colony, supposed to be from Bucka-port, Me.

Belnap Favors Secret Sessions.
President Howard Elliot, who was early at his office, said that so far as he was concerned he was perfectly willing that the coroner's inquest would be a public one. He said, however, that coroner's inquest would be greatly to the prejudice of the interstate commerce commission's investigation, released the reports from the New Haven hospital this afternoon indicated the surgeons probably would be of no avail to save five of the seventeen injured now being cared for at the hospital. TWO KILLED IN AUTO RACE ON IOWA ROAD

One Car Turns Double Somersault—Third Victim May Die.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Sept. 3.—Two persons are dead, a third expected to die and two others seriously injured as the result of a friendly road race between automobiles near here late last night.

Harry Bottorff of Faxon, Iowa, driver of one of the machines, was killed instantly when the vehicle turned a double somersault. William Cheek, his brother-in-law, died within two hours, and Mrs. Cheek, a sister of Bottorff, is expected by physicians to die at any moment. The other two occupants of the machine, Mrs. Harry Bottorff and her young son, Lewis, were injured seriously.

Raced With Friends.
The Bottorff party was returning home from Ottumwa when they encountered the car of Bert Harmon and Mrs. Harmon, also homeward bound. A race to pass the Harmon machine started by Mr. Bottorff, who drove a high-powered car. The race was good and each machine opened up full pressure for the run. The Bottorff car had just passed the Harmon machine, and when turning back into the center of the road the machine leaped into the air and turned a double somersault.

IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE POINT OF VIEW.

MURDER SALOONMAN WHILE WIFE LOOKS ON

St. Louis Robbers Flee Without Taking Victim's Money.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 3.—While his wife piteously begged them to empty the cash register, but to spare her husband's life, two bandits last night shot and killed Stephen Lukos, a saloon keeper, and escaped without taking a penny from the open cash drawer.

The attempted holdup occurred at Lukos' saloon, and the information was given to the police.

RUSH ACROSS OCEAN TO MAKE SON CITIZEN

Partner of Morgan Wins Race With Stork By Six Hours.

New York, Sept. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Marjes made a hurried trip from Paris to New York so that their son, born here last night, might be beyond any shadow of a doubt an American citizen. They arrived yesterday with just six hours to spare.

Mr. Marjes is a member of the banking firm of Morgan, Voss & Co. The Paris associates of J. P. Morgan & Co. Although born in France, he is now an American citizen. His wife was Miss Frederica Berwind of Philadelphia. They came to New York for the same purpose when their first boy was born two years ago.

HOUSE PASSES THE HETCH-HETCHY BILL.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The Hetch-Hetchy bill to enable the city of San Francisco to utilize the Hetch-Hetchy basin in the Sierra Nevada mountains, 142 miles away, as a water supply, was passed by the house today, 183 to 48. The bill now goes to the senate.

All Eyes Are Focused on Leiser's Second Anniversary Sale and Opening of the Enlarged Store

The sale created a furore and shrewd shoppers took advantage of the wonderful savings in Duluth's largest and finest Fall Wearing Apparel Exhibit. Our new store is larger, finer, easier to shop in than our old one. But in one important matter it hasn't changed a particle—it's still the store that believes that value giving, by which it has become the popular women's wearing apparel shop of the Northwest. It's still the store that realizes that its own success is but a reflection of its customers' satisfaction. In appreciation of the two successful years are these offerings of 25 to 50 per cent savings.

IN PROBATE COURT

Keeper of Colored Resort Amassed Fortune of $15,000 From Life in Underworld.

Bertha M. Travis, colored, resort keeper for a number of years in Duluth, amassed a fortune of $15,000 during her lifetime according to an inventory of her estate which was filed yesterday afternoon with the probate court.

In a safety deposit vault at the First National bank, appraisers of the estate found $4,833 in cash and $5,541.16 in certificates of deposit to her credit. In addition to this she left other personal property of some value.

The woman was also known under the name of Bertha Parker. Her husband, R. N. Travis, colored, 39 years old, is left the bulk of the estate.

Travis enjoys the distinction of being the only colored man in the city who owns an automobile. He resides at 120 West Michigan street.

Mrs. Travis died aged 41, at Omaha, Neb., leaving a will written on note paper. The will provides that all of the estate, including her jewelry, money and other property shall go to her husband, except $1,000 to each of her three brothers.

Sophia Botts, aged 66, mother, residing at Omaha, is not mentioned in the will. The brothers are William Botts, Omaha; L. V. Botts, Minneapolis; and Frank Botts, Duluth.

Judge Gilpin yesterday allowed final accounting in the estate of John Semer, who died, aged 72, at St. Petersburg, Fla., leaving an estate in St. Louis county of about $15,000. His widow is Mary Semer of Escanaba, Mich.

J. E. Gardner was appointed by the court as administrator of the estate of John Heiskari, who died, April 7, 1911 at Floodwood, leaving a widow and an 40-acre farm worth $1,000. Mrs. Ellen J. Long was granted letters of administration in the estate of her husband, Richard Long, who died, aged 68, at his home in this city on Oct. 25.

Rade Oelich, 5616 Raleigh street, today petitioned the probate court for appointment of administrator of the estate of Michael Zieglich, 26 years old, who died in this city on July 30 last. His estate consists principally of a claim for wrongful death. He is survived by a father and mother in Austria.

Judge Gilpin yesterday afternoon allowed final accounting in the estate of David Hudson, who died Dec. 10, 1912, leaving an estate of about $1,000.

Carpis Harvest Festival.—Carpis will have a big celebration in the latter part of September in the nature of a harvest festival with an exhibition of livestock as one of the most important features. Grains and general farm products will be exhibited, and prizes will be offered. Several prominent speakers will be secured.

NO "BLIND BAGGAGE" ON FREIGHT BOATS

Old Time "Bo" Did Not Know How to "Swing Under for a Ride."

Chased off almost every railroad in the country, where he was a constant passenger on blind baggage, a tramp today showed up at the harbor front looking for a chance to "beat" his way East.

"Say, bo," he hailed a sailor, "put me hop to where the rods are on one of these lake ramblers. I've been down here two days and I can't see any place where a bloke could swing under for a ride without getting wet."

He was told that the only way to get down the lakes on a boat was to get a pass from one of the vessel agents or else go to work and earn his passage.

"All my friends that has these scows are out of town today so I can't get a pass," he said, "I would not work because I am above such things. I guess I will go back and wait for a railroad rattler to get me out of town."

Fattening Montana Sheep.—Forbes, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fattening Montana sheep for the Eastern markets is being tried by Farmer Soliday here. He has shipped in 3,600 head which will be grazed on the grain fields after threshing. It is claimed that twenty to thirty pounds can be added to each sheep during the fall.

RHODE ISLANDER ACTING QUEERLY

Arrested at Neche, N. D., to Be Examined as to His Sanity.

Neche, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because he believed that people who expectorated in his presence were doing so to insult him, Charles O'Rourke of Providence, R. I., was taken into custody here. He had become somewhat deranged, and a chair had broken the windows out of a hotel. His mental condition will be investigated by the officials at the county seat.

Thinks "Hubby" Loves Another.—Bowman, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Having no money and taken into custody on complaint of neighbors who feared injury from the excited woman. In order to try the efficacy of new fences Mr. Irish has sold his farm and will return to Minnesota with the woman. She appears entirely rational on all other subjects.

WOMAN HALTS TRAIN.

Sees Brakeman Fall and Break His Shoulder.

Charlson, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Being the only occupant of the rear of observation car, Miss Henrietta Sigurdson, of this place, who was en route to visit relatives in Nebraska, saw a rear brakeman fall off the train. She hurriedly notified the conductor and the train backed up to get the man. The brakeman had been leaning out of the rear of the train watching for signals when he became overbalanced and the fall broke his shoulder and caused other injuries. Miss Sigurdson cared for him until his arrival at the hospital in Breckenridge, Minn.

EGGED OUT OF TOWN.

Picture-Enlarging Solicitors Target of Anamoose, N. D., People.

Anamoose, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Decayed eggs applied with unerring aim so effectively decorated that two young men who had been soliciting for a picture enlarging concern, that they left town hurriedly after threatening to shoot some of the residents. The young men had made themselves obnoxious by their attentions to some young women and indiscreet relatives did an egg-hurling stunt.

KICKED FROM TRAIN; BOYS STEAL FOOD.

Rowman, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because they were kicked off a freight train on which they were stealing a ride, Leslie Scheibe of Lewiston, Idaho, and Thomas Mitchell of St. Louis, two youths of 16, broke into the general store at Griffin. They stole about $10 worth of food. They have been taken to Dickinson to plead guilty before Judge Crawford and will be sent to the state reform school.

CAMPAIN TO BE OUTLINED

Public Affairs Committee Will Hear Plans for Membership Work.

Hustlers Will Meet Thursday Evening to Receive Final Instructions.

"Membership" is the special subject for discussion at the meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, to be held at the club at 6:15 Friday evening.

The membership campaign, which will open next Monday and continue throughout the week, will be outlined at the public affairs committee meeting. The membership workers will meet with the committee, there will be talks on Commercial club work, and efforts will be made to arouse enthusiasm for the campaign.

The regular membership committee held a meeting at the club today and made final arrangements for the campaign. Tomorrow evening at 6:15 all of the membership workers will meet at dinner and to receive their final instructions. Letters will be sent out today urging all to be present and to enter into the spirit of the campaign.

Message From Neff.—B. P. Neff, one of the first members of the Duluth Commercial club, has given the membership workers the following message:

"I am deeply interested in this membership campaign. The Commercial club has done a splendid work in this community and is deserving of the support of every citizen of Duluth. Commercial clubs have become a mighty important factor in the development of cities and looking at the country over, the fact is indisputable that the most prominent men, both commercial and professional, in all wide-awake cities, are actively interested in their Commercial clubs. No citizen can justify his conduct in absenting himself from this line of duty today.

Some business men remark that they are too busy with their own business to participate in Commercial club work. In taking this attitude, in my opinion, they most grievously err. Membership and activity in the Commercial club should be recognized as a department of one's personal business indissolubly connected.

"It was my privilege to assist in the formation of the club as far as the fourth member I have watched with interest its remarkable growth and development. The measure of the club's activities could best be ascertained if one would imagine the club going out of existence.

"The Duluth Commercial club has been a mighty strong factor in the civic and industrial development of our city and I consider the acquaintance with one forms among its members worth far more than its dues. Success to your efforts."

JURY CASES IN MUNICIPAL COURT

O. W. Westling Charged With Practicing Medicine Without License.

The regular September jury calendar called this morning by Municipal Judge Windom.

The first case to be heard is that of the state against O. W. Westling, 38 East Superior street, who was arrested last June on a charge of practicing medicine without a state license. The complaint against him was made by C. Nordling, who claims that Mr. Westling gave him a prescription for medicine.

Andrew Nelson is appearing for the defendant, while James F. Wharton, former city prosecutor, will represent the state. Mr. Westling pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court on June 16.

The next case on the calendar is that of Esther Anderson, a servant, who is suing F. Z. Barthe for $25, which she claims is due her for services rendered at the Barthe home last spring. Andrew Nelson will appear for the plaintiff, while Mr. Barthe will be represented by John H. Norton, former county attorney.

SAYS STATE FAIR IS "BEST EVER"

W. C. Sargent Returns From Big Show at Hamline.

"The best fair in the history of Minnesota."

That is the way William C. Sargent describes the annual exposition at Hamline, from which he has returned. Mr. Sargent will go back to the fair grounds as soon as he can get away from personal business matters here.

Mr. Sargent is in charge of the St. Louis county exhibit at the fair and he says the roots and grasses from this part of the state are attracting favorable attention from farmers in other parts of the Northwest.

The Minnesota fair this year was advertised as the best in the history of the fair association and Mr. Sargent says the advertisements carried no statements that were not proved by the exhibits.

LOCKOUT GROWS OUT OF DUBLIN STRIKE

Feeling Between Workmen and Employers Is Very Bitter.

Dublin, Ireland, Sept. 3.—The strike situation here was rendered more acute today by a lockout in the coal trade. The merchants at a meeting decided that they no longer would do business with the Transport Workers' union, which will not permit its members to deliver the coal of certain firms.

The feeling between workmen and employers is very bitter.

"Sooner" Hunter Fined.—Fargo, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because he was in the fields hunting without waiting till the regular opening of the season, Leo Brunelle, who lives south of Fargo, was arrested by a deputy game warden and heavily fined by a local court.

Almont, N. D., Yields.—Almont, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The best wheat yields in this vicinity have been eighteen bushels. The crops are running from twelve to sixteen. The quality is in every case reported most satisfactory and the farmers insist they will get better net returns than from some former years when the yield was considerably larger.

$4,000 FOR "FOOL" LAW

School Board May Be Forced to Throw That Much Away.

Treasurer's Bond for Total Amount of Money Handled Required.

Will the board of education of the city of Duluth have to pay over $2,000 for a bond for the treasurer, and lose a similar or a greater amount in interest by requiring a heavy bond of its depository?

Just now it looks that way and the members of the board are worrying. Attorneys do not agree, but the board has one opinion that, under the law the treasurer must furnish a bond for approximately $500,000 and a similar bond must be furnished by the board's depository.

Amendments to the school laws in 1907 and 1909 provide that the treasurer of a common or independent district shall give a surety bond equal to the amount that shall come into his hands in the course of a year. The depository of the board is required to give a surety bond equal to the deposits.

In the course of a year the treasurer of the Duluth school board handles approximately $800,000. A surety bond in that amount will prove an expensive precaution. Naturally the board pays for the bond.

Under opinions previously given by attorneys of the board, the treasurer has been required to furnish a bond of $50,000, and the depository a bond in the same amount. There was talk among the members of the board this year of increasing the amount of the depository's bond, but not to the extent indicated by the attorney's opinion now in the hands of the board.

Indirectly the board pays for the surety bond of the depository. The bank pays interest on average daily balances. Ordinarily the interest would be 2 per cent, but on account of the bond it was reduced to 1 1/2 per cent. If the bond is increased to approximately $500,000, the interest will be wiped out entirely.

There appears to be a pronounced flaw in the law. The treasurer never has as much as $500,000 in his hands at any one time. The apportionment is made three times a year, so any one payment doesn't amount to over $300,000. As soon as the money is turned over to an authorized depository, the liability on the treasurer's bond ceases and the depository is responsible for the safety of the money.

The question of the amount of the bond will be threshed out at the meeting of the school board Friday evening. Bonding company representatives are lying in wait for a rich morsel in the way of premiums if there is no law discovered that will relieve the board of the heavy expense. Attorneys are searching to discover some such loophole, as members of the board do not believe that the bonds should cover more than the amount likely to be in the hands of the treasurer or on deposit in the depository at any one time.

GRAIN POURING INTO TERMINALS

Duluth Elevators Received More Than 1,200 Cars in Two Days.

Now wheat is beginning to come into the Duluth elevators, but as yet the increased receipts consist more of old wheat crowded out of the country elevators by new wheat arriving there, than of new wheat reaching the terminals.

Over 1,200 cars of all kinds of grain arrived in Duluth from Saturday until Monday night, and about half of that was wheat. Yesterday, according to the reports filed at the board of the city, 554 cars of grain arrived, of which 352 were wheat, against 351 the day before. The wheat arrivals inspected were lighter yesterday than last year, 141,335 bushels being inspected, while last year on the corresponding date 333,000 bushels were inspected.

Oats are coming heavier than a year ago and so is barley, the latter being very much heavier than in 1912. Rye is lighter.

Wheat is coming heavier than last year, but at that the receipts are very light, and in consequence the market is very strong.

Taken in general the receipts of wheat at the terminals, including Duluth, Minneapolis, Vancouver and Chicago are all lighter than last year, but it is believed that this is no indication of a deficiency in the new crop, for it is still early in the crop year.

RED RIVER VALLEY STREAMS ARE FULL

After Two Drouth Years
Northwestern Minnesota
Section Is Wet.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minnesota rivers in the Red river valley are returning to their normal stages after two bad years. Prof. E. Chandler of the University of North Dakota, in charge of the United States hydraulic survey in Northwestern Minnesota and North Dakota, making such finding on a recent extensive tour of the Gopher state district.

Rivers which, during the drouths of 1910 and 1911, fell far below normal, are now carrying much more water than they were at this period last year, and though they yet have to gain considerable to attain their normal level, Prof. Chandler's preliminary report of his observations indicates that such levels may be expected within a year or so with the continuance of normal rainfall.

Prof. Chandler reports that thousands of acres have been successfully reclaimed, swamp lands which previously were unfit for agricultural purposes being restored.

Levels of many of the Northern Minnesota lakes are also shown to be higher this season than for the last year. No official report on the level of Red lake, which feeds the Red Lake river, has been made yet, but it is understood that that body of water is considerably higher, and that conditions prevailing along the river in 1911 and last year, when there was insufficient water to handle power dams, etc., are in no danger of immediate repetition.

OLEO MAKERS SUED FOR UNPAID TAXES

Special Grand Jury Called By Judge Landis Acts.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Suits against three Chicago oleomargarine packing companies for unpaid taxes on colored oleomargarine totaling $710,000, has been filed by the government here. The companies sued and the amounts are:

William J. Moxley, $315,000; G. H. Hammond company, $125,000; Friedman Manufacturing company, $270,000. The alleged unpaid taxes were discovered by a special grand jury called by Judge Landis to investigate the circumstances surrounding the compromise of $1,200,000 taxes for $101,000 sanctioned by Franklin McVeagh, secretary of the treasury during the Taft administration.

The suits were filed yesterday on the return of Federal Judge Landis from his two months' vacation. It was announced that the government is preparing other suits to collect $50,000 in unpaid taxes from two other oleomargarine manufacturers.

The grand jury investigation disclosed seven packed companies which had failed to pay the full tax of 10 cents a pound on colored oleomargarine. Only five of the concerns are located in the jurisdiction of the northern district of Illinois.

FIND VICTIM'S BODY.

Patrick Gerarty Was Probably Robbed and Hurlled From Train.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 3.—Carl Brooks of Kansas City, Mo., in a local hospital and his partner, R. Hopkins, whose home is said to have been in California, is missing, believed by Brooks to have been killed when the two men encountered two holdup men while coming to Minneapolis from St. Cloud on a Great Northern freight train early yesterday. According to Brooks, he and Hopkins were robbed and thrown from the train. Brooks and Hopkins had been working in the North Dakota harvest.

Late Tuesday afternoon the body of Patrick Gerarty of Minneapolis was found beside the track, where he evidently had fallen or been thrown from a train and killed. It was where Brooks claims that the encounter with the robbers took place. The police believe that Gerarty also was a robbery victim, although Brooks claims to know nothing of him or his presence on the train.

Brooks is badly injured and may die. When Brooks was told of the finding of Gerarty's body, and it was described to him, he declared that he believed it was that of his partner, whom he had known in the harvest fields as Hopkins. Brooks is not able to be taken to the morgue, where the body lies, to identify it.

Shrimers Leave Panama.

Colon, Sept. 3.—The visiting American Shrimers sailed for home yesterday on the steamer Cartago. Prince George of Battenberg, the captain and officers of the British cruiser New Zealand were the guests of Lieut.-Col. Gouthals, who took them on a sight-seeing expedition.

Raising Wrecked Elevator.

Crary, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth Elevator company's elevator in this city, into which two coaches of the Oriental Limited, the Great Northern train recently wrecked here, crashed, is being torn down and will be replaced with an entirely new building.

The structure was so badly demolished that there was no chance to repair it.

BRIDGE BUILT IN 1851 IS BURNED.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 3.—First started by sparks from a locomotive destroyed the Fort Leavenworth bridge, one of the first to span the Missouri river. The fire started in the wooden flooring at the Kansas end, and soon the entire bridge was in flames. The bridge was built in 1851 at a cost of $700,000, but for many years it had been practically abandoned.

HERALD BRANCH:
Herman Olson, Manager, 1525 West Superior Street.

BRIDGE BUILDER KILLED BY TRAIN

Nels Olson Avoids One Locomotive and Steps in Front of Another.

Nels Olson, 44 years old, employed as a bridge carpenter on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern one docks, was instantly killed at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon while doing some repair work on the approach of dock No. 5, just above Third street. The man's head was completely severed from the body.

Olson had stepped off one track to allow a switch engine to pass by when he stepped in front of the down-bound transfer from Proctor. The transfer train threw him a short distance and before he could recover the wheels of the engine had passed over his neck.

Mr. Olson had been an employee of the railroad for several years. He leaves a widow and several children at 1901 Piedmont avenue. The body was taken to Stewart's undertaking rooms, from where funeral arrangements will be made this afternoon.

ROBERT HARPER DIES.

Veteran Member of Duluth Fire Department Passes Away.

Robert Harper, 70 years old, a resident of Duluth for more than thirty years, and for twenty years a member of the Duluth fire department, died at 2 o'clock this morning at Solon Springs following a short illness.

Mr. Harper came to Duluth in 1880. Shortly after the reorganization of the city fire department he became a member and during his last twenty years in this service drove the hook and ladder truck for hall No. 2. He retired from the service on March 1, 1911, and for the next year has been making his home at Solon Springs.

Mr. Harper's death and home was at 1777 West First street. He leaves a widow, four sons, George, Walter, William and Robert O., and one daughter, Mrs. George Dodge, all of whom live in this end of the city. Robert O. Harper is now a member of the fire department.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR THE CHINESE.

Children of the Sunday school of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, propose to gladden the hearts of children in the Orient on Christmas. A box of presents similar to those brought by "Santa" at Christmas time will be made up and sent to Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Giffin at Kailang, China.

For receiving the presents the officers of the West end church will be in charge. The box will be put in a box and shipped to the missionaries. It is expected that the box will arrive at Kailang about a week before Christmas.

The presents will be distributed by Rev. and Mrs. Giffin to the boys and girls as well as women attending the mission meetings and schools at their station. Rev. and Mrs. Giffin were former residents of the West end and left early this spring for their second trip to the missionary fields in China.

At the State Fair.

A number of West end people have left since Sunday for St. Paul to attend the state fair. Among those who are now in the Twin Cities are: Otto Cronley, Walter Harper, Stearns Cody, John O'Brien, Charles Breen, Thomas Rowwell, J. A. Dietrich and Nicholas John.

West End Briefs.

Mrs. Emma Anderson, 2527 West Fifth street, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. M. F. Wilson at Bemidji, returned home yesterday.

Miss Lillian Laskey, 1210 West First street, left last evening for St. Paul, where she will spend a week visiting relatives.

Mrs. George Morthon, 2129 West

Second street, is spending a week as a guest of relatives in Minneapolis. Mrs. R. R. Elliott, 2306 West Second street, is in the Twin Cities visiting relatives and the state fair.

Mrs. C. A. Nelson, 110 Eighteenth avenue west, is spending a week visiting relatives on a farm near Muncie, Ind.

Miss Iva Charter, 430 Nineteenth avenue west, returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit with relatives in the Twin Cities.

W. A. Pittenger and David J. Erickson have formed a partnership for the practice of law under the firm name of Erickson and Pittenger. They are located in the West end with offices in the Sloan block, 1922 West Superior street. Pittenger is a Michigan Law school graduate and has been with Abbott, Merrill & Lewis during the last decade. Erickson has been practicing with Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell, entering their office upon graduation from the Harvard Law school.

CONFUSION DIMINISHED

Order Emerging Out of Chaos in the Public Schools.

Second Day Finds Affairs Running Smoothly—Increased Enrollment.

Order is emerging out of the customary opening day confusion in the Duluth schools. The enrollment figures, but those which have reported show a fair increase over the first-day enrollment a year ago. The enrollment at the Duluth school in June was about 13,000. Up to this morning 11,000 had been reported, with several schools still to report.

There were fewer eleventh hour resignations of teachers this year than last, and the delay in the opening of the city and Cobb schools proved an aid to the superintendent. Several of the teachers assigned to those schools are at work elsewhere temporarily. A few of the teachers were unable to report on account of illness, and substitutes will be used until their recovery. The city school will open next Monday morning, but the Cobb school at Woodland will not be opened for about a month.

The enrollment at the junior high school in the Washington grade building was 315 on the opening day. An increase is expected before the end of the week. The junior high school consists of the seventh and eighth grades of the Washington, Whitaker, Franklin and Nettleton schools. It is not really a junior high school yet, but a good start has been made, said Supt. Denfeld this morning. "An assembly room has been provided for the seventh and eighth grades, and the work will be conducted in an atmosphere similar to that of the high school. Eight competent teachers have been assigned to the work. For the first half year the regular subjects of the seventh and eighth grades will be taught, but by the beginning of the second semester we hope to have worked out a plan by which the eighth A will be given subjects preparatory to high school work. The ninth grade will remain in the Washington school next year and regular high school work will be done. The junior high school is still an experiment, but I believe it will work out satisfactorily to every one."

The work in the Central high school is not down to a smoothly running basis yet, the crowd of students and teachers assembled in Principal Young's office this morning being evidence of the confusion. The conflicts to be eliminated, rearrangements of work to be made, and many details to be disposed of before the school is organized on a permanent basis. The graduates from the grade schools last June reported at the high school yesterday afternoon, and Mr. Young is concerned with their troubles today.

SELLS $1,365 ART PIECE FOR 20 CENTS.

Madrid, Sept. 3.—In an antiquary's shop window yesterday was exhibited a painting yesterday and a sign reading: "Authentic picture by Goya, 7,000 pesetas ($1,365)." A poor woman passing by observed the sign and, mistaking it for a disturbance which attracted a big crowd. She declared that the antiquary, who now wants to sell the picture at so great a price, bought it from her for 20 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN RECEIPTS SHOWN.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 3.—Grain shipped into the city for the crop year just closed totaled 233,409,225 bushels, according to the official statement issued by C. H. Bell, secretary of the Winnipeg Grain exchange. Of this wheat constituted 141,715,125 bushels; oats 59,763,800; barley, 14,833,000; flaxseed, 22,081,500; rye, 15,000.

BID FAREWELL TO CAMERON FORBES.

Manila, Sept. 3.—The departure of the retiring governor general of the Philippines, W. Cameron Forbes, was made the occasion of an extraordinary tribute to him by all classes. The streets were lined with crowds and troops and there was a long procession of automobiles from the palace to the pier. At the steamer side, where thousands had gathered, great enthusiasm was displayed. Governor Forbes shook hands with Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, commanding the Philippine department, and all hands joined in rousing cheers.

SMUGGLING LAID TO EX-CUSTOMS GUARDS.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 3.—Twelve former guards in the United States customs service and two Chinese were indicted by the Federal grand jury for alleged smuggling of opium. The indictments were voted after the jury had heard the confessions of three former officers of the customs service who admitted they were members of a smuggling ring that had operated for months in San Francisco and handled thousands of dollars worth of the drug. Young Tsi and So Ho Fong, the Chinese indicted, are alleged to have

TRY TO HALT VIOLENT DEATHS IN CHICAGO

Volunteer Committee of Safety Will Be Named By Coroner.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—A volunteer committee of safety is to be appointed by Coroner Hoffman to try to lessen the number of deaths by automobile, street car and railroad accidents. The committee will be composed of representatives of railroads, traction companies, automobile associations, the police and board of education. Up to the first day of September, there had been 107 deaths by automobile this year. With the opening of schools, pupils were given instructions in safety and forbidden to cross any streets except at regular intersections.

LEVY WANTS STEEL TRUST CASE DROPPED

Washington, Sept. 3.—Representative Levy of New York has introduced a resolution to direct the attorney general to suspend further proceedings in the Federal dissolution suit against the United States Steel corporation, upon the ground that the corporation during the last decade had expended $1,676,000,000 for labor, decreased the cost of producing steel and aided in increasing iron and steel exports.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—An unidentified laborer fell from the second story of a building which is being wrecked here late yesterday and was instantly killed.

SWINDLERS GET QUARTER MILLION.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 3.—With the arrest of George Reed, John Collins and Hugh McGinnis of Indianapolis on complaint of President Shaw of the Second National Bank of Houston, Tex., the police asserted they have ended the operations of a gang that has in a year swindled wealthy men out of nearly a quarter of a million dollars. Mr. Shaw lost $7,500 in a land swindle.

Four Drown in Alberta.

Athabasca, Alta., Sept. 3.—Four persons were drowned in the Athabasca river when they attempted to negotiate the river in a scow 300 miles north of here, according to a report received here. Two of the victims were John Waugh and Dennis Shoemaker of this city. The names of the other two, a man and his son from Nebraska, were unobtainable. The party left here two weeks ago.

Three Killed in Feed Fight.

Saylorsville, Ky., Sept. 3.—Three men were killed and a fourth was probably fatally wounded near here in a gun fight believed to have been the result of a family feud. The dead are: Nero and Seymour Howard, brothers, and a young man named Cornett. The latter's father, Russell Cornett, is believed to be mortally wounded.

FAVORS CITY LIGHT PLANT

Commission Goes on Record for Municipal Ownership of System.

Condemnation Contemplated
If Purchase Cannot Be Agreed Upon.

The city commission at its meeting yesterday afternoon unanimously passed a resolution favoring the acquisition of the plant of the Duluth-Edison Electric company by condemnation proceedings if a fair price cannot be agreed upon by the city and the company.

The resolution provides for an estimate of the cost of obtaining a valuation of the physical properties of the corporation and designates Frank Craswell as special counsel with out compensation, to co-operate with the city attorney and the city.

The action yesterday is the first step which has been taken by the city commission looking toward the acquisition of a municipally-owned electric lighting plant.

The resolution was presented by Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the utilities division, following a conference earlier in the afternoon with several members of the Municipal Ownership League.

Condemnation proceedings are contemplated if the city cannot be agreed upon by the city and the company.

That if such fair price cannot be agreed upon by the city and the company, condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of said plant be immediately instituted in court, and such price be fixed by the court.

That the commissioner of public utilities is requested to report to this council as soon as practicable, the probable cost of obtaining a valuation of the physical property of the company in such way as to use the same in court in such condemnation proceedings, to the end that such cost be included in the city budget for the year 1914.

That Frank Craswell be and he hereby is employed as special counsel, without compensation, to assist the city attorney and this council in all things pertaining to the subject-matter of this resolution.

Resolved, That it is the intention of this council to acquire the electric light, heat and power plant of the Duluth-Edison Electric company and pay a fair price therefor.

Resolved, That it is the intention of this council to acquire the electric light, heat and power plant of the Duluth-Edison Electric company and pay a fair price therefor.

NO INFELIX OF ADVENTURERS

Army Officers Report No In-Recruits.

Soldiers of Fortune Evidently See No Chance of War.

"No; there are no men in these parts desiring to join the United States army with the belief that we are going to war with Mexico. There is the least likelihood of there being an engagement with Mexico."

This was the statement made today by one of the recruiting officers of the United States army recruiting station here.

"You see," continued the sergeant, "any man intelligent enough to join the army would know better than to suppose for one moment that there is the least likelihood of there being an engagement with Mexico."

"As a matter of fact, if we should have any serious trouble with the republic of Mexico, very much doubt if there would be one single engagement with Mexico."

In some of the recruiting stations in some of the large cities of the country it is reported that many applicants are reporting to the army offices, inspired with the belief that there is extreme probability of there being a war with Mexico.

Perhaps some of the class of joiners in other cities of the country do not possess the intelligence of the men who are here to make application to the United States army in this part.

The officers in charge of the local office stated that any serious omen of trouble would likely be followed by an increase in the list of applicants to the army, but that there is no increase in the list of applicants.

It is taken by the officers to mean that most of those who read the papers have decided that there is little chance of there being any real trouble between Mexico and the United States.

STEADY RAIN FALLS AT THE STATE FAIR

Race Program at Hamline Has to Be Postponed.

Hamline, Minn., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—A steady rain during the entire forenoon caused the management of the great western races at the Minnesota state fair grounds to announce a postponement of today's events. It is expected that Uhlan, the world's champion trotter, will attempt to lower his own record of 1:58 on the Minnesota track Friday afternoon. The trial, which was scheduled for yesterday, was postponed on account of rain.

SHORTAGE IN POTATO CROP IS PREDICTED

Chicago, Man Says It Will
Be 100,000,000 Bushels
Under Last Year.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Epilures whose ideal of a repeat includes big baked potatoes, French-fried or any other variety, suffered a serious shock today, a leading crop expert here announcing that the potato crop this year in the United States would be 100,000,000 bushels short of last year.

Prices for Minnesota and Idaho potatoes in the Chicago market advanced today 8 to 10 cents a bushel.

PEMBINA COUNTY'S NEW COURTHOUSE FINE AFFAIR

BUILDING SOON TO BE DEDICATED.

Cavaler, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Within three weeks the new Pembina county courthouse will be completed at a cost of about $115,000. It is one of the best in the state, constructed of stone, handsomely finished throughout, with marble wallcovering and terrazzo floors, it provides a splendid home for the county officials.

Cavaler citizens and the members of the board of county commissioners plan to dedicate the building with elaborate ceremonies. Beuchner & Orth of St. Paul are the architects, and Ingemann Bros., of St. Paul the contractors.

Between the Barnesville National bank and the new Bijou theater. The building when completed will be one of the most modern and up-to-date as well as one of the largest potato warehouses in the state of Minnesota.

Minot, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Conflicting elements in municipal affairs will have an important bearing upon the recall election started against four city officials, growing out of the recent L. W. W. disturbances.

President Nehemiah Davis of the city commission, Commissioners Shaw and Dorman, each of whom have been attacked in recall petitions, represent three different factions in city affairs and the possibility of any two of these factions organizing against the third brings on the likelihood of chances in the list of city officials. Magistrate Lynch is also subject to recall.

BARNESVILLE TO HAVE TUBER WAREHOUSE.

Barnesville, Minn., Sept. 3.—The Red River Potato Growers' association is excavating for its new 112,000 bushel capacity warehouse, which will be located on Main street, between the Barnesville National bank and the new Bijou theater.

Recall complicated. Hard to forecast outcome of Proceedings at Minot.

Canadian Northern years ago and the Canadian Northern is in reality the sole defendant in the action.

In view of the refusal of Judge Stanton to sign the order for removal of the injunction restraining the district attorney for the Canadian Northern, have applied to Judge Willard for an injunction restraining the district attorney and Judge Willard of the United States court has issued a temporary restraining order and will hear arguments on the question of an injunction on Sept. 6.

The suit is for property destroyed by the Minnesota forest fires last autumn of 1910, a number of the plaintiffs who were burned out in Baudeville having assigned their claims to the plaintiff.

ST. PAUL DRYGOODS FIRM IN TROUBLE.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States district court here yesterday against J. C. LaBrosse, proprietor of the J. C. LaBrosse company, a dry goods and women's clothing house here, alleging that the liabilities are in excess of $40,000. The petitioners are the Scranton Lace company, New York; J. B. Phillips, Philadelphia; and Leon Hofkin, Philadelphia. Albert Wunderlich was appointed temporary receiver.

Attorneys for Mr. LaBrosse place the assets at $74,000 and the liabilities at $84,000. The principal creditor of the company is the First National bank of St. Paul, which claims to have $23,000 due on account.

BEARS GOING NORTH SIGN OF MILD WINTER.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 3.—Many bears have been noticed going north during the last few days. This is taken by old settlers as a sign of a mild winter, as the instinct of bears teaches them when to migrate.

RANSOM COUNTY RAISES SEED CORN.

Lisbon, N. D., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ransom county is not only the pioneer in corn raising, but is developing the seed corn industry. The county is in the vicinity of $10,000 worth of seed corn last spring and are preparing to select and cure a larger quantity this fall to expand the trade.

While corn has been grown here to an advantage for many years, two years ago the better farming movement introduced a new variety with which the farmers have been very successful.

HALL'S DUPES PROTEST.

Some of Victims of Butte Swindler Object to His Pardon.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 3.—The state board of pardons held a meeting here to consider the question of approving the pardon to Sam Hall, convicted loan broker and real estate man of Butte, now serving fourteen years in the state penitentiary. It is one of the most unusual cases on record.

Governor Stewart pardoned Hall on condition that he recoup his victims and repay all of his victims' sums that he had stolen. It is claimed that Hall owns valuable lands around Edmond, Alta., that if he is allowed to leave the state he will protect these he can realize enough from them to repay all the money he has stolen.

Some of Hall's victims objected strenuously to his being pardoned, claiming that if released he would leave the state, move to another state and prey upon other communities. Some of the stories told of the board of pardons were that Hall's victims were bitter opponents to his pardon.

The board has the matter under consideration.

TWO CROOKSTON DENTISTS ROBBED.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 3.—Thieves entered the dental parlors of Dr. Paul Hagen, in the Holmboe & Strander block, Monday night, and took about everything there was in the gold and platinum line, including a long list of stuff. Shortly after this was discovered the robbery of the offices of Dr. Elmer Bertelson was reported. In both cases the robbers must have had a skeleton key, as no damage was done the doors, and no traces were left behind by the sneaks.

They are supposed to belong to a gang of organized robbers who do business only with dentists, and have a central rendezvous where all plunder is disposed of.

BOY ADMITS GUILT.

Pleads Guilty to Taking Money From Registered Letter at Bemidji.

Bemidji, Minn., Sept. 3.—Clayton Collard, the messenger for the Bemidji postoffice, was brought before United States Commissioner H. A. Simons yesterday for the taking of money from a registered letter to which he pleaded guilty.

The judge fixed the bail at $2,500 and the boy's mother is endeavoring to leave the state, and if the bond is not furnished he will be taken to the county jail and await the action of the Federal grand jury, Nov. 11.

Pay $302 for Snakes.

Dodgeville, Wis., Sept. 3.—From May 1 to the present date County

Clerk Gribble has paid $392 in bounties on 784 snakes. Last year bounties were paid on more than 1,300 rattlers.

LOOKS GOOD TO GOTCH.

Wrestler Pleased With His Northern Minnesota Farm Prospects.

Crookston, Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Gotch, the wrestler, who has been inspecting some land he owns in Rouseau county and his 1,000 acre farm recently purchased in Polk county, twelve miles south of Crookston, has returned to Iowa to complete plans for developing his Polk county holdings into a model stock farm.

"You have a corn country and with your abundance of oat straw this should be an ideal stock country. Do you know that the steers that brought the top price on the Chicago market last year were fattened on ensilage and oat straw, the latter being ideal to balance the ration."

"I believe in things pretty thoroughly, the wrestling game and farming, and I know and like farming of Northern Minnesota. I am so thoroughly a farmer that I am going to try it. I will fence my land and get some good stock. I will raise and at the end of ten years that land, at most conservative estimate will increase in value $25,000 over what it has been held. That is a very conservative estimate. Last year I netted $33 per acre from an 800-acre farm, which includes the old homestead in Iowa. I have never made more than $100 a year. I keep lots of hogs, and will not make so much this year as I have last year. I will raise pigs with cholera. But the hogs are practical clear profit when you raise them, as they follow the stock and naturally 'pick up a living.'"

Two Detroit Saloon Keepers and Pair of Women Thrown Out.

Detroit, Minn., Sept. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—A rapidly driven automobile, containing two local saloonkeepers and a couple of women, drove through town a few days ago and struck a bump in the road on the outskirts of town then turned over twice and the driver and passengers were occupants.

Their escape from death is considered a miracle. The driver, a woman, was killed. The other woman, a woman, was killed. The driver, a woman, was killed. The other woman, a woman, was killed.

W. W. Kelly of Duluth was a witness to the accident. He was a witness to the accident. He was a witness to the accident. He was a witness to the accident.

Miss Ella Rylander left Saturday for Miles City, Mont., to accept a position as a trimmer in a millinery store there.

Stock Train Wreck.

Two Killed and One Badly Hurt on the Northern Pacific.

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 3.—Two unidentified men were killed and a third perhaps fatally injured when a stock train on the Northern Pacific was wrecked here late yesterday. Twelve cars carrying cattle and sheep were derailed and most of the animals killed. The cause of the wreck has not been ascertained.

The two men killed are believed to have been stealing a ride.

HERE we are, boys, living in a period where the cost of high living is very high. Packers declare that the scarcity of cattle has compelled them to hoist the price of the rare roast we are favored with now and then, if lucky; and the consumer declares that the pay slip doesn't warrant the increase in the meat—but, however more or less that may be, it's a fact that the price of baseball players has advanced tremendously within the past few years.

There is a young man in the Detroit outfield who is considered one of the most valuable of all the ball players in the land. Were it not for the fact that old Honus Wagner is expected to retire each season, it might be that he would run the value figures up a way; but Wagner is getting old, and this leaves Cobb undisputedly the most valuable baseball player in the world.

Someone has figured it out that Cobb is worth $268,000. It is stated that the salary of the wonderful player is $12,500 per annum, or per annum, which is six per cent interest on $208,000. Then it is figured that Frank Farrell, owner of the lowly Yankees and the man who has the honor of taking orders from Frank Chance, is willing to pay $5000 for Cobb. This is one way of figuring that Cobb is worth $268,000.

They say that Cobb is the greatest batter, the greatest outfielder, the greatest runner and the best thinker in baseball. Some do, we say—some do not. But there is no arguing the fact that this dashing young chap from Georgia has revolutionized the modern game, for the simple reason that he has been known to go from first to third on a bunt and score from first on a single, and do other similar stunts.

It is so in life in its various complex phases—some men will come along one day and change the old order of things.

Doc McNulty told us the other day, while looking pensively out of the car window, that he counted gray-haired veterans by the score at New Orleans that memorable evening, who were so sure that Sullivan was to win, that they became peeved over the fact that the book makers would not cash their bets in advance.

These fellows, like the rest of us mortals down here, had become used to one style of procedure. Their minds didn't anticipate a change. The procedure with Sullivan has been to rush out and swing that dreadful right on the chin of an opponent. The mental eye of those seated around the ring at New Orleans looked forward to no change in the program.

But Corbett, slender, pale, lithe and as elusive as the wind of the wisp, that evening back in September, 1892, revolutionized the fight game, and since then men have been wondering why some of the methods employed by Corbett were never thought of by other boxers.

It was just the same with Frank Gotch and little Fred Beell. These men changed the hulking mode of attack of former wrestlers to the shifting, lightning-like moves of the trained gladiator. It was brains and speed with Gotch and Beell, and both beat men heavier and stronger for this simple reason.

Well, it has been somewhat the same with Cobb. Brains and speed have made him the most brilliant player of the age. He has the vision of a great general, and therefore he thinks faster than the other fellows. That is why Cobb is drawing one of the greatest salaries of baseball—and that is why some people figure it out that this piece of baseball gold is worth $268,000—if somebody is willing to pay it.

This Card Looks Good.

THE first really important bout to be staged in these parts under the new Wisconsin boxing law, will be that between "Spiky" Kelly of Chicago and Tommy Sheehan. The class of the Kelly and Sheehan fight, when he beat Sailor Billy Waters, the boy who put the bee on Eddie Clabby, at Hammond, the other evening.

To strengthen the card and give lovers of the mitt game a good run for their money the directors of the new Twin Ports club have also carded Johnny Tillman and Jimmy McGovern. There are some promoters who might think the McGovern-Tillman bout quite good enough for the main attraction.

From the information that comes to hand, the men who will appear in the Twin Ports show are really training. The promoters over there were compelled to use a lot of persuasion to get Sheehan on with Kelly. Thomas knows full well the prowess of the Chicago scrapper. But once he gave his word to the matching Sheehan fell to his training work like a bee to a succulent task of producing honey, and the Harp should be right for the bout of a week from this evening.

Kelly will come to Superior and complete his training there. Tillman, according to the statement issued from Minneapolis, is training in the camp of Lalo Sauro. Johnny was in grand shape for the mill with Salvatore and will need but little more work. McGovern will come up with Kelly and his retinue.

Has a Boost for Beell.

JOE ORENSTERN, one of the regularly appointed referees of the boxing commission of Wisconsin, was one of the sportsmen instrumental in the bringing out of Fred Beell. Yesterday the Milwaukee man was talking of the wonderful ability of the little Marshall field bear cat.

"With twenty more pounds on that compact frame of his, Beell could have beaten any man in the world," said Orenstern. "I was one of the men who helped bring this wonderful little fellow out. Beell is still good. He never touches liquor, never has smoked and has steered wide of all of the dissipations that sap the vitality of many great athletes. Beell knows more about the game than any man, with the possible exception of Frank Gotch and Farmer Burns. He is one of the strongest men I ever world for his weight, and this wonderful strength never seemed to diminish the speed of the little wizard."

Commissioner William Hart of Eau Claire, who dropped in yesterday, declared that if Beell and Yokel ever come together it will make one of the greatest contests that has ever been wrestled in this country.

"Fans all over Wisconsin will be waiting for the result of this meeting," said Commissioner Hart. "I think Beell will beat Yokel. He is one of the greatest of all the wrestlers in the world, and I doubt if there will ever be a man of his weight who can be so great as this little Dutch farmer."

"Bill" Hart is one of the best known sporting men in the state of Wisconsin. That his reputation is somewhat extensive is indicated by the Eau Claire man being named as one of the boxing commissioners.

Matt Is Some Optimistic.

MATT BROWN, lovingly known as "Scotty" to hosts of admirers, blew in from Canadian territory yesterday. The hill top back looks huskier than ever and appears to have taken on weight.

"We should have the best team in the history of Central," remarked the pile of masonry football leader. "The best team we have ever had, get me! There are seven men back and a whole raft of the best material that Central has ever had. With the old men and some of the new stars, watch us."

All of which we hope will be true. Give it to Matt; he's some player, take it from us.

But there is no arguing the fact that this dashing young chap from Georgia has revolutionized the modern game, for the simple reason that he has been known to go from first to third on a bunt and score from first on a single, and do other similar stunts.

It is so in life in its various complex phases—some men will come along one day and change the old order of things.

Doc McNulty told us the other day, while looking pensively out of the car window, that he counted gray-haired veterans by the score at New Orleans that memorable evening, who were so sure that Sullivan was to win, that they became peeved over the fact that the book makers would not cash their bets in advance.

These fellows, like the rest of us mortals down here, had become used to one style of procedure. Their minds didn't anticipate a change. The procedure with Sullivan has been to rush out and swing that dreadful right on the chin of an opponent. The mental eye of those seated around the ring at New Orleans looked forward to no change in the program.

But Corbett, slender, pale, lithe and as elusive as the wind of the wisp, that evening back in September, 1892, revolutionized the fight game, and since then men have been wondering why some of the methods employed by Corbett were never thought of by other boxers.

It was just the same with Frank Gotch and little Fred Beell. These men changed the hulking mode of attack of former wrestlers to the shifting, lightning-like moves of the trained gladiator. It was brains and speed with Gotch and Beell, and both beat men heavier and stronger for this simple reason.

Well, it has been somewhat the same with Cobb. Brains and speed have made him the most brilliant player of the age. He has the vision of a great general, and therefore he thinks faster than the other fellows. That is why Cobb is drawing one of the greatest salaries of baseball—and that is why some people figure it out that this piece of baseball gold is worth $268,000—if somebody is willing to pay it.

This Card Looks Good.

THE first really important bout to be staged in these parts under the new Wisconsin boxing law, will be that between "Spiky" Kelly of Chicago and Tommy Sheehan. The class of the Kelly and Sheehan fight, when he beat Sailor Billy Waters, the boy who put the bee on Eddie Clabby, at Hammond, the other evening.

To strengthen the card and give lovers of the mitt game a good run for their money the directors of the new Twin Ports club have also carded Johnny Tillman and Jimmy McGovern. There are some promoters who might think the McGovern-Tillman bout quite good enough for the main attraction.

From the information that comes to hand, the men who will appear in the Twin Ports show are really training. The promoters over there were compelled to use a lot of persuasion to get Sheehan on with Kelly. Thomas knows full well the prowess of the Chicago scrapper. But once he gave his word to the matching Sheehan fell to his training work like a bee to a succulent task of producing honey, and the Harp should be right for the bout of a week from this evening.

Kelly will come to Superior and complete his training there. Tillman, according to the statement issued from Minneapolis, is training in the camp of Lalo Sauro. Johnny was in grand shape for the mill with Salvatore and will need but little more work. McGovern will come up with Kelly and his retinue.

Has a Boost for Beell.

JOE ORENSTERN, one of the regularly appointed referees of the boxing commission of Wisconsin, was one of the sportsmen instrumental in the bringing out of Fred Beell. Yesterday the Milwaukee man was talking of the wonderful ability of the little Marshall field bear cat.

"With twenty more pounds on that compact frame of his, Beell could have beaten any man in the world," said Orenstern. "I was one of the men who helped bring this wonderful little fellow out. Beell is still good. He never touches liquor, never has smoked and has steered wide of all of the dissipations that sap the vitality of many great athletes. Beell knows more about the game than any man, with the possible exception of Frank Gotch and Farmer Burns. He is one of the strongest men I ever world for his weight, and this wonderful strength never seemed to diminish the speed of the little wizard."

Commissioner William Hart of Eau Claire, who dropped in yesterday, declared that if Beell and Yokel ever come together it will make one of the greatest contests that has ever been wrestled in this country.

"Fans all over Wisconsin will be waiting for the result of this meeting," said Commissioner Hart. "I think Beell will beat Yokel. He is one of the

FORTY-TWO SHIPWRECKS ON THE MATRIMONIAL SEA

Divorce Grist of September Term One of Largest on Record.

One Case Tried By Judge
Ensign—Forty-one More.

The divorce mill has started on its round in district court. One case was tried this morning by Judge Ensign and forty-one others are slated for the next two days. The grist is one of the largest in the history of the court. This morning Judge Ensign granted George Raymond, aged 36, a divorce from Ella Raymond, 33, on the grounds of habitual drunkenness. They were married at Superior on April 29, 1912, and lived together until June 1, last.

Laura Johnson, aged 43, this morning filed with the district court for a divorce from her husband, 46, to whom she was married in this city on Sept. 8, 1900. The decree is asked for on the grounds of cruelty. Mrs. Johnson claiming that on one occasion she was forced to defend herself by striking her husband with a stick of stove wood. She asked for the custody of the two children, Olga, aged 12, and Harry, 9.

Julia M. Kieley, 27, filed her divorce complaint this morning. She asks for a separation from her husband, 28, to whom she was married at Superior on July 4, 1904. She charges habitual drunkenness and cruelty and asks for the custody of their only child, Edward, 3.

George Frederick Johnson, 23 years old, and his wife, 22, filed for divorce this morning on the grounds that he already had a husband and married her. He married her under the name of Wagner and afterwards learned that she was the wife of George Walters of St. Paul. Johnson and she were married at Windsor, Ont., Oct. 26, last. She is 32 years old.

Christine McNaughton, 33 years old, wants a divorce from her husband, 40 years old, who she claims deserted her seven years ago. Their only child, a son, is 10 years old.

Charles W. Bartow, 45 years old, is suing his wife, 32, for divorce. He asks for a divorce on the grounds of desertion. They were married and are parents on March 13, 1900 and are parents of two children.

Mr. who was excused after a brief examination. Her voice was addressed to the jury, but not to those in the rear of the courtroom, as Judge Van Fleet remarked.

Miss Norris, he said, "raise your voice, please, notice that several of the ladies in the rear of the room are unable to hear you. They might miss something."

Miss Norris testified that she had met Caminetti first while working in the library at the state capitol. Caminetti, as a clerk to the state board of control, worked in the same building.

She testified that she had met him at the state capitol and that he had been introduced to her by a friend. She said that she had been introduced to him by a friend.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 3.—In closing its case under the Mann white slave act against F. Drew Caminetti, the government played a trump card today. A statement made by Caminetti to Assistant District Attorney Atkinson of Sacramento county, on the way back from Reno after the arrest, was read and taken down by W. B. Doan, a court reporter. This was an excerpt from the transcript in the possession of the government which the defense vainly sought to have introduced in the trial.

"Yes," Doan read the questions and answers from his book. "Did you tell Lola Norris that you married her?" Mr. Atkinson had asked. "I believe I did," Caminetti had answered. "I don't want to make any statement," he had contradicted in later, but I believe I did."

"Did you make the promise in good faith?" "Yes, I did."

Intended to Leave Family. "Did you intend to leave your wife and children and marry her?" "Yes, I did."

Doan testified that a clipping from a Sacramento newspaper in which was printed an interview with Caminetti, telegraphed from Reno, was shown to him on the trial. In the interview he was quoted as having said that he intended to marry Miss Norris.

"Did you say or substantially that?" District Attorney Atkinson had asked. "I believe I did," Caminetti had answered, "although I didn't intend to be quoted."

As forecasted by the agreement of counsel, Judge Van Fleet postponed until next Wednesday the pronouncing of sentence on Maury I. Diggs, convicted on four counts of violating the Mann act and liable to a maximum penalty of twenty years in prison and a $20,000 fine.

The government called Marsha Warrington on redirect examination, and the closing moments of the prosecution began to strengthen its minor evidence.

Lola Norris, the chief witness against Caminetti, followed her father's ents of children, George, 23; Nina, 21, and Clara, 19, and Olive, 18, all living in St. Paul with their mother.

Malvin Krause started suit this morning for a limited divorce and alimony against Fred Krause, testator for the Duluth Oil company. In this case, Judge Bert Foster signed an order restraining Krause from visiting his wife or interfering with her in any manner until the action is tried. They are both 24 years old. Mrs. Krause lives at 201 West Eighth street.

SUGGESTED AS RULERS OF ALBANIA

PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF WIED.

Since it was decided by the powers that be to autonomous state, many persons of this have been mentioned as possible rulers. It is reported now from Vienna that the prince of Wied is to be made king of Albania. Prince Frederick is the sixth prince of Wied. He was born in 1872 and is a Protestant. The capital of the principality over which he now rules is Sauerbrunn, in the province of Prussia. The princess of Wied was Pauline, princess of Wurtemberg. She married the prince of Wied in 1893.

Two honest tradesmen meeting in the Strand, once wrote a great thought to the effect that "if she be not fair to me, what care I how fair she be?" When I answer your query I am thinking of one's work, and as modesty is dishonorable, I will try to tell you, not how I keep beautiful—I do not regard myself as beautiful in any sense of the word—but how I contrive to keep young, which, after all, is the matter of a matter of far greater importance, for is it not true that a beautiful woman dies twice? So a young woman, you must realize, in any case, is at least spared the pain of being a widow.

In the first place, let me say that it has always been my strong belief that a woman who is beautiful is a woman who is young. And as I do not feel old at all, I take to heart the words of a French proverb: "A woman who is beautiful is a woman who is young." I am not a young woman, but I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young.

What I mean to say is that I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young. I am not a young woman, but I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young. I am not a young woman, but I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young.

What I mean to say is that I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young. I am not a young woman, but I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young. I am not a young woman, but I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young.

What I mean to say is that I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young. I am not a young woman, but I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young. I am not a young woman, but I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young.

What I mean to say is that I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young. I am not a young woman, but I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young. I am not a young woman, but I am a woman who is beautiful, and I am a woman who is young.

INTERESTING A BOY IN USEFUL THINGS

One Mother Solved the Way to Start Her Boys Along the Path That Leads to Real Manhood.

Elia Dayton Crooks in the Mothers' Magazine. In a home where I lived for several years when I first began my work as a teacher there were four boys ranging in age from 10 to 15. The father was busy engaged in railway contract work and was unable to give much time to the detail care of his family. The mother was a resourceful woman, a thinking woman, who had some through long experience with poverty and some other things that were more than poverty.

At the time I first met her, the chief ambition of her life was to have her boys become real men—men as practical and wholesome as her father, and even better than he because they belonged to a new generation. Her method of keeping these boys occupied when at home was different from that of the mother who had interested me from the start. It was not a method exactly mapped out by books, but it was a method that had been tried and found to be successful.

Her method of keeping these boys occupied when at home was different from that of the mother who had interested me from the start. It was not a method exactly mapped out by books, but it was a method that had been tried and found to be successful.

course of instruction of her own. She suggested to him one day that he find out through books and pictures how a Holland or Dutch house looked. He had some delving to do, but he finally produced a picture of an old time Amsterdam house.

Then she intimated that he would learn a good deal if with small boards or cardboard he tried to reproduce the exterior of that house. There was an extra cut of apple waiting him when he could show a fair duplicate of the house.

Some hints were given him that if he made this model out of cardboard he might paint the board to show the reds, greens and grays, which so predominated in the exterior hues of Dutch homes. While he played his baseball as usual and did the usual house chores required of him, his mind was well occupied with the desire to make a Dutch house. Every leisure moment he had was given to work upon his design. He did not invite his mother to look at his work, but he frequently consulted her on things he did not understand.

The Plan Was Successful. At last, he told her his model was made and proudly led her to the attic room where he had erected it on a table. It was a fairly good model, worthy of praise, and the mother, who had not only been occupied with the desire to make a Dutch house, but he frequently consulted her on things he did not understand.

TO SELL A USED AUTOMOBILE YOU MUST NECESSARILY REACH THE PEOPLE WHO BUY AUTOS.

98% Per Cent of the Present Car Owners Read The Duluth Herald—Future Car Owners Also Read It.

THAT 98 out of every 100 automobile owners in Du- luth and vicinity read The Duluth Herald was shown by a careful comparison between The Du-luth Herald's subscription list and the names of car owners to whom licenses have been issued.

It is fair to conclude that an equal proportion of future automobile owners also read this paper.

The Duluth Herald's complete, accurate, well-told news and absorbing features appeal to the alert earning classes whose income is sufficient to enable them to afford auto-mobiles.

Take this into consideration if you wish to sell a used machine. Place a "want" in The Duluth Herald, where it will be seen by the likely buyers.

If you wish to buy a used car and do not find listed in the "want" ads just what you want, insert an ad of your own asking for it; in this way you will reach practically all the present car owners and you will be able to secure just the car you want at a satisfactory price.

LOWEST RATES

The Duluth Herald's charges for classified advertising are less per thousand circulation than those of any other news-paper in Minnesota.

SHEPPARD PRAISES UNDERWOOD BILL AND SECRETARY BRYAN

Texas Senator Makes Detailed Defense of Tariff Bill.

Free-Listing of Denatured Alcohol Agreed to in Caucus.

One Obstacle to Passage of the Bill Fades Away.

Washington, Sept. 4.—An arraignment of protection and a detailed defense of the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill was made today by Senator Sheppard. He closed a long speech with a burst of eloquence in tribute to Secretary Bryan.

The senate Democratic caucus reached no conclusion last night on any features of the tariff bill except as to the free admission of denatured alcohol. An amendment by Senator Bryan to free-list this product was adopted. The debate over the income tax will be continued at the next session of the caucus, which probably will be held Friday night.

Led by Senators Reed, Vanderman and others, the so-called "insurgent" element among the Democrats made a strong plea for the increase of the tax upon large incomes. They evinced a willingness, however, to compromise upon a moderate increase that would be acceptable to the entire Democratic side, and might be expected to draw Progressive Republican support.

Speech by O'Gorman.

Senator O'Gorman of New York made a vigorous speech, emphasizing the burden of taxation that will fall upon New York under the income tax plan as it is now embodied in the tariff bill. He declared that under the rates of the bill as approved by the house, even suggested changes to be made in the senate, 50 per cent of the income tax would fall upon residents of the state of New York and 25 per cent upon residents of Massachusetts, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. He advocated a lower basis of taxation, spread more evenly over the small incomes of the country.

Chairman Simmons of the finance committee received a telegram from Senator Newlands, who has been in the West, saying he would reach Washington Friday and had a number of suggestions.

ARMY AVIATOR LOSES LIFE AT SAN DIEGO

Lieut. Love Is Eleventh American Service Aviator Killed.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 4.—First Lieut. Mess L. Love, signal corps, U. S. A., was instantly killed today when his aeroplane plunged 300 feet to the ground at the army aviation school near here. Shortly before the accident he began to circle at an altitude of approximately 2,000 feet. When 300 feet from the ground, watchers saw a puff of smoke from the machine and it dropped like a shot.

In the 33rd Victim.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Eleven aviators have been killed in the army and navy service, since experiments were started with heavier than air machines in 1908—ten in the army and one in the navy.

In aviation the world over, 333 persons have been killed since 1908, 112 during the present year.

Love was a native of Virginia.

LINDBERGH OFFERS PLAN

Would Allow Reserve Banks to Open on 50 Per Cent Capital.

Currency Law Questions Discussed Before Senators and Bankers.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Sept. 4.—At today's meeting of the house banking and currency committee, Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota offered an amendment providing that Federal reserve banks may be permitted to begin business on 50 per cent capital, the idea being to prevent a money stringency during the period of transition from the old to the new currency system. The amendment was referred to a subcommittee composed of Representatives Lindbergh, Glass and Hayes. It may be adopted.

Will Try to Get Delay.

A resolution to direct the senate banking committee to withhold final action on the administration currency bill until the December session of congress was introduced today by Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, Republican. Suggestions by Senators Reed, Owen and other Democrats on the committee that they would like to discuss the resolution, resulted in Senator Weeks' agreeing that he would go over until tomorrow without action.

He said he would endeavor to force the senate to decide whether it wants to proceed now on currency.

NEW HAVEN INQUEST ON

Coroner Calls Two Trainmen as the First Witnesses.

Commerce Commission Inquiry Will Begin on Friday.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 4.—The formal inquest into the wreck of the Bar Harbor express, which cost the lives of twenty-one passengers, began behind closed doors this morning in the office of Coroner Eli Mix. The facts advanced will be turned over to State's Attorney A. A. Alling as a basis for criminal prosecution should they warrant such action. Both have been locked up since Tuesday night without trial, chiefly because the coroner wished to make certain that neither talked about the case for publication until after testifying. The coroner was ready to accept bail for them as soon as they had told their stories.

The condition of five of the injured who were last night hovering between life and death, was described by hospital surgeons this morning as critical.

All but two of the bodies of those killed have been shipped to their homes.

Commissioner McChord of the interstate commerce commission, who will preside at the investigation instituted by that body, is expected here tonight. Inspector Belmont's four assistants continued their investigation today of data showing the operation of trains on the morning of the catastrophe.

McChord Leaves Capital.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Commissioner McChord of the interstate commerce commission left today for New Haven, Conn., to conduct personally the inquiry into the Wallingford wreck. The commission's investigation will begin tomorrow morning.

DIES SEEKING WIFE IN HOUSE SHE LEFT

Missouri Farmer Burns to Death in His Home.

Aurora, Mo., Sept. 4.—Believing his wife was in his burning home, John Engler, a farmer who lived near here, rushed into the flames and was burned to death last night. Mrs. Engler was the outside with the children, but he failed to see her.

POPE'S GENERAL CONDITION GOOD.

Rome, Italy, Sept. 4.—The general condition of Pope Pius X is good, according to the doctors today. They think that although he is troubled by an occasional cough and some catarrh, he will be able easily to overcome the effect and will be assisted in this by the favorable climatic conditions now prevailing.

MINE PICKETS STRENGTHENED

Strikers Become More Active in the Copper Country.

Moyer and Darrow Talk With Governor Ferris at Lansing.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 4.—(Special to The Herald).—Picketing by strikers this morning was heavier and more determined than since the resuming of copper mining three weeks ago, and the mounted troops sent out to patrol the district and prevent disturbances were forced to drive through large crowds of strikers and women in the Quincy and Calumet district. Fifteen arrests were made, several being of women. Four non-union men were badly beaten by the pickets.

At Laurium, at midnight, three arrests were made of men who threatened to dynamite the home of a non-union man.

At the Laurium and Hancock earthenware plants there was rioting last night and this morning, non-union men, being taken from the cars and beaten at both places.

The prosecuting attorney's office plans immediate prosecution of all cases, following the announcement that the militia will be withdrawn unless given the backing of the civil authorities.

Puzzled By Girl's Case.

The girl shot at North Kearsarge still is living and her case puzzles the physicians. Her brain was penetrated by a bullet.

Many of the non-union men working quit today because of a report that the companies have imported strike-breakers and are paying them more.

DANCING MASTERS BAN TROTS AND BEAR

Tango, Hesitation, Hitchy-koo and Peacock Glide Find Favor.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 4.—Of all the "speed" dances which have been analyzed by the International Association of Masters of Dancing, which yesterday began a three days' session here, the "tango," the "hesitation" waltz, the "hitchy koo," and the "peacock glide" are all right—if danced with decorum. This is the opinion laid down after first consideration of the steps in these dances.

P. H. Kelly of Holyoke, Mass., secretary of the association, declared that the "turkey trot," the "horse trot" and the "grizzly bear" were vulgar. "We will never recognize them," he said. "The dancing is from the hips up, instead of from the hips down. That does not count. It's the position which tends to vulgarity."

The association, during its session, will unify the steps of the approved dances in order to teach them correctly.

MAN 96 YEARS OLD FASTS 56 DAYS.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 4.—William Beldeman died today after a fast of fifty-six days during which he ate only two small pieces of toast. Mr. Beldeman was close to 96 years of age. His fast was due to grief over the death of a relative.

HALE TELLS WILSON OF LIND'S RECEPTION IN MEXICAN CAPITAL

Strikers Become More Active in the Copper Country.

Moyer and Darrow Talk With Governor Ferris at Lansing.

Washington, Sept. 4.—William Bayard Hale, who spent the last three months studying political conditions in Mexico, laid before President Wilson today information he gathered about the Huerta government and also conferred with Secretary Bryan. He declined to discuss his visit with the administration officials, but it is understood gave them an intimate description of the negotiations conducted by John Lind and the Huerta officials up to a week ago today when he left Mexico City. So far as is known, Mr. Hale's connection with the negotiations was unofficial and informal.

Huerta Story No Surprise.

Dispatches from Mexico City, saying prominent Mexicans believed Huerta would resign in favor of Geronimo Trevino and thus make himself an eligible candidate for the presidency, lacked confirmation here, but the news was not surprising to administration officials. While they still are hoping for a definite assurance that Huerta will not be a candidate, they realize that a plan to install him in the presidency has been under way for some time.

No talking has been given as to the administration's future policy should Mr. Lind's efforts to obtain a definite assurance of Huerta's elimination prove fruitless, but developments of either an affirmative or negative character are expected soon, which will affect the Washington government's policy materially.

SMASHES WINDOW AND STEALS WATCHES

Daylight Burglar Pulls Off Bold Trick in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Shortly after daylight today a burglar, who apparently had carefully timed his movements, smashed with a club a window of the C. D. Peacock jewelry store, South State and Adams streets, and pushing his hand through the opening, seized a dozen gold watches and fled by boarding a passing trolley car. The watches were valued at several hundred dollars. Jewelry valued at many thousands of dollars was in the display window, but the burglar was frightened away by the approach of a policeman.

On Aug. 27 two handbags containing sample jewelry valued at $25,000 were stolen from the store by a thief who escaped.

A SLOW EGG TO HATCH.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—The legislative committee investigating Governor Sulzer's finances delivered today into his state-wide campaign for direct primaries. The committee established that the campaign cost $17,084. It also sought to show that some of the expenses borne by the state had also been paid by Sulzer's private account.

It was asserted that the governor had violated the law in exceeding his appropriation for printing by $3,006, and that the state controller had spent $2,000 in postage to circulate Sulzer literature.

The Sulzer impeachment trial is now only two weeks off, and the committee will turn over its evidence and its tasks to the board of impeachment managers of the senate assembly.

The impeachment managers have opened headquarters in an office building at 39 Wall street. Today their law firms were at work on plans for the prosecution.

GAYNOR ON SUDDEN VOYAGE TO EUROPE

Mayor Will Be Gone Only Twenty Days, Says Announcement.

New York, Sept. 4.—Mayor Gaynor surprised his friends and political enemies alike today by sailing for Europe on the steamship Baltic. Announcement that he should leave New York on the eve of his campaign for re-election was somewhat allayed by the announcement that his trip would last only twenty days. The mayor will return on the same ship, due to arrive here Sept. 25.

Nobody knew that he had gone abroad until after the Baltic had sailed at noon.

The mayor intended to spend two weeks in the Adirondacks, but at the eleventh hour changed his plans because he believed that a sea trip would give him greater relief from the throat trouble that has recurred at intervals since he was shot more than three years ago.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

Began consideration of urgent deficiency bill.

Cross-examination of M. M. Mulhall continued before lobby investigation committee.

PRINCIPALS IN "ROYAL" MARRIAGE

PRINCESS AUGUSTINE VICTORIA. EX-KING MANUEL OF PORTUGAL.

GERMAN PRINCESS IS BRIDE OF EX-KING OF PORTUGAL

WINS BRIDE BUT LOSES CITY JOB

La Crosse Man Elopes With Official's Daughter and Goes to Iowa.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 4.—William Groothos, who came here from Portugal a few months ago, had a good job yesterday and no family cares. Now he has a wife and no job.

Groothos, who was foreman of construction on the new city water plant, did not dare return to face his irate father-in-law, who happened also to be his employer, Fred Schnell, president of the board of public works, after he had eloped to Winona with Schnell's daughter, so he took his bride and left for Iowa, to seek other employment.

Schnell succeeded in checking the first attempt at a marriage when he located the couple by telephone in the office of County Judge Vance at Winona, and persuaded the judge not to perform the ceremony, but the lovers went elsewhere in the city, and finding a minister who had not heard the circumstances, induced him to tie the knot which gave Groothos a wife, but effectually severed him from the city payroll.

DELVE INTO SULZER FIGHT FOR PRIMARY

Legislative Investigators Prepare for Governor's Trial.

New York, Sept. 4.—The legislative committee investigating Governor Sulzer's finances delivered today into his state-wide campaign for direct primaries. The committee established that the campaign cost $17,084. It also sought to show that some of the expenses borne by the state had also been paid by Sulzer's private account.

LAWLESSNESS IS THE RULE

West Virginia Coal Mine Conditions Described to Senators.

Former Guard Tells of Being "Killed" in Rioting.

Washington, Sept. 4.—More lawlessness and disorder exists today along Paint creek, West Va., than at any other period of its history, according to the testimony today of Walter S. Woods, general manager of the Standard Split Coal company, before the senate investigating committee. The lawlessness, he said, when pressed by the committee, consisted of general disorder among the miners.

"The more radical ones were stirring up trouble with those who remained at work, he declared.

No Guards or Officers.

"The worst of it is there is no one to stop it," said he. "There is no guard or a special officer or anybody else to represent the law upon the lower end of the creek, except one justice of the peace, and he was one of the leaders of the strike and is a Socialist."

Senator Kenyon inquired if the trouble was due to drink.

"Largely," replied Woods.

"They are more radical after the bottles are open," suggested Seymour Siedman, attorney for the United Mine Workers.

CAMINETTI'S DEFENSE ENDS

Government Begins Argument to Jury in White Slave Case.

Wife of Defendant Testifies for Him at Trial.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 4.—The defense rested this morning in its effort to prove that E. Drew Caminetti did not violate the Mann white slave act when he left his wife and babies at home and fled across the California line from Sacramento to Reno, Nev., with Lola Norris, Maury I. Diggs and Marsha Warrington.

to the jury which will be followed by those of the defense and the case probably will go to the jury tomorrow afternoon.

Lied to Save Caminetti.
Lola Norris admitted in her testimony that she had first given false testimony about her relations with Caminetti. Explaining her efforts to shield Caminetti and Maury I. Diggs, immediately after their arrest at Reno, she said that she had lied to save the man she loved and whom she then trusted.

Mrs. Caminetti followed her on the stand, but in the main it was a repetition of what she had previously told for the benefit of Diggs at his trial. She made a willing and even an eager witness for her husband.

Caminetti in his personal defense will give his own account of how he happened to leave his wife in Sacramento with a baby three weeks old, and flee across the California line with Lola Norris.

Would Marry Her.
Although Caminetti had expected to testify in person yesterday, the government foretold him, and instead he listened to his own words as taken down by W. E. Doan, a Sacramento court stenographer, in reply to the questions of P. A. Atkinson, assistant district attorney of Sacramento, Cal., after the Reno arrests. It was to Atkinson that Lola Norris admitted she had lied.

Would Marry Her.
Cross-examination only made Doan's testimony more positive.

Mr. Atkinson had turned to Lola Norris, Doan testified.

"Do you think," repeated Doan, reading the question from his notes, "that he (Caminetti) would marry you now?"

"I know he would," was the confident answer.

Atkinson had turned to Caminetti.

"Would you?" he asked.

"Yes," Caminetti had been allowed to ask his own questions of Lola Norris, Doan said, and these, with the answers, were taken down.

"Did you ever hear her mention cruelty or getting a divorce on grounds of cruelty?" Caminetti asked.

"Yes," the girl said, and then turning to Atkinson, added:

"Mr. Caminetti told me he'd be much happier if conditions were different at his home, and he said that physical cruelty would be the ground for his divorce."

With this reply the cross-examination closed and the government rested abruptly.

Wife Testified for Him.
Mrs. Caminetti testified to her husband's nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of appetite during the week before he left her, and of her efforts to carry their domestic infidelities to the juvenile court.

"I told him I'd been to see Judge Hughes," she swore, "and he replied, 'My dear girl, haven't I worried enough?' I had been told he was going around with these girls. I told him that Mrs. Diggs and I had had several conversations about it, and had been advised to bring suit against Mr. Warrington if Miss Warrington didn't stop going around with our husbands. She was boasting of it, we were told, and both the girls said they didn't care if the men were married. They 'should worry,' was what they said."

JUDGE DEFENDS THE "IMMODEST" GOWNS

Asks "Why Be Ashamed of Most Wonderful Machine Ever Made?"

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 4.—"There is nothing immoral in the silk skirt, diaphanous gown or any other present form of woman's attire. Narrow skirts and trim figures do not mean immorality, as some insist. One of the most vicious epochs of society was when hoopskirts were worn."

This statement was made today by Judge Ralph S. Lathaw of the criminal court, when asked by persons furthering a campaign against extreme styles in women's dress for his opinion of their cause. The campaign is being conducted through churches and social organizations.

Judge Lathaw, "have only one idea in mind—to dress in a manner that appeals to men. Well, hasn't it always been such?"

Why Be Ashamed.
"Why women and men should be ashamed of the most wonderful machine that has ever been made, and why woman should be called immodest if she allows any part of that machine except her hands and face to be seen, is a question without an answer."

He remembered when it was considered immodest for a woman to arrange her coiffure in a manner that would show her ears, "We have advanced."

Judge Lathaw is the jurist who presided during the trials of E. Clark Hyde, accused of the murder of millionaire Swope.

MEN WHO ROBBED NEWSBOYS FINED

Chicago Judge Brands Them "Most Contemptible Thieves."

Chicago, Sept. 4.—The most contemptible thief in the world is the man who would steal pennies from newsboys," remarked Judge Scully to John Ming and Frank Smith in court today. Smith stole a penny from a downtown news stand and Ming five of $25 and costs each. They were fined $25 and costs each.

HUSTLERS WILL HOLD MEETING

Watson S. Moore Will Speak to Membership Campaign Committee.

Watson S. Moore will address the membership campaign workers of the Commercial club at a meeting to be held at the club at 6:30 this evening.

Notices have been sent to all those appointed on the special meeting committee and they are expected to attend the meeting of the public affairs committee to be held at the club tomorrow evening at 6:30. The meeting of the membership workers, for the use of the recent lake and rail case victory to Duluth will be explained to show just what the club has been doing through its traffic commission.

The membership workers are showing interest in the campaign. Last year the club conducted one of the best campaigns in its history. The membership was increased substantially and some good workers were added to the list. The competitive feature, which was strong last year, is appearing this year also. Hans B. Engle and G. B. Van Buren were the team workers to obtain the greatest number of members last year. Every team will be out for the honors this year.

REMARKABLE PROSPERITY

Only Complaint of Duluth Manufacturers Is Too Much Business.

Committee Working on Duluth Exposition Gets Cordial Reception.

Some Duluth manufacturers are too busy to give time and attention to arranging booths for the industrial exposition to be conducted during the second annual Duluth Exposition week, Sept. 22 to 27.

All Duluth manufacturers are so busy that they will have to make a sacrifice in order to show at the exposition and give personal attention to their exhibits.

It is the remarkable condition found by a committee from the general committee in charge of the exposition when the members started to make the rounds of the manufacturers this morning. They were amazed by the prosperity and activity of manufacturing plants of all kinds.

The manufacturers are enthusiastic over the exposition and gave the committee a cordial reception, but many will have to make up their minds to sacrifice something in order to participate. They say they are being driven to the limit by orders and hardly have time for anything but keeping their output up to capacity.

The committee consists of A. C. Pearson, R. F. Bagley, C. H. Bagley, E. Tweed and W. N. Hart. They will visit every manufacturing establishment in Duluth and they expect that all of the seventy-three booths laid out for the industrial exposition at the curling club will be placed by the time they complete their rounds. The exposition will be held all of the week of Sept. 22-27.

ENROLLMENT HEAVY IN DAY AND NIGHT SCHOOL

Tuesday, the beginning of the school year at the Duluth Business University, found a larger enrollment of new members in day and night classes than at any previous beginning day during the twenty-two years of the school's existence. 123 young men and women joining its classes. These young people are from Duluth, Superior, adjoining towns and villages, some from the Dakotas, Iowa and Michigan.

From present indications, this will be the school's banner year. The thorough work done in this institution, which warrants the success of its graduates, accounts for its reputation which is more than local.

New classes in day and night school will be organized on Monday, Sept. 8. Location 113 and 114 Fourth avenue west, Christie building.

DANCER IS WORRYING WOMEN IN INDIA

Calcutta, British India, Sept. 4.—The white residents of India are in a condition of semi-panic over the impending professional tour of an American woman dancer who dances in scanty attire, and it appears probable the police authorities will prohibit her performances here.

The fear is generally expressed that the appearance of a white woman on the stage will endanger the prestige of white women in the eyes of the natives.

GLOUQUET SCHOOLS NOW HAVE DOCTOR

Dr. Elizabeth Barnard Has Been Appointed to the New Position.

Gloquet, Minn., Sept. 4.—(Special to The Herald).—Dr. Elizabeth Barnard, a graduate of the University of Minnesota and lately interne in the university hospital has arrived to assume the newly created position of school physician. The creation of this position has been advocated both by Superintendent Peter Olesen of the public schools and by the Mothers' club and others interested in the schools. Dr. Barnard will give to the children no treatment whatever, but will at once begin the inspection of every child in the city below the high school. There are approximately 1,100 children of school age.

Parents Can See Examination.
Parents will be asked to be present at the examination if they so desire, and defective children will be reported to their parents and conditions will be medical attention recommended. Where parents are not financially able to procure a physician, the co-operation of the doctors will be sought so as to secure the necessary treatment at a minimum charge. Where children are absent a day or two or are habitually absent investigation at the home will be made. Records of each child's condition will be kept, and children who have been out of school owing to illness will be examined before they are allowed to resume their studies. During the year Dr. Barnard will give several health talks to the school girls.

MURRAY WANTS TO FIGHT MEXICANS

Oklahoma Congressman Advocates Forceful Intervention.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Secretary Dryden's request for a $100,000 appropriation to get Americans out of Mexico brought on a lively debate in the house today, in which various opinions on the administration's Mexican policy were expressed.

Representative Murray of Oklahoma assailed the president's "moral mission policy" as foolish, and advocated force. Representative Garrett of Texas declared the people of his state were unalterably opposed to any recognition of Huerta.

"We would give the Constitutionalists all the arms they need," he cried. "They are patriots fighting for their country. I for one will never consent to the recognition of Huerta, or anything that Huerta stands for."

Representative Austin was defeated in an attempt to increase the amount to $250,000.

"COAL TAR TRUST" HAS BEEN DISSOLVED

Announcement Is Made By Attorney John C. Spooner.

New York, Sept. 4.—The Federal court here was notified today that the so-called Coal Tar trust had complied with its decree in the government dissolution suit and the combine is now considered legally dissolved.

Senator John C. Spooner, as attorney for the defendants, made the announcement, and Assistant United States District Attorney Claude E. Thompson, who was assigned to the case for the government, did not dispute his statement.

The American Coal Tar Products Company of New Jersey headed the list of defendants. It included West Virginia, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New York.

Fort Madison, Iowa, Sept. 4.—After sawing their way through two iron bars of a cell house window and using a rope to drop down over a 25-foot wall, Harry Scanlon and James Gleason escaped from the penitentiary here during last night.

Scanlon was serving eight years for manslaughter. Gleason was committed for ten years for burglary.

ARKANSANS TURN OUT FOR ROAD WORK

Bankers, Laborers and Women Shoulder to Shoulder in Task.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 4.—Business was forgotten in Arkansas last night while the people worked the roads. It was the first of two "good roads" days proclaimed by Governor Hayes and it was a good day's work. Citizens wielded the shovel and pick, and the bankers put in as long hours and worked just as hard as the laborers.

Governor Major of Missouri, who came to Arkansas to give an exhibition of plain and fancy shoveling, put in a good day's work. The two governors in the regulation overalls were members of a "good" army assigned to a stretch of roadway near Little Rock.

WOMEN ESPECIALLY NEED BANK ACCOUNTS

Women have an even greater need for a Savings Account than men, and the ones who are dependent on some one else have the greatest need of all.

Your husband—your father—your brother, maybe, provides for you. Supposing an accident were to happen to the breadwinner which would suddenly throw you on your own resources? You would have to find work yourself. But it isn't always easy to obtain a situation right away, and what would you do in the meantime?

If you had a bank account to tide you over you would have far less occasion to worry.

It doesn't require a lot of money to start a bank account—one dollar is sufficient here—and you can add to it as you can spare the money. We pay 3 per cent compound interest on savings accounts.

HILLSBORO FAVORS COMMISSION FORM.

Hillsboro, N. D., Sept. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 34 to 6, the citizens of Hillsboro have given this city the distinction of being the smallest city in the state to adopt the commission form of government. Rev. L. J. Anderson, the pastor mayor who was elected on the Socialist ticket, was the strongest supporter of the commission rule and is very willing to give up his office in favor of the new plan.

Bowman, N. D., Sept. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable damage was done to the City meat market by fire. The law office of Attorney Tolten on one side and the Atkin tailor shop on the other were also endangered. The contents of both places were carried out as well as a lot of type and machinery from the office of the Citizen.

SAYS THISTLE IS A MENACE

President of West End Club Wants Weeds Cut.

"There will be no use in attempting to create gardens in the West end unless some action is taken to stop the growth of Thistle," said Mr. L. A. Simonson, president of the West End Commercial club this morning. "If the Thistle is allowed to flourish the way it is at present it will kill every thing else out of our gardens."

Mr. Simonson said that there was one lot in particular, that at 2315 West Seventh street, which had a solid growth of the weed four feet high. The weed, he said, was in full bloom and would within a few days scatter millions of seed throughout the residence section.

"There is a state law which makes it unlawful to allow the Thistle to come to seed," said Mr. Simonson. "It provides a fine for every acre and every vacant lot in the West end as well as West Duluth."

"What is the use of promoting gardening if this weed is allowed to grow? Nothing will flourish near it. Farmers in the vicinity of Duluth are complaining about it and it is up to the city to take strenuous action against its growth at once."

Mr. Simonson said that he intended taking the matter up today with Mayor Prince and other members of the city commission.

While Rev. Mr. Hanson has not given the members of the congregation an official answer to the call extended by them, it is intimated that he will accept the call to the church. Before leaving this summer for a tour of some of the missions established by him he intimated that he had become tired of roaming about the country and would preferably settle down in a permanent field.

Rev. Mr. Hanson, with the assistance of Rev. C. Olson, organized the Bethany church, organized the Trinity congregation last fall. He supplied the pulpit for the congregation for the first three months this year and has been instrumental in having the congregation purchase a site for a church building on Third street and this fall erect and put to use until such time as funds sufficient to erect the superstructure can be collected.

It is probable that Rev. Mr. Hanson will visit the city and his answer to its call on Sunday evening.

TEN MEETINGS ARE SCHEDULED

Chicago Temperance Worker Will Be the Principal Speaker.

Ten meetings have been planned beginning Sunday afternoon in the campaign to be waged by West end people in their attempt to have the Hicken liquor ordinance indorsed at the polls on Tuesday, Sept. 16. A. C. Rankin of Chicago, who has spent the past two months in Northeastern Minnesota in the interest of the temperance cause, will be the principal speaker at all of the meetings.

The meetings have been arranged under the direction of L. A. Simonson and Rev. J. J. Daniel, pastor of the Swedish Mission church, who are the West end's committee for the church council. The dates of the meetings are as follows:

Sunday, Sept. 7, 3 p. m.—Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street.

Tuesday, Sept. 9, 8 p. m.—First Danish Norwegian Methodist church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street.

Thursday and Friday evenings—Swedish Mission church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street.

Sunday, Sept. 14, 10:30 a. m.—Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street.

Sunday, 3 p. m.—Second Presbyterian church, 115 West Third street.

Sunday, 8 p. m.—Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street.

INSPECTORS HAVE DIFFICULT TASK

Must Visit 125 Gardens Scattered Through the West End.

The meeting of the West End Commercial club scheduled for this evening will be postponed for two weeks. This action was taken by the officers following information from the garden committee that it would be difficult for the committee to make a inspection of gardens had not been completed.

During the past week the garden committee has inspected more than fifty gardens of the Thirtieth ward. The contest, these lay in various parts of the West end and made it difficult for the committee to make a rapid headway.

It is expected to have this work completed so that the committee's report can be given at the next regular meeting of the club. The winners of the prize for the best kept garden in each of the four districts will probably be announced at that time. The committee members are John Molt, R. H. Olson, C. Erickson and J. J. Daniel.

Displays of vegetables in the various schools made by the contestants will be held during the last part of this month. At that time the committee will judge the winners of prizes for the best home raised garden truck. Prizes amounting to $25 will be distributed to each of the four school districts. These prizes will be those of the Lincoln, Ensign, Munroe and Adams schools.

WANT TO BUY MARKET SITE

West Enders Fear Present Location Will Not Be Available Long.

West end business men intend starting a campaign for a city-owned market site. It is rumored that the owner of the lots now being used for this purpose at Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street intends erecting a building on this property either this fall or early next spring.

The popularity of the market with west end people as well as the farmers of Hermtown is said to indicate that the city should own a site for a market. It is claimed that such a site could be secured now at a price which is reasonable and that the city's market would be as high as the Twentieth avenue west could be disposed of in part payment on the proposed site.

Residents of this section aver that a site in the vicinity of Twenty-third avenue west would be just as desirable and would be just as popular as the present place. Twenty-third avenue west, they say, is the street which the farmers will come into town on in the future. The market will give the farmers the best grade to the top of the hill and it will be of both belief, in preference to Piedmont avenue.

Several sites which would afford a half block of space can be secured by the city in this vicinity. Some of these have frontage on Superior street and others are on First street. In case the West end people are able to induce the city commission to purchase any one of these sites it is proposed to have it converted into a market place which will compare favorably with those now in existence in the larger cities of the country.

The lot owned by the city at 1823 West Seventh street which was purchased about twenty years ago for the purpose of erecting a West end police station will be sold to the city at present. It is the intention of the business men to bring the matter to the attention of the city commission within a short time in order that the West end can be certain to have a market place. At present doubts are being expressed whether the farmers will have any place to go to with their produce next summer.

HANSON LIKELY TO ACCEPT CALL

Rev. F. O. Hanson, field secretary for the English association, Lutheran churches of the Augustana synod, who recently was extended a call to become the permanent pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, congregation of the West end, will be in the city Sunday at 10:30 o'clock, at the Modern Woodmen hall, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, to be received at the evening will speak at the congregation at the Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street.

MEETS AT BLACKDUCK.

Beltrami County Christian Endeavor Union Holds Session.

Blackduck, Minn., Sept. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Beltrami County Christian Endeavor union just closed a most successful three-days' session under the leadership of Miss Mildred H. Haggard of Minneapolis, Minnesota. The session was held at the Beltrami Junior Christian Endeavor superintendent.

Miss Haggard was assisted by Rev. J. H. Frasey of Blackduck, Rev. E. E. Test of Minneapolis and Rev. J. C. Straud, pastor evangelist of the same presbytery.

Twenty-eight delegates were enrolled. Officers elected are: Charles Gerlinger, re-elected president; Olive Wentworth, vice president and junior superintendent; Pearl Condon, missionary superintendent; Axel H. Swedberg, secretary and treasurer; Rev. J. H. Frasey, pastor counselor.

Is This Why English Beauties Are So Fair?

(From London Herald)

Ever since the discovery that mercurized soap absorbs and removes a soiled complexion, its use by ladies as a substitute for toilet creams has grown rapidly. A perfect complexion can be maintained indefinitely if this remarkable substance is used. Its beneficial action is quickly apparent, and ladies who have been plagued by high complexion as a guinea jar for "special cream" find beauty specialists soon recognize that mercurized soap was outwitted them all.

It has become so popular that it can be found in the hands of the chemist, the British Isles, American druggists also have great demand for it. In original one-ounce packages. The favorite way of using is to apply it, like cold cream, after retiring, washing it off in the morning.

The sallow lotion for wrinkles and the facial contour has also become extremely popular. One ounce powdered sallow dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this has a splendid effect in erasing wrinkles and improving complexion. Adv.

Unknown Man Is Hurled From Great Northern Trestle.

Struck by a switch engine and hurled from the Great Northern trestle, an unknown man was instantly killed about 8 o'clock this morning.

The accident happened just opposite the Great Northern Power company's distributing station. The body was taken to Crawford's undertaking rooms where it is being held pending identification. It was apparently 35 years of age, and was dressed as a laborer.

HEAVY RAINFALL DURING THE NIGHT

Almost as much rain fell last night and early this morning as during the entire month of August. The storm which began shortly before 11 o'clock last night and continued through the night resulted in 1.22 inches of rain. Last month the total rainfall in Duluth was only 1.36 inches.

The storm last night was a thrilling one. Lightning flashed, thunder rolled, the wind howled through the trees and the rain came down in floods. By this morning the rain had stopped, but the streets were still wet and there are more threats in the sky.

Gun When Arrested for Drunkenness.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 4.—Former Congressman Edgar Wilson, after being placed under arrest here on a charge of inebriation, drew a revolver and shot Deputy Sheriff Harry Champlin. It was believed he intended to take his own life.

The bullets took two of Champlin's fingers and then struck him in the head, plowing a furrow along his scalp. He had deflected the bullet just enough to prevent a mortal wound.

The shooting occurred in the sheriff's office after Wilson had been taken there from his home by Champlin and another deputy. He went peacefully to the sheriff's office, but while being taken to the jail he suddenly drew a revolver, and in the struggle that followed the weapon was discharged.

Those who witnessed the affair are convinced that Wilson intended to commit suicide.

Wilson represented Idaho at Washington from 1896 to 1898. He was a delegate to the national convention of the United States and was a member of the House of Representatives in 1907 following the assassination of ex-Governor Steunenberg of Idaho.

FINDS ORE ON ITS CUYUNA PROPERTY

Mutual Iron Mining Company Is Showing Up Second Mine.

The Mutual Iron Mining company struck ore last week on its property in lot 9, 46-29, on the Cuyuna range. The formation was reached at a depth of fifty-three feet and drill is still in ore at a depth of 160 feet. Assays just made indicate a good merchantable ore with a considerable showing of manganese, the latter exceeding 11 per cent on some of the samples and the iron contents over 64 per cent.

The drill has been systematically working across the property and has located the first hole where the ore body was reached. It is probable at this time to estimate the size of the deposit. However, from the fact that the drill hole is in the northeast corner of the property and that deposits in this district seem to lie from northeast to southwest, this body, following the rule, would extend across the property towards June lake on the west.

The Mutual Iron company is a Minnesota corporation with offices in this city and is a young company, organized in 1908. It has made a remarkable record to date. Two iron mines now being developed. The company is also sinking a shaft and stockpiling high-grade ore on the Vermilion range.

Mr. Hill saw the possibilities of the property. He extended two rail roads into that country—the Colorado Southern and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

In the last ten years Colorado Fuel & Iron has shipped over 6,000,000 tons of ore over the Hill roads into Pueblo. It runs 85 per cent in iron of the Bessemer grade. They have now in sight from 75,000,000 to 100,000,000 tons with a probable tonnage of over 500,000,000. John D. Rockefeller, seeing the future of this company with its vast deposits of ore secured control from the Goulds and sent out Mr. M. B. Boone as president. T. Gates, the former now chairman of the board.

The Colorado Fuel & Iron company is now shipping from its mines at Guernsey over 5,000 tons per day and placing over 4,000 tons per day on the stock pile, to be handled should any strike occur.

LARGE RETURNS FROM ORE LANDS

Rockefeller and Hill Investments in Wyoming Prove Profitable.

New York, Sept. 4.—John D. Rockefeller and James J. Hill have put one over on the United States steel corporation. Twelve years ago they were almost eager to get away from the Colorado Fuel & Iron company big mines Guernsey, Wyo., in the Hartville section.

The purchase was made from C. A. Guernsey. Mr. Guernsey owned all the lands in that section of Wyoming. They paid him $600,000 for the property.

Mr. Hill saw the possibilities of the property. He extended two rail roads into that country—the Colorado Southern and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

GROWS LATE CORN.
Some That Matured in August Raised
Near Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 4.—Allan McKinnon is exhibiting some exceptionally fine ears of Northwestern Dent corn, grown on the John Gathman place, near Crookston, which matured in August. The ears are well filled clear to the tip, the kernels large and set close, and it is first class corn in every respect. Mr. McKinnon's farm is located south of the city and he has raised corn successfully for many years past.

WARMEST AUGUST.
Last Month Was Record-Breaker in Devils Lake.

Devils Lake, N. D., Sept. 4.—According to the monthly report of Observer Hovde of the local weather bureau station, last month was the warmest August since the regular weather station was established in 1904. The average temperature for the month was 68 deg., or 2.6 deg. above the normal. The highest temperature was 95 deg. on the 10th. High temperatures also were recorded on the 2nd and 14th. The lowest temperature was 48 deg. and was observed on the morning of the 29th. The total rainfall was 5.93 inches or 1.17 inches above normal.

LOST HEALTH AND STRENGTH RESTORED

Men who are afflicted with some chronic ailment or special disease of the class or description that we treat, find in wasting health and strength a most important reason for seeking out specialists in such diseases.

Every day patients come to us privately who have let go such troubles until they are in a serious condition, who are nervous, irritable and "not themselves," sometimes despondent and even hopeless. They lack energy and vitality, have poor appetites, have low confidence in themselves and often the derangement has affected the whole system and made them most miserable.

Our combined methods of treatment are sure to check the trouble, build up the system, restore the vitality and strength and health is regained.

What we have done for others we can do for you; you get the best for the least expense. Consultation free. Office hours, 9 to 5; holidays, 10 to 1.

SCENIC HIGHWAY PLAN INDORSED

State Game Commission Favors Proposed Road Through Reserve.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 4.—The state game and fish commission decided yesterday to ask that the legislature offer assistance to congress in making an appropriation for scenic highways through the Superior national forest reserve in St. Louis and Lake counties. The plan first was suggested by George J. Bradley, chairman of the commission, and Senator Knave Selch has introduced a bill in the United States senate providing $50,000.

Yesterday's action followed a letter received by Mr. Bradley from Senator Nelson. The request of the commission will be presented to the legislature when it meets in special session.

PLAN FULL TICKET.

Minnesota Progressives Will Get Into 1914 Game Strong.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 4.—Resolutions favoring a full progressive ticket in Minnesota next year were adopted at a meeting of the Progressive state central committee which continued until last night. For the purpose of selecting candidates, it was decided to hold a mass meeting of Progressives.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. YOUR REAL OPPORTUNITY COMMENCING TOMORROW MORNING, September 5th, we place on sale our entire stock of pianos and player pianos at greatly reduced price; in fact, some of these pianos go at one-half their original price. We are going to offer to the people of Duluth and surrounding country one of the greatest money-saving piano sales ever known in the history of piano selling in Minnesota. We must and will sell on or before Sept. 25th every piano we have in our mammoth stock, which includes some of the highest grade pianos on the market, such as the Knabe, Mehlin & Sons, Price & Teeple, Capon, Lewisman, Segerstrom, Kline and many others. We are compelled to seek larger floor space, as our present quarters are too small. In order to appreciate the great values that we are offering on this mammoth removal sale, it will be necessary for you to call at our store and investigate for yourself. It hardly seems possible to the prospective buyer that such a cut in price can be made on pianos, but never the less, it is true in this particular instance. We will enumerate below some of the bargains we have to offer. This space will not permit us to list all of our bargains.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Kinemacolor.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPIRE—Vaudeville.
RINK—Photoplay.

Amusement Notes.

Today, Friday and Saturday will be fashion days at the Lyceum as the Kinemacolor will show the latest modes in millinery on these days. In addition to the fashion picture shows, the Lyceum will feature a drama of Puritan days, in which a girl is charged with witchcraft, escapes from prison and returns to the settlement to give warning of an Indian attack, losing her life in the ensuing battle. There are a number of tense and dramatic scenes in this picture, particularly the great storm at sea.

"Eliminate all posing and make your act as speedy as possible" is the rule now governing all acrobats and athletic acts in the better class of vaudeville theaters, and this new plan is well exemplified by two acts of a widely different type playing the Orpheum this week.

In the old days acrobats posed, wiped their feet on resin boards, nipped their brows, and took breath between each trick. Acts which could be presented in six or seven minutes frequently lasted twenty or twenty-five. But the public demanded something a little more lively than a series of stereotyped tricks which they could foresee long before the acrobats finished them. In order to get bookings at the present time acts of this type must show exceptional speed and tricks that are out of the ordinary.

La Vier, the aerial performer on this week's bill, presents his act in about six minutes, and is working every second of the time he is on the stage. His feats are thrilling in themselves, but the effect is heightened by the speed with which he works.

The Anker Brothers, who are also on this week's bill, have some athletic feats which are different from anything seen here before and they also work rapidly and without "stalling" between their tricks.

That acrobats work harder for their money and put more time and study on new tricks than any other performers, is La Vier's belief.

A new program of acts will open at the Empire theater for the last half of this week starting with the matinee performance this afternoon. The bill is composed of varied acts giving the audience an assortment of comedy, novelty and music. "The Conservatory of Music" shows a scene in the music studio of one known as C. Sharp, instructor of music, who with the help of his office boy, A. Bubb, entertains two would-be pupils, Will Scott and Golden Nutt. The boys in the act are Dick Duffy as the instructor, Happy Golden as the office boy, and Frank and Milton Britton as the two enterprising pupils. The whole is said to be one jolly jumble of jollification.

Dick Croftus and Alice Warwick and company will be seen in a new little playlet, "The Tenth Temptation." Dick Croftus played the Empire last March in a place called "Story," and made a very good impression. In "The Tenth Temptation" he plays a very similar part. His leading lady, Miss Alice Warwick, will no doubt be remembered for her work, as she was a member of Mr. Croftus' company last year.

Ned Melroy is reported to be a comedian with a very clever line of talk. Another "single" with a different line of endeavor is Joe Kennedy, "The Man on Wheels."

The pictures included in this bill are said to be excellent.

The Rex theater will present a new program today, opening with a two-part feature entitled "The Burning River." The circumstances which center around this little piece of steel bring to a climax a series of thrilling episodes upon which the honor, position and future happiness of four lives depend. The story is one of a political tendency, and is interspersed with a love story which adds a flavor and tends to soften the situations and cloak the crookedness of political graft with a gracious covering.

G. M. Anderson, popularly known as Broncho Billy, can be seen to the best advantage in a lively Western drama, entitled "Broncho Billy's Mistake." "Funny John Bunney, Which Way Did He Go?" is the title of a comedy film. The only way to find out is to see this farce-comedy, with the beautiful Lilian Walker and the yet more beautiful Flora Finch.

Popular songs will be rendered by Bernice Hanan Runkel and Ethel Frances Berry, and musical selections by Kenneth E. Runkel.

DURUM BECOMES POPULAR CEREAL

Twenty-Nine Years Ago It Was First Tried in North Dakota.

Lisbon, N. D., Sept. 4.—(Special to The Herald).—The fact that durum or macaroni wheat has come into its own is a matter of great satisfaction to A. H. Laughlin, former commissioner of agriculture, and former Sheriff T. N. Olum of this county, who, with Charles Hitchcock, P. B. Kanes, R. C. Sanborn and one or two others, are largely responsible for the early days of the "goose wheat." The first start was secured from a Russian immigrant, who had a small quantity of the seed. Mr. Hitchcock planted some in his garden in 1884 and that was the first raised. It grew so luxuriantly and yielded so much better than other varieties the others became interested and grew a considerable quantity, but could find no market.

They interested M. A. Carleton, the cerealist of the department of agriculture at Washington, and he made a special trip here to investigate the wheat, finding it the Russian variety. With the aid of the department a market was finally established, though for years it sold as much as 20 cents per bushel lower than other varieties. Last winter for the first time it sold higher than hard spring wheat, and this year is holding its own, which makes Messrs. Laughlin and Olum delighted that their years of persistent championing of the grain has at last won it recognition and vindicated their judgment. The durum wheat is used largely for the manufacture of macaroni and also by millers for mixing. It is exceptionally rich in gluten.

JUSTICE ACCUSED OF MATRICIDE.

Clinton, Mo., Sept. 4.—As the result of finding the mutilated and incinerated body of Mrs. Susan MacKenzie in the charred ruins of her son's home, twelve miles east of here, T. O. Plunkett, the son, who is a justice of the peace, was arrested and will be held pending an investigation.

Casselton Corn Show.

Casselton, N. D., Sept. 4.—(Special to The Herald).—When the corn show is held here Oct. 9, 10 and 11, it will be a contest between the grown-up farmers and the juvenile contestants. Corn has grown to be a popular crop in this locality, especially during the past three years. This season the acreage is larger than formerly. In addition to the fields grown by the farmers their sons have entered the contests inaugurated under the auspices of the schools and the Better Farming association.

Jumped From Auto; Dies. Reno, Nev., Sept. 4.—Albert Trosel, who suffered two broken legs when he jumped from a speeding automobile in the road race Sunday last, died here last night from hemorrhages of the brain superinduced by the injuries.

MOST NUTRITIOUS FOOD SOLD IN DULUTH

To some Duluth women it will be news that "Minnesota" Macaroni, besides being so delicious, is also four times as nutritious as beefsteak and six times as nutritious as potatoes.

"Minnesota" Macaroni contains more proteins than most foods and is therefore more strength giving, and it gives the body great power of endurance without overloading the stomach.

If it is served often in place of meat the whole family will be much healthier. And, besides, it will reduce the cost of living, as "Minnesota" Macaroni costs only about one cent a dish.

Try the handy "Minnesota" Cut Macaroni, which is cut into uniform pieces—it cooks more evenly and is quicker to prepare.

EXPECT TO FILL CURLING RINK FOR THE "DULUTH MADE" DINNER

Applications are already being made for tickets to the Home Products Dinner to be held on the evening of Sept. 25 in connection with the annual Duluth Exposition. The second week which will take place in the new curling club building, Sept. 22-27. Last year more than 500 Duluthians set down to the "Duluth Made" dinner and many were turned away through lack of space. This year's Home Products Dinner promises to be in full attendance and outstrip 1912 both in attendance and in brilliancy of the affair.

The ladies organization of the First Presbyterian church will again serve the dinner. Food products are already making application to have their special brands included in the home products menu. A. H. McCutcheon, chairman of the dinner committee, states that applications for dinner tickets are already being received by him.

"The Home Products Dinner of Duluth is an established and successful institution," said Mr. McCutcheon. "It is a spirit is much the same as the home festivals in rural communities. Certainly it is fitting that Duluth citizens should have the privilege of enjoying the food products of their own city and county side. Remember, this Home Products Dinner lays just as strong emphasis in its menu on the farm, garden and home products of Duluth and vicinity as on any other foods produced here. The country round about this city, under the active and intelligent encouragement of its farmers and Duluth citizens, is rapidly becoming a remarkably productive garden spot—literally a land of milk and honey. The more we can drink this fact home with our own citizens the sooner we will convert the few remaining skeptics into enthusiasts. I know of no better way than by 'feeding' them. The proof of Duluth's pudding is the eating, and from the menu the ladies are arranging, I know this proof will be satisfactory to the most exacting."

"Last year more Duluthians wanted to attend the dinner than we could accommodate at the tables. At the last moment I received a number of complaints from persons who could not gain admittance. We were all sorry but it could not be helped. This year the home all will get their applications for dinner tickets in early. There are certain limits to the seating capacity even in the immense curling club, we will stretch the limit to give each applicant a place at the table. We will give a reasonable notice and make the tickets well in advance."

The popular feature of souvenir giving which provided each person at last year's dinner with a full set of valuable free souvenirs will be carried out in the Home Products Dinner of this year. Many a household hoarder has in her possession a number of the more useful household appliances which are gifts at the Duluth Made Dinner of last year. The Home Products Dinner is a reminder of the fact that the products advertised by these souvenirs.

It is stated that the charge for the Duluth Made Dinner will be $1 and that the dinner will be held at 7 o'clock in the evening.

upon by a jury in Allegheny county, this state—which he claims to be a citizen—is a demand made in a replication filed with the court by Thaw through his counsel, former U. S. attorney William H. H. Thaw.

Thaw, in his replication, demands that the issue and replication be certified by the court to a jury for a trial by jury as to his sanity.

Troops will be kept in the copper zone as long as there is danger of rioting, but they will no longer be used to patrol mine property, according to a statement by Gen. Abbey. The policy will permit a further reduction of troops.

Jury investigating the death of Alois Tjian, one of the two victims of the battle between deputies and strikers at the Champlain mine Aug. 1, has returned a verdict that Tjian was shot by some person unknown to the jury. The six deputies charged with the killing of Tjian and Steve Patrick are held in jail for a hearing.

Moyer and Darrow Set For Trial
Lansing, Mich., Sept. 4.—At a conference held here yesterday, the Western Federation of Miners, and the American Federation of Labor, and the International Union of Mine Workers, agreed to set for trial Moyer and Darrow.

Harry K. Thaw slept well and was in good health today, according to a statement by his counsel, former U. S. attorney William H. H. Thaw. Thaw is expected to appear before the court today to set for trial Moyer and Darrow.

Thaw's lawyers, somewhat demoralized after yesterday's rapid developments, spent the night, exhausted as they were, in conferences. All were pessimistic and gave it as their opinion that an attempt was being made to "railroad" their client in a "rough line." The unexpected absence of N. Greenhalgh of Montreal, recognized as a chief counsel for the defense, was a blow to the defense.

The sudden departure of N. K. K. Thaw from Montreal, who had been expected to assume the head of the Thaw forces.

Thaw's Several Tickets.
The first person examined by the board was Thaw himself. He was asked to state his name and address. Thaw said he was a resident of New York, N. Y., and that his objective point was Pittsburgh, Pa. He gave several tickets, he said, in that his line was uncertain. He told of his line was uncertain. He told of his line was uncertain.

Thaw was indignant. He learned that reports of his being taken down under the strain had been circulated. Although reports were allowed to see him, he sent this word down by a guard, saying that he had received early today a message from his mother, saying she was on her way here in response to his appeal.

William T. Jerome, whose brains got Thaw out of the Sherbrooke jail, where he threatened to remain until the king's bench convened in October, said he would not come to the hearing today unless it was necessary. He has with him the almost unmentioned Thaw trial exhibits, together with transcripts of Thaw's erratic testimony at the habeas corpus proceedings in New York state. If called upon he was ready to submit his evidence that Thaw is not a sane man, or, if sane, not a man who should be allowed to enter the Dominion.

This morning crowds surrounded the Grand Trunk railway station, where Thaw was expected to arrive. Thaw, who had been in the hospital for some time, was expected to arrive today.

One Obstacle Removed. The peaceful passage which threatened the Underwood bill dissolved into thin air when the Senate majority was solidly in line behind its leaders to defeat an amendment designed to regulate trusts.

By a vote of 55 to 12, the senate rejected a proposal by Senator Kenyon to amend the bill to require the Federal Reserve bank to be a monopoly.

Senator Kenyon and those who joined him in supporting the amendment declared the manufacture of aluminum in the United States was in the control of a monopoly, the Aluminum Company of America. The vote was accepted as a promise to action upon the amendment proposing to free the manu-

DULUTH SHOULD HAVE A SPLENDID HOCKEY SEASON

The Nationalizing of Hockey Sport Will Probably Result in Some Very Big Contests for Zenith City.

Baseball Managers Have Their Lieutenants--The High-Priced Star--White Hopes Will Have to Go to Work.

(BY BRUCE)
DULUTH should see some great hockey games during the coming winter. In The Herald of yesterday there was a story published regarding the meeting of rink managers that will be held Saturday in Cleveland. It is proposed to organize a national association of hockey teams, and if the project is consummated it will mean that the game will be placed upon a substantial basis and the more frequent games will result between the best teams of the country. Another thing, the Manley-McLennan trophy, which has been offered as a result of the interest taken in hockey by James McLennan and L. E. Manley, is sure to increase the number of teams that will seek games with the Duluth Curling club seven. Last season Duluth received its really first experience with the larger games. The sport was admirably handled and the people of this town were delighted with one of the greatest of all winter pastimes. The experience gained last year, together with the better hockey teams, in general should result in providing better contests during the coming winter and increase the interest of the general public.

The Able Lieutenants.
NAPOLÉON had his grand marshals and efficient aids. John D. also has some dapper young and old men in his employ who can fairly well shoulder some of the responsibilities of the serving of the grateful country with oil, should the old boy wish to care to take a short vacation on the golf links. Leaping blithely from sordid business to the gay rounds of baseball, we find that some of the managers of this day and generation have also their able and alert lieutenants to assist in the operating of the machine.

Connie Mack has his Harry Davis. Cleveland weaned the Davis man away from the Mack intellectual baseball college for a brief season. The change didn't agree with the former first baseman of the Athletics, and we find him back with the lovable and long Connie, assisting in the winning of another pennant.

Kid Gleason acts in an advisory role to James Callahan of the Chicago White Sox. Gleason is one of the brightly decorated cards of baseball. He is a diplomat of two fold capabilities. If smooth and oily words fail, then Gleason adopts the fists, and he can fight some, too.

Wilbur Robinson is a sort of first aid to McGraw. Robinson was with the old Baltimore Orioles, some team, until he grew so fat that he couldn't stoop; now he warms up the pitchers, tells them what they should do and generally acts as handy man around the squad.

Baseball is some business; a real industry, with eager minds and grasping hearts on the rampage for the dear dollars that make the click of the turnstile the sweetest music in the ears of the magnates. It requires brains, determined to get the thing done, to run a ball team. All of these qualities are not often found in the makeup of the average man, therefore the successful manager can grab off a generous slice of the stuff that sustains many brave hearts who are willing to trail along on cheese and crackers while collecting odds of it.

The High Priced Star.
NEWS flashed over the wires yesterday and startled the world with the announcement that waivers had been asked on the eminent services of Larry Chappelle. Sounds and littles of fish! This cometh as a surprise, colossal, impulsive and Medusa.

fracted with Carrigan to continue as manager during the season of 1914. It is understood that Carrigan received a substantial increase in salary.

Carrigan was appointed manager of the team a few months ago, following the release of the club to a world's championship last year.

When some of the teams of the North were going right, and the umpires were feeling clear of head and bright of eye, there wasn't so much difference in the playing of our teams and some of those in the A. A. Grab this, George, it's a fact.

Returning for the moment to Chappelle, it might be said here that there is little danger of him being waved out of the league by waivers, and it is very likely that he will be on hand next season, determined to show that he is a real hitter. Also, we wonder if Milwaukee will receive $8,000 for the release of this performer.

They Will Have to Work.
It is a sad commentary upon human aims and ideals to remark that most giants have most awfully to work. Dime museums, side shows and lilliputian shows have in the past provided some of these towering figures with little work and fair pay; then have the white hope industry into view, and lo and behold there was more opportunity for the gathering of the coin of the unwary and but little work that went with the gathering of the shekels.

Any gink with altitudinous proportions, however he might be lacking in depth of chest or grace of movement, could qualify for the prodigious task of bringing back the heavyweight title to the grasp of the Caucasian. They came on the ramp from the forge, the railroad shops, the boiler factory, the ranch and other more or less obscure marts of commerce, flinging aside with disdain the dinner pail on flight to the goal of loose lure.

But this is past; alas, some of the giants will be forced to go to work. Some of the boxing clubs have issued a ukase against the start of the shambling white hope, and the death of "Bull" Young will further more discriminate against the gathering of the kale by the brazen bunch of second story pugilistic anglers.

CARRIGAN TO LEAD
RED SOX IN 1914.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 4.—That President McAlister of the world's champion Boston American league club, believes Manager Carrigan capable of making the team again a pennant winner, was demonstrated yesterday when he con-

Boston Takes Final.
New York, Sept. 4.—Boston won an even break in their four-game series with New York, when they celebrated their farewell appearance by the season at the Polo grounds yesterday with a 2 to 1 victory over the champions.

George Tyler, the crack Boston left-hander, held New York to one hit. McLean, pinch hitting for Mathewson, spoiled Tyler's chance for a no-hit game when he doubled with two out in the eighth inning. The hit drove in Murray, who had reached second on a throw from McLean. Tyler then took the first game, 4 to 3, and the Brooklyns winning their first victory in seven games by taking the second, 6 to 3.

The visitors batted Pfeffer, Brock's recruit, in timely fashion in the opening three innings of the curtain-raiser, gathering a lead which the locals could not overtake.

Reubach pitched great ball in the second game, holding the Philadelphians to five hits, errors counting heavily in the three runs they scored.

lifer. Umpires--Eason and Brennan.

Cardinals Pounded Hard.
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 4.—Chicago pounded Treckell hard in the first three innings yesterday and scored seven runs, a lead which the home team could not overcome.

It was the Chicagoans' last appearance here for the season, and they made it four successive wins on the series.

In the first inning, with two men out and Schulte on base, Zimmerman hit the centerfield fence for a home run, Zimmerman, however, was banished from the game in the next inning for arguing with Umpire Byron.

EVANS BEARS HOPE OF WEST

Chicago Man Only Western Survivor in Amateur Golf Play.

Champion Travers Wins a Close Match From Qui-met in Second Round.

Garden City, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Charles Evans, Jr., of Edgewater, who had a thrilling thirty-nine-hole fight, with Eben M. Byers of Allegheny yesterday, was the only Western representative among the eight survivors that started the third round for the national amateur golf championship today.

The other seven included four players from the New York metropolitan district, one, "Tom" Sherman, son of the late vice president, from Central New York and two from Massachusetts.

Evans' spectacular extra hole match yesterday, centered attention upon him today and a large gallery followed him and Walter J. Travis when they began their match. The weather was threatening.

Massachusetts is sure of at least one man in the semi-final round, for her two representatives today were in opposite halves of the draw. John G. Anderson of Braintree played Sherman of Utica and W. Whittemore of the Garden City club links yesterday, and two of them went to extra holes.

Slight matches, each at thirty-six holes, which constituted the second round for the national amateur golf championship were checked on the Garden City club links yesterday, and two of them went to extra holes.

The winners in order of play were Charles Evans, Jr., of Chicago, runner up last year; Walter J. Travis, of Garden City, who held the national title three times and won the British championship once; T. M. Sheehan of Brookline, G. Anderson of Braintree, Mass.; A. M. Reid, St. Andrews, N. Y.; Jerome D. Travers of Upper Montclair, N. J.; and P. W. Whittemore, of Brookline.

Quimet Plays Well.
Interest centered principally in the match between Champion Travers and Francis Quimet, the young champion of Massachusetts.

Their play was watched by the largest gallery ever assembled at a mid-week golf championship match in this vicinity. While he was beaten by 3 up and 2 in play, Quimet acquitted himself more than creditably.

At the end of the first half of the thirty-six hole round, Quimet was down, but full of energy when he teed up for the second half match. Quimet sliced his shot from the tee into a trap, and took six for the hole while Travers won in four. Travers took three putts on the short second hole, went to Quimet in a par three. Holland, who was another player, took two putts on the hole, and Travers squared the match on the next round. The lead then alternated to Travers, who won the match by three strokes.

The champion gained another at the eleventh hole and made it three up on the twelfth. Travers played wretchedly, going to the thirteenth, which he had failed to hole a two-foot putt. The two following holes were halved and the match went to Travers three up and two to play.

"Spoke" Kelly is expected to arrive at the front of the Lakes either today or tomorrow and will complete his training for the Sheehan scrap at quarters arranged for the Chicago boy on the other side of the bay.

One of the glimmers may come with Kelly, and Jimmy McGovern, the stocky little Irish lad who will box Johnny Tillman in the semi-windup of the Tuesday evening show, will also accompany the Chicago boy to the big fight with Kelly.

Tillman has not been in the ring much over a year. Several of his fights were made around these parts. During the past six months the slifty youth has been mounting the pugilistic bill with giant strides and he is at the present time looked upon as one of the promising boys of the 125 pound class. In McGovern the Mill City youngster is going against a tough and rugged little Irishman, and the result will be important to both of the boys, as both are young and are mounting the early run of the ladder of progress in their calling.

Kelly and Sheehan.
Kelly and Sheehan should, if expectations materialize, furnish one of the best bouts staged on the other side of the bay. Kelly is not merely heavy or supposition, as the record of the Chicago boy is excellent in the ranks of the wel-ters.

There was quite a commotion stirred up when Billy Waters and Kelly were matched. Both were recognized as promising writers and the question of supremacy was a much mooted one. Kelly was a shifty and fast and seems to possess some knowledge of the finer points of boxing. How he will behave against a boy of Kelly's evident class is something that can only be conjectured. Sheehan is meeting the best boy he has stacked up against during his ring career, and the way the red-blooded acrobat will determine more or less his standing in the ring game.

Referee Joe Greenstein will be the third man in the ring. He is one of the regularly appointed referees of the boxing commission, and is considered a very competent judge of the capabilities of the boxers and also bears the reputation of being an official who will make the boys step at their best paces.

The show of Tuesday evening will be staged under the new Twin Ports club and will be the first trout of the game under the auspices of this organization. The officials of the new club have not been associated with any of the other bouts.

made overtures regarding the possibilities of staging the game in New York city.

Secretary John Foster said that the plans included the remodeling of the Polo grounds stadium capable of holding approximately 40,000 spectators. The infield and diamond will be sodded with heavy turf immediately after the close of the world's series, and a football field laid out with the sidelines running east and west.

The Army and Navy teams are expected to arrive in New York two days before the game for practice. They will be followed on Friday by the corps of middle and cadets from the Annapolis and West Point academies and arrangements are already under way to entertain the visiting corps providing the academies' rules will permit such a break in discipline.

The New York baseball club will allot 25,000 seats to be equally divided between the two contesting academies with the privilege of purchasing several thousand additional seats if desired. Something like 15,000 seats will be offered for sale by the New York club, the proceeds to be given to the soldiers and sailors widows and orphans fund after the usual expenses of the game have been deducted. A special section to accommodate 800 correspondents and operators will also be provided.

SONDER YACHTS

Favorable Weather Conditions for Third Race of Series.

Marblehead, Mass., Sept. 4.—Whips of air from the eastward, forerunners, it was hoped, of the Hatteras hurricane, were ruffling Massachusetts bay when the German and American sonder yachtsmen started their third race of the international series.

An hour before the yachts left the harbor the first breeze was a steady wind hit up a ten-knot pace and for the first time since the series there seemed every prospect of the brisk breeze which was regarded as giving the Germans a decided edge over their American opponents.

Tonday's race was over a 7½-mile triangle twice around, with the first leg to windward.

The fleet will have another race Friday, after which only winners can compete.

HUERTA SENDS AN ENVOY TO WASHINGTON TO CONTINUE NEGOTIATIONS OVER MEXICO

ZAMACONA TO TAKE UP TASK

Former Ambassador Probably Will Be Well Received There.

Position Is Regarded By Some as That of Non-Partisan.

Elimination of Huerta Is Expected By Administration.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Manuel de Zamacóna Inelán, former Mexican ambassador to the United States and until recently financial agent for the Mexican government in London, will endeavor to carry forward in Washington the negotiations between the Huerta administration and the United States for a solution of the revolutionary problem.

Senor Zamacóna primarily comes to continue the negotiations begun with John Lind, but his ultimate object is to obtain for the Mexican government the loan which the United States declared in its second note it would encourage American bankers to float if the Huerta government accepted the principal American proposals.

The administration here is sounded as to the mission of Senor Zamacóna and had not yet given its answer when the latter started from Vera Cruz yesterday.

Reception Hardly In Doubt. There seemed to be little doubt today in official circles that the Washington administration would receive Senor Zamacóna under certain conditions, as he is well known here and regarded as one of the ablest of Mexicans.

Senor Zamacóna's affiliations, however, have been the financial, instead of the diplomatic, side of the Mexican government. Some of the Constitutionalists in Washington look upon him as a non-partisan disinterested, or financial group that for a long time ruled Mexico's affairs.

As he has participated so little in Mexico's politics because of his long absence abroad, others are inclined to regard him as of a non-partisan disposition toward the present situation.

This coming of Senor Zamacóna probably will be a relief to the administration.

GEORGE M. COHAN IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

All of Party Hurt, But None Is in Serious Condition.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 5.—It was said at the Hartford hospital this morning that the condition of George M. Cohan and party, injured in an automobile accident on the Turnpike yesterday, was favorable in every respect. None of the party is in a serious condition.

They were thrown from their speeding automobile when it struck a garbage wagon two miles from this city. The party included George Cohan, his wife, 15-year-old daughter, Georgia; Wallace Eddinger, leading man for Mr. Cohan's new musical, "Frankie and Johnnie"; and William Van Buren, Eddinger's chauffeur.

The party was coming from New York to Hartford to begin rehearsals for the new play to be tried out here. They were in a touring machine. Two miles south of Hartford, Van Buren, who was at the wheel, turned out to meet a wagon. The driver of the wagon turned to the left and the automobile struck the back of the wagon and was banked and turned over. All of the passengers were thrown out. Passing automobiles were used as ambulances to take the injured to the hospital.

RAIN HALTS SUBWAY SERVICE IN NEW YORK

Nine Miles of Underground Tracks Out of Commission.

New York, Sept. 5.—Not a wheel moved in the New York subway between Ninth and 125th streets, in upper Manhattan, and the Brooklyn terminal during the rush hour of the work-bound crowds this morning, resulting in one of the most congested conditions in traffic the city has known.

Over three inches of rainfall during the night flooded the subway tracks to the depth of three feet or more, and nine miles of four-tracked subway were put entirely out of commission.

It was 9 o'clock before the line was cleared, and then the congestion prevented anything like normal conditions.

The Interborough company loaded firetrucks with electric pumps capable of discharging 750 gallons a minute and sucked the rain water out of the tube as fast as the men could work.

At several central stations the flooded subway users stormed the elevated trains in such numbers that police reserves were called out to make them keep in line and take their turn.

Fifty firechiefs here attending their international convention were in an express train stalled at the Columbus Circle station of the subway early today. All helped the subway guards escort passengers in this train, and others stalled behind it, over the third rail and up to the station platform.

COMES TO WASHINGTON AS ENVOY FROM HUERTA

MANUEL DE ZAMACONA INELAN.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Senor Zamacóna was the successor of Senor de la Barra as Mexican ambassador to the United States. He resided in Washington during the time his father was Mexican minister from 1875 to 1882. He is about 47 years old and has been London for the last two years. Previous to this he served as director of the international revenue of Mexico, and also represented the Mexican government interests in the Mexican Central railroad.

MINE GUARDS FIRED UPON

Reports of Shooting Are Made to Officers at Calumet.

Moyer Denies Strike in Copper Mines May Be Called Off.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Reports were made to military headquarters this morning of deputies and detectives being shot at in different parts of the country last night by strikers. At Centennial, north of Calumet, three Wadsworth men employed by the Calumet & Hecla were fired on from a house. When the house was searched no firearms were found, but two bullet holes through a window glass were discovered.

At Hurontario a mob of strikers chased and fired on a deputy and stoned a woman. At Tamarack deputies report shots fired at them.

Since the conference of President Moyer and Attorney Darrow of the Federation of Miners with the governor there are renewed reports that the federation officials will call the strike off, although this is denied by Moyer, who returned to Calumet this morning. The strikers were less active.

CROOKSTON HELPS IN CHILD SEARCH

Sheriff, Chief of Police and Others Respond to Call for Aid.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frantic appeals for aid in the child hunt south of Eskine were received this morning and Sheriff Kelly, Chief of Police Bok, Secretary Newbury of the Commercial club and Capt. Elde of Company I responded. Over a dozen automobiles were at once provided and two bird dogs were taken with each car. As many more cars will leave this afternoon for the scene of the disappearance of the 4-year-old child of William Ganshous. It is hoped that bloodhounds from the state institutions will be sent to the rescue. It was forty-eight hours at 3 p. m. today since the little one strayed away. So thorough has been the search that many people believe the little one was carried away by a wild animal.

OLD BOSTON CHURCH DESTROYED BY FIRE

Damage Amounts to $50,000 and Blaze Causes Alarm.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 5.—The Bullfinch Place Unitarian church, one of the oldest churches in the city, was swept by fire early today, causing a loss of $50,000. The blaze looked so serious for a time that guests were routed from their beds in the nearby West and hotels.

JAPANESE AROUSED BY CHINESE ACTS

Some Urge Military Action on Account of Shooting Affair.

Tokyo, Japan, Sept. 5.—The Japanese premier, Count Gorō Yamamoto, left for Nikko today to report to the emperor of Japan on the shooting of a number of Japanese during the fighting between the Japanese troops and the southern Chinese rebels in Nanking. In his conference with his minister, the premier will decide as to the course of action to be taken by the Japanese government in the matter.

Public feeling in Japan is at fever pitch. Some of the newspapers demand military action and urge the occupation of a Chinese seaport by the Japanese until full reparation has been made by China.

NEARLY $20,000 FOR DEAD WOMAN'S HEIRS

Minnesota Pays Damages and Manslaughter Charge Is Dropped.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 5.—By her death as a result of injuries received when she was trampled under the hoofs of a team of horses on Aug. 5 last, Mrs. Augusta Lucike, aged 52, and a poor woman, has brought prosperity to members of her family here.

She was run down by a team of track horses alleged to have been driven at high speed by E. R. La Fleur, a wealthy farmer, who was arrested for manslaughter. At the same time announcement was made that relative damages would be $20,000.

Yesterday a compromise was effected by which the manslaughter charge was dropped and La Fleur turned over to the Lucike heirs property estimated at not much less than the $20,000 for which the family was to begin suit.

Smith, the second man, still is in jail, but in view of the settlement in the La Fleur case he will probably be released.

SENATE MAY VOTE ON TARIFF SATURDAY

Democrats Hold What May Be Last Caucus on Bill.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Democrats of the senate began early today what administration leaders hoped would be the last caucus over the stumbling blocks in the tariff bill. Every possible effort was being made to rush odds and ends of the measure into place for a vote on the bill in the senate by tomorrow night.

The senate waited until 2 p. m. while the Democrats were in session endeavoring to agree on an amendment to the income tax and to satisfy differences in their own ranks on minor points.

Another caucus may be necessary tonight to consider amendments to the tariff bill.

STARTLING TESTIMONY AT NEW HAVEN INQUIRY

Federal Probe of Recent Wreck Begun By McChord.

Engineer and Flagman Arrested on Accusations By Coroner.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 5.—At the opening of a federal investigation into the recent railroad wreck at North Haven, Commissioner McChord ordered General Manager Bardo of the New Haven road to produce the minutes of all meetings of the New Haven directors since the Bridgeport wreck on July 12, 1911. These would show, he said, what action had been taken toward the betterment of safety conditions.

The examination of witnesses bristled with startling passages. Engineer brought a gasp from the crowd when he testified that engineers on the New Haven road frequently "drifted" by danger signals in foggy weather.

MURDERS FAMILY, SETS CITY AFIRE; SHOOT 18

German Maniac Is Nearly Killed By Mob When Caught.

Muehlhausen, Baden, Germany, Sept. 5.—A crazed teacher of the name of Wagner, who murdered his wife and four children at Degerich yesterday, set fire to the village of Muehlhausen in a fanatical with the villagers who tried to capture him eight persons were shot and killed and ten wounded.

The maniac took refuge in a stable, where he killed all the cattle, from which he had provided himself. He finally overpowered after he had exhausted all the 250 cartridges with which he had provided himself.

Enraged villagers wreaked their vengeance upon him by clubbing him and stabbing him with pitchforks. He probably will die.

When he entered Muehlhausen it was not known that he was a fugitive murderer. It was only after the wild scenes had been enacted here that the police went to his apartment in Degerich where he had been teaching, and found the bodies of his wife and children.

IT'S THE WISE MAN THAT TAKES ADVANTAGE OF EARLY SELECTIONS —and it's this very same fellow that you'll see pointed out as being one of the city's cleverest dressed men — always up to the tick of the clock in matters of dress — and why?

HERE'S THE REASON —

He is simply an early chooser, is no better informed than you regarding styles, etc.—but he has learned the lesson, that the choicest and most exclusive novelties are always featured at the opening of the season. Then, too, there is an economical side to this story—the early chooser enjoys a complete season's wear from his clothes, and as is not unusual, should the styles undergo a radical change the following year, he is not the loser. A complete season's wear while the garments holds the center of the style ring, assures him of his money's worth. He is satisfied. Now do you see the logic in early buying? No doubt you do, so

COME IN FOR A TRY-ON TOMORROW

—and one of our well-informed, pleasant clothing salesmen will welcome the opportunity to show you through, and, while they would be pleased to close a sale, yet come with our assurance that you'll not be urged to buy or bored by persistent salesmen. Such tactics you might encounter elsewhere, but here is a clothing store entirely different from all the rest. We want you to come, make comparisons on our garments. You'll like our store, you'll like our service—and best of all, you'll more than like Oak Hall quality clothes. There is a characteristic something about our clothes that distinguishes them from all others.

—It's the easy, graceful lines, the exclusiveness of the pattern, the superiority of the tailoring, that causes every looker to desire to become an owner. And about prices; well, this store's reputation for fair, honest prices is too well established to need further comment, it is suffice to say that

We can please and fit you in quality suits at

SEPTEMBER MEETING OF COUNTY BOARD

The September meeting of the county board will be held at the courthouse tomorrow. From the present outlook few matters of more than routine importance will come to the attention of the commissioners. The old question of what action is to be taken in the matter of building a new county jail may be revived. A large list of road petitions is on hand to be disposed of.

CHARGED WITH SELLING LIQUOR ON SUNDAY.

Walter Clelluk, 25 years old, will be brought up in police court this afternoon to answer a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. Clelluk was arrested by Chief Troyer last Sunday afternoon during a picnic on Duluth Heights. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned Monday morning, and his case was set for this afternoon. He was allowed to go on $100 bail.

PATROLMEN HOLD TARGET PRACTICE

Patrolman Lading leads the Duluth police department in practice shooting, having made a total of 44 points out of a possible 50 at the regular weekly shoot yesterday. Each officer is allowed ten shots.

Only the members of the night force took part in the shoot yesterday, the best records having been made by Sgt. Robert, 41, and Patrolman G. P. Monahan, 41 and P. Barber, 40.

TWO DULUTH MEN ARE IN FLORIDA

E. M. Schau and W. D. White interviewed at Lake Worth.

Edward M. Schau and William D. White of this city are spending several days in the South and, according to the Lake Worth Herald, Lake Worth Fla., are very much pleased with that country. Mr. Schau is mentioned as having dropped into the Lake Worth Herald office and asked for non-resident membership in the Chamber of Commerce of that city and to have purchased one, while Mr. White is said to have caused a scare in the office when he walked in to ask for the "head of the paper" just for the purpose of subscribing for it. Both men are said to have paid the town compliments on its progressiveness.

marine WHEAT CARGO IS OFFERED

Tonnage for Future Loading Sought at Rate of 15-8 Cents.

Higher Rates Expected When New Grain Receipts Increase.

A little interest in tonnage to load here was shown by wheat shippers when an offer of 1½ cents for a 100,000 bushel boat to load wheat at Duluth for Buffalo between Sept. 15 and 30 was made. The cargo has not yet been placed.

There is considerable tonnage on the market for spot grain cargoes to load at Duluth. The rate is still 1½ cents from Duluth to Buffalo, two medium sized ships having been put in at that figure. It is expected that the grain rates will go up within two weeks. When the new grain starts to crowd the elevators here, shippers say, and the ore moving fast, there will be better offers made for boats to carry grain.

A number of ships are waiting at the head of the Lakes for orders. Ore shippers are not accepting ships until they can load them and generally they are waiting until the ore is ready before chartering. Several boats have been here as long as four days waiting for loads.

At the lower end of the lakes the docks are busy and boats are being forced to wait a day before they can get into position to be unloaded.

POWERFUL LIGHT AT WHITEFISH POINT.

For the first time the new light at Whitefish point will be turned on tonight. The light has an illuminating power of 2,000,000 candle power and is to be the largest one in the world. The increased intensity was obtained by changing the illuminant from kerosene to oil vapor. Up to this time the light had been burning with a kerosene flame. The new light is a 120,000 candle power. Signals from these lights could be seen for fifty miles in clear weather.

LAMAR CHARGES NEW LOBBY IN WASHINGTON

Says It Is Working to Halt the Steel Trust Suit.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Cross-examination of Martin M. Mulhall by attorneys for the National Association of Manufacturers continued today before the house lobby committee.

Existence of a lobby to pass Representative Levey's resolution to stop the government's anti-trust suit against the Steel corporation was charged before the house committee by David Lamar, who offered testimony on his charge and declared the government would lose a $25,000,000 claim against the corporation if the suit were dropped. The committee took up the subject in executive session. Lamar has vainly been trying to get a hearing before the senate committee.

SAILOR IS KNOCKED OUT

Lake Carriers' Commissioner Is Arrested on Assault Charge.

Says Sailor Had Threatened Him and He Took No Chances.

William A. Burke, commissioner for the Lake Carriers' association, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of striking Carl Gust, a sailor, on the head with a "billy," inflicting a deep scalp wound. In police court this morning Mr. Burke pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault in the second degree, and his case was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Burke told the court that Gust had given him trouble on many occasions the last two years, and that twice Gust had drawn a knife on him. When Gust came to the association offices yesterday, according to Mr. Burke, he inquired for mail. Mr. Burke told him there was no mail, but called him into his private office and suggested that he behave himself while about the building. At this juncture, Mr. Burke declared, Gust put his hand behind him and was about to pull a knife. In self-defense, Mr. Burke says, he struck Gust over the head with a "billy."

Threat to 'Get' Burke. Mr. Burke declared that Gust had threatened him a number of times, and recently told some sailors that he was going to "get" Burke some time or other. Gust was arrested about a month ago on the complaint of Mr. Burke, and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail at the time. He was released yesterday morning and immediately went to the Lake Carriers' office for his mail.

When Gust was arrested a month ago he refused to be placed in a cell by Jailer Hunter, and he fought desperately at the police station. In the scuffle Gust knocked out one of Jailer Hunter's teeth.

Gust came to police headquarters yesterday with his head bleeding profusely. He declared that he had been struck by Mr. Burke, and after his wound was dressed by the jailer, he swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Burke.

Later Gust returned to the association's rooms and there was another quarrel, this time with Mr. Burke's assistant, Frank Meyers. Meyers struck Gust on the head again, and this time the sailor was knocked out for nearly five hours. It was 7 o'clock in the evening before Gust came to his senses, and when he awoke he found himself in a cell at headquarters. He is being held pending the case against Mr. Burke.

Rate Victory Subject of Public Affairs Committee Meeting.

A comprehensive explanation of the provisions of the decision of the interstate commerce commission in the lake and rail case and the results that the Traffic commission expects will be obtained will be a feature of the meeting of the public affairs committee at the Commercial club this evening.

The committee will meet for dinner at 6:15 and the business meeting will follow. The meeting is open to all members of the club and others interested and a big crowd is expected to be on hand.

The forty-five men appointed to conduct the membership campaign for the club next week will meet with the public affairs committee tonight and will hear a message to take to their prospects. The advantages of membership in the Commercial club will be pointed out by speakers and the membership workers will be given a real basis on which to found enthusiasm in their work.

TRIES TO SAVE HIS MOTHER; LOSES LIFE

Raymond Spooner Fatally Burned on Ranch in Alberta.

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 5.—As the result of a vain attempt to save the life of his mother on his ranch near here, Raymond Spooner, aged 20, died today. Last Sunday, while Spooner was away from the house, a fire started. Rushing through the flames, he carried his mother, an invalid, from the building, but she died shortly afterward. The son succumbed to his injuries today.

DID you ever stop to think how the Gidding store within your own vivid recollection has sprung up in your midst—among other stores to right and left—first asserting its local superiority, and not content with that, has spread to wider fame—not in small cities, but in cities that have made the Gidding prestige national!

This wonderful progress is not accidental—it's a progress based on reason—and there's no other cause in the world than the fact that Gidding styles are foremost; Gidding values are right, and the Gidding label is the personal "O. K." of an aggressiveness that not only has spread itself nation-wide, but delves to the roots of fashion sources, bringing forth the best in style, in tailors' skill, and in quality—laying the results of its labors at your feet for your critical inspection. Aside from this, comparison proves how moderate prices really are!

SWEDISH AND NORWEGIAN

May Be Taught in Duluth High School This Year.

Board Will Decide Annoying Problem of Treasurer's Bond.

The question of teaching Swedish and Norwegian in the Central high school will come up for action at the meeting of the board of education tonight.

Application has been made to the board by Swedish and Norwegian people of Duluth for the organization of classes in the two languages in the high school.

A similar movement was started last year, but it was blocked when a canvass of the high school students revealed the fact that very few wanted to join classes in the two languages.

This year a similar canvass has been made and Principal Young has obtained thirty-two applications for instruction in Swedish and twenty-seven for instruction in Norwegian.

The figures will be presented to the board by Supt. Denfeld tonight and if the board acts favorably the classes will be organized.

The only other important matter to come before the board tonight is the question of the amount of the bonds to be required of the treasurer and depositary of the board. The question is a vexatious one and none of the members of the board know just what the outcome will be.

Heretofore a bond of $50,000 has been required from the treasurer and the board pays for the depositary's bond, and indirectly for the depositary's bond also, as the interest obtained on daily balances is reduced by reason of the bond being required.

The board has an opinion from its attorney this year that the state law requires a bond from the treasurer equal to the amount of money that may come into his hands during the year, and the depositary's bond must be twice that amount. On that basis about $100,000, and the depositary's bond $200,000. The treasurer's bond would cost over $2,000 and the cost of the depositary's bond would wipe out the 2 per cent interest received by the board on its deposits.

Members of the board say that a bond of $50,000 from the treasurer is ample. He never receives more than $300,000 in an apportionment; it is received by check and is immediately deposited in the bank, when the treasurer's liability ceases, liability being transferred to the depositary. The treasurer doesn't handle any cash and members of the board say there is no need for such an excessive bond.

As to the depositary, members of the board say a bond of $100,000 is out of all reason. However, unless they obtain an opinion other than the one they have it looks as though the law will have to be followed and an effort made to have it changed at a future session of the legislature.

WRIT HOLDS UP MISSISSIPPI BOAT.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 5.—One hundred and fifty passengers bound from Minneapolis and St. Paul to their homes down the river as far as Davenport, Iowa, were held up for a time today when the steamer Morning Star of the Northern Steamship company's line was seized by the United States marshal under a writ of attachment issued out of Federal court.

On her last trip up river the Morning Star ran into and crushed a launch belonging to George V. Culver of Dakota, Minn., endangering the lives of those on board the smaller boat.

Culver began suit for damages and stopped the Morning Star on her down trip today. For a time it appeared that there would be an indefinite delay, but after much scurrying around a bond was procured, and the Morning Star was permitted to proceed.

FALLS ON MAN; KILLED BY KNIFE IN POCKET

Menasha Man's Heart Is Pierced in Unusual Accident.

Neenah, Wis., Sept. 5.—A knife in the pocket of John Meyer, caused the death of Walter Jensen, aged 25, at Menasha, Wis., today.

Following an argument, Meyer attempted to get away from Jensen by running, and in his flight tripped and fell. Jensen, coming upon him, fell on the knife in Meyer's pocket, the blade piercing his heart. Death resulted immediately.

A coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental death and exonerated Meyer.

SUBURBANITES WANT CAR LINE

Delegation From the Steel Plant Suburbs Will Meet Commission.

A delegation of citizens from Gary, New Duluth and other western suburbs was due to meet with the city commission at 3 o'clock this afternoon to discuss the proposed street car extension to New Duluth.

They will point out that the fill at Eighty-first avenue west has now been completed, eliminating the last physical obstacle to the laying of the extension this fall. At a recent meeting with the commission Manager Herbert Warren of the company stated that the company could not build the New Duluth line until the suit of the city against the company, attacking the validity of its franchise, has been settled. The action is to be tried at this term of the district court.

MAN WINS BULK OF HOUSEWIVES' PRIZES

E. E. Brothers of Minneapolis Takes Honors at State Fair.

Hamline, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A man holds the record for the greatest number of awards made in the woman's building to any one person at this year's state fair. E. E. Brothers of Minneapolis, husband of the winner of the first prize for bread, entered bread, pies, cake, preserves and candy made by himself and has been awarded a large number of premiums.

Mr. Brothers won first for sponge cake and red currant jelly, and second prize for the best collection of jellies on display, and second for plum jelly. He also won second prize for pear pies and for blueberry jam; first prize for ground cherries and strawberries and the best collection of canned fruits, and third prize for crab-apples, gooseberries and preserved pears.

Clear weather today and a heavy racing card brought large crowds to the fair. Uthman, world's champion trotter, late today is scheduled to attempt to lower his own mark of 1:58 for the mile.

LUCKY BALDWIN HEIRS HALVE $36,000,000

Final Action Taken By Court on Turfman's Estate.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 5.—As far as the courts are concerned, "finis" was written today upon the history of the estate of "Lucky" Baldwin, the famous turfman, built up from a race track "shoestring."

The huge land holdings which were debt-burdened when the turfman died five years ago now have a value of more than $36,000,000, and for their work in successful administration the court awarded the executors, Henry A. Unruh, brother of Baldwin's first wife, and Attorney Bradner W. Lee fees of $180,000 each. Unruh and Lee fixed the fees themselves. If they had not, the court said, each would have been awarded $250,000.

The heirs are Baldwin's two daughters, Miss Clara Baldwin-Stocker and Mrs. Anita Baldwin-McClaghey. These two share the estate, which has been held nearly intact despite the onslaughts of numerous litigants and claimants after Baldwin's death.

SAYS BANKS WILL NOT AID CURRENCY PLAN

Wexler Makes Prediction Before the Senate Committee.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Predictions that if the administration currency bill should pass without change the government would fall to organize the proposed Federal reserve system, were renewed by bankers today at the hearings before the senate banking committee.

"If changes are not made," Sol Wexler of New Orleans said, "I am confident state banks will not come in and many national banks will re-organize under state charters. You will have a legal shell, but you cannot organize the banking system if it is contemplated."

The bill will be reported to the house Monday in its present form.

Record Mill Cut.

Ewen, Mich., Sept. 5.—The Jensen

mill here broke all former records when it cut 50,206 feet of lumber in the ten-hour run. The cut was of mixed timber and is considered to be an extraordinary output for a mill of the capacity. An effort will be made to reach the 100,000 mark.

DULUTH AS POTATO MARKET

Industrial Exposition Will Advertise This City Widely as Center of Territory Rich in Root Crops.

Development workers throughout Minnesota are awaiting with interest the outcome of the potato display which will be conducted in connection with the industrial exposition at the curling rink Sept. 22 to 27.

A. B. Hostetter, district superintendent of agriculture, returned from the state fair today. He said that he heard many comments on the Duluth plan to hold an exhibit of potatoes and to invite the potato buyers from all over the country to come to Duluth to see what St. Louis county has to offer.

"I am satisfied that if the St. Louis county potatoes had been entered in the competition at the state fair they would have won all important prizes," said Mr. Hostetter. "We won at New York, at the land show last year and at the state fair for several years, and was so impressed with the St. Louis county potatoes at the state fair this year that he immediately left for Duluth to get into the market."

St. Louis county has a reputation for potato-raising and it never offered potato buyers a better opportunity to see the products under favorable conditions as at the coming exposition.

Mr. Hostetter is sending out a letter to all farmers' clubs and potato growers in Northwestern Minnesota, urging them to send potato samples for the exposition here and advising them of the advantages to be obtained by participation in the exhibit. The letter says:

"To Farmers' clubs and potato growers of Northwestern Minnesota:

"The manufacturers of Duluth will hold an industrial exposition in Duluth from Sept. 22 to 27, inclusive, for the purpose of advertising their products and enlarging the market for same. They have rented the Duluth Curling rink and will spend lots of money to attract buyers for their products. The manufacturers find that it pays to co-operate to build up their markets. It is a good business proposition. The industrial exposition committee has secured space during this exposition for a display of potatoes and market garden products, so that those who buy in a wholesale way will find it worth while to send agents into this territory."

"The railroads co-operating with the agricultural extension department of the University of Minnesota for three successive years have sent out special trains to promote the growing of more and better crops. The farmers have profited by the instruction given, they can now grow the products, but single-handed and alone no farmer can market his potatoes to the best advantage and often he cannot market them at all."

"If a club or community exhibit, each sack should contain at least thirty pounds of the same variety of potatoes from each of five growers. The name of the person, the shipping station and the location of the farm of each exhibitor must be placed in the sack with the potatoes. Remember the object is to make a market for your potatoes."

"Begin with the co-operation of the whole family in selecting a bushel for exhibition, and if the same appears good to you then select enough with the same care for your own plot for next season. Then co-operate with your neighbor in sending a two and one-half bushel sack to the exhibition. If you will do this then you will have taken the first step in co-operating with your neighbors in selling a carload or more, and the buyers will want to come near your neighborhood because you have the products."

"To stimulate you in this effort to establish a market, the Northern Pacific railway offers $50 in cash prizes for potatoes grown in the territory tributary to the stations. Other railroads will do the same, and the Duluth people will also give prizes for single bushels. For commercial sack of two and one-half bushels, $10; second prize, $7; third prize, $5; fourth prize, $3."

"All exhibits must be shipped to reach Duluth on Saturday, Sept. 20. The industrial exposition will pay the express charges. I urge you, a club and as individual farmers to help this market proposition. Send your potatoes to the undersigned for full list of prizes and other information."

A. B. HOSTETTER.

advantage and often he cannot market them at all."

Chance For Growers.

"The industrial exposition in Duluth offers the opportunity to potato growers to advertise their stock and the several localities along the different lines of railroads. If a sufficient number of growers co-operate in this exhibit it will invite the presence of buyers of potatoes from all the seed buying and consuming sections of the United States. It requires the producers with the goods and the buyers who consume or distribute them to make a market. The two must go together, must locate and know each other to do business. The purpose of asking you as a club and as individual farmers to send samples of your potato crop to this industrial exposition, is to help you dispose of your crop to the best advantage, to give you a chance to learn from the consumers what they want, when they want it and the manner in which it should be put upon the market. In connection with the management of the exposition, will offer liberal prizes for the best sack of 150 pounds of potatoes, the requirements of the market in grading, sacking and labeling, etc., to be considered in making the awards."

"If a club or community exhibit, each sack should contain at least thirty pounds of the same variety of potatoes from each of five growers. The name of the person, the shipping station and the location of the farm of each exhibitor must be placed in the sack with the potatoes. Remember the object is to make a market for your potatoes."

"Begin with the co-operation of the whole family in selecting a bushel for exhibition, and if the same appears good to you then select enough with the same care for your own plot for next season. Then co-operate with your neighbor in sending a two and one-half bushel sack to the exhibition. STRAWBERRIES IN SEPTEMBER

Judge F. H. Cutting Gives Favored Friends a Rare Treat.

Large, rich, ripe, red luscious strawberries right from the vine, flavored with a nectar of nature's choicest offering.

Um-m-m-m! The mere thought causes the mouth to water and the eyes to brighten with the light of past delights.

It's a fact that such berries are growing in Duluth at the present time. That they are as sweet and tempting and appetizing as only berries grown in this climate can be, has undisputed proof from the favored few who have had the pleasure of tasting them.

Such berries are now growing in the garden of Judge Frank H. Cutting of Fond du Lac. When the Judge is not sitting on the bench at the federal court he is devoting his attention to his "farm" in the pretty suburb on the St. Louis river.

Strawberries have been among his specialties, along with other hardy small fruits. The vines on which the berries are grown are of an ever-bearing variety. They flower from early in the summer until the frosts come in the fall, and their product

Samaritans to HAVE COUNTY FAIR

First of Series of Entertainments Arranged By Duluth Council.

The first of a series of entertainments to run until next June will be given by Duluth Council No. 8, Modern Samaritans, at K. of P. hall, 115 West Superior street, next Monday evening.

The first entertainment will be a county fair. There will be a bearded lady, "September Morn," a snake eater, a wild man and other fair attractions. Pink lemonade and peanuts will be vended with vigor and vim. A light-ropes walker will give an exhibition outside of the side-show tent. Everything will be staged just as at a big county fair and an evening of good entertainment is promised.

A different member of the council will be in charge of each entertainment. Next week Richard Jones is the manager. All Samaritans and their friends and families have been invited to attend.

FIRE HORSES FALL ON WAY TO FIRE.

A fatal accident was narrowly averted about 9 o'clock this morning, when the steamer from the No. 4 fire hall at Fourteenth avenue east and Second street was on its way to the Marshall-Wells Hardware company fire.

The horses attached to the steamer slipped and fell when they turned the corner at First avenue east and Superior street, falling directly on the car tracks. The driver jumped from his seat to the street and escaped unhurt. The firemen on the steamer also escaped unhurt.

Fortunately there were no street cars running by at the time of the accident. Aside from slight bruises the horses escaped unhurt. After reattaching the team, the firemen proceeded to the fire.

The fire was discovered about 8:45 o'clock this morning in the horse collar factory of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company. The factory is located on Superior street, just a half block from the main building on Lake avenue. The fire caused very little damage to the stock and the building.

There were nineteen commercial fuel bristling plants in operation in the United States last year.

NELSON COUNTY SCHOOL STATISTICS.

Lakota, N. D., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Teachers salaries in Nelson county averaged about $1 higher last year than they did the year previous, that finding being made in the annual report of the county superintendent of schools.

The average wages for male teachers is $15.13, while the average wage for female teachers is $15.63.

Nelson county has school buildings estimated at being worth $235,475, while expenditures of over $300,000 for maintenance are indicated.

There are 53 schools in the county, with a total seating capacity of 3,375, while there are 2,941 children of school age, of which 2,613 were enrolled.

REPORT OF TREASURER

City Has Money on Hand in All Funds Sept. 1.

Obligations Already Incurred Cut Deeply Into Balances Reported.

The monthly report of City Treasurer Grant E. McLean for August shows that the city has $791,859.80 in the various city depositories.

The report shows the amount of cash on hand and the disbursements which have been made during August, but it does not give the obligations which have been incurred and which must be paid from the various funds. The liabilities are shown in detail on the books of City Auditor B. J. Campbell and taken into consideration some of the present balances are transformed into large deficits while others are practically wiped out.

Funds Are Obligated.

The revolving fund shows a balance of $339,619.59. When the contract work under way has been paid for most of this sum will have been used. A balance of $178,000.00, but this money can only be used for the purposes of the department. Eliminating these two funds the amount in the others is cut down to $202,234.55.

The interest fund shows a balance of $34,011.73 and the sinking fund, $52,222.02 but can only be used for paying interest on the city's indebtedness and retiring its securities. The public safety fund shows $56,031.02, but about the best the police and fire departments can hope to do is to break even while the health department may have a small balance at the end of the year.

The permanent improvement fund shows a balance of $44,836.39, but considering the liabilities against it the fund will end the year with a deficit of about $60,000. The general fund, which shows a balance of $38,164.42 will have a shortage of close to $30,000.

The detailed statement of the treasurer is as follows:

WOMAN SHOT BY HUSBAND

Joseph Crottan, Under Arrest, Says Shooting Was Accidental.

Woman at St. Mary's Hospital With Bullet Wound in Arm.

Joseph Crottan, a farmer living at Ganesen, a town about twelve miles from Duluth, is at the county jail charged with having shot his wife, Mary Crottan, who is at St. Mary's hospital suffering from a bullet wound in her left arm. The shooting took place at the George H. Gamble farm yesterday afternoon.

Crottan claims that his gun was accidentally discharged while he was on his way to a hawk out but his wife declared to the deputy sheriffs who made the arrest that he had been drunk and that he shot her following an argument.

Deputy Sheriff George King, Frank Magle and Edward Schubsky went to the scene of the shooting into the afternoon and arrested Crottan, who still denies his guilt and claims that the shooting was an accident.

Dr. S. H. Boyer was called to the farm shortly after the shooting and he ordered the woman taken to St. Mary's hospital, where an operation was performed by Doctors Boyer and W. H. Magle, who removed several fragments of a bone from the upper part of the right arm.

The Crottans have been employed on the Gamble farm for several years. They have two children.

Washington, Sept. 5.—President Wilson nominated the following for United States attorney, Northern district, New York—John R. Gleason, Charles J. Vopicka of Illinois, minister to Roumania, Serbia and Bulgaria.

Thomas H. Birch of New Jersey, minister to Portugal.

MARINES IN FUTILE DASH FOR LIBERTY

Sergeant Drops Dead of Heart Failure After Chase.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 5.—A sensational attempt at escape by two marines, prisoners at the Philadelphia navy yard, resulted yesterday in the death of Sergeant of Marines George P. Southern, who dropped dead from over-exertion, and the serious injury of Lorenz Nichols, a marine, who was knocked unconscious by the escaping prisoners.

The prisoners, Charles Sharp and Frederick Schwabert, were working in the garden while Nichols was on guard duty. One of the prisoners struck Nichols on the head with a hoe. The guard fell unconscious and the men dashed for liberty.

A bugle summoned the entire regiment of marines to pursue them. Their capture speedily followed. It hardly had been effected when Southern dropped from his place in the ranks unconscious. He was removed to the hospital, where it was found that heart disease had caused his death.

HEARST AND OTIS GET COOLIE LABOR.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 5.—Four hundred and sixty-seven Chinese coolies, the first of a consignment of 5,000 arrived yesterday, bound for the Mexican ranches of William Randolph Hearst, General Harrison Gray Otis and Harry Chandler, the general's son-in-law of Los Angeles. Immigration officers say 50 per cent of them are afflicted with hook worms, but since they are bound through to another land, they will be carried south on a specially guarded train.

BRIDE IS WIDOWED; MAY ASK OLD JOB

Daughter of Gen. Sheridan Is Wife for Less Than a Day.

New York, Sept. 5.—A hasty marriage at Somerset Wednesday night followed by the sudden death of the bridegroom, T. C. Wilson, ended a romance yesterday, and the happiness of Miss Nellie Sheridan, daughter of the late Gen. Phil Sheridan.

Miss Sheridan was postmistress at Somerset for twenty-five years and she forwarded her resignation to Washington Monday. The ceremony was performed Wednesday night, and the couple expected to leave for Florida for the benefit of Mr. Wilson's health. Early yesterday he was seized with convulsions, resulting from Bright's disease, and his death occurred five hours later.

It is understood at Somerset that Mrs. Wilson will recall her resignation as postmistress.

BANKER'S WIFE LOSES RINGS WORTH $25,000.

New York, Sept. 5.—Two rings worth more than $25,000 were either lost or stolen from Mrs. Frederick Levi, wife of a banker, while she was stopping with her husband at an uptown hotel here on a brief trip to this city from their summer home in Elberon, N. J., last Wednesday. One of the rings is of platinum, claw pattern with a large round white pearl, and the other also of platinum with a large diamond, cut square.

CREDITORS CLAIM EVELYN CAN PAY.

New York, Sept. 5.—Three $5,000 checks signed by Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, Harry K. Thaw's mother, have figured again in the bankruptcy proceedings involving Mrs. Evelyn Thaw. The checks were dated a month ago, but various creditors are trying to prove that she is able to pay her bills.

Mrs. Thaw gave her the checks in 1908, Evelyn said, when she agreed to bring suit for the annulment of her marriage to the slayer of Stanford White, but later stopped payment on them, although her daughter-in-law, so the latter said, tried to carry out her part of the contract. To sustain her contention that these checks were of no value, Evelyn testified yesterday that she had tried to collect on them in violation "for years and years."

Mrs. Mary C. Thaw will be called later to tell about property she is said to have turned over to Evelyn.

HALDANE SAYS HE DECLARED POLICY.

London, Sept. 5.—Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor of Great Britain, who is a passenger on the steamer Lusitania on his way home, sends a wireless dispatch to the Mail, confirming the statement of Francis Rawle, chairman of the committee that received the lord chancellor on his arrival at New York, that Lord Haldane's address before the American Bar association at Montreal was an official pronouncement of the British government's policy.

AERIAL BRIDGE IS OUT OF COMMISSION.

The aerial bridge was shut down yesterday when it was discovered that one of the large propelling cables was nearly worn through. It is estimated that three days will be required to replace it. In the meantime passengers are being carried across the canal by the steamer Plowboy. When the bridge ceased operations the government launch was placed in service by Capt. E. D. Peak of the United States engineering corps until the Plowboy had been secured. This act was greatly appreciated by the public and Capt. Peak was warmly thanked by Commissioner Merritt of the utilities division.

ISANTI COUNTY FAIR.

Will Be Held at Cambridge and Governor Eberhart Will Speak.

Cambridge, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Isanti county fair will be held on the new fair grounds here this year, Sept. 18, 19 and 20. Governor A. O. Eberhart will deliver an address on Friday, Sept. 19. The celebrated Princeton band will furnish music during the fair; baseball between the fastest teams of this and adjoining counties; clean and attractive athletic sports and races for the old and young, people with good prices for winners. The premium list has been advanced and been revised up to date.

Governor at Long Prairie. Long Prairie, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Eberhart will visit the Todd county fair here next Wednesday and will deliver a speech. It is expected he will discuss the proposed public utilities law. It will be his first visit here.

WANT MORE MONEY FOR FARGO ARMORY.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some months ago the committee on the armory-auditorium proposition raised $60,000 and announced that later it would be necessary to secure $25,000 more. The site was furnished by the militia company. Now it is announced that in order to complete the building the way it is desired that $10,000 will be necessary. A meeting will be held for that purpose and it is unlikely there will be any difficulty in securing the additional funds. Considerable progress has been made. The first floor is down and the moulds are made for casting the second floor.

ROBIN HANGED BY CORD MAKING NEST

Body Suspended From High Limb of Big Apple Tree.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Sept. 5.—Hanging from a high limb of a big apple tree east of this city is the body of a robin. Just above the dead bird is an unfinished nest, and interwoven in its construction is a portion of the string from which the bird hangs. In the early morning another robin, the mate of the dead one, comes daily, warbles a few plaintive notes and disappears until dusk, when it returns, sings an evening dirge and keeps a nightly vigil in the tree.

The unfinished nest tells the story of the tragedy. The little home among the leaves was being built on a big limb. It was high where the wind blows strong, and the mother instinct told the feathered housewife the nest should be tied securely to prevent its being blown down as the little ones were rocked to sleep on the swaying limb. Somewhere she found a piece of string and with a grateful trill flew with it to the tree.

It was being wound in and out among the other materials of the nest when a loop slipped over her head. She struggled to free herself but the noose grew tighter and the body hangs from the cord which was to have anchored her home safe among the branches.

COULD NOT STOP THE ELECTRIC RUNABOUT.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 6.—Mrs. J. W. Caswell and daughter were driving in their electric runabout when they found they could not stop. Wearing of the enforced ride, they headed the electric up a steep hill. Miss Caswell applied the brakes and reduced the speed so that her mother could jump out.

The mother telephoned her husband to head off the machine and when the girl drove up the hill again he hopped in and the girl got out. He drove up one street and down another; dinner time passed and still the car rolled merrily on.

After four hours the battery became exhausted and the car "died" on the outskirts of the town.

BIG KILLER OF INFANT MORTALITY OF SNAKES

Michigan Farmer Claims He Is Champion Rattlesnake Snake Foe.

Began Onslaught on Farm of Former Senator Zach Chandler.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 5.—Killing more than 3,000 rattlesnakes in twenty-five years is the record of Charles H. Silcox, a farmer, who claims the championship of the Central states. Silcox, who was formerly a printer and who, when a youngster in the trade, "set up" copy from the pens of Mark Twain and Bill Nye, as well as M. Quad, quit the typesetting business thirty years ago to take up agricultural pursuits in Michigan.

Silcox settled on an island in the middle of a swampy tract of land owned by Zach Chandler, Michigan's greatest statesman. Chandler, when he was a United States senator, bought government scrip and acquired vast tracts of land in the state. The land was composed of marshy ground, much of which was inundated the year around. Some of it, however, was tillable, and Chandler declared that there was a future for it when Michigan became settled and agriculture became an absolutely necessary industry.

Occupies Famous Homestead.
Silcox was hired by the Chandler estate to till the ground that was workable on the island, whereon Chandler and his family had lived for many years and where in the earlier days he entertained statesmen and congressmen extensively. Silcox occupied this old house and cultivated the land about it. He found that the son was a dangerous one every spring on account of the great number of rattlesnakes that infested the lowlands, and which came out on high lands to bask in the sun and thaw out their dormancy.

The first year on the Chandler farm Silcox was nearly killed by a snake which came into the house as he was at work. Silcox, however, succeeded her to remain and assist in the killing, and after a few years were slaughtered the first year. Every year from then on Silcox averaged over 100 rattlesnakes. He is killed as many as ten in one small pile.

"Battling Average" Falls Off.
This spring was his smallest record as he but ten rattlesnakes in the victims of his club. The small number killed was owing to the fact that he moved to a new place on the island, and the snakes were not so numerous. In all the time he has lived near the big waste, Silcox says he has never been bitten nor has he had the misfortune to lose any stock from snake attacks with the exception of once, when rattlers bit a sheep, which died before the usual remedy of gunpowder and soap could be applied.

He has treated a number of cows that were bitten by rattlesnakes in the swamp," said Silcox, "and always found that the snake bite was not so dangerous as the snake bite. The rattler is an honorable fellow, and never strikes behind your back without giving you proper warning. He is more to be trusted than some human beings I have met."

Michigan Rattlesnake Not Frighter.
The Michigan rattlesnake only strikes about six or eight inches and is easy to dodge. He is not a fighter and gives men a free road when possible. The largest rattler I ever killed on the Chandler farm measured three feet and he had a body as big as your wrist. The old fellow had eleven rattlers.

"The number of harmless snakes, such as black snakes, milk snakes, and the common grass or streaked snakes that I have killed on the old marsh would fill a box car. I have paid much attention to them, however. There aren't so many of the poisonous snakes left in the marsh as formerly as the railroads passing through make a difference."

"Sparks from engines set fire to the waste every little while in the summer and this is a lot of trouble. Besides the encroachment of the plow and the burning of the marsh, the driving them into smaller quarters. Soon the rattler on the Chandler farm will be a curiosity."

"FRENCHY" DESERTS LIFE OF HERMIT

Makes Fortune and Is on Way to His Birthplace.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 5.—From the backwoods and the "lone cabin" under whispering pines, to the clanging, humanity-cluttered streets of a great city, after thirty-six years of hermit life on historic Williams Fork, in Grand county, Colo., this is the story of "Frenchy" Ledoux, who was born in Columbus, Ohio.

"Frenchy" was a prospector first, laughed and said, "I was a prospector for a long time. I was asked how the first chapter of hermit life began. 'I left Columbus when I was a kid. I haven't seen my mother since that day, when I was back in '77, when I said to her, 'Well, it's the West for me. I'm not coming until I'm rich. And I kept my word.'"

"Oh, I haven't got so much as some, but I've sold my mine and my little old ranch in the hills for a sum that will make them set up and listen and I'm going back to stay. It seems powerful funny, the street cars and everything. I haven't slept a wink since I struck this town, for the frightful noises that go rattling around me every minute."

"I never wanted to come to the city," he explained. "And I never would if there hadn't been any other way to get to Columbus. I love the city folks, but I hate their cities. I suppose I'll stay back there till I die, one of them, but I hope they'll bury me under the big pine in front of my cabin on Williams Fork."

DRINKS, SMOKES AT 107; STILL HEARTY.

Linton, Ind., Sept. 5.—Joseph Fisher, aged 107, and perhaps the only man living who voted for Andrew Jackson, taken here in a home where he was on his way to Bedford, Ind., where he will make his future home.

He is accompanied by his daughter, aged 78, and his son, aged 65. He is still hearty and uses tobacco and liquor and never was sick a day.

Using the library as a social center, with study clubs and other activities, including a gymnasium, is the method taken by Bedford, Ind., to demonstrate that a library need not be merely a "mausoleum of books."

John Burns Appeals for Babies Against Cats and Dogs.

Would Enlist Interest of Women of Wealth and Fashion.

New York, Sept. 5.—A London cablegram to the World says: Doctors' babies in Great Britain die at the rate of only 40 per 1,000, according to John Burns, head of the local government board, and he asks the children's conference why it is that the doctors of England can't save other people's babies as successfully as they save their own.

"In the case of infants of the upper and middle classes," says Mr. Burns, "the death rate is 100 among 1,000; among artisans it is 100 to 150; among miners, 150 to 200; among agricultural laborers, not withstanding low wages, it is only 97 per 1,000. High wages in themselves are not sufficient to save children; high wages with low wages with good housing and careful surroundings. More wages, unless wisely spent, are a disadvantage. Accompanying high wages in the last fifteen years there has been wilder spending, and one of the things at which foreign visitors marvel is the sobriety of London, considering its size."

Costly Burden.
England's cost of infant mortality and sickness now costs the nation more than $115,000,000 a year, according to latest official figures. In Wales, but not Ireland or Scotland, the death rate is 100 to 150. The population of England and Wales is 31,000,000, of whom about 300,000 are either paupers or are on the old-age pension lists. This leaves something like 28,000,000 of "efficient" population to stand the burden of $115,000,000 for old-age pensions, $75,000,000 for the cost of the old-age pensioners, and $40,000,000 for maintenance of hospitals. More than 31,000 English paupers are classed as "mental defectives" to distinguish them from the insane asylum inmates. The number of mental defectives in pauper institutions have given birth to children in the last five years, and over 600 of them have borne more than one.

THEY ARE CRAZY FOR VACATIONS

English Millhands Spend Hard-Earned Savings in a Week.

London, Sept. 5.—If two or three members of even a moderately well-to-do American family habitually spent between $400 and $500 on a holiday, their acquaintances would be likely to think them some extravagant. Yet, according to an official of a friendly society in the North, the holiday of the English millhand is a thing of the past.

Among the mill hands of Lancashire, it is, of course, the greatest custom. The holiday is a great thing, spending, amount to a craze. The mills there close for a week in August. It is this period that is known as the "wakes," a phrase made famous by Stanley Houghton's comedy, "The Mill on the Floss," and during this time it seems to be the ambition of the workers to spend as much of their hard-earned savings as possible in seeing sights and engaging in other amusements. During the last year the mills have been working overtime, and consequently the workers have laid up even more money than usual for their annual bust.

"It is estimated," said my informant, "that $350,000 has been paid out by saving clubs in Lancashire alone, and thousands of pounds have been drawn from savings banks, and the Preston Co-operative Society bank has paid out $63,000, of which nearly $40,000 went to the workers in one mill."

"Some of the families of the better paid workers, in which two or more members of the family work in the mills, have drawn as much as $450 and $500 for the holidays, all of which will be spent during the week."

This week when practically the whole population of these towns is on holiday, its denizens are scattered from the Scottish highlands to Switzerland—Continental trips, most of the time, are taken. The mill workers, and their left black-burn alone or long-distance excursions of thousands of them," he added.

He added that the nearest approach to a holiday in England is made by thousands more in the Isle of Man, where they drive about in brakes most of the day and dance for hours at night. They rather take a pride in coming home spent, as they term it, and a lot of them would be stranded at the end of the week if they had not taken return tickets.

HUNGRY ALLIGATOR IN ST. LOUIS HOTEL.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 5.—A half grown alligator straight from the Everglades of Florida strolled into the dining room of a local hotel at the dinner hour. Puffing and blowing, it made a bee line for the first negro waiter in sign. Every one of them dropped his tray and scuttled for safety, while the women diners climbed on the tables and the men rubbed their eyes in unbelieving horror.

The alligator was driven back into the kitchen, where it stood its ground and showed fight. Tim Bresnahan, house detective, was forced to shoot him. The reptile is said to have been 15 years old. It will be skinned, stuffed and given to Col. William Walker, manager of the hotel, as a souvenir of big game hunting in St. Louis.

THE PALM ROOM
AT THE SPALDING
MOST DELICIOUS AND LUXURIOUS RESTAURANT IN DULUTH.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 5.—A fox was found to be destroying poultry. The time of the raids, and their boldness, were proof enough that the fox must be a female with young. Poisoned meat was prepared for her, and at once the raids ceased. A few days later one of the workmen of the estate came upon the den of a fox, at the mouth of which lay a whole litter of young ones. They had been poisoned. The mother had not eaten the poisoned food herself, but had carried it home to her family. They must have led in the burrow, for it was evident from the signs that she had dragged them out into the fresh air to revive them, and deposited them gently on the sand by the hole. Then in a fit of perversity she had brought various tid-bits of mouse and bird and rabbit and placed at their noses to tempt them to wake up out of their strange sleep and eat as hungry children ought to eat. Who knows how long she watched beside the still forms, and what her emotions were? She must have left the neighborhood soon after, however, for no one has seen her since about the estate.

Woman's Realm

Two hundred and fifty guests were received at the debutante dance given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. William Frimble at the Spaulding hotel for their daughter, Miss Muriel Frimble. The ballroom was a bower of soft white hangings, with festoons of amilies covering walls and ceiling, and baskets and vases of pink roses lent a dainty color note to the scene. The lights were also shaded in pink and green.

In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Frimble and their daughter were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Shepard of Winnipeg, Miss Irene Wood of Boston, Miss Alice Gaudy of Chicago, Miss Carolyn Mungler, who returned yesterday from Paris, France; Miss Eleanor Merrill, Miss Nina Pennington and Keith Merrill of Minneapolis, all of whom, except Miss Mungler, are house guests of the Frimbles.

The orchestra, screened by banks of palms and flowers, played a delightful program during the evening, and supper was served in the palm and flowered rooms of the hotel between 10 and 11 o'clock. The color scheme of pink and green was carried out in the appointments of the tables there.

LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Van Loo Leaving Duluth. Mrs. K. A. Van Loo of 1022 East First street was hostess at an informal luncheon at her home yesterday afternoon, sweet peas being the flowers used in decorative table. Van Loo will leave Sept. 16 for Rochester, N. Y., where she will make her home, and her son, C. E. Bassett, will leave for that city about Oct. 10.

AT COUNTRY CLUB.

Two Dinner Parties Given. A dinner party for twelve was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Munger of 2320 East First street at the Northland country club and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. O'Connell of 2319 East First street also entertained there at a dinner at which covers were laid for ten.

RECEPTION.

Matinee Musicals Members Will Be Received at Hartley Home. The grounds of the home of Mrs. J. C. Hartley, 1305 East Superior street, will be the scene of a large reception on Saturday afternoon of next week, Sept. 13, for the members of the new Matinee Musicals and those who are interested in the club and its work and who may wish to join. The reception is planned to offer an opportunity for the members to meet the club members and to hear the program of the club.

Owing to the increased membership, the Matinee Musicals has outgrown its present meeting place at the Y. W. C. A. hall and during the coming season the regular programs will be given in the auditorium of the Masonic temple, corner of Lake avenue and Second street.

An unusually fine series of twelve regular programs has been planned with a number of special features including lecture talks, recitals, concerts, the students' frolic and programs by outside artists in addition to the three big artists recitals for the year.

Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hartley were pleasantly surprised last evening at their new home, 429 Seventh avenue east by a number of friends who presented them with a cut glass cream and sugar set. The evening was spent playing five hundred, the prizes going to Mrs. H. B. Spencer, Mrs. A. Dunlevy, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. E. A. Ruggles, A. M. Christopher and George Worcester. Among the guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames: J. W. Getty, A. Dunlevy, J. H. Harris, E. A. Ruggles, F. H. Harris, Geo. Worcester, H. B. Spencer, Richard Pearson, Mesdames: William Worth, Detroit, Mich., Dorothy Worcester, Edith Hutchins, Ed McHugh, Albert Hutchins.

Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown of 230 Montrose avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Alex McLennan of this city. The wedding will take place Oct. 25.

Party at Y. W. C. A.

The girls who work at the Glass Block store will be guests at a Young Women's Christian association party to which clever little invitations have been issued. The invitation reads: "On Tuesday evening the clock will ring and the girls will be planning some fun. A romp in the gym, good music and eat."

Games and a musical program of an entirely informal nature will be featured. The party is being planned for the first of a series of affairs which is being planned for the girls in the different shops and factories of the city.

Observations.

By PEGGY PEABODY

Teach Spending of Money Early. A young man gave his very young wife the sum of $40 one day recently to buy some necessary articles of clothing, as he supposed. It was an amount or some consequence to the young man and one that he could not afford to have frittered away. But that is just what the young wife did with the money. She didn't buy a single thing of any practical use or value, and not a single thing of the things she had intended to purchase when she started out. The young husband is very much in love and he didn't have the heart to complain to the glowing young thing, happy in her first independent shopping tour. He did venture the remark to me that he did not know what he should do if she handled another like amount in the same way. He couldn't afford any extravagance. But extravagance is no more than any young man may expect of a girl whose wants have always been bountifully supplied by her parents and who

The product of any reliable manufacturer will serve the purpose, the Baltimore pharmacist states. He regards an atomizer and such things as mentholated vaseline as of far greater importance than is generally supposed, taking the view that a cold or other trouble is often averted by timely use of either preventative. All of the articles mentioned are in general use and can be applied intelligently by every individual.

MAKING FARMERS OF CITY WAIFS. Bureau of Education: Transplanting homeless boys of 12 to 16 years of age from the crowded districts of the metropolis to the farms of rural New York is the task attempted by the Lincoln Agricultural School of Lincoln, N. Y., according to information received at the United States bureau of education.

This school, which is a charitable institution, takes boys from the city streets, gives them practical training in agriculture, teaches them proper living conditions and then finds places for them with families of farmers, thus helping the boys to find citizenship and giving the state more and better farmers.

Lincoln school is made as different as possible from the traditional "institution." Groups of attractive cottages replace the old-time sheds, huge structure of the cities; instead of the Lincoln Agricultural School of Lincoln, N. Y., according to information received at the United States bureau of education.

Every effort is made to produce a real home environment, where the child develops under conditions as nearly as possible like those of a normal child. The school has a farm of 600 acres, with model dairy buildings and a herd of about 150 cattle. The boys are taught to produce absolutely clean milk and to grow fruit and vegetables by the most modern methods.

Home and social training is emphasized in the Lincoln school. Not only are the boys trained to be good farmers but they are fitted for entrance to the better classes of rural homes. "We feel that our training makes a boy a very acceptable member of society," declares Brother Barnabas, superintendent of the school. "Our aim is to teach the boy to know and respect himself; to give him the means whereby he may be enabled to earn an honest livelihood; to teach him habits of thrift and economy; so that some day from the savings of his income he may become a home owner and live a simple life under conditions which give him correct ideas of the value of his social obligations."

INDIANAPOLIS NEWS: Hereafter when any one forgets to return to the V. R. N. J., free public library a book that he or she may have taken under the rules of the institution, Policeman Hiram Handville, one of the two borough cops, will be set on the trail of the delinquent. Policeman Handville has been instructed by the borough council to make a list of the premises of the delinquent library patrons until the desired books are produced. The shelves of the library have been depleted to some extent lately by failure to return borrowed books.

A SEAMY SIDE, INDEED. Indianapolis News: Ghent, Belgium, has its seamy side, though many visitors will fail to notice it. The proportion of married women who work in factories is in Ghent nearly one to three in the comparative work in two in Liege. In the five years, 1905-1907, Ghent's mortality averaged 23.1 per 100 births as against 15.5 in Liege. Ghent's general death rate per 1,000 is given as 21.7, and in Liege as 15.5. Industrial prosperity, 1,133 Ghent families were receiving poor relief last winter through sickness, disability, old age or winter seasonal difficulties, but on account of low wages and large families.

PLANS FOR SOCIAL CENTER WORK ARE OUTLINED TO MEMBERS OF WOMAN'S COUNCIL

Not Slum Work But an Effort to Bring Out the Community Spirit, Says the Newly Appointed Director.

"Social center work is simply an endeavor to bring out the community spirit and is not slum work," said Miss Marguerite Culkin this morning in her address to the members of the Woman's Council at the regular meeting of that organization at the library club room, with Mrs. E. A. Silberstein presiding.

"In all cities where it has been tried success has been slow and success remains absolute with the people and depends upon their interest and feeling in the matter."

"We can broaden the interest in social center work through the schools by interesting the children and through the parents, through the clubs and organizations which will promote the idea and set the example by using the advantages which are possible for meetings, for exhibits or entertainments, and through individuals who are willing to help in the work."

"Social center work can progress only along normal, rational and practical lines and when the plan is presented in a forced or abnormal manner there can be no success."

"We hope to do no more than to gradually bring out the community spirit and this year we plan to start with a series of lectures for boys and girls in the various sections of the city."

At the coming referendum election, which reads as follows: "Resolved: That the Woman's Council declares its firm adherence to the principle of the law enforcement and its hope that the head of the department of public safety and police will endorse and encourage in his efforts for good order in the coming referendum election."

Miss Dorothy J. Smith, chairman of the committee of the Kings Daughters' society in charge of the new Patrick factory, Twenty-ninth avenue west and Superior street, reported on the opening of the nursery since the women have commenced work at the factory. She said that now 100 women working there and more will be added daily as the equipment is completed and so we expect that our charges will increase in number.

"At present there were but little children there and two more were expected today. All of the four were children whose mothers are widows who work in the factory and one woman told me that she had been obliged to pay $3 a month for her children's care and then she was not sure of the matter."

At the nursery the mothers pay 10 cents a day for one child, 15 cents for two or 20 cents for three under 6 years of age. The children are given oatmeal, rice, or some other food, wholesome food, well prepared during the morning and at noon and in the afternoon they get their naps and are amused in the meantime so that they are happy and clean and well when their mothers call for them at night.

Visitors will be received at the day nursery on Tuesday mornings from 9 to 11 o'clock or Friday afternoons from 2 to 4 o'clock. A resolution of sympathy was passed for Mrs. T. H. Hawkes, one of the council members, and the secretary was instructed to write her a note expressing the sentiment of the council.

The civic study class resigned from the council as an auxiliary class and will be an independent organization in the future, holding its first meeting for this year next Tuesday afternoon at the library club room.

A discussion of the need of recess for the school children and the rearrangement of seats in some of the school rooms to remedy the lighting effects was opened by Mrs. J. T. Watson, chairman of the school committee, and she was instructed to take the matter up with Mrs. Davis of the school board.

EUROPEANS MISJUDGE WOMEN OF AMERICA

Those That Travel Without Husbands Misunderstood, Says M. F. Egan.

Americans who think they are ought to be looked up to by Europeans will find food for thought in the March Century in which appears a very frank article by Maurice F. Egan, minister to Denmark, entitled "Americans and the European Polka." The minister to the European Polka is a woman traveling in Europe with her daughters, says Mr. Egan, thinks she and the girls are mystically protected by the shadow of a husband and father in the background, but there is a type of European, no matter how polite he may be who when he catches his heels and kisses the lady's hand, wonders whether or not he is a husband and a father in the background, and often concludes that independent ladies and their daughters are traveling in Europe not altogether for improvement. Amusement Notes.

"The House of Bondage," a three-part Ray-Lee heads the Lyceum program for the last three days of this week. This photo-drama deals with the slow and headstrong masters of the American who founded colonies at Salem and Boston. Great care is constantly visible in costumes and settings, down to the smallest details, so that there is no doubt of the educational value in this feature. It is a merciless nature of the almost religiously strict. Two of them, a man and wife, whose son is completely ignorant of the time and the place, find his education in England are given in charge of an orphaned girl and her mother. She is a woman of the most dangerous enemy the red man ever had and which has been a destroyer of happiness wherever it has persisted in Americans of today. She survives to prove her hereditary heroic material only to meet an undesired end after showing those participating in the treatment she received. The cast is an excellent one and altogether makes one of the finest pictures ever presented at the Lyceum.

The Kinemacolor program includes scenes in the Philippines, Uncle Sam's fight with the islanders, and a scene in military, also a very funny comedy entitled "Narrow Escape." This program will continue today and tomorrow.

Harry K. Fox recently of the New York Wintergarden, who will head-line next week's Orpheum bill, appeared in Duluth a day or two ahead of time to open his Orpheum tour here, and attended last night's performance at the Orpheum.

Mr. Fox was agreeably surprised at the big Thursday night audience, and the "willing to be pleased" attitude it showed. "It takes three or four years to build up a vaudeville audience," said Mr. Fox. "This is only the fourth season for the Duluth theater, I understand. If this is a fair sample of a Thursday night audience, it speaks well for the kind of shows the Orpheum circuit has been giving here. There are a few cities on the circuit like San Francisco and Los Angeles, where the theater is sold out for fourteen performances a week and you have to buy tickets several days ahead. Another year or two and Duluth ought to be doing a capacity business. This ought to be a good, lively city if you have only 30,000 people and support a vaudeville theater this way."

"It generally takes three or four years for the people of a city to get the vaudeville habit. Each city seems to have some particular taste in vaudeville. In New York, the audiences like what they call 'fly acts.' By that they mean an act full of kidding, nonsense, and eccentric comedy. That is what we gave them in the Wintergarden, and they didn't get enough of it. We have that kind of an act for vaudeville and they liked it just as well in New York. Whether they will like us as well out west remains to be seen. We certainly hope so."

Three more performances of this week's bill will be given this evening, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night. The new bill will open Sunday afternoon.

For the second time this week the management of the Empire theater presents a vaudeville bill that is far above the average and one of the best seen at the local playhouse in some time. Heading the bill is the "Comedy Conservatory," a black-face act by Tom Power, in which four young men introduce some very clever playing, dancing and singing. The act scored a hit at the opening performances yesterday, there being several features of a kind not seen in the ordinary musical acts.

Dick Duffy as C. Sharp, the instructor in the conservatory, made a hit with the audience, as did Happy Gold-on, Frank Britton and Milton Britton. The last two are able musicians and their number on the xylophone, which included a medley of ragtime selections, proved very popular.

Joe Kennedy, in addition to being an able roller skater, has a novel way of introducing some late jokes. Between his numbers, Kennedy manages to talk just enough to let the audience know that he has some good stories. These he tells exceptionally well. Mr. Kennedy closes his act with a clog dance on skates.

Some very entertaining Irish stories and jokes are featured by Ned Melroy in his monologue act. He closes his number with a good exhibition of dancing. Although he has been seen in Duluth on several previous occasions, Dick Crollus in his new feature, "The House of Bondage," scored an immediate hit at the opening performances yesterday. As a race-track tout, Mr. Crollus manages to introduce some new slang. Miss Alice Warwick as Dora Lyons and Clayton Macklem as Robert Rockhill complete the little cast.

Two interesting motion pictures, "To Err is Human," and "The Walters," which close the bill, will continue until Saturday evening, with daily matinees.

A mayor, a son, a political boss and a daughter are four important figures in the feature drama, shown at the Rex today, entitled "The Burning River," which shows the error of the belief that crime is the easiest way to gain success. A little piece of red hot steel in the direct cause of humiliation, shame and disgrace and almost a life sentence for murder. It is interesting to see how well this drama is worked out in the pictures and what such a small thing could have caused.

The comedy on the program features John Bunney, Flora Finch and Lillian Walker, the noted stars, who are popular from coast to coast. The story is of an infuriated wife and a hen-pecked husband. Ma chooses a fast husband for her daughter, Pa, of then the troubles begin. Pa, of in making their escape, the question is, "Which Way Did He Go?"

Another picture is shown, entitled "Howling Jones," in which an English lord "puts it all over" our dear Western cowboys.

COE CRITICIZES

NEW BANKING LAW.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—William C. Coe of Minneapolis addressed the state convention of fourth-class postmasters at the Madison hotel this morning. His subject being the new banking and currency law, which he criticized, chiefly because it would, he claimed, restrict credit and discourage business, and would cause many of the best national banks to forfeit their charters and become state banks.

GET RESULTS NEXT YEAR

State Will Realize on All Its Good Roads Agitation.

Comprehensive Plan to Work on, Says State Engineer.

That Minnesota will at last begin to realize on all its good roads agitation next year, and will finally take its place as a state noted for its fine highways, is the belief of Charles A. Forbes of St. Paul, assistant engineer of the state highway commission, who is in Duluth today.

"We are preparing for the big show next year," said Mr. Forbes this morning. "We will then begin to get the money coming under the Dunn good roads law. It will give the state a fund of about $200,000. The counties will be called upon to raise as much more, so we will have a fund of about $2,000,000 for good roads. This will be in addition to what the counties and townships may spend independently. "The commission has a comprehensive plan for state trunk line roads, extending east and west and north and south, and is trying to get the county commissioners to co-operate in this general plan. I want to say for the county commissioners that they are meeting us more than half way. They realize that the old days of haphazard road building are past, and they want to get results now. They are sending for us and asking for our advice, and they are studying their road problems in a way that was unknown a few years ago."

"I expect to see the Duluth-Twin City road built next year, and also the Duluth-Fort Arthur road. The latter is not being built by the state, but the engineers of the state highway commission are helping in the work of overseeing."

"One of the best features of the Dunn law is that 20 per cent of the fund is set aside for maintenance. This means that a road will not be built and then neglected. It will be kept drained and smooth with the use of the road tax. The appropriation will continue from year to year, increasing with the valuation, and unless the legislature, Minnesota ought to soon become noted for its fine highways, instead of being avoided by tourists. The cause of its reputation for bad roads, as it has been in the past, next year will see the first big step toward a comprehensive highway system."

ARRESTED; GIVES NAME AS A. LINCOLN PENNY.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Lincoln Penny is not worth $25, Lincoln view taken by officials of a local bank resulting in the imprisonment of such a named man on a charge of vagrancy, pending a thorough investigation of mental capacities.

Arrested twice attempting to pass a forged check, he gave his name as A. Lincoln Penny, and insisted that he wasn't joking with the authorities.

DIES IN BUTTE, MONT.
Former Aitkin Woman, Relative of Duluthian, Called in West.

Aitkin, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The public schools here Thursday announcing the death of Mrs. Harriet Vachon, which occurred at Butte, Mont. The remains will be brought here and the funeral held Sunday in the Catholic church. Mrs. Vachon was for many years a resident of Aitkin, and is survived by two sons, Albert and Wilfred Vachon, one daughter, Sherrice Vachon, of St. Louis, and a brother-in-law, Moses Vachon of Duluth.

AITKIN SCHOOL ENROLLMENT LARGE.

Aitkin, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The public schools opened Tuesday, with R. L. Mason as superintendent. The enrollment far exceeded any previous year, and the eighteen teachers were not sufficient for the number of pupils attending. Miss Hosmer of Minneapolis arrived Monday, having been secured after school opened, and will teach in the high school, which has an enrollment of 120 students. An increase in number is also shown in the grades, many new families having moved into Aitkin during the summer. An unusual number of students from the surrounding country have entered.

MONTANAN SHOTS WIFE.
Then Turns Weapon Upon Himself, Dying Almost Instantly.

Fort Benton, Mont., Sept. 5.—W. S. Bryant shot his wife twice yesterday and then turned the gun on himself, inflicting a wound from which he died almost instantly. Mrs. Bryant received one wound in the lungs, but the physicians say she may recover. Bryant was about 60 years old and had been a resident of this part of Montana thirty years or more, most of the time living on a ranch in the Highwood mountains.

Bryant for divorce on his part had been pending for some time, and also a suit for the adjustment of property rights. The shooting was the result of the renewal of an old quarrel.

"TELL IT ALL" ADVISES T. R.

Colonel Writes to Sulzer to Make Clean Breast of Acts.

Denounces Murphy and Those Who Voted Impeachment.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt has advised Governor Sulzer to make a "full and straightforward explanation and answer in reference to the charges made against him in the governor's impeachment."

In the letter replying to the two communications relating to the gubernatorial situation, sent by the governor to the former president, while he was traveling in the West, Col. Roosevelt says:

"You owe it to yourself and to all those who have supported you, to take the earliest opportunity to answer the charges made against you. Governor Sulzer made the Roosevelt letter public without comment. Asked if he would follow the president's suggestion, the governor referred his inquiry to the committee on the impeachment, issued on Aug. 16, three days prior to the adoption of the impeachment resolution by the assembly."

"My explanation will be given at the impeachment trial," the governor declared.

"The Roosevelt letter follows: 'I believe you thoroughly understand the assault that is now being made upon you. I have yet to meet a single person who believes or even pretends to believe that a single honest motive has animated the proceedings of your antagonists. From Mr. Murphy him-

A BIG JOB

"It is as impossible for him to recover as it is to empty the ocean."

These were the doctor's words to the partner of Andrew C. Larsen of Sorenson & Larsen, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Larsen was down with Bright's Disease, was water logged, having been tapped twice, and the doctor advised his partner to fix up his affairs. This was in 1904.

The treatment was changed to Fulton's Renal Compound, and in March, 1905, patient was back to business, to the surprise of his physician and everyone else.

As to permanence, a letter from Larsen dated February, 1911, six years later, said: "I am in perfect health—haven't had a sick day for several years. The Compound cured me and did it right."

We have almost daily reports from new cases either well or recovering under Fulton's Renal Compound. If the books are true no chronic cases are recovering under anything else. If you have Bright's Disease, you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. Druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug Co.

self to the legislators who obeyed his directions, there is no possible question that all of your assailants are the enemies of the public, and that their aim is to acquire the evil domination of the state government, and that the conspiracy against you has not only a saving impulse behind it, but can, in the remotest idea, be ascribed to patriotic or to anything save the basest impulses of crooked politics."

"We have never seen a more startling example of the power of the invisible government under the present system. The extraordinary thing is that the 'conservative' upholders of this present system, should have witnessed the deviousness of the invisible government carried out within twenty-four hours, yet never denounced it as revolutionary, our proposal for changes in the form of government whereby the deliberate judgment of the majority of the voters may be executed within space of time no shorter than that required for the execution of their deliberate judgment in the choice of a president of the United States."

"My Dear Governor:—

"Let me add one thing, my dear governor. You owe it to yourself and to all those who have supported you, to take the earliest opportunity to answer the charges made against you. Governor Sulzer made the Roosevelt letter public without comment. Asked if he would follow the president's suggestion, the governor referred his inquiry to the committee on the impeachment, issued on Aug. 16, three days prior to the adoption of the impeachment resolution by the assembly."

Olivia, Minn., Sept. 5.—A tramp, who refuses to give his name, is in jail here, having been arrested yesterday afternoon, suspected of having murdered William Olson, a thrasher, at Bird Island, near here, early yesterday. Olson's two companions who claim to have been robbed at the time of the murder, have partially identified the stranger.

Olson and two of his employees were at Bird Island Wednesday night. Toward morning, it is said, they went to the railway station, where they entered a box car intending to remain until the arrival of a passenger train. Sometime later, according to Olson's companions, a stranger appeared in the car, and pointing a revolver at the men, demanded their money. After the two men had complied with the demand and when Olson was in the act of taking the money from his pocket, the robber fired two shots into his body. Olson died a few moments later without regaining consciousness.

Olson was a prosperous farmer whose home was at Hector, near here. He also operated a threshing machine during the season.

MORE OF HAYASHI DIARY PUBLISHED.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 5.—That Hayashi and Germany actually did make a compact concerning China in 1905, that Germany did not wish Manchuria to be included in this understanding, and therefore Germany probably did not wish to come into the proposed Anglo-Japanese alliance, are shown in further extracts from the diary from the Count Tadashi Hayashi, former foreign minister of Japan, printed in the Jiji Shimpo of Tokio, under date of Aug. 21, copies of which have reached here.

At that time Prince Ito was in Europe ostensibly on a pleasure trip. During the negotiations he was visited in Berlin by Count Hayashi and told not to negotiate with Russia for amendments to the proposed treaty providing that Japan should have a free hand in the administration of her policy in Korea and providing for the open door, and for the territorial integrity of China.

Concerning the proposition to include Germany in the new triple alliance, Count Hayashi's diary states that this first came from Germany.

WOMAN AVIATOR NEARLY DROWNS.

Santa Ana, Cal., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Florence Seidell of this city narrowly escaped death while flying her aeroplane over Newport bay. The machine dropped into the bay. Caught in the wires, she was kept beneath the aeroplane and thrust under the water, unable to free herself. Rescuers in motor boats extricated her after she had been submerged three minutes. She was taken ashore and resuscitated. Mrs. Seidell was unable to explain the accident.

WILL ADVERTISE FOR JOHN SCHRANK.

New York, Sept. 5.—John Schrank, who shot Theodore Roosevelt last year in Milwaukee and is now confined in the insane asylum in Winnebago, Wis., is to be served by publication with a notice to quit a house in this city, which he inherited from his uncle. The property, worth $15,000, is mortgaged for $13,000, and the mortgagee instituting foreclosure proceedings. Among other things, the notes of members of Congress on legislation affecting the farmers will be published.

The report of the legislative committee, which was adopted, declared against the alien ownership of land and stated that "corporations should be empowered to own more than 10 acres of land."

The agricultural committee in its report stated that the minimum price of wheat, corn, oats and barley on the home market to pay the cost of production and 6 per cent on the value of farm lands in various states, should be as follows: Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma, wheat, $1.05; corn, 75 cents; oats, 50 cents; barley, 50 cents; Western slope states, wheat, 75 cents; corn, 60 cents; oats, 50 cents; barley, 50 cents. The report was adopted.

C. S. Barrett of Union City, Ga., was re-elected president of the organization. Other officers elected were A. V. Swift of Oregon, vice president, and A. C. Davis, Arkansas, secretary and treasurer.

The meeting in 1915 will be held at San Francisco. The place for next year's convention has not been selected.

WIRES MOTHER HER BOY WILL NOT HANG.

Portland, Or., Sept. 5.—"We are not going to let you hang tomorrow," this message was telegraphed yesterday by Governor West to Mrs. Susie Morgan of McMinn, Ky., the mother of Robert Morgan, a 19-year-old youth, sentenced to hang for the murder of Virginia Hart in London, Or., last fall. Governor West said he had not decided whether to reprieve the prisoner or commute his sentence.

PRESERVING SEASON WANTS

Peaches and Pickling Ingredients Are Offered on Michigan Street.

Little Chance for Reduction in Meat Prices in Near Future.

And yet the preserving season is not over. Warning is sent out from Michigan street to the effect that now is the best time of the year to preserve peaches, for the price is at its lowest ebb.

Also the matter of pickling is an important one, for all the ingredients are now available and are about as cheap in price as they will be this year. The pickling season has been on for some time and it is claimed that a lot of stuff has been put up in Duluth this year.

Peaches, in preserving, are the premier fruit just now. The commission men on Michigan street claim that never in years have the preserving peaches been of so fine a quality as they are this season. Strange to say they are not very brisk in moving, people seeming to be busy with the vacation season or something else, for they are not buying the peaches as rapidly as usual.

The Herald was told on Michigan street today that there has been a very heavy run on pickling stuff— heavier than usual—and therefore it is hard to understand the quietness in the matter of preserving fruits, peaches in particular. It was also said that retail grocers are preparing for another heavy run on pickling ingredients next week. Somehow they know the indication, although Michigan street franklin admits that how the retailers know is a mystery down there.

The supply of pickling goods is dwindling, however, and will not be available for much longer. One important item in this connection is that about Minnesota tomatoes. They are now in the market, are low in price, fine as to quality and first rate for pickling. The best time, it is declared, for the making of chow-chow, chutney, chili sauce and all of that highly seasoned stuff is now. Good meat with steaks, cold pork and other meats, is right now, and the home that neglects preserving will have to resort to the factory made, fifty-seven varieties stuff, which means no means like the home-made goods.

Potato Market Strong.

The market for heavy vegetables is about the same as to price and quality as it was last week. The potato market is strong for the reason that receipts are lighter than they were. Sweet potatoes have come into the market and develop all their old-time sweetness.

Washington pears are plentiful in the market and are just as luscious as usual. As a result of the heavy receipts of the pears the prices are very reasonable. They, also, are good for jarring in syrup and will add much to the value of life in the long winter months that will soon be the name of existence.

The first heavy shipments of Tokay grapes have arrived. Just now these are selling high, but lower prices are expected to prevail about the latter part of next week. Michigan Concord grapes are beginning to move freely, but the market is still strong. A reduction in price is expected to develop by next week. Oranges and lemons are about the same, the supply being about even with demand. Apples are weaker on account of heavy receipts, but the consumption is correspondingly heavy. However, that makes little difference with the market for winter fruits and receipts are anticipated.

European meats are the same in quality and price, except the pink meat molons, which are higher. The shipments of these lighter meats have been last week and this delicious edibles is likely to suffer considerably in receipts.

There seems to be little chance for a fluctuation in price in meat, eggs and butter. In meats the scarcity is just as bad as it was and if any change is imminent the tendency is toward higher prices. As to eggs a butter the same conditions prevail that have ruled for some weeks. So far as poultry is concerned no change may be expected for some weeks, as this is a stationary season in that line.

FARMERS DECIDE TO HAVE UNION ORGAN

Minimum Prices of Grain Are Announced By Committee.

Salina, Kan., Sept. 5.—A national official paper will be established by the National Farmers' union. It was decided at the annual convention of the organization, held here, that the interests of organized farmers by disseminating information to the people through a national paper. Among other things, the votes of members of Congress on legislation affecting the farmers will be published.

Questions will be answered by Mr. Roe in this column.

"Mr. Roe: Is it of any use harvesting bulbs of montbretias, wasonias, gladioluses, etc., when the plants do not reach bloom before frost?"

HERALD READER:—I have had no personal experience with montbretias or wasonias, but suppose that what applies to gladioluses would apply to them. You undoubtedly get better gladiolus bulbs for the following year if your plants have blossomed because the new bulb is more nearly mature, but I have frequently taken in bulbs which failed to reach this stage and results have been very satisfactory. In fact, the bulb growers propagate quite largely from bulbets and it often takes three seasons to develop good blooming bulbs. All bulbs of this class should remain in the ground as late as possible so as to ripen well. The first hard frosts kill the tops but do not injure the roots, but they should be lifted before the frost penetrates to the roots. When lifted, shake all earth from the roots.

"To the editor of Homecroft corner:—My blueberries canned three weeks ago are molding on top. What causes this and must I do them over? Also kindly give me a reliable recipe for canning beets."

"Respectfully, 'MRS. E. F.'"

Carefully remove all traces of mold from the tops of jars allowing none of it to come in contact with the fruit beneath. Heat fruit to boiling point, add enough boiling water to completely fill your jars and seal, being sure that jars are perfectly tight. Your fruit was either undercooked or your jars were not quite tight.

Cook beets in a kettle and remove skins, then pack in jars at least to the boiling point. When you remove jars from the boiler to seal fill to overflowing with boiling water. After sealing the jars should be returned to the boiler and boiled for one hour and fifteen minutes. This double sterilization is absolutely necessary for all vegetables except tomatoes. Tomatoes may be treated like fruit.

When jars are returned to the boiler after sealing, the contents are hot and if the water in the boiler is at about the same temperature, there is absolutely no danger of breaking.

W. C. T. U. IN VOTE BATTLE

North Dakota Organization to Open Campaign for Votes for Women.

That Will Be Chief Subject Considered at Forthcoming Lisbon Meet.

Lisbon, N. D., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota W. C. T. U., at its annual convention here on Sept. 25 to 29, will open its campaign for equal suffrage. Suffrage will be the keynote of the entire convention according to the plans announced by Mrs. B. H. Wylie, general recording secretary of the organization. Governor Hanna will be one of the principal convention speakers.

All department superintendents and other officers of the organization will give talks on what they can do for the equal suffrage campaign, and what equal suffrage will do for the various branches of the organization.

The executive committee meets the afternoon of the first day, and in the evening there will be a banquet at which the speakers will include local and visiting guests.

On the morning of the first day of the general convention the election of delegates to the national convention will be held, while a memorial service for those who have died in the past year will be conducted by Rev. Alice R. Palmer of Gaylord, N. D.

Mrs. Ella M. Snow, who has recently returned from the International Sunday school convention, is one of the principal speakers announced.

Mrs. E. Shephard, president of the Utah W. C. T. U., will be the convention speaker. She is one of the best known W. C. T. U. speakers in the West.

Mrs. Preston Anderson's annual address, together with an address by Rev. F. L. Watkins, superintendent of the North Dakota Enforcement league, will be other interesting convention features.

MANY ACRES SOWN.

Large Amount of Cavalier County, N. D., Land Being Used.

Lanzon, N. D., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cavalier county this year has nearly a half million acres sown to crops, with spring wheat well in the ground, nearly half of the acreage being sown to it.

A start is being made in the growing of alfalfa, but there is still less than 200 acres of that product. The acreage is 423,020, divided as follows: Hard spring wheat, 1,035; oats, 10,633; barley, 110,058; spring rye, 120; winter rye, 10; speltz, 135; corn, 842; potatoes, 216; roots, 55; miller, 207; clover, 194; timothy, 2,161; alfalfa, 63; grass, 117; other tame grasses, 111.

NORTH DAKOTA'S NEW LAND COMMISSIONER

MAJOR FRANK S. HENRY.

Valley City, N. D., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The advancement of Maj. Frank S. Henry of this city to the position of state land commissioner is highly pleasing to the citizens of this section. Maj. Henry's fitness is admitted by both friends and opponents. He is regarded as highly efficient.

He is a graduate of the University of North Dakota and is prominent in the ranks of the Grand chancery of the Knights of Pythias and is prominent as an Elk and Mason. He has been connected with the state militia for more than a decade.

He succeeds Alex. MacDonald of Emmons county, who has held the position a half dozen years.

school law. The measure has been ignored except in a few rare instances. Some counties have never invoked it. Each school, in order to have assistance from the state, must show that 80 per cent of the pupils are in regular attendance at school. These facts must be substantiated by affidavits.

The excuses which will exempt pupils from attendance are extreme poverty and destitution or parents' completion of the courses of study by the pupils, physical or mental incapacity, lack of transportation facilities to the schools. Other reasons will not be regarded as sufficient to prevent attendance. Other reasons will not be regarded as sufficient to prevent attendance.

Parents who keep their children out of school are sufficiently heavy to result in its enforcement if the school officers are alert.

PERFECTING PLANS FOR BEMIDJI HOTEL

Will Be Substantial Log Affair and Located on the Lake Shore.

Bemidji, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting this week of the committee having in charge plans for Bemidji's new tourist hotel, it was decided that Frank S. Lyman, hotel keeper, and Harry E. Reynolds, real estate dealer, be added to the committee, and that Tams Bixby's offer of a free site from the Bemidji Townsite & Improvement company and $10,000 cash donation be accepted.

Site on Lake Shore.

The site chosen extends 250 feet along the lake shore on Oakdale beach, and includes, besides a suitable bathing beach, pine, birch and various hardwood trees and also a clearing on which may be located tennis courts, gardens, etc. The hotel is to be built of pine logs and will be about 40 by 100 feet and two stories high, with at least thirty guest rooms. The $20,000 that remains to be raised will be obtained by selling shares of stock in an incorporated company, at $100 a share, and the hotel is to be ready for the 1914 season.

COLUMBUS CARAVELS DELAYED BY WRIT.

Racine, Wis., Sept. 5.—The replicas of Columbus' fleet presented to Chicago by Spain in 1892, remain snugly caged by the Racine harbor while legal action is under way at Detroit, Mich., to prevent the boats sailing for San Francisco to participate in the Panama exposition. BURGLARS' OVERSIGHT.

Take Small Sum From Cash Register Not Seeing $1,000.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 5.—Automobile burglars stole $1,000 in currency from the store of Albert Chapewsky at Newburgh Corners, eighteen miles from here yesterday, but they did not know it. Entering the store, they made off with the cash register. Down the country road a half mile they stopped and opened it, taking therefrom $50 in silver, but failing to notice $1,000 in paper money in the currency compartment in plain sight. Tracing the hands of the automobile burglar, a few hours later Chapewsky found his cash register and the currency safe in a drawer which had been pulled open but not rifled.

POTATOES AT 40 CENTS.

First Carload of New Crop Shipped From North Branch.

North Branch, Minn., Sept. 5.—Four potato buyers have started on the market here this week but the apud are coming in rather slowly yet. Those who have started are J. C. Youngquist for Perill & Co. of Princeton, Louis Larson for C. Ryan Company of Minneapolis, Theodore Waldhoff for Best & Co. of Minneapolis, and Adolph Lilgren for the North Branch Mercantile company.

The North Branch Mercantile company shipped out the first car of potatoes to leave this station this season. The car was loaded with 400 bushels of potatoes. It will be two or three weeks yet before the market will open in full force.

Little Falls—Mike Dronka appeared before Judge Rosecrance in district court this week and pleaded guilty to larceny in the second degree and was fined $20, with an alternative of sixty days in jail. The fine was paid. Dronka was charged with having mortgaged property twice.

Fergus Falls—Rev. Bishop Trobec of St. Cloud is expected to visit this city next Sunday, Sept. 7, to lay the cornerstone for the new Catholic church which is now in process of erection at the intersection of Cavour avenue and Vine street. The services will be quite elaborate and it is expected that there will be about twenty clergymen in attendance.

Red Wing—Within twenty-four hours after his crime was committed, Fred Mende, aged 38, claiming Chicago as his home, pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the second degree, in stealing clothing and other property from the Hotel Denison, was arraigned before Judge Strober, sentenced and sent to the state penitentiary.

Hinckley—Gardner Warden Indrethius made complaint against Theodore Beroun, for shooting chickens out of season. Mr. Indrethius appeared before Justice Webster and pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10 and costs.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Minneapolis—George M. Harlow, a pioneer brick mason, a native of Maine, aged 73, died Sept. 3. Mr. Harlow was married in this city March 4, 1868, to Miss Alice F. Pratt, who with six children survive him: Mrs. Rufus R. Misenheimer of Portland, Or.; Edward I. of Minneapolis; George C. of Portland, Or.; Fred G. of Minneapolis; and Miss Florence Harlow of Red Wing.

Medelia—Capt. William K. Holmes, an old resident of Medelia and well known throughout Minnesota, long in the hotel business here, died Sunday morning in a hospital in Los Angeles, Cal., after a long illness with kidney trouble and paralysis. He is survived by his wife, one brother, Henry Holmes of Heron Lake, and a son and a daughter. His son is Frank Holmes of Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Martin S. Dossett of Medelia is his daughter.

Bemidji—George Miller, who is considered one of the best grain growers in this section, and conducts a farm a few miles southwest of the city, threshed his oats Monday and had a yield of 1,500 bushels from his 20-acre patch.

Thief River Falls—The Soo road has let a contract for the new depot to Bailey & Marsh of Minneapolis, who will commence work on the new building in the very near future. The depot is to be built of brick and to be absolutely fireproof and will cost $25,000.

Duluth Man Pays Warm
Tribute to the Fire Department.

Made Run While He Was Donning Trousers and Slippers.

J. F. Gordon of 1215 East Fourth street, has changed his views on the efficiency of the Duluth fire department.

Yesterday Mr. Gordon knew little of the work of the department, and had no knowledge as to whether it was efficient or not.

Today Mr. Gordon is the most enthusiastic booster the department has.
The change was the result of a little blaze which damaged Mr. Gordon's home and furniture to the extent of about $1,000 at 3 o'clock this morning, and which he says would have totally destroyed his home if the firemen had not made a phenomenal run.
The blaze started in the kitchen, and down to investigate," said Mr. Gordon.
"I telephoned the department, went down stairs and hurriedly put on pair of slippers and my trousers, and when the firemen came in the door, I don't know how they did it so quickly. It was almost uncanny. They made short work of the fire. If anybody wants a testimonial for the fire department, just send them to me."

The origin of the blaze is doubtful, but Mr. Gordon believes it started from a fireless cooker, as there was no fire in the house at the time, and no electric wiring. It started in the kitchen where the fireless cooker was standing, and did about $600 damage to the furniture, and as much or a little more to the house.

coast told of floods that surpassed all previous records. Every stream in the storm-swept section was swollen by the torrential rains, and incalculable damage to crops is expected to result.
Many bridges have been swept away.

Schooner Gone to Pieces.
Norfolk, Va., Sept. 5.—With the telegraph wires still down, it was impossible today to get definite information of the havoc wrought by Wednesday's storm on the North Carolina coast between Cape Hatteras and Ocracoke.

The six-masted schooner George W.
Wells, which went ashore south of Hatteras, has gone to pieces. The twenty men, two women and two infants, rescued from the schooner, were after great difficulty, by the life savers, are being temporarily cared for in the vicinity of the Centake Inlet and Durant life saving stations.
A schooner reported ashore three miles north of Ocracoke turns out to have been a four-masted schooner sighted in distress twelve miles off shore, with her main topmast and bowsprit gone. This vessel is believed to have been the schooner Annie R. Heldritter, heretofore reported drifting helplessly eight miles southeast of Diamond Shoals, with her rudder broken, and otherwise disabled. The revenue cutter Seminole is proceeding to the schooner's assistance.

Worst Storm in Years.
An unidentified oil ship reported ashore near Ocracoke today still was sought.
The storm on the Carolina coast was the most severe in many years. The rivers which flooded the country for many miles have for the first time subsided. Railroad traffic has been paralyzed throughout the extreme eastern section.
Unless the Ocracoke disaster is confined to the loss of life appears to have been very small.

ENVOY TO WASHINGTON

duced an optimistic effect in official circles. The offer of encouragement for a loan to Mexico had been conditioned on the acceptance of the chief proposals made by the United States.
The apparent decision of Huerta to send Senor Zamacona, before word was taken from Washington, was taken to mean today that the Huerta government had, in effect, accepted the American stipulation that Huerta should not be a candidate for re-election.

Though there is no assurance on record positively excluding Huerta from the presidential contest, the Washington government is taking it for granted that he will not run and likely to encourage a loan under conditions that will further the effect of bringing about a cessation of hostil-ties and a constitutional election.
The White House has taken the position, also, with respect to the loan, that if Mexico accepted the American proposals for the establishment of peace in the Southern republic, it would be incumbent upon the United

Pay Ransom and Go Free.
El Paso, Tex., Sept. 5.—A. W. Mc-Cormick, of San Antonio, superintendent, and E. L. Stephenson, of Los Mon-tanos, vice president, of the Palomas & Cattle Company, have been released after the freeholder band of Maximo
Castillo and Braulio Hernandez in Chi-

McCormick is at one of the ranches of tive this morning than usual and the district is quiet.

More Troops to Leave.
More troops will leave for home tomorrow and Sunday, cutting the number to less than 400.

Women arrayed themselves against men in the streets today. Women in families of non-union men have taken an active hand in the cause of their men folk, and are escorting them to and from work. They are determined to "make" the strike. Women sympathizers should any of the latter attempt to interfere. One large, muscular woman, with rock in one hand and club in the other, escorted five men to the mines. She was unmolested.

Some of the women have applied for positions as deputies, but none has been accepted.

Today the streets were patrolled by cavalrymen, infantry and deputies in automobiles.

Darrow Arrives.
Attorney Clarence Darrow of the Western Federation of Miners, here today. Darrow is expected to take charge of the federalist's injunction proceedings in the circuit court Monday, by which it is hoped to restrain Sheriff Cruise from removing counties from employing so-called gunmen.

After a conference at Houghton yesterday, the managers of the miners agreed not to consider a proposal for the settlement of the strike submitted by Moyer. It was the proposal which Moyer framed after a conference with Governor Foxworth at Laramie.
The managers' objection was that the plan does not eliminate the Eastern Federation of Miners, which the operators are determined not to recognize.

Federation officials will urge President John P. White of the United Mine Workers of America to visit this district.

A powerful searchlight is being installed on a tower atop of the watching the mine property at night.

of track within half an hour, he said.
The White Mountain Express made the fastest time of any of them, its time sheet showing an average speed of fifty-two miles an hour just before it crashed into the station.

"Did any of the trains have any information from you, as to how close they were together when the crash occurred?" asked the interstate commerce commissioner.

"No, I didn't think they needed it," replied the dispatcher.

Flagman Never Qualified.
Charles Murray, the flagman, who was sent back to the Harbor Express, testified that he had never been examined for the position, and never qualified for that position.

With Engineer A. E. Miller and Flagman C. H. Murray under arrest and accused by Coroner Mix of criminal responsibility for the fatal crash on the New Haven railroad last Tuesday morning,
Commissioner McChord of the interstate commerce commission began a public investigation today to determine the causes of the disaster.

Elliott Orders Jail Furloughed.
By order of President Howard Elliott of the railroad, bail of $5,000 was furnished Murray today. Engineer Miller is at liberty under a $5,000 bond furnished by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Both Miller and Murray, whose stories as to the causes for the wreck do not agree, it is said, were called as witnesses today before Coroner McChord.

The "private" investigation of the coroner, begun yesterday, and which lasted until midnight last night, continued in the morning. The two men, it was continued today under police protection.

"I do not expect to finish with my witnesses until some time next week," said the coroner this morning. "Then my findings will be made public."

JUDGE ORDERS THAW PRODUCED IN MONTREAL

the hearing room, his automobile primed for a race to the Vermont border whenever some date of deportation had been decreed.

Thaw has been perhaps the least disputed person in the world since shocked and stunned when the habeas corpus writ was issued, but the immigration board's grilling here was so much like the court battles of old that he was unflinching when asked about his mother.

His lawyers were denied writ of prohibition by Superior Judge Hutchinson of Sherburne, and he failed to establish before the board the contention that he had entered the country as an artist, and like "Jack" Johnson, should be allowed to continue to his destination. He could produce no throughticket to any point outside of Canada.

There was in his possession a ticket for Detroit, but, unfortunately, for Thaw it had been purchased as a Coastliner.

Unable to show that he had come into the Dominion at any recognized port of entry, Thaw practically was convicted of entering by stealth, and on this charge alone he can be deported. But on this charge he could appeal to the minister of the interior.

If found of unsound mind now, it is within the discretion of the authorities to deport Thaw to the New York state line, possibly to Rouses Point. This would mean swift return to Matteawan.
Conviction on either of the two charges would mean deportation to Vermont.

Thaw did not arrive here today, and in the absence of any other information it was assumed that her hectic journey to New York City, which she thought yesterday that she was continuing in response to his repeated appeals by telegram.

Crowds Look at Window.
Crowds again came to look up at Thaw's barred windows today. They were not large crowds, rather groups of curious, who slouched against box cars and swapped theories on what was going to happen.

Mrs. Thaw Going to New York.
Cresson, Pa., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Mary Copely Thaw this morning, through her secretary, secured reservations on a fast Pennsylvania train for New York the party to leave here tomorrow. Mrs.
Thaw's further plans were not made known.

GOES TO BEMIDJI.

Former Spooner Man to Have Charge of Lumber Mills.

Spooner, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. L. Isted, formerly of this village, is to be local manager of the Crookston Lumber company mills at Bemidji as soon as his work at Rainy river is completed, where he is at present busy closing up the affairs of the Rainy River Lumber company.

His new position will give him a great deal more of added responsibility, as the Shovel people have purchased the Bemidji Lumber company mill and will take charge of the place this season, so Mr. Isted will be kept busy.

CANADIANS ARREST
JEROME FOR PLAYING
PENNY ANTE

knowledge of the arrest. The belief prevailed that it was due solely to ill-feelings among the townspeople who resented Jerome's presence.

Mr. Jerome, as a specially appointed deputy attorney general of the state of New York, is the leader of the anti-Thaw forces here.

Too Surprised to Talk.
Mr. Jerome was taken into custody at his hotel, the Coalbrook House, by Policeman John Andrews. He was so surprised he could hardly speak. As a matter of fact he had indulged in a penny ante game yesterday with some newspaper men. They used a suitcase for a table and sat in an automobile waiting for the end of the Thaw hearing.

News of the arrest of Jerome swept through the town like wildfire. The Thaw hearing had in the meantime been adjourned.

M. C. Hanson, crown prosecutor for Statenland county, issued the warrant.
He said that Jerome would have some hearing before a magistrate within twenty-four hours.

Charge of One Year in Prison.
The charge is "common gambling on railroad property." The maximum penalty, according to the crown prosecutor, is one year's imprisonment, with no fine.

Though Jerome can be brought up before a magistrate within forty-eight hours, it is possible that he may be held until the forty-seventh hour before being arraigned, according to the prosecutor. Then he will be remanded to jail in Herk County to await the action of the grand jury of the king's bench in October.

Plays With Reporters.
Jerome's arrest grew out of his interview with the reporter with regard to the case yesterday. It sent a thrill through the town and crowds followed the former district attorney to the jail. The reporters were shouting "Ho, ho, ho!"
and "Ho, ho, ho!"

Thaw's lawyers unanimously denied that they were in any way responsible for Jerome's arrest, and Mifflin, although the complaint, said he had accused Jerome of playing cards and that he is a mill hand. He complained to A. C. Hanson, crown prosecutor, that he saw Jerome playing cards and this morning Justice of the Peace James McKee signed the warrant.

Jerome had just stepped from the telephone booth at his hotel when Policeman John Andrews, somewhat surprised and uncertain of what would happen, told him he was under arrest.
Jerome started with surprise, then said gravely and was led away to jail.

Puzzled the Justice.
Hanson, the prosecutor, allowed him and told the justice in no uncertain terms that the prisoner could not be admitted to bail at once, but should be held for twenty-four, perhaps forty-eight, hours. "The old justice was in a quandary."

"I have to look up my lawbooks," he said.
"I demand Jerome's release at once," shouted Hector Vorrety, of counsel for New York in the Thaw proceedings.

McKee fingered his beard and hesitated. Finally he said: "I would have to go to the courthouse and see what could be done."

McKee's finger brought in, and in five minutes the formalities were arranged. Back to the jail he went in the little courtroom, the crowd said a word of derision to Mr. Jerome left the building laughing.

gate Plan of Extending Farm Credits.

A. B. Hostetter, district superintendent of agriculture, has returned from the state fair and is now preparing to devote himself exclusively to his district agricultural work for some time.

Yesterday Mr. Hostetter visited Frammer and installed A. J. Gafke as county agricultural agent in Crow Wing county. Mr. Gafke is a graduate of the Wisconsin school of agriculture and has been instructor in the high school at Sandstone for a year.

County agricultural agents are now at work in all four counties of the district. Fred Johnson is a graduate of the Iowa Agricultural college and taught agriculture in the South St.
Paul high school for a year. Mr.
Jewell is a Minnesota school of agriculture graduate and was in charge of the agricultural work at the Deer
River high school last year.

The county agricultural agents met with the bankers at the state fair and Mr. Hostetter expects good results to come out of the conference.
The bankers enthusiastically inducted the question of farm credits spoke favorably of extending credit to the worthy settler of Northern Minnesota.

Mr. Hostetter and the county agents in his district are interested in the observance of seed corn week, Sept.
15 to 20. The movement is intended to bring about a better selection of seed corn throughout the state. Neighborhood meetings will be held for the farmers and they will be instructed in the proper selection of seed corn, not only for fodder corn, but for sweet corn and other varieties. Mr. Hostetter says that corn production is becoming greater each year in Northern Minnesota and the proper selection of seed is of great importance to the development of corn production.

SUPERINTENDENT FOR COUNTY FARM

Lake County Board Has Appointed John Elkhart to Position.

Two Harbors, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Lake County board this week appointed John Elkhart superintendent of the county farm at a salary of $85 per month for the superintendent and wife. Everything for the house will be furnished by the county. Mr. Elkhart will take up his new duties immediately.

The contract for an electric light plant for use on the poor farm was let to the Fairbanks-Morse company of St. Paul. A bid was also received for paying drayage, freight and installing the plant, the price being $52.25.

In Made State Road.
The county board, having abandoned to the general towns the road running north from the city, the old shore road, formerly known as the central county road, was redesignated as a state road and hereafter all money spent upon the road for maintenance of this road will be under the direct supervision of the county road overseer. This action was taken for the purpose of having the connecting roads between St. Louis and Cook counties passing through Lake county under county supervision. The road in question is the one running to Flood Bay, Silver Creek, Carlson, Corner, Gooseberry river and thence to the shore road, ending at the county line of Cook county. The board will not be making any more improvements on this road this summer, but extensive improvements are planned for next summer. Following the monthly accumulations of bills the board adjourned to meet again in a special session Oct. 7.

VIRGINIANS MUST WORK IN HARMONY

Commercial Club Trying to Get Merchants to Co-operate.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia merchants acknowledge what has often been said, that they are each for themselves and that they fail to cooperate for the good of the city and the commercial club proposes to undertake the work of forming and fostering an organization of retail merchants which will work in harmony with the club. At a recent meeting of the club well known merchants made the statement that they were not working together, but that they were each for themselves. The commercial club will work with the merchants and the special committee in the act-together movement.

To Unite Merchants.
President W. J. Archer will appoint a special committee which will have in hand the matter of getting the merchants together. Four of the large dry goods stores now have a working organization and it is proposed to extend this to the other stores. MILITIA PLANNING ON HAVING SHOOT Range and Duluth Companies Expected to Compete With Rifles Soon.

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A big militia competition shoot is being planned by members of Company M of Hibbing, to take place in Duluth, either Sept. 14 or 15.

The plan as outlined by Lieut. J. L. Lewis is that rifle squads of the five teams will take part in the shoot. Company F of Eveleth, Companies A, B and C of Duluth and Company M of Hibbing, shall take part in the tournament and make it a very friendly shoot.

A tournament of this kind will also take place to boost the game among the different companies of the militia. The last annual trophy was won last year by the Duluth team. There are no more to be shot for this year.

THREE MEN INJURED AT TWO HARBORS

Two Fall Into Ore Pockets and One Hurt in Railroad Yards.

Two Harbors, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Paul Rapapic, laborer on the ore docks, met with a serious accident Wednesday morning. He had been assisting in loading a boat and was working along the center of the dock. There was a string of cars standing on the north side of the dock, the last car being spotted over the end of the dock in the approach. Rapapic evidently thought the car was "spotted" over the dock and started to walk on it. He fell into the ore pocket and was injured. His left wrist was fractured and he sustained a large cut over the left eye. He was removed to the Budd hospital.

James McCort, switch engine foreman who has been employed here for a number of years, met with a very painful accident Wednesday morning. He was dropping four more out of track No. 6 and was in the act of setting the wheels when the car broke and fell into the ore pocket. He was injured and his left arm was broken. He was removed to the Budd hospital.

WILL SUPPORT LIQUOR CODE

State President of W. C. T. U. Will Speak in Its Favor.

Miss Rosette Hendrix of Minneapolis, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, will be in the city next week and lecture in the interest of the Hicken liquor ordinance, according to plans made yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the West Duluth W. C. T. U. held at the West Duluth Public library.

Miss Hendrix intended coming to the city the latter part of the month for the purpose of assisting in organization work at the Lakes. A committee consisting of Mrs. Alfred Jaques, Mrs. David Adams and Mrs. Joseph Cochran was appointed to ask her to be here next week and also to plan a series of public meetings for her.

Reports of delegates to the state convention recently held at Alexandria occupied the attention of the members at the meeting yesterday afternoon. The reports of the convention were given by Mrs. Jaques, Mrs. J. T. Culbertson and Mrs. Joseph Cochran. A total of 100 delegates had been elected from 100 small towns in Minnesota had gone dry during the past year.

Mrs. J. H. Earle of Patoma, Cal., gave a short talk in which she mentioned the benefit of women's suffrage in the state of California. She said that women in every walk of life had benefited by the ballot and that much legislation in favor of women had recently been passed in the California state house. Some of the bills passed gave women rights which had been enjoyed by women in other states for many years. Among these were labor laws regulating the hours of labor for women.

The appointees to have charge of the various departments of the local prohibition league were announced. The following will be superintendents of departments: Evangelistic, Mrs. D. J. Gray. Sunday school work, Mrs. G. W. Smith; assistant, Mrs. Ruth Morrison. Literature and Union Signal, Mrs. B. H. Smith. Home mission and charity, Mrs. J. P. Swangle; assistant, Mrs. H. H. Phelps. WOULD AGREE ON VIADUCT PLANS.

The West Duluth Commercial club will take up the plan of getting the city and officials of the D. M. N. together for the purpose of getting on where to place the viaduct under the railroad tracks to connect the Getchell road with Highland street. The crossing now being used is said to be a ledge of rock and the excavations for the highway at this point will cost a great deal of money. The club members will ask that some other point near this intersection be used and that condemnation proceedings to acquire a right-of-way for this other route be started.

TALE OF CRUELTY OBTAINS DIVORCE.

Marie F. Jespersen's tale of cruelty and of broken wedding vows won her a divorce from Holger G. A. Jespersen in district court before Judge Ensign yesterday. The Jespersens are West Duluth people. They are both 27 years of age.

Mrs. Jespersen testified that they were married four years ago at Omaha and that hardly two months had passed before Jespersen began to treat her wedding vows he had ever made. On two occasions he knocked her down and raised her by the neck of her dress until she was black and blue. In 1912, determined to stand his cruel treatment no longer, she left him. There are no children in the family and the court allowed her to resume her maiden name, Frank.

In securing a decree for Mrs. Jespersen, Attorney Harry Fisher White, third assistant attorney, yesterday tried his first divorce case here.

Hear From Widow.
Mrs. Jule Dahlbak will arrive in Duluth on Sunday evening from Canada. Word was received from her last evening by Undertaker M. J. Eliasson. The funeral for her husband will probably be held with interment in Onocota cemetery.

Mrs. Dass Dies.
Mrs. Isabelle Dass, 44 years old, 6319 Sherborne street, died this morning at St. Mary's hospital after a short illness. The body was taken to Filiatrault's undertaking rooms from where funeral arrangements will be made. She is survived by her husband, James R. Dass, two sons and a daughter.

Indorse Liquor Code.
The Hicken liquor ordinance received the unanimous support of the Swedish-Finnish Temperance society of West Duluth at its meeting at the Dormitory hall last night. A resolution was adopted in which the lodge pledged its support to the ordinance at the polls on election day.

The following was the resolution: "Whereas, the voters of the city of Duluth will, on Sept. 16, be called upon to vote to show whether or not they are in favor of continuing the present strict enforcement of the liquor laws, by a special election on the so-called Hicken liquor code, and

Whereas, this election seems to have been brought about by the liquor interests and therefore is plainly a question of law enforcement versus lawlessness for the city of Duluth, be it

Resolved, that we, the members of the No. 37 of the Swedish-Finnish Temperance Association of America, pledge ourselves to aid in every way possible the action of said ordinance, which we deem to be for the best interests of our city."

DRINK CAUSE OF DIVORCES

Four Wives Are Given Their Freedom From Intemperate Husbands.

Demon rum is an effective home destroyer, according to the stories which unhappy wives brought to the divorce court this morning. Care-worn mothers and heart-broken wives all declared that love and liquor would not mix and asked for separations from drunkard husbands. Since yesterday noon, four decrees have been granted to wives who have husbands addicted to the liquor habit.

"Don't your husbands get drunk?" asked Attorney McCoy of his client, Maria Snura, aged 47, who sought a divorce from Stanley Snura, 3, barber. "Paralyzed," was her answer. She then related how she had set out to meet him every Saturday night and often had to wait outside saloons until 2 o'clock in the morning before he would come out.

Tom Snura, brother of the defendant, who is engaged in the barbering business with Stanley, bore out his sister-in-law in her account of his brother's tendencies. "He used to get loaded twice a week—Wednesdays and Saturdays—regularly until Hicken came in," he told the court. "Then he got sober for a few days and Saturdays were the big days in the barber shop."

"We used to close up shop now until 11 o'clock and by that time the saloons were closed," he testified. Judge Fessler granted Mrs. Snura a divorce and allowed her $5 a week alimony. She was also given custody of their only child, Stanley, aged 6. They were married in Superior on July 4, 1904. She is 37 and he is 31.

Judge Ensign granted the decree. John F. Kieley, teamster and auto truck driver, used to account for his money being gone day after day nights with a story that he had been robbed. Julia M., his wife, has now detected liquor on his breath and the robbery story didn't go.

In district court this morning she told Judge Ensign that Kieley came home drunk every time he got paid and that most of the money went for liquor. She claims that she stood it as long as she could and then left him, taking their 5-year-old son with her.

"I told him that he had been robbed for the last time," she said. It was last September.

Since then Mrs. Kieley has been employed as a waitress and has supported herself. Kieley has been working at Superior but has been living at the Clarendon hotel, Gerald avenue and Superior street. They were married in Superior on July 4, 1904. She is 37 and he is 31.

Judge Ensign granted the decree. Oscar W. Bergquist, who was granted a divorce by Judge Fessler this morning, is a carpenter, 50 years old. He is 47 years of age and mother of four children: 10, 17, 18 and 19. The Bergquists were married on April 4, 1888. Mrs. Bergquist claimed that he was a drinking man and that they did not get along together and that he spent his money for liquor. Since that time she has supported the family by working as a practical nurse.

Mary Johanson, aged 50, was granted a divorce yesterday afternoon from Andrew Johanson, 58, on the grounds of drunkenness and desertion. She is a homemaker at Skibo, Minn.

Sanna Hanganmaa, 37 years old, was given a decree of divorce by Judge Fessler yesterday from Jaakko Hanganmaa, 37, on the grounds of desertion. They were married in Finland thirteen years ago, and are parents of one child, Eva Maria, aged 12, who is in the custody of the mother.

PATRICK RIVERS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Patrick Rivers, recently released from the state penitentiary where he served twelve years of a twenty-year term for the killing of Thomas Geahagen in this city on Oct. 13, 1901, is defendant in a divorce action which has been filed in district court by his wife, Kate Rivers.

The trial of Rivers for the murder of Geahagen, or as he was better known, Hogan, was one of the most famous murder cases of the country. Rivers was indicted for murder in the first degree, but the jury found him guilty of manslaughter in the first degree. Judge Ensign sentenced him to twenty years at Stillwater.

SUFFRAGETTES FIRE SCHOOL FOUNDED 1919

Dulwich College Blaze Discovered Before Damage Grows Serious.

London, Sept. 5.—Dulwich college, a famous school in a southern suburb of London, which was built in 1870 at a cost of $500,000, was set on fire in two places early today. Suffragette literature was found pinned to trees in the vicinity with women's hat pins. A watchful policeman discovered the blaze in time to get three fire brigades on the scene before serious damage had been done.

Dulwich college, known as "The College of God's Gift," has been in existence since 1619, when it was founded by Shakespeare's friend, Edward Alleyn. It provides higher school education for over 600 boys.

NEW YORK FIREMEN IN ANNUAL PARADE

Memorial Monument Is Unveiled as Part of Exercises.

New York, Sept. 5.—A column of firemen two miles long swung into Upper Broadway this afternoon, and in lines of eight marched leisurely to One Hundredth street and Riverside drive. The powerful motor apparatus, its sirens stilled, loomed lazily in the marching ranks. The finest horses of the local department, sleeked to the pink of condition, pulled hard on their bits, impatient to streak through the streets and away to the fire. But there was no fire.

It was the annual firemen's parade, arranged as a feature of the closing hours of the convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers.

ROCK SLIDES HALT CANADIAN TRAINS.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 5.—Because of heavy rock slides on the west slope of the Rocky mountains, several Canadian Pacific railway passenger trains are tied up in the mountains on the main line. Unless the slides are cleared within the next twenty-four hours, a long detour will be necessary to enter Vancouver.

CIVIC MEETING IS TO GO TO ST. PAUL.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—St. Paul was selected for the first annual meeting of the Minnesota League of Municipalities, which will be held Oct. 16 and 17. Members of the executive committee, at a meeting at the University of Minnesota, today accepted St. Paul's invitation, extended last month. The question of a public utilities commission will be the subject of the first day's sitting.

M'ALPINE CASE IS BEFORE SEPTEMBER GRAND JURY

The September grand jury is today considering the McAlpine case. Judging from the witnesses who were seen entering the grand jury room, the jurors spent the greater part of the morning considering the circumstances surrounding the shooting of John McAlpine. All of the witnesses who were examined before the coroner's jury, including Mrs. John McAlpine, Dale McAlpine, Mrs. Dale McAlpine, Margaret Bergen, the maid; the coroner and the undertaker, were present in the courthouse. The grand jury will make a report at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and may make some recommendation in the McAlpine case at that time.

WANT FERRIS ON ARBITRATION BODY

Moyer and Darrow Make Proposals as to Copper Strike.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 5.—During their conference with Governor Ferris Wednesday with reference to the strike situation in the Michigan copper mining district, President Charles H. Moyer and the Western Federation of Miners and Clarence S. Darrow, acting as counsel for the strikers, agreed to set forth in writing their demands in case arbitration of the labor difficulty is attempted. Their stipulations were received today. They suggest that the mine operators select two members of the arbitration board, the strikers select two members and that Governor Ferris act as the fifth man. If the governor should be unable to sit as a member of the board, he is requested to personally select his substitute. The strikers want the men to have the right to organize and submit all their differences to an arbitration board. Pending a disposition of the case, they want the former employees taken back under the old terms, and if the arbitration board increases the wage scale, the men are to receive the benefit thereof from the time of their return to work. Should arbitration fail, Attorney Dar-

SHOULD NOT DODGE DUTY

Every Citizen Should Join Commercial Club, Says Speaker.

Fifteen Committees Will Begin Campaign for New Members.

The good citizen must be a member of the Commercial club and a participant in its work, W. A. Moore told the membership workers of the Commercial club at a meeting of the club last evening.

Mr. Moore was the principal speaker at the meeting, which was called for the purpose of laying final plans for the membership campaign to be conducted next week.

"An appeal to civic pride should win the membership in the Commercial club," said Mr. Moore. "The club is doing public work and the man interested in the progress of the community should participate in it. We do not have to advance arguments. The facts speak for themselves and are the most eloquent argument. Every man who has been a member of the club during that period he has reason to be proud. There is more work to be done and no business man should put aside the opportunity to participate in it. A man can't sit up there waiting to work for his city, but his duty lies in giving aid of his time, effort and spirit to building up the community in which he has his home and interests."

A. C. Kienly, chairman of the membership committee, explained the plan of organization for the campaign. Fifteen committees have been chosen and each team will select its own captain. Bulletins showing the progress of the campaign will be sent out daily and keen competition is expected to develop among the teams.

Next week every member of the Commercial club and every man who is interested in the progress of the city with a button to show his participation in public work. The buttons will be worn by the business men who will offer a standing invitation which will be accepted with alacrity by the membership workers.

The members of the fifteen teams are as follows:

Team No. 1—W. J. Betting, L. R. Wally, H. H. Strassburger.
Team No. 2—E. F. Spink, F. G. Hansen, J. R. Grant.
Team No. 3—W. C. Allen, O. E. Ambrose, W. A. Witt.

Examination for Chauffeurs
An examination for chauffeurs will be held Saturday, Sept. 13, in the council chambers. All unlicensed chauffeurs and others will be allowed to take the test. The examination will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Pleads Not Guilty
Chris Campbell was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of defrauding Mrs. Isabel Nelson, 6702 Polk street, out of his room and board bill, which amounted to $25. Campbell was taken into custody by Patrolman Winters and was arraigned before Judge Windom yesterday afternoon. He pleaded not guilty and his case was set for 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Case Is Dismissed
Judge Windom yesterday dismissed the case of John Ranta, Hjalmer Saine and Edw. Saine against the Alger-Smith company, the plaintiffs having brought suit against the wrong company. The three men were suing for wages alleged due them for work done last fall.

Couldn't Eat Got Drunk
The reason why Dan Jones got drunk yesterday was because his teeth were being fixed and he was not able to eat. At least that is what he told Judge Windom when arraigned on a charge of drunkenness this morning. He promised to leave the city this evening and sentence in his case was suspended.

Bids Must Be in Tomorrow
The highest bidder will get the Anglo-Foran rug given the sidewalk test at Gray's. Send in your bid.

Dental Office Thief Traced
The dental office of Dr. Paul Hagen of Crookston was robbed Monday night and considerable gold and platinum stolen, according to a report received here by Chief Troyer this morning. It is believed that the theft was committed by the same man who operated in Duluth two weeks ago. Five dental offices were entered at that time.

Gets Grading Contract
A. Bodin was the only bidder on the job for the grading and graveling of Eleventh street, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth avenues west. His price was $2,249.24. The works division plans to have the work done this year.

New Company Incorporated
Articles of incorporation were filed this morning by the Italian Trading company, a new mercantile concern which will engage in business at Virginia. The capital stock of the company is $25,000 and the incorporators are Frank Crunella, Massimo Lenzi, Alessio Cuppottelli, Ruffino Cerquellini and Cesare Sfondari, all of Virginia.

Leaves Cafe
Emil Hollander, formerly chef at Blackwood's cafe, has leased the cafe formerly known as the Bismarck, downstairs at 208 West Superior street, which was closed some time ago. The place is being renovated and Mr. Hollander expects to open tomorrow.

Brakeman Missing
Chief Troyer has been asked to locate Wm. E. Emmons, 22 years old, who has been missing from his home in Kansas City for several weeks. Emmons is a railroad brakeman and is believed to be employed on one of the local roads.

Come to Cool Off
Mrs. W. M. Grosh, wife of the superintendent of sleeping and dining cars on the Soo line, and Mrs. P. D. Neat, wife of the superintendent of Pullman cars at St. Paul, were in Duluth yesterday to get a little fresh air. They came from the Twin Cities, where the thermometer was stuck up in the nineties. They were greatly refreshed with their day in Duluth, they said.

W. A. Pittenger and D. J. Erickson have opened up law offices in the Sloan building, 332 West Superior street, West end.

TELL ABOUT WELFARE WORK FOR MINERS

West Virginia Men Testify as to Coal Field Conditions.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Steps taken by West Virginia coal mine operators in the Paint creek and Cabin creek fields to better conditions surrounding their employees were related to the special committee investigating the prolonged strike which ended about a month ago.

J. W. Heron, chairman of the coal allotment commission for the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, testified that everything possible had been done to protect the lives of miners and improve their surroundings.
The United Mine Workers sought to show that the mining laws of the state had not been carried out.
George K. Cabell, manager for several coal mines in the state, asked aid of support given the churches and the Young Men's Christian association and provided moving picture entertainments for the miners.

Tomorrow Is the Last Day to Bid on Rug Over Which 103,211 People Tread

Get your bid in at once. You may buy the rug at your own price, providing yours is the highest bid.

You can see the rug on our floor at the Rug Department. It's a genuine Whittall Anglo Persian Rug. You can compare it with a new one of the same design and see how wonderfully well it stood the Sidewalk Test.

The bidding is lively and we know that someone will get a mighty good rug at a bargain. Bid up if you want it.

The Art Department Will Be Especially Interesting Tomorrow

Many very clever novelties have just been unboxed. We also announce the arrival of a big import order of D.M.C. thread. To make this an especially notable event, we will reduce prices on several numbers that are in great demand! So make sure you get your share of the D. M. C. before assortments are broken!

And note the new ideas in fancy work

Very Distinguished Hats For Discriminating Dressers

You will want to put one of these smart little hats on and walk off with it the moment you see them.

Summer sun and showers have perhaps made your straw hat a little worse for wear, and right now there are hats ready for you who want the new things. Trim little shapes in attractive colors. Prices, $4.50 to $14.00.

It is not what you pay—but the style you get that makes the hat attractive—and you get real "s-t-y-l-e" here. See the new models on display in our show-room and our windows.

There's Sure Shoe Satisfaction for Particular Women Here

For one thing, there's an assortment of new styles that embraces the smartest shoes known to Fashion.

And then—there are such varied assortments of sizes and widths that we've got a shoe to exactly fit your foot!

And furthermore, our shoe people are expert fitters—they take pains to fit precisely. We don't want to risk losing a customer by hurried or careless fitting.

You can send a child here and we'll take care that the shoe we sell is the shoe you'd select if you yourself came along.

The women's dress shoes are here in dull, patent or suede leathers. There are tans, blacks, browns or grays, in various models at $3.00 to $6.00 the pair. Uncommon quality every time.

Announcing Important Arrivals in Wooltex Coats and Suits

You like refined styles—which, while distinctly fashionable, are still desirably uncommon.

That's why you and other good dressers gave us such a grand business in Wooltex garments last season!

And that is why this news is so very important to you.

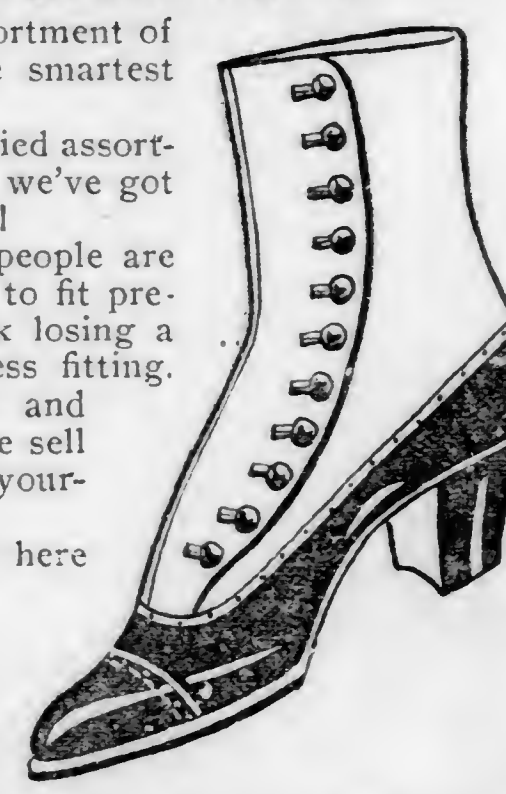

The very latest Wooltex ideas in coats and in suits are rapidly coming in—and in the higher priced numbers there are so few of a kind—and so charmingly "individual" by reason of "special" little touches that the woman who has thought she must pay $80 to $100 to a custom tailor, may safely choose a Wooltex and save half what she usually spent.

And the woman who wants to spend $25 to $35 for a suit will find here the styles which will soon be featured in the magazines as America's best for the money.

And the coats at $15.00 to $50.00 are surely wonderful examples of Wooltex value giving!

What we'd like to do is to show you.

Take a look at the Arcade windows—see the new styles there—but better yet—come up and try some of them on.

THAW'S CASE ON WAY TO PRIVY COUNCIL AS RESULT OF NEW MOVE

Application for Bail Will Be Next Step at Montreal.

"Thaw Will Be Deported," Says Immigration Commissioner.

"We Licked Jerome; No Deportation," Declares Laflamme.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—An application for bail will be the next move by the lawyers for Harry K. Thaw who yesterday succeeded in securing from Justices Cross and Gervais a writ of habeas corpus returnable in Montreal Sept. 15, and an order preventing the immigration officials from deporting Thaw.

Attorneys Greenshield and Laflamme in their argument yesterday attacked the constitutionality of the colonial immigration act as a contravention of the natural law granting every one the right of free locomotion, and as abusively made use of by the immigration officials in that they had seen fit to sit on a board of inquiry without any complaint having been lodged with the minister of the interior, as prescribed.

The local contingent from Montreal handling Thaw's case, accompanied by "Gentleman" Roger Thompson, the chauffeur who drove the rescue car from Matteawan, returned on a special train this morning from Montreal.

While the Thaw lawyers declined to commit themselves to the belief that they quietly will appear in the court of king's bench either today or Monday and make their appeal for bail.

Headed for Privy Council.

In legal circles here the belief is held that the Thaw case is now safely launched on its long trip to the privy council. E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of the Dominion line, said he thought the case would be heard by the privy council.

ALMOST GOT THAW BACK INTO JEROME'S HANDS

JOHN BOUDREAU Of Coaticook, Que.

Coaticook, Que., Sept. 6.—J. Boudreau, who arrested Harry Thaw, is the entire uniformed police force of Coaticook. Boudreau made the complaint on which Thaw was detained at Coaticook. The process issued on this complaint was defective and the justice of the peace refused to have it dismissed. As the justice refused to do so, Jerome persuaded Boudreau to ask a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that as a party to the complaint he should be held responsible for damages for Thaw's detention.

PART OF WOMAN'S BODY IN HUDSON

Nude Torso With Legs Cut Off Discovered in River.

New York, Sept. 6.—Part of the trunk of a woman's body was found yesterday on the west shore of the Hudson river, near Cliffside, N. J. It had been in the water only a short time. The legs had been severed near the hips in a skillful manner. The body was unclothed and there were no clues to the woman's identity.

STEAMER ASHORE ON CONNECTICUT COAST

Passengers Are Transshipped From Middletown to Bridgeport.

South Norwalk, Conn., Sept. 6.—The steamer Middletown, bound from Hartford to New York, was grounded early today on a ledge south of Coos Bay, three miles from Norwalk. She has 450 passengers aboard. The steamer is in no danger.

The Middletown's 250 passengers were transshipped at sea to the steamer Bridgeport without mishap. The Bridgeport started at once for New York.

Four tugs were sent to the assistance of the stranded vessel.

ROOSEVELT TELLS OF HIS COMING TRIP

Part of Time Will Be Spent in Forests of the Amazon.

New York, Sept. 6.—Col. Roosevelt announced in brief the plan of his coming trip to South America. The colonel said he would leave Oct. 1 and go direct to Rio Janeiro. From there he will go to Sao Paulo, Buenos Ayres, Cordoba, Bahia Blanca, Valparaiso and back to Santiago.

He expects also to make a tour through the Amazonian forest, accompanied by two naturalists. This part of the journey will be under the direction of the American Museum of Natural History.

STEAMER BURNS AT PHILADELPHIA DOCK

Fire Is Extinguished Only When Vessel Sinks.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—The steamship Penn of the Edinboro line, which operated between here and Baltimore, was today destroyed by fire while tied up at one of the Delaware river wharves. The only persons on the boat at the time were the captain and thirty-one of the crew. All escaped in safety.

The Penn was flooded by city fire engines and fire boats and the blaze was only extinguished when the boat sank at its moorings. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

COATICOOK JUDGE RAILS AT JEROME

Lawyer Fails to Appear and Gambling Case Is Continued.

Hires Crown Prosecutor to Conduct His Interests.

Thaw Would Go on Bonds for His Pursuer.

Coaticook, Que., Sept. 6.—William Travers Jerome, arrested in Coaticook yesterday on a charge of gambling, was bitterly denounced by justice of the Peace James McKee in his court room today.

The gray-bearded magistrate was very indignant when Jerome's counsel announced that the New York lawyer could not be present today, and asked an adjournment of the hearing of his gambling case.

"I want to say," cried McKee, banging the table with his fist, "that we intend to prosecute Mr. Jerome to the full extent of the law. He ought come here and play his card games before our children! This may be a suburb town, but we intend to enforce our laws. Our relations with the American bar are cordial, but justice must be meted out in this case."

"Allowed" Bail Should Stand.

The court then suggested that Jerome's bail be forfeited.

"That would only hit two of our citizens who went on it," said Mr. Hanson, the prosecutor.

The justice then "allowed" that he would let the bail stand. He put over the case until Sept. 11.

There was a crowd of about sixty persons in the courtroom to listen to the magistrate's tirade. They stamped their feet and applauded vociferously.

Jacob Nicoll of Sherbrooke, crown prosecutor for this district and as such the superior of John Prosecutor Hanson, appeared, strangely enough, for the defense.

In Sherbrooke he aided counsel for New York in their successful fight to get Thaw out of jail. Arriving here (Continued on page 2, third column.)

DAY MAY BREAK THE STATE FAIR RECORD

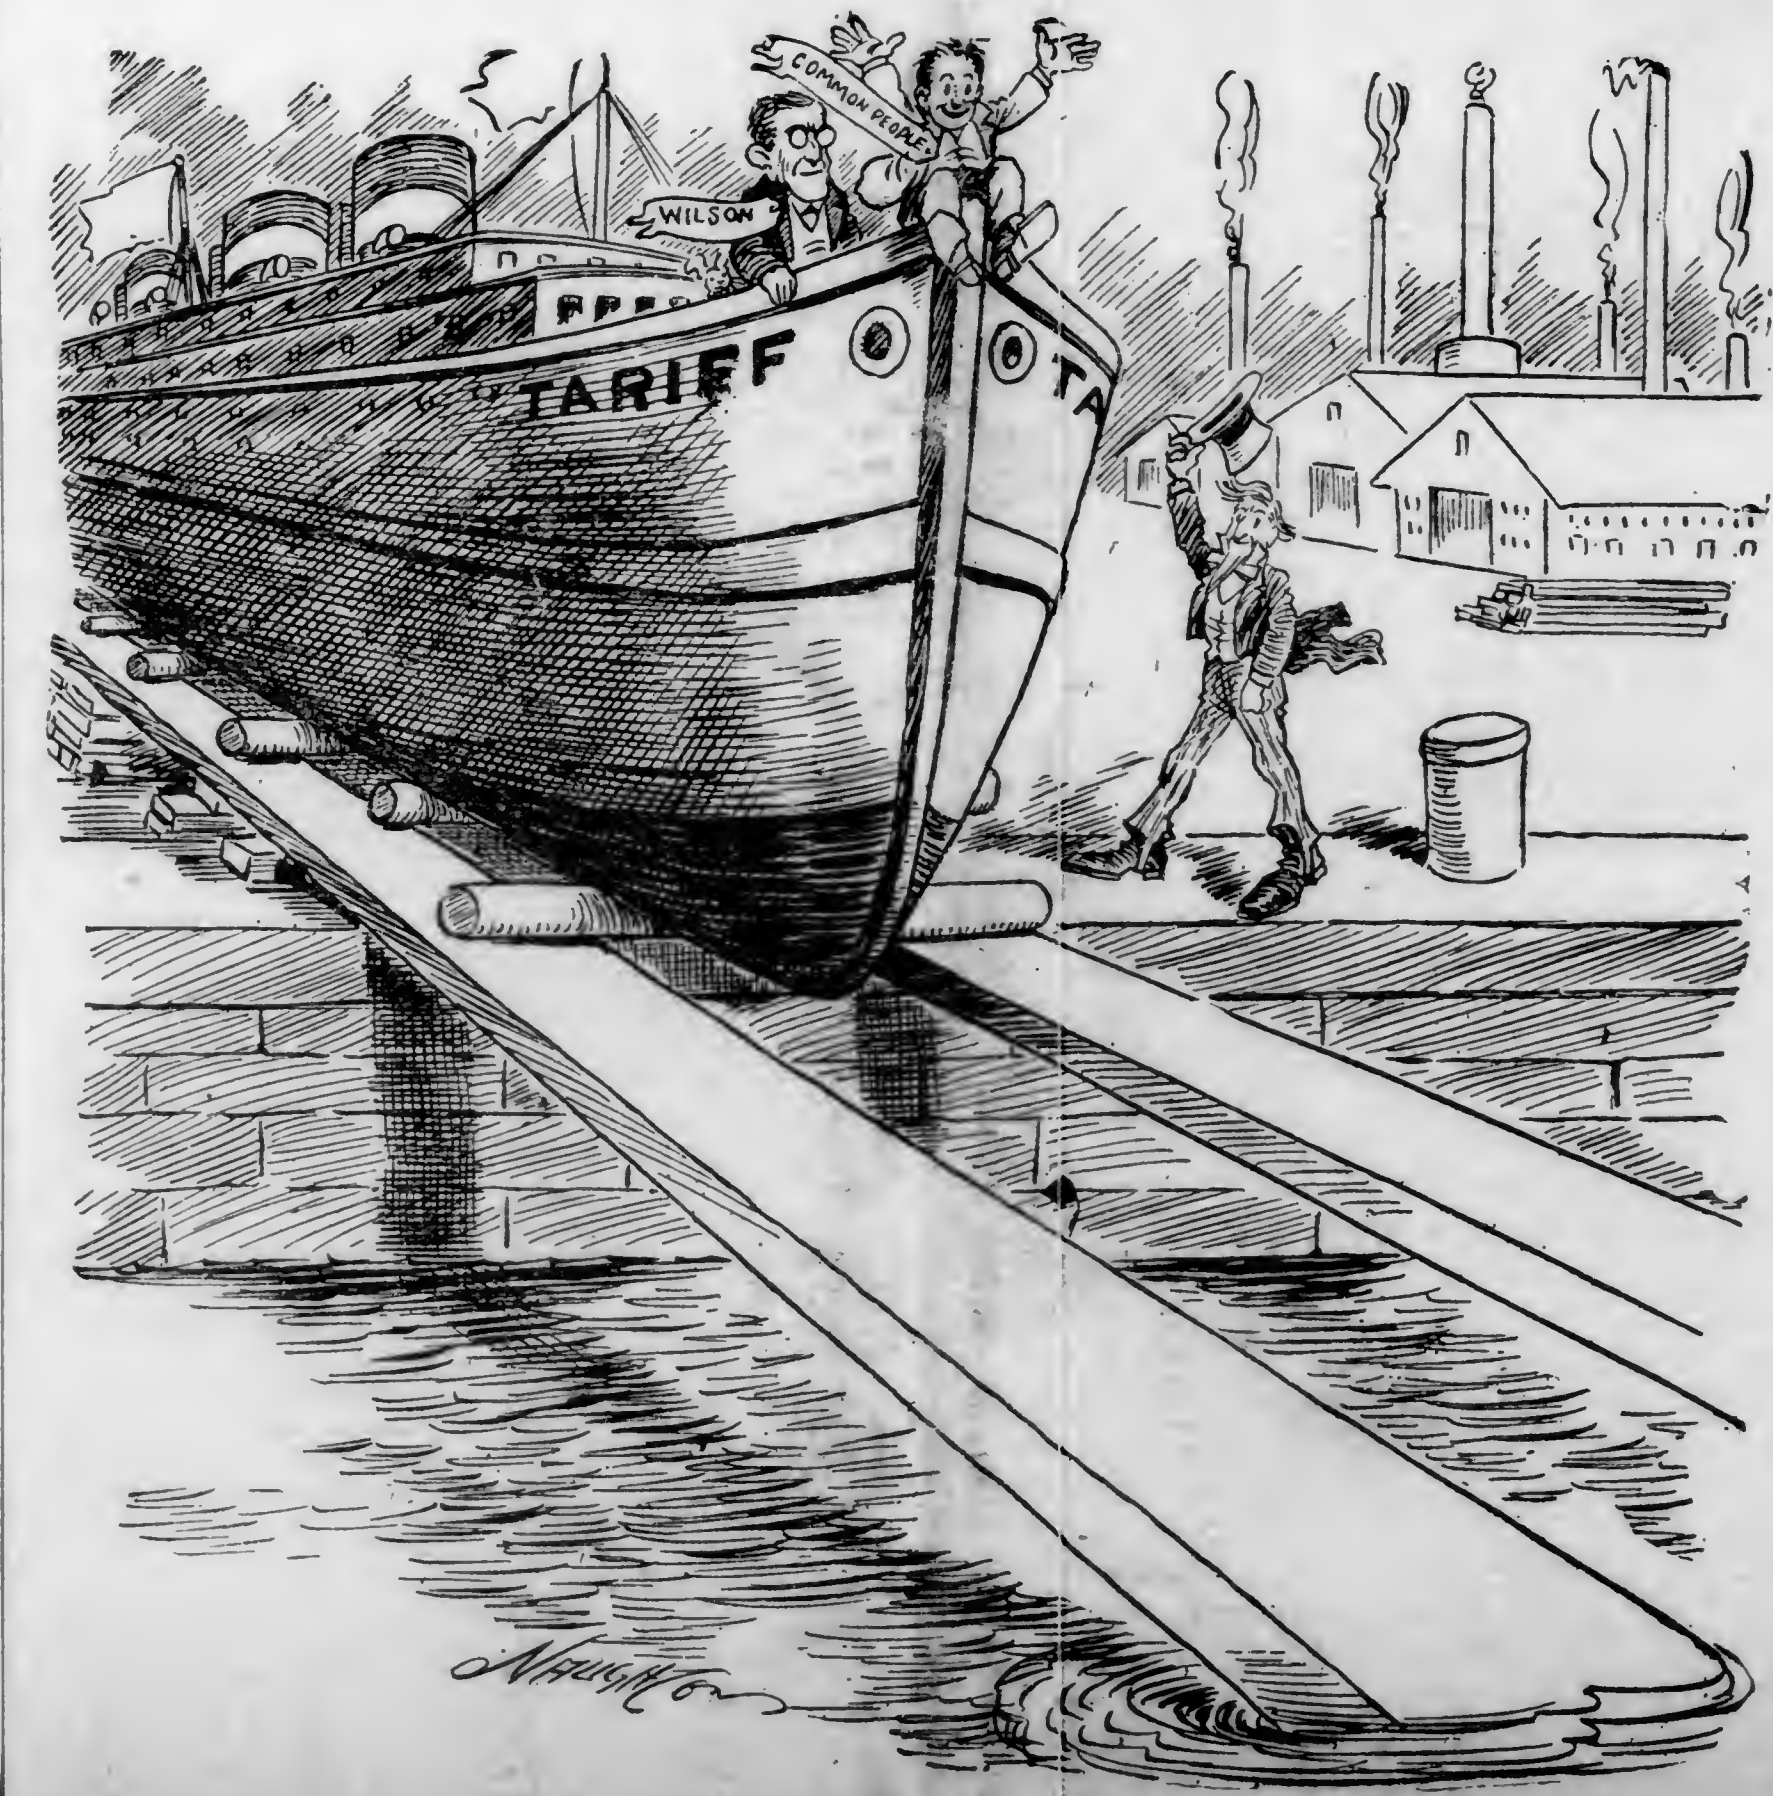

Bright Weather Grooms U. C. T. Day on Exposition Grounds.

Hamline, Minn., Sept. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the sun shining brightly, today gave promise that the attendance at the state fair would reach the 71,000 needed to break last year's record.

The track is said to be in good condition and some fast auto races are expected. Today is also U. C. T. day at the fair, and a committee of the Commercial Travelers' association has notified all members to be at the fair today. A special set piece will conclude the fireworks program tonight.

A demonstration of labor-saving devices for women at the women's headquarters is another feature of today's program.

ALL READY FOR THE LAUNCHING.

TWO MEN KILLED IN WRECK AT ADAMS, N. D.

Minnesotans Are Crushed in Caboose When Freight Trains Collide.

Adams, N. D., Sept. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two men were killed and two seriously injured when an extra freight on the Soo line collided with a way freight early today. The latter was on the main line of the road, with members of the crew sleeping in the caboose. The dead: CONDUCTOR STEVE J. GALLANT, Thief River Falls, Minn.; BRACKENMAN J. J. FAHANT, Maple Lake, Minn.

Earl Develling of Thief River Falls, Minn., was seriously injured, but physicians say he will recover.

Harry Fry of Thief River Falls also was injured.

The way freight on which the victims were employed, lies up at Adams over night. Last night, for some reason, the train was left on the main line. The through extra, east bound, crashed into the caboose and the men had no possible chance of escape. Immediately after the collision the caboose took fire but the local fire department prevented heavy loss. The locomotive and the freight cars were not badly damaged, but several cars in addition to the caboose were smashed.

A thorough investigation has been ordered by the coroner of Walsh county.

Conductor Gallant was married and had a wife and two children.

DAUGHTER OF LATE JUDGE IS SUICIDE

Alice Fruit of La Crosse Inhales Gas at Her Home.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 6.—Miss Alice Fruit, daughter of the late Judge John J. Fruit of the Sixth Wisconsin circuit, a beautiful young woman, who moved to the beach society here and was connected with some of the most prominent families in La Crosse, committed suicide here today.

Her body was found lying on her bed in her room when her mother entered it this morning. A tube attached to a gas jet with one end in the girl's mouth, told how death had come. Medical aid was hurriedly summoned and a pulmonologist was rushed from the police station, but help proved too late. The young woman, in the judgment of physicians had been dead for some hours.

The motive for the suicide is attributed by the family to illness, with which the young woman had recently been suffering. When she retired last night, however, she was in a cheerful mood, giving relatives no intimation of the approaching tragedy. Miss Fruit was 28 years of age.

Judge John J. Fruit, father of the girl, who died three years ago, was for years judge of this circuit, state normal school reagent and a power in the politics of Western Wisconsin. He was a former law partner of George H. Gordon, recently retired as United States district attorney, and of John Brindley, present state attorney. A brother of Miss Fruit, John C. Fruit, is manager of the American Steel Bridge company at Joliet, Ill.

Vote Monday Likely Unless La Follette Talks Too Long.

The Features Retaliatory Against Canada Are All Stricken Out.

Income Tax Amendment Offered By Smith Agreed to.

Washington, Sept. 6.—With the Progressive Republicans frequently voting with the majority, the senate today defeated a succession of Republican amendments to the tariff bill affecting the schedules on wheat, cotton goods, lumber and other commodities.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Encouraged by a settlement of all differences, as a result of the Louisiana senators, and hopeful of the Progressive Republicans, Democratic senate leaders today hurried the tariff bill. Though they were eager to reach a vote before adjournment tonight, many thought the vote would come Monday or Tuesday.

The countervailing duty on wool pulp proposed by the tariff bill was struck out by the finance committee today, which presented an amendment to that effect, and all retaliatory features against Canada were removed.

Amend Income Tax.

It was only after several hours debate on various amendments to increase the tax on larger incomes that the Democratic caucus finally adopted the amendment proposed in the finance committee by Senator Smith of Georgia. That leaves the normal tax at 1 per cent on a $3,000 minimum, and provides an additional tax of 1 per cent on incomes over $20,000 to $50,000; 2 per cent additional on incomes between $50,000 and $75,000; 3 per cent on incomes between $75,000 and $100,000; 4 per cent on incomes between $100,000 and $250,000; 5 per cent on incomes between $250,000 and $500,000; and 6 per cent additional on incomes in excess of $500,000. It would make the maximum tax on incomes over $500,000 7 per cent.

Newlands Will Support Bill.

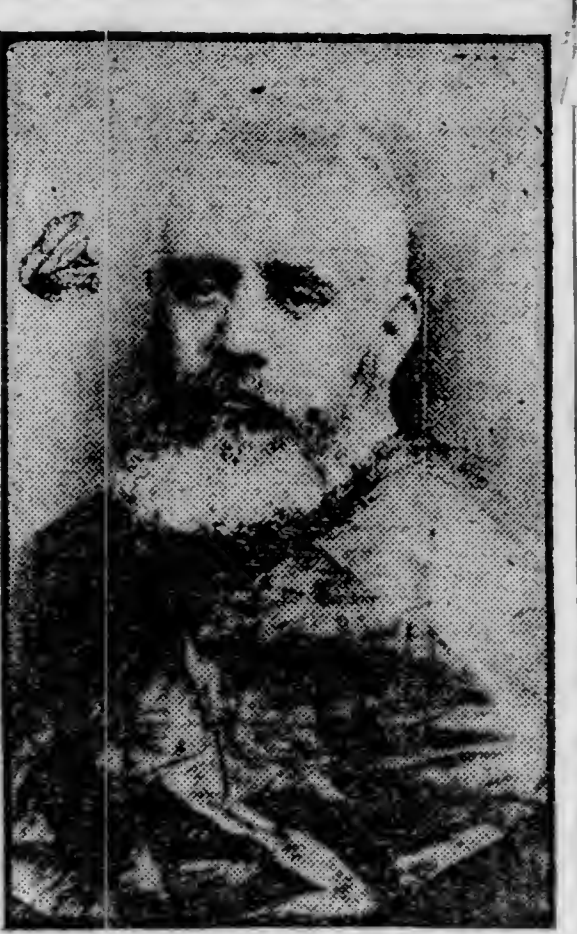

Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada, whose stand on the tariff bill had caused his Democratic colleagues some concern, brought relief to administration leaders upon his return from the West. The Nevada senator, though determined to make a fight within the party lines, assured his colleagues that he would stand by the bill as it reached the senate for a vote.

"I never have contemplated at any time making a fight on the tariff out of the party caucus," was Senator Newlands' statement.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, said that he would not seek to limit Senator La Follette in his discussion of the textile schedules, and for that reason might not get a vote before Monday, but he thought the bill could be put upon its passage by that time at the latest.

CARDINAL JOSEPH C. VIVES Y TUTO.

Rome, Sept. 6.—Cardinal Joseph C. Vives y Tuto, prefect of the congregation for religious affairs and the most influential member of the cardinal's college at the Vatican, has recovered from the mental derangement which has afflicted him for many months, but is ill with an attack of appendicitis and is to be operated on shortly.

Cardinal Vives is one of the oldest cardinals.

ABE DES OF HIS WOUNDS

Japanese Official's Murder Laid to Feeling Over Foreign Policy.

California Land Law Dispute Possibly Involved in Motive.

Tokio, Sept. 6.—Mortaro Abo, director of the political bureau of the Japanese foreign office, died today, the victim of unknown assassins.

His assailants, who are believed to have been students, lay in wait for him in front of his house Thursday evening while he was at the railway station to meet H. Ijūin, minister to China, who had just been recalled from Peking. Upon his return Director Abo was attacked by two young men who ran out of an alley toward him. One of them seized him by the shoulders while the other plunged a dagger into his abdomen twice. The assassins escaped in the darkness without their identity being known.

It was not thought at first that the director's wounds would prove fatal, for they were promptly dressed after some passersby had carried him to his home and called the surgeons.

Excitement is intense following the reports of the massacre of Japanese and the insult to the Japanese flag at Nanking, and there is much irresponsible clamor for drastic action against China, similar to the recent clamor against America. The motive in the assassination of Director Abo may have originated in resentment of the policy of the foreign office in either of these matters. The foreign office officials in both (Continued on page 2, fourth column.)

PLAN WAGE DEMAND ON WESTERN ROADS

Engineers and Firemen Want Change in Basis of Schedules.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 6.—Locomotive engineers and firemen on the roads west of Chicago soon will ask the railroad companies to revise their schedule of wages, according to announcement by representatives of railroad organizations here.

It was stated that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Firemen have joined in a request that the heads of the railroad systems meet their representatives in Chicago the latter part of this month or early in October. The request of the men will be formally presented then.

On the basis of fixing the schedules of wages are desired, and it was said that many minor changes would be asked that would improve working conditions.

RISE IN RIVER DROWNS 150 HINDU NATIVES.

Simla, British India, Sept. 6.—One hundred and fifty native men, women and children were drowned today while fording the River Beas in the Hoshiarpur district of the Punjab, on their way to attend a fair.

They were overtaken by the river, which is very wide at this part, by a sudden flow of water from the mountains.

Damage Is Estimated at Six Million Dollars.

Courthouse and Three Hotels Among Buildings Destroyed.

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 6.—Stunned by the extent of the damage wrought by last night's fire, which swept more than fifty city blocks here with an estimated loss of $6,000,000, the people of Hot Springs today took first steps toward rehabilitation.

Mayor McClendon accepted Governor Hay's offer of two companies of state militia, and ordered a mass-meeting of citizens for later in the day, when it will be decided whether the city will call upon outside cities for help.

It is estimated about 2,500 persons were made homeless. The majority of these are camping temporarily in the vicinity of the Oaklawn race track and state fair grounds.

Misdeed on road.

Grand avenue, leading from the burned area to the fair grounds, today presented a picture of desolation. Hundreds of families, with what little they saved from the ruins, were gathered along the roadway, gradually working their way to the camp grounds. The militia will aid these people and guard the devastated district.

There is no danger of a water famine, according to the authorities. Even if the supply were cut off there are numerous cold springs throughout the city furnishing sufficient water for all purposes. The water supply today is at a standstill.

The Sentinel-Record, the morning newspaper here, barely escaped destruction by the fire last night and did not issue its regular editions. The New Era and Daily News, the afternoon newspapers, are without power and unable to publish.

Business generally is at a standstill today.

BITES MAN'S THUMB; ARRESTED AS SLAYER

Charge of Manslaughter Grows Out of Fight Over Girl.

Marquette, Wis., Sept. 6.—A thumb nearly bitten off during a fight caused the death today of Joseph Lemy and the arrest of Joseph Devilers on a charge of manslaughter.

A dance hall row over a girl between a son of the arrested man and Lemy is said to have caused the trouble. The battle was stopped by police. Blood poisoning and death followed.

During the melee Lemy was getting the better of his antagonist until Devilers nearly severed his opponent's right thumb with his teeth. Blood poisoning and death followed.

BOY IS SHOT BY HIS DRUNKEN COMPANION

Assailant Then Drowns Himself in Michigan Lake.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 6.—A boy claiming to be Harold Dickerson, son of Col. R. P. Dickerson of Springfield, Mo., was shot and seriously wounded by James Gray of St. Louis, Mo., during a scuffle yesterday afternoon on Reed's lake. Gray, after the shooting, jumped into the lake and is believed to have been drowned.

The only reason for the shooting, Dickerson would offer, was that his companion had been drinking.

SAYS FATHER TOLD OF $120,000 THEFT

Son of Texas Bank Employee Is University Professor.

Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 6.—Prof. Baldwin Woods, faculty member of the department of mathematics at the University of California, said last night that his father, M. T. Woods, had confessed to him the defalcation of $120,000 from the State National Bank of Fort Worth, Texas, which was reported to the controller of currency at Washington yesterday, and for which a warrant was issued for the arrest of Woods in Fort Worth.

Prof. Woods said his father, who had been an employee of the Fort Worth bank for the last twenty years, confessed his shortage when he was away from a week ago. The son said he advised his father to go back to Fort Worth and answer the charges.

Before returning to Fort Worth, Prof. Woods said, his father said he was going to New York to sell certain property valued at $70,000, the proceeds of which are to be turned over to the bank. Prof. Woods said he believed that his father is now in New York and that he will shortly return to Texas.

Warrants issued in Fort Worth charge two embezzlements, one of $5,000 and one of $10,000.

"LITTLE MOTHER" OF WAYWARD GIRLS OF DULUTH AND THE WORK SHE IS DOING

Mrs. Mary Walsh Believes a Kind Word at the Right Time Will Often Save a Thoughtless Girl From Following the Wrong Road.

There is one woman in Duluth who has played the part of mother to the motherless for five years. She is Mrs. Mary Walsh, matron at police headquarters.

Mrs. Walsh has devoted her life to police work and is today one of the most efficient officials of the Duluth police department. The wife of a former detective, she studied crime and criminals for years, before she entered the work herself. For the past five years Mrs. Walsh has cared for runaway girls, cautioned others who were going wrong, and has been the real friend of the feminine underworld.

Mrs. Walsh has three children, a daughter and two sons. Just the same mother she has been to her children. Mrs. Walsh has tried to be to the friendless girls of the city.

Good in Everybody.

Her theory is that there is good in everybody, and that matter how deep this good is buried in a soul, there is always some way of reaching it. This good, generally, responds when approached properly. Mrs. Walsh believes and has so far proven. Summons will never do, she says, but the real, old-fashioned mother's heart-to-heart talk is the best.

By stooping to the level of the fallen, by putting an arm around the shoulder, by kissing a tainted lip, and by telling a wavering girl just how much she really does love her, and how willing she is to help her, Mrs. Walsh manages to very often change the lives of girls and young women who have started wrong.

That's why they call her Duluth's little mother.

And that's why there are many women and girls of the lower world who seek the comforting hand and companionship of Mrs. Walsh.

The other day a little girl, no more than 16 years of age, was seated in a room in the matron's ward, with her hands clasped to her breast and looking shamefacedly at the wall. A middle-aged woman was talking to her in a low, soft tone, like a mother would talk to an erring child. The woman was Mrs. Walsh, and she was talking to a girl who had been arrested for truancy after the request of her parents.

The girl was incorrigible, the parents said, and they were unable to do anything with her.

"The little girl had roused on her lips and carried a large hand bag, which she was rather stubborn when first brought into the station and even refused to answer the questions the sergeant asked. And when taken to the matron's ward, she threw herself on a couch and cried.

A Typical Conversation.

In the midst of the cry Mrs. Walsh came into the room. And without a word she said:

"What's the matter, little girl, sick?"

"There was no reply."

"Are you hungry?"

"Then what are you crying about? If there's nothing the matter with you, you have no right to cry like that."

"I guess I can cry if I want to."

"How old are you?"

"Some of your business."

"Oh, I just want to know. You're a very pretty girl and I was just wondering how old you were."

"Well, 16, if it will do you any good."

"That's a pretty dress you have on. How much did it cost?"

"I don't know. The old lady bought it."

"Who's the old lady?"

"My dear, why do you call your mother old lady?"

"She doesn't care."

"Yes she does. And it hurts her."

Proclamation!

TO THE CITIZENS OF DULUTH:

The public welfare requires that a vigorous effort be made to rid the city of the nuisance of weeds and thistles which grow in great quantities in many places.

The laws of the State of Minnesota require that all owners of land keep their property and the streets adjoining free from noxious weeds;

THEREFORE, in the interest of the public good,

There is set apart Wednesday, the tenth day of September of this year, 1913, as a day to be observed by an effort on the part of all property owners, public spirited citizens, and civic bodies, to rid our city of this nuisance.

W. I. PRINCE, Mayor.

D. H., Sept. 6, 1913. D 903.

MRS. MARY WALSH, Police Matron.

There is in Duluth a woman who constantly keeps her finger on the pulse of the feminine underworld; who sees more in a day of the worst side of feminine nature than the average woman sees in a century; who has saved hundreds of girls from going wrong, and who is in reality Duluth's little mother, for she also takes care of runaway girls and lost children. She is Mrs. Mary Walsh, police matron.

very much to see her daughter so distressed.

At this juncture Mrs. Walsh stopped talking for a moment and the girl began whistling. Her eyes became moist and she stopped. Then she looked at Mrs. Walsh to see if the latter was looking. Mrs. Walsh took advantage of the situation and again began talking to the girl.

"Why did you run away from home and have a typical conversation?"

father and mother brought you here and they have been watching you lately. So have the police. You've been stopping at a bad hotel, too, girl, and that's why you are here now."

"Her Own Business."

"They haven't got any business watching me. I don't bother anybody."

"Yes you were, dear. You were doing the worst thing you can do. You were running yourself. No 16-year-old girl has any business staying out at night and with such company as you were with."

"Well, I got sick of staying at home. They aren't good to me and are all too good to me. I don't do it. I just couldn't stand it, that's all."

"That's just the trouble. They are all too good to you. My dear child, they would give their lives just to keep their little daughter good and clean."

At this juncture another girl was brought into the room. After a few words she departed and Mrs. Walsh again turned to her little friend. "Did you see her?" That little girl is no more than two years older than you. But she has no home, no parents at all, and she's just as bad as you. You will look before long unless you stop this life. It always kills. Her mother is in jail for running a bad house and her father is in the penitentiary for killing. And it won't be long before she, too, will be in jail. I can just see it coming. That little girl grew up in a hotel that her mother ran. She never knew what it was to be a mother."

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE

New York, Sept. 6.—Dun's Review today says: Early promise of another year of remarkable crops will not be fully realized, yet the purchase power of the agricultural community is sustained by high prices for the leading farm products. The continuation of considerable deterioration in cotton caused a sharp rise in that staple and corn advanced on a continuance of hot, dry weather.

The reduced harvests are calculated to ultimately have some effect upon railway freight traffic but it is gratifying that sentiment remains cheerful in spite of the less favorable outlook in certain directions.

A few minutes later a drunken woman was brought into the station. She is an old acquaintance of Mrs. Walsh well. Upon seeing the matron the drunken woman began to cry and cursed herself at having become so drunk.

And so it goes, day in and day out. Mrs. Walsh administers to little children who have been lost, grown girls who are starving, and a host of women who are already in the snare, but who often leave when they are given food and proper assistance.

This is why Mrs. Walsh is Duluth's "little mother."

CUTTING AWAY DULUTH'S POINT OF ROCKS AT THE RATE OF 100 TONS PER DAY

THE BIG CUT.

Stone is being moved from the Point of Rocks at the rate of about 100 tons per day.

The work is now so far advanced that one can see where Superior street will run from the western side of the cliff.

Large boulders are being blasted out with big charges, but so regulated and protected that the nearby property will not be endangered. They are then loaded on to low wagons by means of a derris crane to the railroad tracks and placed on flat cars, whence they are hauled to the S. P. lumber dock. There they are loaded into scows by the government and transported to the Superior entry, where they are used by the government in the construction work which is under way.

During the week one of the flat cars which had been loaded with rock ran away down the grade, the brakes refusing to hold. The trucks jumped the track. Before the track could be cleared the huge boulders on the platform of the car had to be blasted into small pieces.

The city has been cutting away at the Point of Rocks for some years past, making crushed rock. When the present work was started the street had been cut through to within a short distance of the western side of the cliff. The roadway will still have to be lowered several feet before it is on grade. At the present rate of progress it will be but a comparatively short time before the street is cut through at that point to the car tracks. When this is improved the congested traffic conditions in that part of the city will be greatly relieved. As it is now Michigan street is practically the only thoroughfare available, particularly for the heavily loaded vehicles. The congestion has not been such as to cause any difficulty, but with a large future growth it would become almost imperative to have Superior street open. There is still a large quantity of stone at Eighth avenue west, beginning where the street car company has its loop. But the engineers state that this will be easier to remove than that at the other end.

The city is paying the contractors $1 a ton for the large rock which is going to the government and $1.60 per yard for the crushed rock which is produced. The city is getting 80 cents per ton from the government, but the officials feel that they are getting an excellent improvement at a comparatively small cost. The cost of putting out the crushed rock is said to be $1.50 or more a yard. The plant is being loaned to the contractors by the city as part of the agreement.

Great Scott May Be Reimbursed for Buhl-Cary Road.

PROFESSOR DIES OF HEART FAILURE

John Sinclair Clark Dies on Way Home From Camping Tour.

Prof. John Sinclair Clark, 65 years of age, Latin instructor at the University of Minnesota, died at 1 o'clock this morning at St. Luke's hospital of heart disease.

He had been at the hospital but one day, coming to the city from Grand Marais, where he had been spending his vacation with his wife. He spent much of his time out of doors, and endeavoring to improve his health.

Prof. Clark was well known in the Twin Cities and was a pioneer resident of the state, having lived here for thirty-five years. He was born in Nova Scotia Feb. 25, 1849.

The body was taken to the undertaker's room at Charles Stewart and was sent to Minneapolis over the Northern Pacific at 1:55 o'clock this afternoon for interment.

THE small house of all houses calls for the most careful and painstaking designing—that is the small house that one would pause to look at with real pleasure, the charming, homey, little house. After a house goes over $5,000 it is a different problem and "things" can be done with it—money put in here and there to get some effect; but not so in the small house; everything must be done in the most economical and straightforward manner. It must be a simple, clean cut, livable house, good to look at, built to stay and save repair bills. Most folks content themselves by building an ordinary commonplace, uninteresting little box, just like somebody else's house, when with some good advice and help, without spending much more money, they might build a "home" in the true sense of the word, a homey individual house expressive of themselves and actually built to their wants and needs.

The above sketch is of a simple, economical little house for a small family which would cost about $2,500 to build in Duluth.

CAMINETTI CONVICTED

Jury Finds Him Guilty on Only One Count.

Diggs Will Face Perjury
Charge on Day Both Are Sentenced.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Farley Drew Caminetti, son of the commissioner general of Immigration, was found guilty late yesterday on one count of the indictment charging him with violation of the Mann white slave traffic act.

The jury was out three hours and took eight ballots. From the first the vote stood 10 to 2 for conviction, and finally the two recalcitrants agreed to compromise by finding a verdict of guilty on one of the four counts charged.

Bail in the sum of $10,000 was announced by Frank Freeman of Willows, Cal., and G. Baggalupi of San Francisco, and was ready to be filed with the United States marshal when the verdict was announced. Sentence will be pronounced Wednesday, Sept. 10, the day set for sentencing Maury I. Diggs, jointly indicted with Caminetti and convicted on four counts.

Exceptions to the charge of Judge Van Fleet as a whole and in part were taken by counsel, and a petition for an appeal will be filed, said an attorney here.

Caminetti took the verdict lightly, smiling a forced smile and nudging his brother jocularly. He lifted his little daughter, Naomi, who was playing at his feet, and placed her carefully in her mother's lap. Then he shook hands with his lawyers and with Diggs, who had been sitting nearby.

His mother and wife showed no emotion. They sat with lowered heads, gazing into their laps.

Caminetti and Maury I. Diggs, former state architect of California, were jointly indicted on six counts. Diggs was found guilty on four of them, the jury being unable to agree on the other two.

Because of the special circumstances surrounding Caminetti's individual part in the flight from Sacramento, Cal., to Reno, Nev., with Marsha Warrington and Lola Norris, the government asked a maximum penalty of five years only for counts. The first two counts charged that he transported and aided in transporting the two young women from Sacramento to Reno in interstate commerce for the purpose of debauchery. One count applied to each girl and each count carried a maximum penalty of five years in a Federal penitentiary and $5,000 fine. Thus Diggs is liable to twenty years' imprisonment and $20,000 fine, and Caminetti to five years and $5,000 fine.

Simply Followed Diggs.
Roughly speaking, the verdicts correspond with the contention of the government, which was that Diggs was the self-constituted boss and major dome of the party, and Caminetti more or less of a passive and pliant agent.

The second two counts charged that Caminetti "persuaded and aided in persuading, inducing and enticing" the two girls to go, and here again one count applied to each girl.

The finding of the jury was that Caminetti was guilty on the single count of transporting and aiding in transporting Lola Norris to Reno for immoral purposes. It did not consider him responsible for Marsha Warrington's elopement with Diggs, and it refused to believe that Miss Norris had been enticed into going.

There remain over the heads of both Diggs and Caminetti indictments charging conspiracy to violate the act, but in view of the conviction on the strong charge of actual violation, the weaker indictments will not be pressed. Conspiracy carries a maximum penalty of two years' imprisonment.

Perjury Charge for Diggs.
Diggs, however, has still a third indictment hanging over him. With Charles B. Harris of Sacramento, formerly his attorney, he is accused of subornation of perjury. Diggs, who during the Diggs trial that Harris and Diggs had conspired to bring money which, in turn, was to drill into Marsha Warrington for use on behalf of Diggs. The "Dear Pickles" letter, in which Diggs urged Miss Warrington to "back her man" for the last instructions she had given her, was additional evidence to the same purpose.

The perjury trial will be called before Judge Van Fleet on Wednesday, the day of the sentence.

DROPPED BY MORGAN FIRM

New Haven Road and Subsidiaries Lose Financial Agents.

Executive Committee Holds Meeting and Discusses Wreck.

New York, Sept. 6.—J. P. Morgan & Co. served notice yesterday upon the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company of their intention to end their connection as fiscal agents of the road. This notice was made public by the New Haven's executive committee. The committee authorized the president to install, without stint, safety appliances and signals to insure the safety of passengers.

No reason was given by officials of the New Haven system for the withdrawal of J. P. Morgan & Co. as fiscal agents for the road. Announcement of the withdrawal was made by the executive committee at the conclusion of its meeting, and some little time after J. P. Morgan had left.

At his country home, later, Mr. Morgan said that the action of his banking firm in severing financial relations with the New Haven railroad could in no sense be termed a hostile move toward President Elliott and the railroad. He said:

"The action was taken wholly in order to leave the new administration of the railroad free-handed to make its own financial arrangements. We are thoroughly in accord with the new administration. The action has been taken in order to leave it unhampered."

Mr. Morgan added that should the New Haven desire to make the services of the Morgan firm or to make a new contract the bankers would consider it.

Much Discussion of Wreck.
The letter notifying the committee of their intention to sever financial connection with the New Haven was presented by Mr. Morgan personally and was addressed to President Elliott. Action was deferred until the next meeting of the directors. Mr. Morgan told the executive committee that similar letters had been sent to the boards of directors of the Boston & Maine, the Maine Central roads, New Haven subsidiaries.

President Elliott, who attended his first meeting of the executive committee of the New Haven system, declined to discuss the action of the Morgan firm and referred all inquiries to Mr. Morgan.

For many years the Morgan firm has acted as the financial agent of the New Haven road, and within the last few years it had undertaken to underwrite the issuance of $67,000,000 6 per cent debenture bonds, to be used principally for refunding purpose and for betterments and improvement work.

Much of the committee's time yesterday was taken up with a discussion of the Wallingford wreck. The committee voted to reaffirm its resolution, adopted by the directors Oct. 17, 1912, in which the president of the company was instructed to cause the most searching investigation into the competency of engineers, and that "there shall be nothing undone which, in the judgment of himself and his associates, will conduce to greater safety in the operation of the railroad, and that there shall be no limitation placed upon the installation of signals, safety appliances, or anything else that will, in his judgment, or that of his associates, improve the safety of passenger travel upon this company's lines."

HIGHWAY TO THE BORDER

Duluth Will Be Connected With Canadian Twins
Next Year.

Good progress is being made on the road between Duluth and Port Arthur, according to a report submitted to the public affairs committee last evening by Secretary H. V. Eya. Mr. Eya wrote to Lakeland Cook counties and to Port Arthur to learn what is being done on the road.

Dr. J. D. Budd of Two Harbors reported that two contracts have been let for the last ten and one-half miles of the road in Lake county and that by next year the road will be through to the Cook county line. Dr. Budd advised automobile drivers that the road is in good condition to Mile Post 43 on the Alger-Smith line, but beyond that the road is in poor condition in spots.

Charles Johnson of Grand Marais wrote that two crews are at work in that county and the road will be completed to the border by the latter part of next summer.

R. A. Burdette, industrial commissioner of Port Arthur, said that the Ontario government has six or eight big gangs of men at work and the road is being pushed to the border as rapidly as possible.

In connection with the Port Arthur road Maj. Eya read a newspaper clipping in relation to a project for a road from Lake Superior north through the Superior forest reserve near Ely and to the border. Senator Nelson has introduced a bill in congress for an appropriation of $50,000 for the road and an effort will be made at the coming session of the Minnesota legislature to obtain an appropriation from the state.

The committee by an unanimous vote endorsed the project and Senator Nelson will be notified of the fact.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE BEGINS FALL ACTIVITIES

Sub-Committees Report on Important Projects
Under Way.

Office of Industrial Secretary Will Not Be Filled for Present.

The first fall meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club was well attended last evening. Good progress was reported by the sub-committees and some important projects were shown to be under way.

C. P. Craig, chairman of the agricultural committee, reported by letter. He said the committee has made a good display at the state fair and expects to show up well in the agricultural show to be conducted in connection with the industrial exposition this month. A. B. Hostetter personally supplemented the report. He said that the St. Louis county exhibit is attracting many state fair visitors and he heard many favorable comments on it. He said he believes St. Louis county has made many friends by not entering into competition for premiums this year.

R. C. Wade, chairman of the committee on educational co-operation, said that a meeting will be arranged soon with representatives of the university extension work to arrange for the educational program for Duluth this winter.

G. B. Spelman reported for the harbor and waterways committee that he has prepared a report on the bills before congress for the prevention of floods in the lower Mississippi river and it will be submitted at a later date. For the homefront committee, Secretary Eya reported that A. H. Crassweller had prepared a "Duluth Garden Primer" giving complete instructions for gardening in Duluth. It will be distributed at the industrial exposition. The municipal committee is working on the subject of city licenses. The committee has obtained information on the license fees charged in many other cities and will be ready soon to make a report, based on a comparison of the Duluth fees with those charged elsewhere.

Neighborhood Clubs.
B. P. Neff, chairman of the committee on neighborhood clubs, reported that a meeting with representatives of other clubs had been held recently and a plan of co-operation talked over. He said the neighborhood clubs were assured that the files, records and statistics of the Commercial club are at their disposal and the Commercial club hoped to develop a spirit of friendly co-operation.

Assistant Secretary Roy B. Lewis reported for the publicity committee that more publicity is being obtained for Duluth daily. He said that the information bureau at Fifth avenue west has been a complete success. For information about 200 people have asked for information at the booth daily.

Chairman P. W. Sullivan reported for the city planning committee that steps for the condemnation of the lake shore of Minnesota point, in accordance SAY MERCHANT IS BANKRUPT.

Creditors of Albert Anderson, who does business in Chisholm as the Anderson Clothing company, yesterday filed a petition in involuntary bankruptcy against Anderson. The creditors claim that Anderson committed an act of bankruptcy by permitting one of his creditors to obtain a preference over others.

The creditors joining in the petition represent claims totalling $1,685 and are as follows:

WOMEN ESPECIALLY NEED BANK ACCOUNTS

Women have an even greater need for a Savings Account than men, and the ones who are dependent on some one else have the greatest need of all.

Your husband—your father—your brother, maybe, provides for you. Supposing an accident were to happen to the breadwinner which would suddenly throw you on your own resources? You would have to find work yourself. But it isn't always easy to obtain a situation right away, and what would you do in the meantime? If you had a bank account to tide you over you would have far less occasion to worry.

It doesn't require a lot of money to start a bank account—one dollar is sufficient here—and you can add to it as you can spare the money. We pay 3 per cent compound interest on savings accounts.

REFUSE TO PAY INSURANCE POLICY

Modern Woodmen Say
Albert Keller Was Engaged in Dangerous Work.

Because Albert Keller came to his death while employed as a structural iron worker, a vocation barred by the Modern Woodmen of America, because it is a hazardous occupation and not a good insurance risk, the organization has refused the payment of a $2,000 policy.

In district court yesterday the order filed an answer to the complaint of Lillian Keller, his widow, who started suit a few days ago to recover the insurance. Keller was a member of Old Hickory camp, No. 1555, and was killed on Dec. 2, 1910. The certificate held by the company gave his occupation as that of a car repairer. When he was killed, he was employed as a structural iron worker.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS

Commercial Club Seeks to Fully Represent Entire City.

Plans for the membership campaign to be conducted by the Commercial club next week were outlined at the meeting of the public affairs committee last evening by A. C. Kienly, chairman of the regular membership committee of the club.

Mr. Kienly explained that fifteen teams of three men each have been organized to conduct the campaign and that the city has been divided into fifteen districts, with one team assigned to each. Each member of the Commercial club will be expected to wear a button on his lapel, which will be provided for the members of the committee that any man who failed to wear his button would be open to approach by the membership workers.

After making his report on the traffic commission, C. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner, made a plea for the membership workers.

"The traffic commission is asking the railroads to change rates that have been in effect for many years," he said.

"Duluth must find a larger and wider market and must have proper distributive rates in order to attract manufacturers here. When industries are attracted, business in all lines increases, for population increases. When we ask a railroad to do something for us, they want to know whom we represent. If we represent a Commercial club of 1,500 members instead of 1,000 members, our influence is just so much greater. Every business man should do what he can to make this organization more effective, and the least he can do is to hold a membership in the club."

YOUNG BACHELOR WINS. Easily Wins His Case Before Jury of Women.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 6.—George Martin, handsome young bachelor, who was awarded a $20 verdict in a case heard by a jury of pretty young women, declared on Thursday that he is willing to have feminine jurors sit in judgment in all his lawsuits.

Martin sued John Vargo, who is considerably his senior and married. Eleven of the women jurors were unmarried and these cast their ballots for the handsome bachelor. The twelfth was won over when the other jurors threatened to tell her husband. None of the young women on the jury was over 23 and the jury box looked like a beauty chorus. Mabel Quinn, aged 19, admitted after the trial that she was so eager to sit on the jury she told Justice McCulloch she was 21.

Swift Current

has every feature necessary to make it a city of first-class importance.

RAILROADS have "made" every large city in Western Canada. The future of Swift Current is brighter than that of any other city in the whole Canadian West, because it absolutely dominates a magnificent country vaster than that commanded by any other railway centre in Canada.

¶ To-day Swift Current is a double divisional point on the C.P.R. main line. Within two years it will be a freight and passenger divisional point on 5 lines of the C.P.R., 3 lines of the C.N.R., 3 lines of the G.T.P., and 1 line of the Great Northern Railroad.

¶ From the 1912 crop, Swift Current shipped no less than 2½ million bushels of grain. Already it is the largest initial wheat shipping point in Western Canada.

¶ Swift Current's population doubled in 1912. Now it is 5,500. By the end of 1913 it will be close to 10,000 according to conservative estimates.

Mount Pleasant

is the choicest sub-division property in Swift Current and is already in active demand for high-class residential building purposes. The city is sub-divided for 2½ miles further out than Mount Pleasant. Only across one street from it are some of the finest residences in Swift Current. The large increase in population will follow the natural direction of growth in the city, which is northward to Mount Pleasant.

INSPECTOR IS NEEDED

Smoke Prevention Committee Gives Report on Its Work.

Smoke Consumers Useless If Furnace Is Improperly Designed.

There is no smoke consumer that will prevent smoke if it is attached to an improperly designed furnace, according to J. B. Crane, chairman of the smoke prevention committee of the Commercial club. Mr. Crane said that the only sure method of preventing smoke in the city was having all new furnaces properly designed and properly fired and having the old plants changed over as soon as possible.

Mr. Crane's report follows: "In accordance with your directions the smoke prevention committee have been making an investigation of the smoke problem of this city and would respectfully report as follows: "The present statute is inadequate in that it makes no provision for the proper supervision of plans before erection and also provides for smoke prevention in only a limited part of the city."

"We believe the education of firemen is essential but it is not the only thing needed, and we believe before Duluth can properly attack the smoke problem, it will be necessary to make sure that all future buildings are erected and the older buildings gradually shall be equipped with furnaces and smoke stacks properly designed for the burning of the cheaper grades of coal which are received in Duluth."

"We believe that the only possible way in which this smoke problem can be attacked successfully is to provide a suitable man properly equipped to go into this subject and we believe such a man can be secured for a sum of not less than $2,000 and not to exceed $3,000 per year."

"We believe that the efficiency of any smoke prevention work depends entirely upon the man secured to take charge of this problem, and that such a man must come under civil service rules and have had a sufficient amount of experience to be sure that he can properly handle the department; and that such a man, before taking up this work at Duluth should spend from three to four weeks in some city (preferably Chicago, because of the smoke problem in that city is much the same as is to be met with here), getting acquainted with their method of attacking this problem."

"Our committee prepared and sent out a preliminary report to all the local improvement societies in the city; to the Rotary club and to the local association of stationary engineers, and the chairman of the smoke problem interviewed men connected with all the railroads entering Duluth. "No suggestion was received from any of the neighborhood clubs and we therefore assume that they are in sympathy with this work. The report was read before the Rotary club and they have assured us that they will support this work. The local association of stationary engineers appointed a committee consisting of P. C. Rudd and George C. Parker to act in co-operation with your committee in the enforcement of the ordinance has been prepared with their assistance."

"The railroads through their presidents or local managers have all assured us that they will be willing to co-operate in a practical manner to eliminate as nearly as possible the smoke nuisance in the city of Duluth. "Your committee believes the most important work for the smoke inspector will be in seeing that all new plants that are installed are properly equipped to prevent smoke and that older plants will be changed over gradually as soon as possible without interfering with the operation of the plants. The proposed method of handling this problem will cost the city from $2,500 to $3,000 per year. We believe that the $2,000 if permanent results can be expected."

"Any ordinance should have in mind the convenience of the citizens directly affected as well as the welfare of the whole city. "It is therefore suggested inasmuch as the building department is the authority for the issuance of public affairs that the smoke inspector should likewise be placed under said commissioner, but independent of the building inspector, and that the plans should be directly to this department and should meet the approval of the smoke inspector before going to the building inspector, in order that it will not be necessary for a letter from one department to another as would be the case should the department remain under the commissioner of public safety as at present."

"There has been one suggestion made by the committee from the engineers' association which will not be incorporated in the ordinance but we desire to make it a part of this report with the suggestion that it might be good policy for the Commission to add, should you see fit."

"This suggestion provides for the licensing of all firemen who are to take said license directly from the smoke inspector in the same manner as the motor vehicle license is taken from the building inspector. "In this manner the smoke inspector would be able to keep in touch with all firemen in the city who are capable of properly handling their furnaces and the ordinance could properly protect owners by providing that in case of emergency, they could use fire-licensed firemen for a limited length of time."

ANCIENT TRUST IS TERMINATED

Judge Fessler yesterday signed an order which terminated a trust which had been created thirty-nine years ago under the will of Howell L. Williams.

The court upon the petition of James Brownson of Duluth, N. Y., a grandson of Williams, who died on July 16, 1874. He left a real property in Duluth valued at $2,000 and in his will named William H. Wheatley and Henry A. Brownson, trustees, and certain other persons and a brother, Leonidas P. Williams were each to have a one-half life estate.

The will directed that the property be divided equally between the children of the brother and the children of the sister in the event of the death of both. The trustees have long since died. In 1908 Leonidas P. Williams died leaving no children. On June 26, 1912, Mrs. Brownson, sister, died leaving nothing in the way of settlement of the estate automatically.

"COMING DULUTH'S WAY AT LAST," SAYS TRAFFIC HEAD

City Must Go Forward With Readjustment of Rate Structure.

Does New Principle of West-bound Rates Apply to Eastbound?

Duluth's future rests on transportation developments in conditions of transportation recently and movements now under way are all to the advantage of Duluth. The city cannot slip back; it must go forward by reason of the readjustment that is working to its benefit.

That was the message given to the members of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club last evening by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the public affairs committee, and G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the club.

That Duluth's advantageous position in transportation developments and the thoroughness of the study of transportation matters in the city is shown by the announcement last evening that Mr. Barnes has been appointed chairman of the committee on waterways of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

Supplementing the detailed report of the traffic commission, given by Mr. Hall, Mr. Barnes said:

"Duluth must look for its future progress to transportation developments, and the general subject of transportation is one of the most fascinating subjects of study imaginable. The developments affecting Duluth have been so rapid and so favorable, I don't think we can understand the subject too much."

"We wondered for twenty years what was the matter with Duluth. We studied and concluded that one of the big causes was railroad discrimination. The biggest body dealing with transportation in the United States, the interstate commerce commission, has said our position was right. For twenty years the rate structure through Duluth has discriminated against Duluth. The big point in the decision in the lake and rail case is that it confirms us in our analysis of the trouble that retarded the development of Duluth. If we ever are to attain at Duluth the site and importance our position warrants, it must be on our transportation advantages."

"Before July 1 next year the interstate commerce commission must form its policy as to the ownership of lake and ocean steamers by railroads. Before July 1 the interstate commerce commission must have a clear idea as to what ownership. The commission is now carrying on an investigation, not only of the effect of railroad ownership on lake and ocean steamers but of the method of transferring freight from rail to water and water to rail."

"Last December a representative of this club appeared before the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries and expressed the opinion that the transfer of freight on the Great Lakes by railroad owners of boats was made as expensive as possible so as not to increase the margin between railroad and lake rates. I believe the principle expressed in regard to west-bound rates in the lake and rail case are applied to east-bound rates, there should be a tremendous increase in tonnage moving to Duluth. The principle is a winning center, and much of the flour moves 400 miles by rail to Lake Michigan ports and 160 miles to Duluth because the boat lines are willing to accept a lower rate from Lake Michigan than from Duluth. If the boat lines of west-bound rates is applied east-bound, that transportation through Duluth. Today the Soo line carries millstuffs to Gladstone, a distance of 340 miles, when it has its own line direct to Duluth, but Gladstone is a Lake Michigan port and a lower rate for water transportation is provided. Incidentally there has been installed at Gladstone a mechanical loading apparatus that greatly reduces the cost of the transfer from rail to water, but the old methods are still in use in Duluth."

"Can't Slip Back. Every development in transportation is coming our way. The Erie canal and the Panama canal will increase Duluth's advantages. Our time has come. The busy business of the world is moving and with the increase of traffic must come industrial development and progress in all lines of business. The Commercial club is making the fight for Duluth's transportation rights and we want the whole city behind us. That is why I lay such stress on the work of the neighborhood clubs committee. We want every club in the city and every individual citizen to back up the Commercial club in what it is doing."

The question of obtaining the application of the principles expressed by the interstate commerce commission in the lake and rail case to east-bound traffic is now before the traffic commission, Mr. Hall said in his report.

The present lake and rail rate east-bound from Duluth is 75 cents, first class, which is equal to the all rail rate from Chicago. The lake and rail rate from Chicago is 83 cents, a difference of 12 cents, whereas the difference on westbound traffic was only 6 cents.

Mr. Hall said he is hopeful that Duluth will be placed on the Chicago basis on eastbound as well as westbound traffic, which will greatly increase the amount of traffic through this port.

Mr. Hall reported on the readjustment of several specific rates improving Duluth's facilities for the distribution of merchandise, the new grain traffic from Southern Minnesota, the progress in the case of the interstate commerce commission for the reduction of rates on merchandise from the southern and South Dakota, the case involving refrigerator facilities on lake boats, the trunk line meeting, the effect of the Minnesota rate case on Duluth and other traffic matters.

In introducing his report, he said: "On behalf of the traffic commission I beg to submit herewith the report of your traffic department. Since our last report was made a number of matters of vital importance to the commercial welfare of Duluth have been under consideration. As the business interests of our city grow in size and in numbers the necessity for the expansion of the territory in which our merchants and manufacturers can do business with a fair margin of profit becomes more pressing and insistent.

"The area of territory is not the prime consideration, as a large section of the country may be very thin populated, therefore the greatest asset which a community can have from a commercial standpoint is the ability to distribute its merchandise and manufactured articles among the greatest number of people, on a substantial basis, with competing communities. It is such advantages that make a city grow industrially with a resultant increase in population.

"We are therefore pleased to report progress along the lines of improvement in transportation conditions."

Application Refused; Scandinavian Languages Now an Optional Study.

The board of education last night would have had a dry meeting had it not been enlivened by a demonstration of athletics by a former pugilist and an experienced physical trainer.

So far as the business done by the board is concerned, it can be dismissed with the word "routine." There were but two exceptions to the one was a resolution that was passed in which the superintendent was authorized to introduce into the curriculum of the high school the Norwegian and Swedish languages. This was authorized a year ago that the Swedish language should be made an optional study with other languages, but it was not very much of a success. However, this year thirty-two pupils have elected to study Swedish and twenty-seven to study Norwegian if permitted. As these numbers warrant a class in each the study was allowed.

The matter of the treasurer's bond came up, and while deferred for a time, steps were taken to establish a larger bond. For the present it was authorized that the present sized bond of $50,000 would be acceptable but that a bond of $200,000 would be required. However, this warrant was referred back to the finance committee for determination.

Aside from these matters the meeting was enlivened by the display of athletics mentioned. The demonstration was given by William K. Sixsmith, known to ring circles some years ago as "Jimmy Murphy," who, in his day, was the pride of Duluth. Mr. Sixsmith sought to interest the board in the subject of boxing and sought to get permission to teach it in the schools. However, Supt. Benfeld objected. He said that he would not care to accept the responsibility for introducing boxing into the schools and observed that should such a thing be allowed there would hardly be a stopping point on applications to teach various methods of innumerable professions in the schools.

Beer Is The Greatest Beverage Made By Man

WHY IS IT that beer remains the world's greatest manufactured beverage in spite of the endeavors of science and vast appropriations of money to produce other drinks to take its place? There is only one reason—Beer is the purest, most healthful and satisfying beverage for all occasions.

30 Years the Choice. The real goodness of beer is demonstrated in Fitzger's. It combines all the valuable qualities of other good beers with a peculiarly delicious flavor produced only by the Fitzger process. Try a case in your home. That's the best test.

purpose of the resolution, Regent Beasly said, was to determine if it would not be possible to meet the other members of the conference "on common ground to discuss athletic conferences."

TINKER AND HERRMANN WILL MOST LIKELY PATCH UP THEIR DIFFERENCES

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 6.—Manager Tinker will have a personal conference with President Herrmann with regard to the points of difference which exist between the Red chief and his manager about methods of building up the ball club. There is little doubt that the two men who are at the head of baseball affairs in Cincinnati will get together amicably and decide on a plan which will be satisfactory to both, says the Enquirer.

They are absolutely together now in wishing sincerely for a successful club here, and all that they differ on is the process to be used in building up the club for next season. The fans may be thankful for one thing, and that is, that Manager Tinker has not been afraid to come right out in meeting and tell what he thinks is the matter with the Red policies. In this respect he has shown to much better advantage than some of the previous Red leaders, who have snarled and growled in private, but have never had the nerve to go right to the front and explain just what they thought was lacking in the handling of Red affairs.

Ever since Tinker has been here he has resolutely refused to join the famous ALB club, which has been a prominent institution in Redland for many years. He has had a very disappointing year, but he has been willing to accept his full share of the responsibility, and has acknowledged his mistakes openly as soon as he recognized them. He has not tried to shift the failure of the club off on the officials of the club, on the press or on the Cincinnati public, as previous Red leaders have been prone to do. He admits that the team has been very disappointing showing, and says that he could have done better if he had had more experience in handling a club and had adopted different methods, especially in handling his pitchers during the early part of the season. He admits that he made one or two bad deals, for instance, when he purchased Ned Nelson from the Phillies. He is the last pitcher in the world who tries to lay blame for the showing of the club where it does not belong. He is out there fighting hard to win every day, and is confident that he has the right system.

Deserves Consideration.
Manager Tinker is so absolutely honest and straightforward in all his dealings and so fearless in expressing his opinions at the possible risk of losing a valuable position that he must be listened to attentively and given credit for his nerve and his sincere desire to set things straight. His objection to the way things are run here is that he believes that a mistake is constantly being made in getting rid of surplus players in a hurry the moment it is decided that they are of no particular use to the Cincinnati club. He has a world of facts to back him up in his judgment on this point. The success of the two leading clubs of the National league, the New York and the Philadelphia outfits, is due in some measure at least to their liberal policy in getting rid of surplus players. The fact that McGraw carried Devore and Groh for years until he came to a point where he thought he could strengthen his club by letting them out in a trade. The fact that McGraw made a mistake in his deal for these players and got the worst of the bargain does not condemn his policy.

A few weeks' salary to a player amounts to very little if that player can eventually be used in a trade which will help the team. The point is that McGraw does not sacrifice players for the sake of a point where he thought he could strengthen his club by letting them out in a trade. The fact that McGraw made a mistake in his deal for these players and got the worst of the bargain does not condemn his policy.

Mistaken in Adversity.
No one is more anxious to have a winning team than President Herrmann, and no one is more willing to land a high class club in Cincinnati. His sole purpose for years has been to land a high class club in Cincinnati. If he has adopted a wrong policy at times it is the result of bad advice and too much confidence in other baseball men, who took advantage of his good nature and his generosity at the expense of the Cincinnati club. Mr. Herrmann would cheerfully sacrifice himself and the financial end of the club for the honor of being at the head of a winning team. This is a fact well known to all who are intimate with him and understand his true nature. He has been badly handicapped by the advice of alleged friends, who have repeatedly turned dead weight over his shoulders. He has been very unfortunate in his choice of previous managers for the club, solely from his generosity in taking advice from interested parties. His mere and only desire has always been to give Cincinnati a winning club. He has, at last, secured a manager who will work honestly and fearlessly with him, without four-flushing, subservience or alibi-manufacturing.

The best deal the club ever made was when Tinker was secured to handle the club. The team is lower in the race than it has ever been before, but the reason for this is that Tinker has gone right to the bottom of the situation and begun to build at the foundation, instead of fooling around and being satisfied to let things take their course. Manager Griffith was loudly acclaimed as a hero and was given a big increase in salary when he landed the club in fourth place the first year he handled it. That his methods were not fortunate clearly shown by the fact that he finished fifth the next year and sixth the following year. Tinker would never be satisfied with such a showing. He would rather finish seventh this year and lay the foundation for a first division club next season than finish fourth this year and drop back next year.

Tinker has had to revamp the Reds right from the ground up. Such work takes time, but he is building right in and in the course of another season if he is retained he will have a system working that will eventually give the Reds a winning team. With both the president and the manager absolutely together in their desire to win, the best details of policy can be arranged for the good of the club. There can be little doubt that the two men will come to an agreement on policy when they meet this week and that the result will be all for the good of the Reds and the Cincinnati baseball public, the most loyal in the country.

FINALS IN GOLF TOURNEY

Travers and Anderson Play for National Amateur Honors.

"Chick" Evans Eliminated By Anderson After Brilliant Match.

Garden City, N. Y., Sept. 6.—John G. Anderson, a Boston school teacher, may be the next amateur golf champion or the crown may remain on the head of Jerome D. Travers, where already it has rested for three years. This alternative was the result of a week's elimination play at the Garden City club which today reached the final round.

Anderson and Travers met today after fighting their way through yesterday's semi-finals when the Massachusetts man, who is evidently ready to take his place as one of the best players in the world, was eliminated by Anderson after a brilliant match.

Evans, while dashing and brilliant, at times, frequently committing errors at critical periods. At the end, he took his defeat manfully, showing less chagrin than any of his many followers. Travers, always a prime favorite, was handily from Herreroth but the himself was dissatisfied with the erratic nature of his game, he clearly demonstrated between rounds yesterday.

Travers' winning from Herreroth was a foregone conclusion, but the champion took his chances and should he be beaten today it would be because he lacks purpose to accomplish what no other player has succeeded in doing—the winning of the American title for the fourth time.

With the Westerner leading a lead of two up from the morning round, Anderson and Evans halved the first three holes in the afternoon. On the deciding seventeenth, Evans sliced his drive into the rough, but Anderson held a half-swinging put to the right of the green, narrowly escaping the rough. Anderson was five feet short of the green on his second in the hole, but he rolled up a birdie. Evans' approach was to within three feet of the cup, but it did not good, for Anderson held a half-swinging put for a half in four and won the match by a score of 18 to 17.

Following is the full card of the match:

Anderson out, 43,45,6,6,4,4—40.
Evans in, 55,44,4,4,3,3—39.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Phillies Win First.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 6.—Only one run was scored in nine innings of baseball between Philadelphia and Boston yesterday, the visitors winning the first game of a double-header, 1 to 0, while the second contest was a scoreless tie, 0 to 0, in the tenth inning.

The games developed two pitchers' battles. The first was between Quinn, who pitched for the Phillies, and Carrigan, who pitched for the Red Sox. Quinn pitched for Philadelphia. Had it not been for error by Quinn, Quinn would have shut out Philadelphia in this contest. In the fourth inning Quinn pitched for Philadelphia. Quinn pitched for Philadelphia. Pirates Score Both.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 6.—Pittsburgh took two of the hardest fought games of the season on the local grounds from New York yesterday by scores of 2 to 1 and 1 to 0, respectively.

It took both of Washington's premier pitchers—Boehling and Johnson—to bring both ends of the double-header to the locals, Johnson saving the day for his teammates when he went in in the ninth inning of the first game and pitched a perfect ninth.

The bases were loaded at the time and two runs had crossed the plate with the bases loaded.

ing by Demaree, coupled with a return by the locals to their mid-season batting and base-running form, led to an easy victory for New York in the third game of the series with Brooklyn yesterday. The score was 5 to 0. Kucker could not restrain the champions with men on bases.

The game was played through a drizzle and it was so dark in the last two innings that the outfielders could hardly be seen from the stands. Umpire Brennan called the game after the first inning and got into a long argument with Manager Dahlen, who protested strenuously at the game being called. Brennan's assertion that he had called the game at Capt. Daubert's suggestion, failed to mollify the irate manager, who declared Daubert had no authority to suggest such action for the Browns.

Cubs Batted Hard

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Cincinnati played a batting game yesterday, hitting the local pitchers opportunely and winning the first game of the farewell series, 9 to 4. The visitors were helped by the home team's error in the fourth inning, which was charged with four errors, all of which figured in the score. Athletics Lose Another.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—Boston's victory over Philadelphia here yesterday, 6 to 3, was the third straight for the former in the series. The visitors overcame the lead which Philadelphia secured in the first inning, when they hit Ray Collins hard, but a batting rally in the seventh inning, when three runs were produced on singles by Yerkes and Carrigan, Wagner's double, and Carrigan's fly, and an error by Plank. This rally won the contest, although Boston scored another run in the fifth inning on Carrigan's sacrifice and Hall's safe hit.

AUTO RACE ACCIDENT

Harry Endicott's Machine Crashes Through Fence at Jackson, Mich.

Driver and Girl Spectator Are Killed and Three Injured.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 6.—Harry Endicott of Anderson, Ind., a brother of "Farmer Bill" Endicott, the noted automobile racer, and Mary Sara of Jackson, a 10-year-old spectator, were killed and three persons injured yesterday afternoon when Endicott's automobile, sweeping around the race track, crashed through a fence after one of the front tires blew up.

The injured are George Benedict of Los Angeles, who was acting as Endicott's mechanic; Mrs. Mabel Walters and Frances Hall, 13 years old, both of Jackson. Benedict's condition is in doubt. Neither Mrs. Walters nor Frances Hall was seriously hurt. Endicott was driving a 100-horse power car preparatory to an exhibition race against Benedict, when the accident occurred. Benedict was at the scene side. The machine turned a sharp curve as it swung onto the home stretch and with a report like a pistol, the tire burst. Before the crowd, which lined both sides of the track had realized what had happened, the machine skidded about twenty feet, overturned and plunged directly at a filmy fence to the side of the course. Endicott was crushed to death against an iron railing, which the wrecked car snatched as it flew. The machine was a 100-horse power car, and it was a 100-horse power car. The game closes the series with Kansas City this year.

POWERBOAT RACES HELD AT BUFFALO

Baby Reliance III Wins $2,500 Trophy and International Honors.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6.—In what is said to be one of the best power boat races of the year, Baby Reliance III, owned by J. Stuart Blackton of New York, won the 30-mile Perry Centennial race on the Niagara River yesterday afternoon, thus securing permanent possession of the $2,500 Thomas trophy and the 1912 international championship of America.

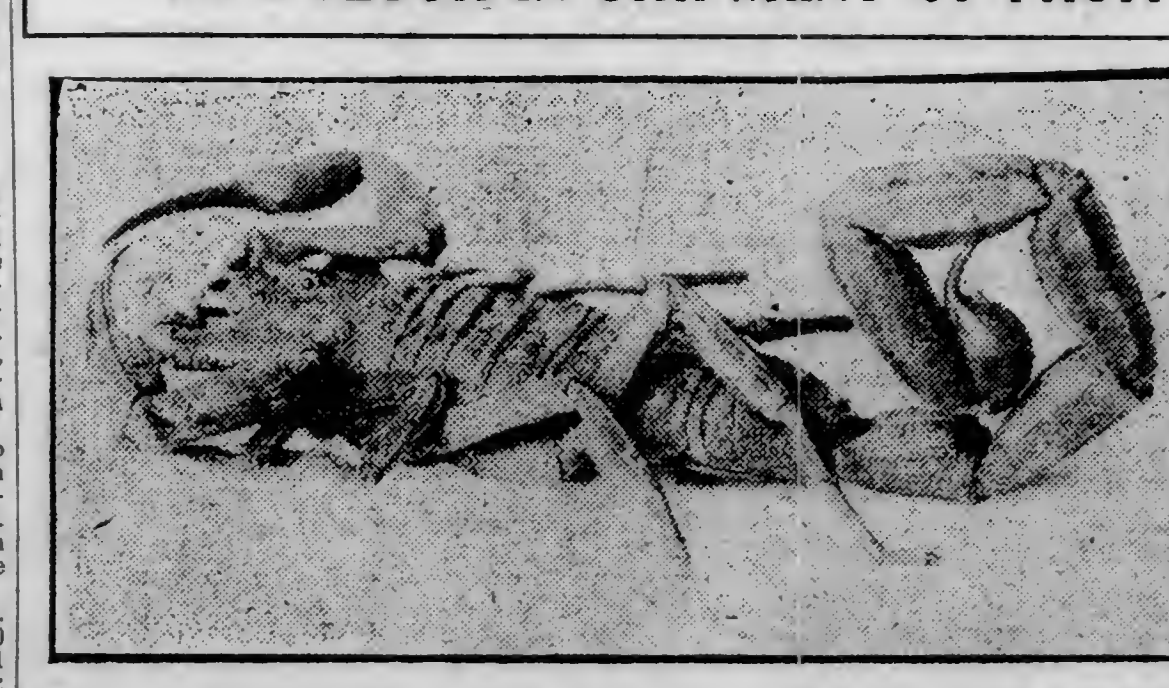

The race, the feature of yesterday's Perry centennial celebration, was called at 4 o'clock. Every one of the nine starters shot over the line ahead of the starting gun and the first start was declared off. An hour later they were sent away again. Rolling II, which won the race Thursday, failed to show class yesterday, and was beaten for second place by Baby Reliance, owned by Max Fleischman of Cincinnati.

Thursday and yesterday's races gave Commodore Blackton permanent possession of the E. R. Thomas trophy and the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce trophy. The summary of the race follows: Baby Reliance III, 45:29; 38.71; Baby Reliance II, 45:38; 38.30; Rolling II, 47:27; 38.30.

VIGILIOUS LOOKING SCORPION BROUGHT TO DULUTH IN SHIPMENT OF FRUIT

SCORPION FOUND IN BUNCH OF BANANAS.

This scorpion is just as wicked as it looks. It is about five inches long when it stretches out but most of the time its tail is curled up, ready to strike, and then it jumps about two inches long. When the little reptile gets a grouse against anything it walks up and lands a wallop with its tail. At the end of the tail is a sting which carries poison. It is said that the poison acts within ten minutes of when it strikes the scorpion strikes. It is often fatal. The scorpion came here in a shipment of bananas from Cuba and was captured in a commission house. It is now being shown in the window of a Superior street drug store.

ECZEMA SPREAD ALL OVER BODY

Began on Cheeks With Pimples. Itched Badly. Caused Disfigurement. Had to Put Mittens on Him. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Eczema Left Him.

Roxbury, Ohio. "When my little boy was two weeks old he began breaking out on his cheeks. The eczema began just with pimples and they seemed to itch so badly he would scratch his face and cause a matter to run. Wherever that matter would touch it would cause another eruption until it spread all over his body. It caused disfigurement while it lasted. He had fifteen places on one arm and his head had several. The deepest places on his cheeks were as large as a silver dollar on each side. He was so restless at night he had to put mittens on him to keep him from scratching them with his finger nails. He could not sleep because I put those mittens on which would not allow him to scratch and then he would wake up and be cross. If he got a little too warm at night it seemed to hurt badly. "We tried a treatment and he didn't get any better. He had the eczema about three weeks when we began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bathed him at night with the Cuticura Soap and applied the Cuticura Ointment on the eczema left." (Signed) Mrs. John White, Mar. 10, 1913.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexion, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address post-card to Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston.

"Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp."

LATEST HAPPENINGS IN AUTO WORLD

AMONG LOCAL AUTO AGENTS

One Duluthian Has Been Selling Cars By Telephone.

The New "Streamline" Body and How Term Originated.

J. T. Peacha, Jr., manager of the Interstate Auto company, has had the singular experience and pleasure this week of getting orders for autos by telephone, and long distance telephone at that. By telephone the other day he sold a Kissel fire equipment car to the city of Hibbing and on the same day sold by telephone also to the city of Virginia a duplicate of the new patrol-ambulance which Duluth has just purchased. This car that Hibbing took is a 6-cylinder, 60-horse power combination hook and ladder, chemical and hose wagon and the price paid for it is $2,800. The patrol-ambulance sold to Virginia is a 6-cylinder, 60-horse power machine.

C. C. Hildebrand of Minneapolis, manager of the Ford Motor company's branch agency there, was in Duluth yesterday, conferring with the Mutual Auto company, agents for that car in Northern Minnesota and Minnesota and Michigan. He announces that in view of the tremendously increased business of the Ford company, the Minneapolis branch is building a new sales house. It will have ground dimensions of 150 by 200 feet and will be several stories in height. It will be situated four blocks west of the West hotel.

"There are certain superior mechanical advantages and articles of equipment that any one paying this year more than $2,000, for an automobile ought to receive," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., of the Interstate Auto company. "Among these I might mention four forward speeds, extra long wheel base and big tires, gasoline feed by pressure from tank in the rear, Guide Patent 'one man' top, and several other features regarded heretofore as prohibitive in any but the more expensive cars."

Streamline is the dominating word in motor car bodies this year. This fascinatingly descriptive word has caught the popular fancy. Every automobile owner or prospective owner knows the appearance of the streamline design. He is more or less familiar with the long, sloping hood, the absence of angles at the dash, the gradual sweeping curves that blend radiator cap to tail light. All know the grace of the long line, the smooth, unbroken surface, the attractive contour of the entire car. But not so many know of the origin of the design, the reason for the use of the word streamline. Fred Kiehn, distributor for the Hudson "6" in this territory, in exhibiting this car with the true streamline design yesterday, told an interesting story of the use of the term. It seems that the design originated in Germany, where it is sometimes called the Prince Henry style. The same easy entrance, on beginning, the same unbroken curves, the same bold yet sweeping finish of the rear. Sprinkle some sawdust or other light material on a quietly flowing stream of water. It will stream a long, graceful line with almost exactly the curves and smoothness of the water line of the yacht. Hence the name that indicates smooth flowing, mathematically accurate lines and surfaces—the true streamline.

The streamline body cuts the air as the yacht cuts the water. There is small resistance, little disturbance of air, lessened raising of dust. And just as the yacht, with well designed hull, leaves little wake, creates little swell, so the streamline motor car slips along the road and through the air, quietly, smoothly, gracefully. It drags less air and dust behind it. It adds to speed, reduces fuel consumption and is infinitely more comfortable to ride in than a car that creates a tremendous air current and pulls the dust of the road into the tonneau to the annoyance of its occupants.

There is still uneasiness among autoists of this city, and those interested in the business of Duluth and about the roads hereabouts. But so far there have been no attempts to do anything to relieve the situation. The roads leading into this city from all directions are in bad shape. This is particularly true of the road between here and Carlton which leads in from the Twin Cities. It is almost too late this year for anything to be done, but if much is to be accomplished next year, many autoists think, it will be well to start the agitation now. In fact that is considered imperative as tax provision must be made to meet something going. "We have not been affected seriously by the drought in some of the western states," said C. B. Obermeyer, Duluth representative of the Cartecar company, Pontiac, Mich., who has just returned from a quick trip through some of the states which suffered most. "The loss has been great, of course, but the farmer has been enjoying prosperity for so many years that one season of hard luck does not discourage him. Our sales are excellent for this time of the year and many of the Cartecar agents are hanging up records, even in the state where one would naturally suppose that sales would be slow. One reason for this condition is that the farmer does not consider the motor car merely as a luxury, to be purchased after everything else has been paid for but almost as a necessity, something that he really needs. The farmer wants and needs the motor car and he is going to have it even at a sacrifice of other things. The increase in the number of farm owned motor cars even during the last two years has been marvelous. Today even in the small country towns, you see about as many motor cars as horse drawn vehicles."

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

It is officially announced that at a meeting of the contest board, held at A. A. national headquarters, Aug. 26, the following action was taken: The application for reinstatement to good standing of E. V. Bickenbacher of Des Moines, Iowa, formerly a registered driver, who was under disqualification until Jan. 1, 1914, for participating in unsanctioned track events in the Middle West during the summer of 1912, was favorably considered, in view of additional facts personally presented by him, tending to mitigate his violation of the contest rules, and he was reinstated to good standing as of June 28.

The following disqualifications and suspensions were imposed for violation of rule 78, of the contest rules on advertising:

Gwynn Sales company, Lozier agent at Columbus, Ohio, to Jan. 1, 1914, for advertising in the program of the 200 mile track race held at Columbus, on July 4, that the Lozier cars competing in the Vanderbilt cup, Fairmont park and Santa Monica road races and other events, were "stock cars"—the same car that is delivered to every Lozier buyer. G. L. Stigroves, Mercer agent at Columbus, to Jan. 1, 1914, for advertising in the same program that the No. 4 Mercer car, entered by him and participating in an unsanctioned track race at Salinas, Cal., on April 6, 1913, notwithstanding warning given him by the board's representative. R. H. Pennelaker of Memphis, Tenn., was disqualified and suspended until Sept. 1, 1914, for violation of rule 62, in not reporting for start the car entered by him for the 500-mile race at Indianapolis, or having been regularly excused by the referee.

Charles B. Perry of Santa Ana, Cal., was disqualified and suspended until Sept. 1, 1914, for a like violation in not reporting for start the No. 46 Metz, entered by him in the Los Angeles to Sacramento road race, held July 4.

Because of their participation in the unsanctioned hill climb held at Mount Vernon, N. Y., on May 30, 1913, the following unregistered drivers were declared ineligible to take part in sanctioned events until after Jan. 1, 1914: C. R. Kenyon, Simplex; A. N. Kern, Fiat; E. H. Bowman, Oldsmobile; B. B. Kendig, Metz; N. Brown, Oldsmobile; John S. Clark, Buick; A. S. Jenks, Ford.

H. Van Wyck of Hartsdale, N. Y., formerly a registered driver, was disqualified and suspended until Sept. 1, 1914, for driving his Mercer car in this event, and P. C. Thebaud, Jr., of White Plains, a 1913 registered driver, was disqualified and suspended for two years to Sept. 1, 1915, for driving a G. J. G. car under the alias or assumed name of "N. E. Smith."

For participation and connection with the unsanctioned auto speed events held upon the unlicensed three-lap motorcycle track at North Breeze, near Philadelphia, on Aug. 12, the following were disqualified, suspended and rendered ineligible to take part in sanctioned events until Jan. 1, 1914: C. C. Bishop, driver of Abbot-Detroit; V. P. Padula, entrant and owner of the car; George H. (Dare Devil) Jones, owner and driver of Traveler; J. C. Dunsmuir, driver of Buick; J. C. Dunsmuir, owner of Buick; also scorer, C. B. Higgins, judge; J. Signor, scorer; Frank Shaw, timer; W. B. McCullough, timer.

The claim of Barney Oldfield for official record for one mile in 46.2 seconds, Bakersfield, Cal., April 27, 1913, was not accepted and allowed for the reason that the board did not feel that the automatic timing device with which the time trial was timed met the requirements of rule 78, paragraph 2, which reads as follows: "No claim for a record of one mile or under and up to five miles will be considered by the contest board unless the same is taken by an automatic, electrical or mechanical timing device approved by the board and the actual printed evidence taken by such timing device is submitted to the board, together with the claim for record."

New Head of A. M. C.

Announcement has just been made of the election of Frank E. Smith, formerly of the Maxwell-Briscoe company of New Castle, as vice president of the American Motors company, in direct charge of production. Mr. Smith is probably one of the most experienced and best informed men in the automobile industry, and his connection with the American Motors company is in keeping with Mr. Handley's well-defined plans of specific concentration and efficiency.

He comes direct to the American Motors company from the largest automobile factory in the Middle West. The great efficiency of the New Castle plant under Mr. Smith's regime is well known and recognized by the automobile trade throughout the country. For four years he had full charge of this plant, which was the largest controlled by the United States Motor company, and when the parent concern became financially involved he was, at the instance of the stockholders, creditors and officers of the old company, appointed receiver in charge of its operations.

During the five months of this receivership the New Castle plant showed a handsome profit, standing alone in this regard as compared to any of the other plants of the United States Motor group. He is well known to Indiana manufacturers and dealers as first president of the Indiana Automobile Manufacturers' association. In fact, Mr. Smith really formed this organization at the completion of the first four states' tour.

Made Long Tour.

With the speedometer of his Kissel "6-0" registering 1,499 miles, William L. Kissel of the Kissel Motor Car company has returned to Milwaukee from an extended Eastern tour. After taking in Niagara Falls, the Thousand Islands, White mountains and Atlantic coast resorts, incidentally visiting New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities, Mr. Kissel and his party drove west by way of Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Toledo and Chicago. Not a single car adjustment was necessary during the trip, the sum total of mishaps totaling one blowout and two punctures.

Wisconsin Record.

Nicholas Walsh of Escanaba, Mich., claims record time between that city and Green Bay, Wis., a distance of 120 miles, largely over heavy roads. Mr. Walsh, in his Kissel Kar, made the run in four hours and thirty minutes, although six hours had theretofore been considered good speed. The roads part of the distance are of sand and frequently motorists experienced no little difficulty in making the trip. Mr. Walsh's party consisted of five passengers.

Speed Mania Dying.

The speed mania has had its day. Safety and sanity in the operation of motor cars is the one big essential necessary to a continuation of the phenomenal success which the automobile industry has seen, according to leaders of the business. Staunch, stable construction and the utilization of every possible mechanical improvement and refinement, rather than an effort to provide tremendous speed, are, in the minds of the big manufacturers, the demands of the day in motor car building. Vice President G. W. Bennett of the Willis-Overland company, Toledo, Ohio, and one of the leaders of the industry who decries the craze for speed, said in a recent interview:

"The motorists who demand speed and ever more speed are the exceedingly small minority of the motoring public of today. They and their requirements can and must be ignored by the manufacturer who hopes to produce a motor car that will appeal to the solid, substantial public. The motor car need of the present time is staunchness and dependability rather than terrific speed. The big manufacturers disagree with the men in the industry, who, of late, have been quoted as predicting a standard every-day automobile which will be capable of 100 to 150 miles per hour. At the present time there is not a highway in the United States, nor in the world for that matter, on which a speed of 100 miles per hour is either possible or desirable. That speed is all that our best road can possibly stand and our laws and common sense forbid even a quarter of it."

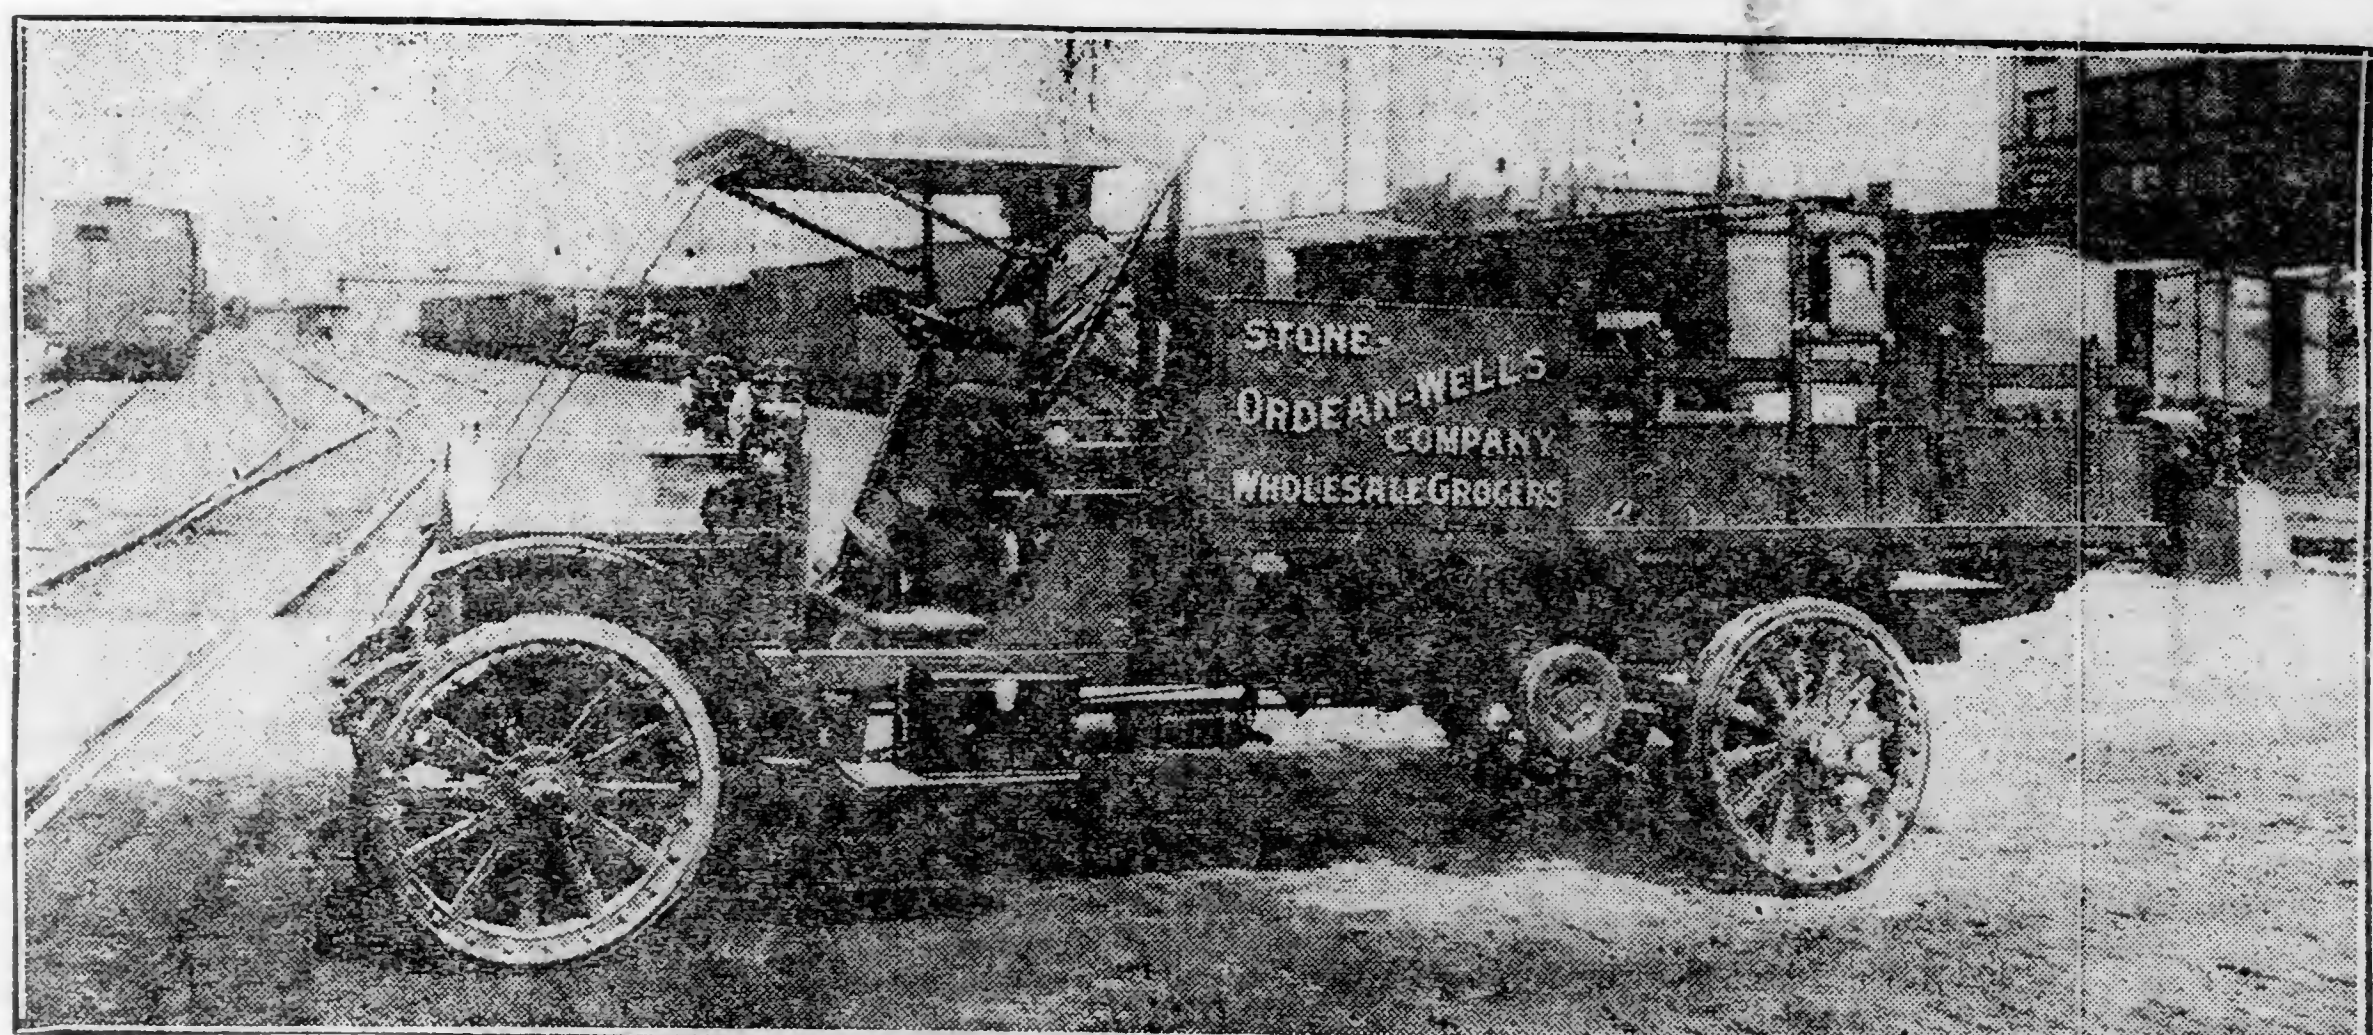

Factory Is Moved.

The demands of the automobile business for complete centralization and standardization have caused a Michigan city to mourn and one in Ohio to rejoice. The occasion of the respective joy and sorrow of the two cities was the removal, from Battle Creek, Mich., to Toledo, Ohio, of the plant of the Castle Lamp company, manufacturers of automobile lamps, made necessary by the desire of President John N. Willis of the Willis-Overland company, to center his various business interests in his home city.

Disassembles Car After Tour.

Before a big crowd of Cole representatives, competitors, owners and prospects, Chief Engineer Charles S. Crawford of the Cole Motor Car company, Indianapolis, disassembled, at San Francisco the other day, the test car that he drove across country from Indianapolis to San Francisco. Electrical experts, members of the Society of Automobile Engineers and competitors congratulated Mr. Crawford on the precedent he has established and besides putting confidence in the motor car it will do a great deal toward agitating good influence for transcontinental touring.

The Cole was taken into the workshop in exactly the same condition in which it arrived. Not a bearing had been adjusted, not a spark plug cleaned and none of the mud removed. In discussing the condition of the car, Mr. Crawford said: "Examination of the spark plugs showed them to be well covered with carbon but still capable of doing their full work, in good firing condition and a readjustment of their points unnecessary. The starting switch was examined for arcing effects, and the first cuts and their condition was vouched for by a well-known electrical expert who stated that they did not look as though an electrical current has ever passed through them. The cylinders, when removed, were found to still retain the original machine marks and showed no appreciable wear. The piston rings showing a true seat for their full width and length and with an entire absence of dark spots on either side. The dissection of the entire car revealed the fact that the owner, not a coter or any part had become loosened or that any part was not performing its function in a most creditable manner."

One Model, One Purpose, One Price

The FEDERAL

Isn't it a significant fact that the successful truck is the truck of moderate price? It is the Federal.

The Federal truck has been successful because the Federal Motor Truck Company is successful. It is a sound, substantial organization of experienced motor engineers and representative business men. The Federal is successful because every Federal owner and every Federal dealer is satisfied. We have the report and figures to prove that.

The Federal, a 3,000 pound truck, dominant throughout the country, can be manufactured and sold for $1800:

Because the Federal was a demonstrated scientific success before it was offered for sale;

Because we make one model;

Because simplicity of construction, simplicity in the manufacture of parts, enable us to give Federal owners and Federal dealers maximum service at minimum cost to us;

Because we buy materials in enormous quantities;

Because the success of the first Federal has enormously increased Federal demand, and that enormous demand has enormously increased Federal production;

Because—and most important of all—we have specialized in one model, one purpose, one price; concentrated all our factory equipment, energy, experience, capacity and success in the 3,000 pound Federal.

That price—$1800—is the Essence of Federal Success—the Achievement of Federal Specialization.

That is the Reason the Federal is the Most Successful—and the Least Expensive.

Clubs and Musical YEAR'S ACTIVITIES BEGUN
BY DULUTH CLUB WOMEN

Matinee Musicals Society Has Planned Work of Unusual Interest and Importance for the Coming Season.

Series of Sunday Evening Church Concerts Outlined—Other Events of Week in Club and Musical Circles.

THE work of unusual importance has been planned by the Matinee Musicals Society, and the first affair will be given at the home of Mrs. G. G. Hartley, 1308 Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, when tickets for all members and all prospective members are invited to call on the doors there.

The following is the program for the evening: A song by Mrs. G. G. Hartley, 1308 Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, when tickets for all members and all prospective members are invited to call on the doors there.

Special features of the year, besides the President's day program, will be a piano recital on Oct. 20 by Miss F. C. Carter, and on Nov. 3 the "Liederabend" by Brahms.

The Matinee Musicals expects to make an effort to co-operate with the public schools during the school term, and a concert will be arranged for the school choruses.

Other special features will be the program to be given by the Schubert Club of St. Paul and the program which will close the year's work.

The student body of the Matinee Musicals is a factor of the club where members hope to strengthen and develop during the year two formal programs of high standard will be given at the Y. M. C. by student members. The dates for these programs are Dec. 8 and March 2.

A winter frolic will be especially featured with a picnic lunch, vaudeville stunts, general good time offering an opportunity for all the student members to become well acquainted.

Study Class.
The study class, which has proved one of the educational activities of the club will meet on alternate Mondays beginning Oct. 13, at Miss Simons' studio at 2 p. m. This class is open to all members and the teachers roundly expect to make the year under the direction of Miss Carey, will begin again on Monday, Oct. 13 at 10 a. m., meeting at the club studio. This class is open to all teachers of music for an exchange of ideas and a study of teaching methods.

Object of Club.
The general object of the Matinee Musicals is to advance the interest and promote the culture of musical art in the city and especially to promote the musical improvement of the members and to develop and encourage home talent. The club is sending out invitations to those who are likely to become members of the club, and interested whether they receive the invitation or not.

The philanthropic work of the club has been given special attention and this aim of this department is the taking of good music to charitable institutions where the need is greatest, those who have no opportunity for hearing it. Mrs. E. W. Matter is chairman of this committee.

Artists' Recitals.
The artists' recitals of the year include Miss Maggie Teyte in a song recital on Oct. 16 at 8 p. m. at the Pilgrim Congregational church; Harold Bauer, pianist, in a recital on Dec. 15 at 8 p. m. at the Pilgrim Congregational church; and David and Clara Mannes, violinist and pianist on Jan. 22 at 8 p. m. at the Pilgrim Congregational church.

Mrs. Fryberger of Minneapolis will give a lecture on "How to Listen to Music," some time during the year at an informal gathering of the associate members of the club.

A special membership privilege has also been extended to the teachers of the city and to the members of the orchestra and all who can enjoy the artists' recitals and special programs.

EXHIBIT.

Vegetables and Flowers Will Be Shown at Church Affair.

An interesting entertainment has been planned by the members of the First Christian church to be given next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church, corner of Twelfth avenue east and Fourth street.

FLOUNCES AND DARING COLORS ARE FEATURES OF NEW STYLES

A NEW FALL MODEL.

MISS HARRIET FELLNER.

MISS FELLNER'S new fall styles are the new fall styles and are featuring much of interest. Radical changes are showing in gowns, suits, wraps and hats, and even the shoes are extreme of soft colored kids and to match the gowns.

A few fashion hints from "Natalie" of New York will be of special interest here, as Natalie is the name under which Miss Harriet Fellner works in her designing. She has a studio on Gramercy Park-square in New York city and her designs are used in magazines and newspapers in the East and West.

Miss Fellner was a summer visitor in Duluth this year, spending two months as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Callahan, 2407 East Third street.

The accompanying notes and dress designs are both done by Miss Fellner. "Fifth avenue shops are pulling up their shades and showing some of the many beautiful designs for this coming season. A marked change is in the material is draped about the waist, so as to rise in front, showing off a woman's natural figure instead of the former years when the skirt was to be in vogue.

Dresses, for afternoon or evening wear, have flounces. The flounces of a dress should be made of like material with the skirt. A narrow strip of fur or jet. Gowns of one color are being seen as well as the idea of a to be daring with one's colors so as to match the gowns. This bright color is often used as a sash made of soft stuff, tied in front. All gowns to be smart must have a sash.

"Skirts are being made a foot wider at the bottom. Petticoats must be slipped on two or three inches in tulle, mousseline de soie, or in lace.

Afternoon frocks will be popular for the coming season. The flounce will be used as trimmings, also ornaments such as bands and tassels will be used among the elegant.

NATALIE.

Foresters' hall, Fourth avenue west and First street. A short business meeting will be called at 2:15 and will be followed by a program and social hour.

D. A. R. LUNCHEON.

Liberty Chapter Will Hold Picnic at Hunter Home.

The members of Liberty Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will have a picnic luncheon on Wednesday afternoon of next week, at the home of Mrs. J. J. Callahan, 2407 East Third street.

Plans for the work of the chapter for the year will be discussed at this time, with Mrs. Jay Cooke Howard, regent of the chapter, presiding.

TEACHING IN MANILA.

Duluth Visitor Tells of Twelve Years' Work in Philippines.

MISS ANNA M. DONALDSON, who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Callahan, 2407 East Third street, will be in Duluth for the year.

She has formerly taught in the United States for a year's vacation from her work as a teacher in the public schools at Manila, where she has been for the past twelve years.

She has been in the Philippines since 1901, when she was first sent to Manila on the first boat the "Thomas" which took over American school children and all the grade and college work. The courses include practical training in the grade and American public schools and colleges and the boys and girls there are absolutely free to attend.

Education is not compulsory but the schools are free of charge. The government pays attention is paid to manual training for the boys and domestic science and art for the girls and theories of government, economics and civics are taught.

HERMANTOWN

PIONEER DIES

Mrs. Mary Luck of Hermantown died last Thursday of a paralytic stroke. She was one of the pioneers of Hermantown, having lived there since 1875 on the old Luck homestead.

Her funeral will be held on Monday at 12:30 o'clock, from Grady & Morgan's undertaking rooms on Grand street and at 2 p. m. from the Hermantown church, and the remains will be taken to Hermantown for interment.

Some will remember that about sixteen years ago Mr. Luck was instantaneously killed by an explosion of dynamite at their home in Hermantown, and Mrs. Luck had a very narrow escape. The work of blowing up stumps on the farm was under way and dynamite, becoming frozen, was taken into the house to be warmed up in the kitchen stove. Mr. and Mrs. Luck were the only ones in the house at the time the dynamite exploded. It became overheated and exploded. Mr. Luck was killed and Mrs. Luck buried by crawling through a small cellar hole.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 6.—Judge Maurice T. Dooling in the United States circuit court has ordered a fine of $2,000 imposed on the Western Fuel company, and directed the imprisonment of the company, for contempt, because of the refusal to produce the company's books before the Federal grand jury which is investigating alleged violations of the anti-trust law.

The company contended that the books had already been examined by Federal officials, and that it was unnecessary to suspend business while the books were out of its possession.
